When we say wool, we mean real wool—stock that was bought early in the season before the general shortage of wool, and not part cotton. We placed our order early for the stock we now have. It was a fortunate buy, for today we could not buy from the manufacturer what we have displayed on our counters. We have for both boys and men. The stock covers a field of weights and quality, and you will find just what you need here. We have prepared for the fall trade for many years, and our line of goods have always given the very best of satisfaction. No shoddy goods—but garments that will give service at prices that will surprise you, considering the high price of all wool garments at the present time.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY BACKS BOYS OVERSEAS

City District Oversubscribes Allotment With Gospel Measure as Well as Entire Country

Charlevoix county has oversubscribed its Fourth Liberty loan allotment by $31,700, and the entire etete by about $15,000,000, according to latest reports.

While the Charlevoix district, whose allotment was a trifle over $111,000, went safely over the top, the exact figures are not at present available.

In the 7th Federal district, in which Charlevoix county is located, the latest figures indicate the sale of approximately 70 million over its allotment. At the present time no figures can be obtained covering the entire country, but we can eafely say that the entire amount of the Fourth Liberty loan has been sold with a big margin to spare.

The general cleaning-up work of the committees in the county is atill going on and in our next issue we hope to be able to give the exact returns of the drive.

Washington reports state estimates and figures showing the success of the Fourth Liberty Loan, indicating that there were about 25,000,000 subscribers during the campeign which closed Saturday night and that the $6,000,000,000 goal was pessed by aeveral hundred millions.

All orders for coupon bonds are being filled immediately and plenty of registered bonds will be ready as fast as requisitions for them, accompanied by the necessary information concerning the individual owners, reach the treasury.

30,000,000 Bonds Sold.

Thirteen hundred clerks are at work today examining, counting and shipping bonds, as fast as they came from the bureau of engraving and printing. They were received in huge bundles, carefully wrapped and seeled, end went out to federal reserve banks in much the same form. Althogh the exect number of bonds sold will not be known for many weeks, officials estimate that it is more than 30,000,000. In the third loan slightly less than 25,000,000 were bought.

At Least 22,000,000 Buy.

Reports from all of the reserve districts early in the day show the honor roll of subscribers bears 22,000,000 names as a minimum and probably will be found to have several million more.

Owing to influenza, peace talk, and the fact that many participants in the third loan are now in the army, the number of subscribers in the Boston, Philadelphia and possibly some other districts probably is no greater than in the preceeding loan.

Equals All Records.

It is apparent, however, that at lesst 20 per cent of the population of the United States bought bonds, a record equaling and probably exceeding the percentage record of the British Victory Loan of 1917, which had 9,000,000 subscribers. The $5,000,000,000 subscribed to that loan is exceeded by more than $1,000,000,000. Thus all records both for size and distribution of war loans are broken by the Fourth Liberty loan.

The first Liberty Loan had about 4,000,000 subscribers, or 4 per eent of the population. The seeond had about 9,600,000, or 9 per cent. The third had 18,300,000, or approximately 17.7 per cent.

Banks have until Thursday to tabulate their subseription and report to federal reserve banks.

SUNDAY AUTOISTS OUT BY HUNDREDS

Many Take Full Advantage of Lifting of Gasless Order

Lifting of the gas-less day ban by the fuel administration was the silver lining in the cloud of gloom in which Charlevoix was enveloped Sunday, owing to the board of health clamping on all public gatherings of whatever nature.

The earlier part of the day was fine,but in the afternoon a fine mist of rain put a damper on outdoor activities. Regardless of this, however, cars were on tbe go in every direction, and all the enjoyment possible was obtainable by those out for a good time.

Most of the motorists looked as though they doubly enjoyed the pleasure long denied, baving a conciousness of earning the enjoyment hy their patriotic sacrifice of the weeks just past.

DEATH OF SON OF MRS. NAOMI PANT

Loss Will Be Keenly Felt by Parents and Friends.

Leo Pant, aged 22, son of Mrs. Naomi Pant, of Hayes township, died at his home October 18, death being caused by typhoid pneumonia.

Leo was born October 21, 1896, in East Jordan, and moved to this city when a small boy. He was a young man of sterling qualities, and a good and faithful son, and for the past five years has been the main help and support on the farm. He was a faithful worker in the grange, and a friend to all he came in contact with. He will be mourned by many friends and acquaintances as well as by the family, who will feel his loss most kennly.

Deceased lost conciousness six days before he died, and slept away on Friday night. Privnte services were held from the home at 12:00 Sunday, Rev. C. E. Taggart officiating. Interment in Brookside cemetery.

Auction Sale Postponed

The auction sale announced to be held today,(Thursday) at the home of S. C. Adams, in Ironton, has been postponed indefinitely on account of the strict enforeement of the influenza quarantine. The sale will be held at a later date. Watch for announcement in these columns.

See my line of men's and boy's Mackinaws, Pants, Shirts, Socks, Cloves and mittens. Benj. Brown. 43tf.

AUCTION SALES

The influenza scare and atrict quarantine has had a tendency to lessen the number of auction sales scheduled to be held during the coming week. But two appear in this issue of the Courier, but many have been booked to be held later, after the present quarantine has been lifted. Those published this week are:

Wednesday, October 30

At the home of I. VanTill, one and one half miles south of Ellsworth, on the west side of the lake, commencing at 1:00 o'clock. W. E. Byers, auctioneer, H. J. Timmer, clerk.

October 24, 25, 26

Otto Hines of this city, will hold a private sale of household goods at his home, 202 Clinton street. Many good bargains are in store for those who attend.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS NOW IN THE SERVICE

Corp. Corbin Says He Has Made Many Trips to the Fatherland—Lawrence Ditlefson Urges Relatives to Send Him Papers From Home—Has Many Souvenirs.

From Lawrence Ditlefsen

Somewhere, Sept. 25, 1918.

Dear Sister:—I have received several letters from you and sure was glad to hear from you. We judge our wealth here by the number of letters we get and so far I have fared pretty well.

"I received a letter from mother a few days ago and she said you intended to leave school. I hope you have changed your mind long before this letter gets to you. because you have only one more year to go to graduate and after it is all over you will find there is a whole lot of satisfaction in being able to say 'I have graduated.' Then too, if you take French, I will be able to 'parley-vous' with you after the war. Believe me, I am getting to be some Frenchman. You would naturally think I was part Jewish from all the motions I am forced to make.

"I suppose you are wondering how much actual service I've been in, so, I'll tell you as much as I can. The first front we went to was rather quiet. A little artillery action once in a while and just to let the Cermans know we were atill there, the infantry would make a raid (under cover of a barrage) and get a few prisoners. We had one gas attack there. Then we travelled by night for a while until we got to our second front. Plenty of excitement there, believe me. We made a drive here and advanced about 8 miles. It was sure interesting. Lots of shelling, mines, air battles and German prisoners. I must have passed at least 700 or 800 prisoners being marched to the rear in groups of from 20 to 100. I also saw two German and three American planes fall. After we crossed no man's land, it was fun prowling around the Cerman trenches and dugouts. I got a bunch of souvenirs including a German helmet, gas mask and pistol. I guess the Germans got kind of sore on account of the drive, because every night for a week after they bothered us with gas. After occupying the German dugouts, some of us(including myself) got our first dose of cooties.

"Say Marguerite, don't forget to send all the Charlevoix papers you can get hold of, even if they are a year old. We get plenty of food, tobacco, etc., but reading material is scarce and anyway those Charlevoix papers are always welcome.

"In writing to mother about me, please never refer to the front. I never do. It is just as well for her to think we are in training camp or held in reserve.

"I suppose you know I am a wireless operstor now and I sure like the work. It is more fun than work. I always did like signal work anyway.

"I supposes you got my letter sent from England although I never got un answer from it. Don't forget the papers. Yours,—Lawrence.

From Forrest Wellace

Tours, France, Sept, 18, 1918.

My Dear Mother:—Thought I would drop you a few lines to let you know that I am well, and hope this finds you the same. I have moved since I wrote to you last. We are not in St. Nazaire any more, but are in Tours, and this is some beautiful city. It has a population of 100,000 and is on the Soire river. We had a fine trip over here from the coast, a trip of 150 miles, and we came along the Soire river for about 80 miles. I lead the rest with my truck, as I knew the way, as I had been here before, and I aure did lead them.

"We are having fine weather here now. The mornings and nights are a little cool, but the days are fine.

"We are in a regular army camp here, and are sleeping in barracks, but I don't think that we will be long here, as I heard today that they are going to send me on a long motor trip. I hope they do as I am not in love with these camps. I as supposed to go on my vacation last Monday, as I told you, but on account of our moving I did not get to go, so will bave to wait until we get settled again.

"I sent you a package and I hope you get it O. K. I sent you a lace collar and cuffs to match. I thought they were beautiful, and I hope you like them.

"On the trip over here along the river, the road runs along the bank of the river on one side, and on the other a hill of solid rock, and cut in these rocks are houses that were built years and years ago, and they certainly are wonderful to look at. Steps are cut out of the stone. I cannot write and make you understand how beautiful they are, so will have to let it stand and tell you all about it when I get home.

"The news in the papers sure looks fine now with some of the countries crying for peace terms, but let them cry, we will make them crawl on their hands and knees for peace.

"Well I guess I will close for this time, hoping to hear from you soon. With love to all,—Forrest.

From Corp. R. C. Corbin

Corp. Corbin says that after the war is over and the boys come home, great acts of bravery will be related. He was formerly with the Western Union here and writes interestingly regarding the big conflict overseas:

In France, September 8, 1918.

Dear Mrs. Jarvis:—I presume that you have about reached the conclusion that something of a serious nature has happened me, or that I am deliberately neglecting to write you promptly as hertofore, but I wish to answer that neither is the case.

"The truth of the matter is that I have been doing considerable traveling by rail the past few days and just recently arrived in this section of the country, and in addition to this, have also heen exceedingly busy helping to put the finishing touches on the Boche, so therefore could not write you until the present time.

"I have traveled over 500 miles since you last heard from me, and am now located in an entirely different section of France. The present outlook is that we will resume our trip in a few days.

"Since the middle of last month my work has consisted of wireless, in connection with the aeroplane, and it is sure an interesting and sensational branch of the service. The present prospects point to my remaining in this line of work.

"Have been over the German lines and far into German territory several times. I have had considerable experience in wireless telegraphy, but this is my first experience in the air. In a future letter I will endeavor to tell you of my experience on one of these trips, from the start of the journey until the return. It is sensational work, and will beyond a doubt interest you.

"Your most welcome and interesting letter of July 14 was received August 13, less than a month in transit, and it was appreciated beyond words. Was pleased to learn all the news with you, and exceptionally glad to know that you are all well and happy and that everything progressed so nicely. Everything with me continues fine and dandy, and we are all looking forward to and eventful day in the near future, when the trouble 'over here' is definitely settled and we boys can return to our homes in the 'good old U. S. A.' We will then feel more proud of our glorious country, and will be grateful for the fact that we have conclusively proven to the

WATCH OUT FOR THE "FLU"

CITY TAKES EXTREME MEASURES AGAINST PLAGUE

Spread of Disease Throughout Entire County Causes Extraordinary Precautions—Few Cases Here

If you have a friend or relative who lives in a community infected with the "flu.", get busy and tell them they are not wanted in Charlevoix. If they do attempt to visit the city, they will be stopped and asked to return to the place they came from.

Such is the text of the new order passed by the Cherlevoix board of health which went into effect Monday morning. Deputies have been placed on all roads leading into the city, and to gain admittance, you must show a clean bill of health. The order issued is as follows:

"Notice—This is to notify persons from surrounding towns and places afflicted with influenza, that Charlevoix has been quarantined against such places, and that persons from such places will he prohibited from stopping in Charlevoix.

"Watchman have been placed at entrances to the city with orders to enforce the above order of tha Board of Health of the City of Charlevoix." Signed by bosrd of health officers.

With the exception of a few minor cases, Charlevoix is at the present free from this dread disease that has paralyzed business throughout the entire country and caused thousands of deaths. Every precautionary measure is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease, and it is hoped that the city will be fortunate enough to escape its ravages. Schools, churches, lodges, societies and meetings of any nature whatsoever are strictly forbidden. But three people, besides the clerks, are allowed in any business place. The same rule applies to barber shops and pool rooms. On Monday the board of supervisors adjourned their yearly meeting, and if the"flu." gains any headway in the city, it will not be the fault of the local board of health.

Conditions in Petoskey the latter part of last week were much improved, but on Tuesday four deaths occured, and on the following day threo more have been reported. More new cases were reported on Wednesday than on any day for a week, indicating that although the disease is being checked to a certain extent, yet it seems to gain despite all that is being done to prevent it.

Two deaths took place at Boyne City on Monday, and reports indicate a gradual spread of the disease. At East Jordan conditions remain about the same. In rural districts, especially in Hayes township, many cases have been reported.

Detroit, Crand Rapids and many of the larger cities report the disease on the increase. At Camp Custer the danger point is reported to have been passed, but In other training camps, new cases and deaths are reported in large numbers.

Positive Not Negative.

Be one thing or the other. Don't be a dommy for life to hang theories upon. Be a real person, with likes and dislikes, with interests and activities, with something that is positive. Be pleasant, not merely not unpleasant; be sweet, not merely not disagreeable; be good to look upon, as far as in your power; be well informed, as far as possible. But whatever you are, be that thing to the utmost. Live to those who are around you your very best and unconsciously they will give their very best to you. Try it and see.

LEGAL NOTICES

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain real estate mortgage whereby the power of sale therein contained has become operative, which mortgage was given by Peter Rush and Ida R. Rush, his wife, to Helen J. Pulcipher which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, April 21st, 1916 in Liber fifty-six of mortgages on page forty; and whereas the amouat claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Five Hundred fifty-three dollars and eighty-one cents, and a further sum of fifty-three dollars and nine cents taxes paid on the property described in said mortgage by Helen J. Pulcipher, together with an attorney fee as provided by statute, and no suit or proceedings at law have been instituted to recover the money secured by said mortgage or any part thereof; and whereas the tax required by the statutes to be paid on said mortgage was duly paid prior to the recording thereof;

Now therefore, notice is given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and of the statutes made and provided, said mortgage will be forclosed by sale of the premises therein described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount then due thereon of principal and interest together with the amounts paid for taxes, costs and expenses of the foreclosure, including the attorney fee provided by statute, at public auction to the higher bidder therefore at the front door of the court house in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix (that being the place where the Circuit court for the County of Charlevoix is held) on the 14th day of December, 1918 at ten o'clock in the forenoon on that day. The premises described in said mortgage being herein described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at the northeast corner of Lot One in section seventeen, township thirty-four north of range seven west; thence west on the Quarter line of said section forty rods; thence south to the center of Emmet and Grand Traverse State road it being one hundred rods; thence east along the center of said road to the center line; thence north on said second line ninety-six rods to the place of beginning, being a part of Government Lot one of said section seventeen and containing twenty-four and one-half acres of land more or less.

Dated September 7th, 1918.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

houses of Hohenzollern and Hapsburg that 'America was not too proud to fight,' and not only that, but when we do get into the game, we usually 'bring home the bacon.'

"It will probably interest you to learn something about what the English women are doing in this war. There is an association over here that is known as the W. A. A. C., composed of English women who have volunteered their services to the British government, and in this way are 'doing their bit'. These girls serve in any capacity that their services are required, principally as clerks, stenographers, truck drivers, canteen workers, etc. They are to be found all over France, and I have even found them working at Y. M. C. A.'s in the fourth line trenches. Can you beat that for bravery?

"I received an interesting letter from Dick last week, dated Cambridge, Mass., August 6, in which he said that he expected to take to the 'big waters' soon. He asked that I send his future mail to Charlevoix, in your care, and that you would forward it to him.

"I received and read with great interest the Charlevoix Courier you mailed me, and must congratulate Mr. Usher for such an enterprising and interesting paper. There were so many pages to it that at first sight thought it a 'big daily'.

"We have a wonderful mail system over here. No matter how much we move about, or where we go to, mail is always awaiting us on our arrival.

"Nothing would afford me more pleasure than telling you our location, but—. Well, you know the censors. However, I might state that we are 'somewhere' on the front, with eight inch shells bursting all around, and aeroplanes dropping bombs to amuse the sleeping population at night.

"I have been in the city of Paris three times, but only for about twelve hours a trip. In spite of the unsettled conditions here, Paris remains a wonderful place. In my estimation it is the greatest city I have ever been in. The people there are more generous and patriotic than in other cities 'over here'. Some day if I am fortunate in escaping the Hun, I want to arrange matters so that I can spend at least a week in and about Paris, and have the grandest time of my life. I am personally acquainted with Ambassador, U. G. Sharpe, our American representative there, but I presume he is so busy at the present time that it would be useless for me to attempt an audience with him.

"It is now approaching the hour when I should be getting ready to go on duty, so will bring this letter to a termination. Will leave here in a few hours for a short visit to the Fatherland. Maybe I will arrive back safely tomorrow morning—and maybe I won't. One can never tell what the morrow holds for him in this war game. Tell all the people 'back there' that all the boys 'over here' are sure making good and more than meeting their expectations, and after it is all over, the people back home will hear some of the most wonderful tales of American bravery that was ever recorded in history.

"Well, good bye for this time. With best wishes and kindest regards to all. Write often, as we greatly enjoy letters from home. Sincerely yours,—Corp, Roscoe C. Corbin. Wireless Co. 305, Field Signal, A. E. F., France.

Somewhere in France,

Dear Folks at home:—Will drop you a few lines to let you know that I nm well. Would have written sooner, but have not had much time for the last few days, but am settled now for a while, so will write more often.

"I like this country. Did not care much for England, but things are much nicer in France, and the people are different. Most all the houses are made of cement and stones. and look as if they were put up many years ago. The people here have very small gardens, and lots of pretty flowers. They use us fine, and we stay right in their homes. I would give quite a bit if I could talk French. Was talking with a French girl this morning, and she was trying to teach me a few words in French, and she wants to learn to speak English. We sure had some big time.

"The boys can go in the wine gardens here if they want to, but I don't care very much for sour wine. The only thing I care for ia good old American tobacco, and we don't get very much of that here.

"Have not seen many of the Charlevoix boys in the last few weeks. Well I will close for this time, have not received a letter from home yet, but hope to get one soon. With love and good luck to all of you.—Pvt Joe Holecheck, Co. E, 338 Inf. American E. F. Via N. Y.

Dear Folks at home:—I will drop you a few lines to let you know that I am well. Am writing this on the train, so excuse all mistakes.

"Every time we get into a new town, we begin looking for some one that we know, but it is rather hard to find anyone over here. They all look alike to me.

"I will be glad when I get some mail from home, have not heard from any of you since I left the States.

"The weather is quite warm here in the day time, hut it gets quite cool in the evening.

"Have been transsferred tu another unit, and think I will like it fine. Would like to be back in the States again, but I think it won't be long, before we will be back again. A person never stops to think what home means until he is away for a while.

"Well, I cannot think of anything more to write, will be able to write more after hearing from you.

"We can get American tobacco over here at the American canteens cheaper than we could get it in the States, so I spent the last cent I had today for tobacco. Well I will close for this time. Don't worry about me as I am feeling fine. With love and good luck to all of you. Your son and brother,—Joe.

Dear Sister and Brother:—Received your letter the first day of September, and was in the hospital when I got it with the measles. Was there for two weeks, and am a little weak yet. It is raining today. It seems to rain every Sunday. The time here is about seven hours ahead of the time over there.

"How are all the folks? Have not had a letter from home since I left, or have not received any of the papers. Would like to know what the news is.

"The place where we stay, they sell cider and wine, but I buy very little, as it is so expensive. We get paid in French money. Was paid the other night, and got 150 francs, that would be about $26.50 in our money.

"Was not sick coming over, but t seemed a long way across the ocenn. I will close for this time. Write often and tell the rest, aa it takes about a month for a letter to reach us. From your brother. Pvt. Walter Hull, Co. F, 310 American E. F. A. P. O. No. 711. Via N. Y.

Grader or Drag.

Tbis device can be attached to aa ordinary farm wagon and used either as a grader or drag. The slantlag bar carries the scraper blade and is attached to a blade which prevents the scraper blade from rocking. When used as a drag the scraper blade is removed and the chain attached to rings on the ends of the two long bolts which hold the side bars together. The side bars then act as the drag.—Agricultural Digest.

Gotham.

The original Gotham was an old parish and village in Nottinghamshire, England, the inhabitants of which are reputed to have shown their wisdom by playlng the fool lu order to dissuade King John from passing through their town, and thus save them the expense of malatalning and entertaining him. The city of New York was first called Gotham by Washlngton Irving ["Salamagundi," 1807], la allusion to the pretentious to wisdom of its inhabitants.

WAR TRAINING INSTITUTE TO AID REGISTERED MEN

Solves Problem For Many Who Must Observe the Work or Fight Order of Government.

"The need for industrial education in war training work is just as great as ever."

Verne H. Smiley, director of the War Industrial Training Institute, of Grand Rapids, has just received a letter from J. C. Wright, special agent for war training, Washington, D. C., in which the latter expresses himself regarding the work of the War Industrial Training Institute of Grand Rapids.

Registration week for the men who come under the draft of September 12, will open early in November, and the Institute directors are now making plans to materially enlarge the work. This, too, is at the request of the government, the officials at Washington having found great satisfaction in the accomplishments of the Institute. This is also emphasized by Mr. Wright, who says:

"I wish to assure you that we are urging the states and communities to seize the opportunities offered them in War Emergency Training classes."

The War Industrial Training Institute was organized last spring for the purpose of preparing soldier-mechanics for service behind the lines in France and for work in the war industries. One of the most potent factors in winning the war is the man behind the man in the trench. It is on the former that the fighting man must rely for war guns and war machines as well as war materials. It is estimated that from six to ten men are needed behind the lines for every man in a trench.

The War Industrial Training Institute, which is operated with the draft boards, the war department, and the federal board for vocational education, opened its classes last spring with 700 enrollments. Many of these men are now holding non-commissioned officers' positions, while many others have responsible positions in the war industries, or are doing valiant work behind the fighting forces overseas.

When the government officials at Washington realize the extent to which the War Industrial Training Institute had developed its men, it urged that the work be enlarged, so as to include the men who came under the draft of September 12, which includes all men from 18 years to 45 years of age.

Many of these men will not be in physical condition for trench work, or for fighting of any kind. For those men, who may become important factors in the war essential industries, the government urges that special mechanical training be provided. This the Institute is prepared to do and has arranged classes which will fit each individual need. Registered men must work or fight. The government demands one or the other.

In addition to this educational advantage, the Grand Rapids manufacturers have promised to give employment to every man who enters the Institute work. This will give out of the city men an opportunity to come to Grand Rapids, enter employment as soon as they arrive, and take up night study at the Institute.

Men who will be called into the military service are made ready for that transition from civil life to military life. They are given a thorough training so that when they enter the military service they rapidly win promotion.

Verne H. Smiley is director of the Institute and Roland De Witt is associate director. They are anxious to inform registered men of the work of the Institute, and invite correspondence. A letter addressed to the War Industrial Training Institute, 207 Y. M. C. A. building, will receive immediate answer.

"YEA EDSEL, FIGHT 'EM"

Detroit was a little more than $4,000,000 short of its quota when the division mejors had made their reports Thursday noon, the day set for the wind-up of the local Liberty Loan campaign.

A meeting had already been announced for the day following, when it was said, the assembled sales force would hear something interesting.

Chairman Studer called on William Livingstone for a few remarks. Everyone was immediately on the quivive because it was to Mr. Livingstone, president of the Dime Savings Bank, that Henry Ford usually entrusted the announcements of the Ford subscriptions.

Mr. Livingstone, however, did not make a speech. Instead, he said he would nail on one who would make the most eloquent speech the audience had ever heard—he knew they would agree with him when the speaker he would introduce had been heard.

And he introduced Edsel Ford.

Slim, pale, nervous Edsel stepped forward and in a few words announced an additional subscription of $1,000,000 for Ford & Son, tractor manufacturers, and $4,000,000 for the Ford Motor Car Co.

The audience started to cheer and applaud when Jeff Webb, cheer leader, took the platform and called for "Yea Ford." It was given with enthusiasm: "Yaa Ford, Yaa Ford, Yea Ford—Fight 'em, fight 'em, fight 'em."

Jeff considered his duty done and headed toward the back of the platform. Immediately Abner Larnad, sales promoter extraordinary, steered him back to the front again, with a peremptory injunction to lead the same cheer for Edsel—the "fight 'em" cheer with which the college boys are wont to encourage their fighters on to greater effort.

So Webb called for the "Yaa Edsel" and the assemblage responded, without laughing and apparently in earnest:

"Yaa Edsel, Yea Edsel, Yea Edsel—Fight 'em, fight 'em, fight 'em."

"We believe that our next legislature should amend our present primary election laws so that they shall prevent the members of one political party from assisting in the nomination of candidates of any other political party; so that it will be impossible for the name of any candidate for nomination at a primary election to be placed upon the primary ballot to be voted for unless he shall have been regularly indorsed by his party, or unless he shall file with his petition for nomination a statement subscribed by him to the effect that he is a member of and associated with the party whose candidate he seeks to be. We call upon the next session of the legislature to perfect the primary laws of Michigan in these respects."—From the Republican State platform.

"We believe that at this time when the expenses of the national government are necessarily very great and prices are inordinately high on account of the war and every good citizen is consequently burdened with unusually high expenses, the business of the state should be conducted as economically as is consistent with good administration. We recognize the fact that in the nature of things the amount of taxes raised in the state must be to some extent increased, but we pledge to the people of this state a business administration, economical as well as efficient, and we call upon the legislature to be elected in November to use great caution in making no unusual appropriations under present conditions."—From the Republican State platform.

STAND BY THE WAR

The Republican party says to the country—STAND BY THE WAR.

In this declaration of purpose is included the statement which the Democratic party seems to have adopted as a slogan—"Stand by the President."

Stand by the president in support of all war measures is a duty and privilege which the Republicans have assumed as a matter of course, as to all that the great office implies, and in the performance of which duty the Republican party has functioned far more fully and efficiently than the Democratic party, and in which course we shall persist without waver or shadow of turning.

The Republican party says—STAND BY THE WAR.

This includes more. It includes, stand by the president; it includes stand by every public official, high or low, measured by the thoroughness with which that public official stands by the war; it includes stand by the government; stand by this country; stand by our allies, every one; stand against our enemies in this war, every one; stand by our soldiers in France and the soldiers of our allies; stand by every effort for WAR SAVING and WAR GIVING in this country; stand for the Fourth Liberty Loan and every other war effort; stand for the cause for which we fight; stand by the "irreducible minimum" of peace terms so splendidly enumerated by Senator Lodge; stand by the war aims of this country to vindicate American rights, interests and honor and to forever end Prussianism in the world and the oppression which it typifies, and to make certain forever the inability of militarism, Prussian or otherwise, to disturb again the peace of the world; stand irrevocably for a peace with victory only and against a peace based on compromise of principles which would make a sacrilege of our sacrifice to be made again by our grandchildren; stand for the preparation now of a sound and proper foundation for a policy of reconstruction after the war which will fulfil the economic needs and realize the spiritual ideals of our people, that the greatest good may come also to our own country from, and after, our supreme sacrifice.

All this we say—STAND BY THE WAR—and for this purpose we dedicate the last of our blood and of our treasure.—Extract from speech by Will H. Hays, Chairman Republican National Committee, Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 26, 1918.

The only plank in Mr. Ford's senatorial platform is "stand by the president." All unrelated questions, either during the war, or afterwards, are to be approached by him as his judgment dictates at the time. In other words he is independent. Inasmuch as the state of Michigan has not had a Democrat in the United States senate since 1857 a goodly number of Republican votes must be corralled to insure Mr. Ford's election. There is much of political method in such 'independence.'

It looks as though the Huns were doing their best to get back to Berlin so that they can obey the Kaiser's "gather round me" cry to his people.

The five civilized tribes of Indians have taken $2,500,000 worth of Liberty Bonds. Lo, the rich Indian is no slacker.

Archaeologists have discovered a safety pin 3,000 years old. Evidently there is nothing new under the sun.

"Justice for others" is the best battle slogan that was ever sounded, and we can be proud that it is American.

The Kaiser has now learned that old King Ferdy of Bulgaria wasn't as crazy as he let on to be.

Next to the "Star Spangled Banner" the sweetest music to our ears is the squeal of the Hun.

The Yanks are over there not only to do the job, but to do it right also.

We Must Put Our Business on A Cash Basis

Business conditions today are abnormal. Stocks are high in price and in some instances almost impossible to obtain. In many lines Uncle Sam has set the selling price—not only the selling price, but the price we buy from wholesale houses. You have been placed on sugar cards, allowing you just so much for each member of the family. You also must buy so many pounds of substitutes when buying flour. And so on down the line, nearly every article in the grocery business being more or less affected.

We are up against it, no matter which way we turn. Wholesale houses demand cash for goods at the end of 30 days. We must meet these bills or no merchandise will be sent us. People ask us for credit extending from one week to six months—and in a few instances never pay without suit. So taking all things in consideration we have decided to place our business on a strictly cash basis beginning with Friday, November 1. Do not ask for credit as it will be refused. We want your business but must insist that it will be on a cash basis.

Mrs. F. E. Frazier Succumbs to General Breakdown—Funeral Thurs.

The death of Mrs. F. E. Frazier came as a shock to the entire city when they learned that she had passed away about midnight Tuesday. She suffered a general breakdown of health about three years ago, and for the past three weeks had been confined to her bed, the family being unaware that her end was so near.

Margaret Turner was born in Hart, Michigan, June 10, 1872. She was united in marriage to F. E. Frazier of that city in September, 1893, and made their home there until coming to Charlevoix in 1900.

Deceased was a member of the Congregational church of this city, where she always took an active part when her health permitted. She was a sincere Christian woman, and has made many friends through her kindness and thoughtfulness of others.

She is survived by her husband, daughter Lois, wife of C. L. Thomas who is in the service in France, her father who resides in Hart, two sisters, Mrs. J. M. Colten of Voltaire, N. D. and Miss Olive Turner, teacher in the Soo schools, who was with her at the time of her death.

The remains will be taken to Hart, Michigan for burial Thursday.

Progress or Keeping Up With the Times.

Ann Arbor is a changed place. Nothing is the same at Mich. It was a courageous Uncle Sam who dared to drop his thousands of soldiers into the wreath of young coeds. But Uncle Sam knows his nephews and nieces, and a little admiration now and then doesn't hurt the best of men. Wouldn't Germany be stunned at that idea. But Uncle Sam's shrewd judgment is justified when one hears the girls tell of the work they must do now.

So in the world at large the men who have gone to fight for Democracy, for the right of those that submit to authority to have a voice in their own government, have left their all behind, in the hands of the their women to 'carry on' civilization; and some of them conscripted for life in spite of any peace treaty, and how can these intelligent women born and educated here, thousands with no men to represent them, do their best for their country when ignorant aliens after five months here, owning no property, can be lined up to vote against them.

A womans place may be in the home, but millions now are called out of it, and it takes no longer to vote than it does to pay taxes. "Taxation without representation is tyranny."

A New Group Of Those Wonderful

Wirthmor Waists

—Worth so much more but still $1.00

—They are in the NEW FALL Styles, authentic, attractive, appealing.

—They are sightly, sensible, serviceable, superbly good values.

—They are truly America's wonder Blouse, the favored Blouse of an entire Nation.

—The very word WIRTHMOR always has and always will symbol a genuine THRIFT OPPORTUNITY, so if THRIFT has any meaning for you, you owe it to yourself to make the acquaintance of this far-famed and deservedly popular Blouse.

Were it not for the contract plan under which these Waists are made and sold, and the forehanded purchase of the materials out of which they are made fully a year ago, the price long since would have had to be advanced to $1.50. Until December first, when the makers material stock will have been exhausted, the price must inevitably be advanced to a higher figure. Until then we will be enabled to and will continue their sale at just $1.00.

WIRTHMOR WAISTS CAN BE SOLD IN JUST ONE GOOD STORE IN EVERY CITY.

BEAR LOSSES WITH FORTITUDE

ENGLISH AND FRENCH PEOPLE BOUND TO WIN

Major B. J. Beuker Tells of Trip Overseas and Condition of People "Over There."

The following letter from Major B. J. Bauker, with the 309th Sanitary Train, overseas, was recently received by Mrs. Beuker and is kindly offered for publication:

France, Sept. 29, 1918.

Dear All at Home:—"Finally arrived in France in the southern part near the Spaninsh border. We will stay here about a month before going into action. The trip through England and across the channel and through France was very interesting. The people are thoughtful and kind. It is a very sad sight. In the whole of England one does not see an able bodied man who ie not in uniform, and the women and children are doing all the work. Still they do not complain, but are thinking only of victory at any cost.

"Well, from what we hear of our Yankee boys, it appears that next year will surely be the last year of the war. We have not seen anything of it yet except train loads of wounded and lots of broken cannon and aeroplanes.

"We passed within ten miles of Paris, but did not see it, although we could see the Eiffel tower at that distance. Am writing also to both boys today, as I do not know whether they are both together or even whether they are alive. It sure is a terrible condition, but cannot be helped, and when one sees the quiet strength with which these French people bear their awful losses, then our own troubles become small, indeed.

"Well, let us hope that we, with our boys, will have a regular reunion some day. The weather is fine here. This is the regular grape and mushroom country, and we certainly dig into all these good things. These French women know how to cook. I am billeted with an old couple who were chased out of Alsace Lorraine in 1870. Write often and address all letters to Major B. J. Beuker, Sanitary Train 309, A. E. F., France.

SAYS GERMANS ARE BEST RUNNERS

Crown Prince Willie Writes Papa Kaiser for Advice

Among letters from "Over there" perhaps the following from the Crown Prince to his father the Kaiser, may be of interest.

On Der Run,
Somewhere in France.

Dear Papa:—I am writing on der run, as der brave and glorious soldiers under my command have not seen der Rhine for so long dat dey have started back dat vey, and of course I am going mit dem. Oh, pap, dere has been some offel dings happened here in France. First, I started in my big offensive which vas to crush de foo Americans, but dey know so little about military tactics dat dey vill not be crushed just like I vant 'em. I sent my men in der fight in big vaves, and den dey got to do Americans dey all said "Boo" as loud as dey could holler. Vell, according to vat you half always told me, de Americans have turned and run like blazes.

But vat do you tink? Dem fool Americans don't know anything about war, and instead of running de odder vay, dey come right toward us. Some of dem vas singing about "Ve von't come back till it's over, over here," or some udder foolish song and soma of dem ver laffing like fools. Dey are so ignorant. But they are offel reckless mit der guns, and ven dey come towards us it was dat my men took a notion day vanted to go back to der dear old Rhine. Ve don't like der little old dirty Marne river, anyhow.

And, oh, pap, dem Amerleans uae such offel language. Dey know nothing of kultur, and eay such offel dings right before us. And dey talk blasphemy too. Vat you tink dey said right in front of my face? One big husky from a place dey call Miseouri, he said—oh, papa, I hate to tell you vat an offel ting ha said—but I can't help it; he said, "To hell mit der kaiser!"

Did you ever hear anything eo offel? I didn't tink anybody vould say sueh a offel ting. It made me so mad I vouldn't stand and hear such a offel ting so I turned around and run mit de odder boys. Vas I right? Vat?

And, oh, papa, you know dem breastplates vat you sent ue—Can you sen some to put on our backs? You know ve are going de odder vay now, and breastplates are no good, for de cowardly Americans are shooting us right in de back. Some of our boys took off der breastplates and put 'em behind, but der fool Americans nre playing "De Star Spangled Banner" mit machine guns on dem plates. Can't you help us?

You remember in your speech you said nothing could stand before the brave German soldiers? Oh, papa, I don't believe deze ignorant Americans ever read your speech, for dey run after us just like ve vas a lot of rabbits. Vat you tink of dot? Can't you send dem some of your speeches right away? Dey won't know how terrible we are.

Can't you move my army back to Belgium, vere ve von all our glory? My men can vip all de vimmen and children dot dem Belgians can bring us. But dese Americans are so rough and so ignorant. We can't make 'em understand doe ve are do greatest soldiers on earth and ven ve try to sing "Deutchland Uber Alles" dey laugh like a lot of monkeys. But ve are getting de best of de Americans. Ve cannot run dem, but papa, if ve are not de best fighters on earth ve are sure de best runners. Nobody can keep up mit us ven ve tink of der dear old Rhine, and my army never did tink so much of dot dear old river. Let me know right away vot to do by return post office.

Information of Priceless Value to Every Charlevoix Citizen

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth, and this is particularly true of the diseases and ills of the human body. If you suffer with kidney backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble the advice contained in the following statement should add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the effieiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of a Charlevoix citizen who used them and who publicly tells of the benefit derived.

Mrs. W. L. Cowan, 210 Antrim St., Charlevoix, says: "I suffered from a severe backache and pains across my kidneys. My kidneys acted irregularly also. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Metcalf's Drug Store fixed me up in good shape." FIVE YEARS LATER Mrs. Cowan said: "Since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble, I have recommended them to many people. Doan's are certainly worthy of endorsement."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don,t simply asked for kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Cowan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

The beautiful fall weather we have been having of late is more than appreciated by the farmers in this locality.

Tha Lyman family, who have been "down" with influenza, are improving at this writing.

The many friends of Lee Fisher here extend their sincere sympathy to his family in their hour of deepest sorrow.

Any person who kicks about this season's weather or crops should be immediately transported to the front line trenches.

Clair Bisel has returned to spend some time with his friend, John Cawood, after working all summer on a Great Lakes boat.

Mrs. Geneit and Mrs. Patterson from the Mohrman farm at Lakeview, passed through here enroute to Ellsworth on business Monday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rosenberg of North Milton drove over with Jim Wilson on Saturday evening and spent Sunday at the latter's home. Mrs. Rosenberg and Mrs. Wilson were childhood friends.

Mr. Davy is busy threshing beans and buckwheat in this neighborhood and is more than a welcome visitor, as everyone is taking advantage of the fina dry weather to put crops in shape for the winter.

Our school is closed at present on account of influenza, and while some are tusseling with that disease others are wielding a potato hook, and therefore rendering a service to the nation.

Miss Katie Wilson returned to her home at Central Lake on Sunday, after spending a week at the Wilson homes here, her school at Bellaire having been closed on account of the epidemic.

Some women, as well as men, are persevering and plucky. In this case we refer to Mrs. Percy White, who lives at Mio, Michigan, and who drove their Ford runabout through to this place bringing with her their two children, one a baby girl who was born last April. Mrs. White is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Terwillegar, who lives on what is known as the Maddie Peppin place, and will return to Mio in a week or ten days, taking her mother, who will go on to Ohio for a months visit with relatives she has not seen in many years.

MAKING GOOD ROADS.

Highway Betterment Has Improved the Value of Farm Land.

In the results of inquiries made by federal officers who are supervising the use of $80,000,000 appropriated for the improvement of roads there is nothing more instructive and interesting than the proof that road betterment has greatly increased the market value of farm land, says the New York Times. A careful investigation was made in eight representative counties, covering a period of five years. The record of many actual transactions shows that the selling price of farm land within one mile of the improved roads has been largely increased, in one county by 194 per cent, the additions to value being from two to three times the cost of the road work.

The law which appropriates $80,000,000 to be expended in five years, with the condition that states spend an equal sum in carrying out an improvement program, has been in effect for six months. While only one state has met all the requirements of it, others have made a beginning, and all will eventually undertake to do their share. In several states delay is due to the need of new legislation. Careful preparation has been made by the department of agriculture at Washington for expert supervision and inspection of the improvements for which $160,000,000 will be paid. It should be noted that the statute requires local governments to maintain the new roads in good condition.

"She Stoope to Conquer."

"She Stoops to Conquer" grew out of an incident that occurred in Goldsmith's travels about Ireland. He found himself one night far from home and inquiring the way to an inn, some wag directed him to a gentleman's private residence. There he went, ordered out his horse, demanded the best supper the place afforded and generally gave himself airs. He did not discover his mistake until the next morning when he was about to pay his bill.

ATWOOD

Rather quiet Sunday, even with the gas ban lifted.

Paul DeVries has commenced painting his new house.

Mary Groenink is visiting her sister, Mrs. Maurice Henry.

John Beuker from Ellsworth spent several days here last week.

Gerret Essenburg purchased 150 six months old pullets of A. B. Sneller.

Persis VandeStreek is home. School being closed on account of influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Henry and daughter spent Sunday at the L. Groenink home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Klooster from Charlevoix, spent Sunday at the Henry Klooster home.

Radish threshing is about over with and bean threshing is under way. Beans are a good crop and fine quality.

Julius Busse from Holland, is spending a few weeks visiting relatives here and helping some of the farmers with their fall work.

A few cases of grippe, or possibly mild cases of influenza here, but so far Atwood has been lucky enough to escape an epidemic of the disease.

Miss Grace Essenburg left Wednesday for Denver, Colo., where she will be employed in the sanitarium where her sister Rose is undergoing treatment.

Everybody come to the harvest supper to be given in the town hall November 1. A program has been arranged and a fine supper is promised to all.

Word was received by his parents last week that Henry Petter was wounded and is in a hospital in France. He writes that a piece of shrapnel went through one of his ribs and through the liver and into a lung. We hope that he may recover soon.

Snowy White Clothes Without Scrubbing

No matter how big the wash or how soiled the linen, 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips will put your clothes on the line snowy white—with all the hard work of wash day left out. It's the Borax in that does it! It softens the water and loosens the dirt so that the pure soap can dissolve it away. Next wash-day use 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips this way: Make a Soap Jelly by adding three tablespoonfuls of Chips to a quart of boiling water. Put enough of this solution into the wash-water to make a good suds and soak or boil clothes as usual. Will not shrink woolens or injure fine fabrics. An 8 oz. package of 20 Mule Borax Soap Chips equals 25c worth of ordinary laundry soap.

It's the Borax with the soap that does the work.

1200 LIVES LOST IN FIRE

THOUSANDS ARE WITHOUT CLOTHING OR FOOD

Harrison Wallace Has Narrow Escape From Fire That Swept Northern Minnesota

Harrison Wallace, a former Charlevoix boy, now located at Floodwood, Minnesota, in the center of the devastated Minnesota district swept by forrest fires last week, writes a graphic description of the terrible calamity that befell residents of this territory. In the following letter he refers to Bessie, his wife, and her sister and family, who were forced to flee for their lives and lost practically all their worldly possessions:

Proctor, Minn.,
October 17, 1018.

Dear Mother:—You have read about the Minnesota fire. It was a most horrible thing, and it is not over with yet, but we are out of danger, at least for the time being. I wes cut off from Bossie for four days with no way at all of hearing from her, as the trains were not running, and all wires were down. Maybe you think I wasn't relieved when I got word on Wednesday that they were O. K. and came through alright.

"We were surrounded by fire and only a change of wind at the last minute saved Floodwood and this town too. Three towns within twenty miles on the north, west and east of Floodwood were completely wiped out, and the number of dead and badly burned will probably number 1200. Many cannot be identified and others will never be found at all.

"At Fluodwood they had a train ready end waiting to take the women and children away, and found out afterward thet could not have gotten through, on account of the track being burned, had they started. You see this country is like northern Michigan was twenty of thirty years ago and the dry weather of the past two months has made the whole country of 200 miles equare a fire trap. The fire is not all out yet by any means, and some of the towns are still in great danger. I burned my eyes and face pretty bad fighting fire, but no worse than thousands of others, and not as badly as hundreds, so we have a lot to be thankful for.

"Bessie's sister lost everything they had including home, furniture, only getting away with what clothes they were wearing. They have three emall children.

"Thousands of people who have lost everything ere ebsolutely homeless, and now that cold weather is coming on it makes it doubly hard. One town of 7000 people was burned flet and enother of 700 lost 400 that were burned to death. The wind blew a hurricane, and the fire was on them and pest them before they reelized their danger. Fire traveled from 40 to 60 miles per hour, so there was no chance of running awsy. Lots of people who atempted to escape in autos were overtaken and surrounded by fire and lost. It is estimsted that 200 cars we e destroyed in this manner.

"People of Duluth, Superior and other towns are doing their best to eare for the homeless, and much money had been given for relief purposes. What makes it bad is that it is a new country, and scarcely anybody hit by the fire has money."

SHOULD EAT PIG ON TURKEY DAY

Save Big Bird for Our Boys Overseas, Asks U. S.

"Turkeys will win the war; eat pig."

That is the latest war food slogan as applied to Thanksgiving day, for, according to dispatches from New York, the government has contracted for the entire supply of cold storage turkey and a large percentage of the fresh killed Thanksgiving bird, in order to assure a regular American Thanksgiving day for the Yanks abroad.

Stew—Irish stew at that—has been the great American bird over there near and back of the trenches. Stew has been eaten morning, noon and night, sometimes varied by hash. At rare, supreme moments a hunk of real steak finds its way into the fighting man's mess kit. Along about Thanksgiving time the fighters will be digging in for the winter. They will then just be getting the letters from home that are written now. The government has put it up to you at home to decide that they shall get a real Thanksgiving dinner.

Fire Prevention Day

Frank H. Ellsworth, state fire warden, asks that all observe November 2 as Fire Prevention Day in accordance with Governor Sleeper's proclamation. Owners of homes factories, office buildings, stores and all other Charlevoix county buildings are asked to make minute inspection of their premises and remove all rubbish and waste that might cause or aid the progress of fires.

BOARD SESSION IS POSTPONED

QUARANTINE INTERFERES WITH WORK OF COUNTY SOLONS

Will Resume Session After Danger of Spreading Epidemic Has Ceased—What was done.

The meeting of the county board of supervisors came to an abrupt end Monday, on account of orders from the state board of health, which placed a ban on all public gatherings, and meetings of any neture which would in any manner tend toward the spread of Spanish influenza, from which hundreds of deaths have already taken place and thousands of people, old end young, are at the present time confined to their beds with it.

On Monday the board edjourned indefinitely, subject to the eall of the chairman. When this time will be, no one at present can tell, but is hoped that the danger point will be passed within the next week or so.

At the Thursday session of last week H. A. Craig, superintendent of Charlevoix schools, was named by the board to fill the office of county school examiner. During the same session a new board of county canvasser was also named, consisting of L. E. Benton of Charlevoix, D. L. Hammond of Boyne City, and Wm. A. Pickard of East Jordan. These gentlemen will canvass the returns from the November election, and ell elections during the coming 12 months.

On Saturday the board was entertained by a short talk from Geo. W. Bailey, a veteran member of the board of supervisors of the earlier days. Mr. Bailey was elected a member of the board 44 years ago, representing the townsbip of Wilson. He told of his trip to Charlevoix to attend a session, of the board, stating that he walked the entire distance from home. At that time there were but 22 members, among whom were many well known pioneers who have long since died. Mr Bailey also served at later sessions, and his talk was most interesting.

The board is to be complimented on one feature of its work on Saturday—that of the purchase of a $10,000.00 Liberty Loan bond. A bond to this amount was purchased, each township to receive due credit according to its assessment roll.

Considerable work remains to be done which will be taken up when the board re-convenes.

RULES IN MAILING XMAS PACKAGE

Three Pounds to France, 7 to Siberia and 20 to Sellors

Some confusion has resulted in regard to the rules thet must be observed in sending Chrstmas packages to the boys in the American Expeditionary forces in Russia and France, and those in the navy. There is a distinct difference in the regulations for sending presents to different countries as well as the difference in size and weight of packages for the A. E. F. and the navy, Postmaster T. E. Finucan has been advised.

Parcels for the boys in the A. E. F. in Siberia and Russia, where many Michigen men have been sert, are limited to seven pounds and must not bo larger than 84 inches in combined length and girth. Packages for those in Siberia must be mailed not later than October 25 if they are intended to reach them by Christmas.

Presents for men in the navy are limited to 20 pounds, with the limit in size 84 inches. This is where the distinct difference comes in between the size and weight of packages for soldiers overseas and men in the navy. Three pounds is the limit in weight of parcels for men in the A. E. F. The size limit is three by four by nine inches. Parcels will be accepted from October 25 to November 15, inclusive.

Christmas packages for the boys in Siberia and Russia must be packed so that they can readily be examined. These regulations must be carried out to the letter if the presents are to arrive on time, Postmaster T. E. Finucan states.

Notice to the Public.

After October 31, we will close our place for the winter, and render our services to the government. We will reopen early next spring. We wish to thank our customers for their patronage and we assure the public a surprise in several new lines, and battom prices during 1919. Watch us.—Sanitary Engineering Co. 43t1.

CHARGED WITH FAILURE TO REGISTER

Charlevoix County Man Now in Emmet County Jail

Albert Wilth, of this county, arrested and jailed several weeks ago by Sheriff Novak on a charge of failure to register, has been transferred to the county jail at Petoskey, and is now awaiting his hearing before a representative of the department of justice.

Wilth claims he is above the draft, but witnessess are willing to testify that he is subject to the draft laws and that he failed to register. He will have his hearing in Petoskey November 1.

FIFTH LIBERTY LOAN IN SPRING

Peace Arrangements to Make No Difference in Need

Long before the Fourth Liberty Loan figures have been counted up, er the bonor flags have been entirely distributed, or tha money paid in, preparations have been started at ths treasury for tbe Fifth Liberty Loan.

The date has not been determined, nor the amount, nor any other features. The only certain knowledge is that there will bs another and that it probably will come in the spring of 1919—in March or April. Regardless of whether present German maneuvers for peace are successful ths government at that time will need more billlons to pay the war costs that can decrease only gradually even if cessation of military effort should come. Within a few months the treasury again will begin issuing new certificates of indebtedness as a means of financing itself and by next spring the accumulated billions of these must be redeemed out of proceeds from the sale of more bends.

So with this situation in mind the loan organization of the treasury today turned its attention to campaign plans for the next loan. Two features have been given study this far in advance—publicity and campaign methods, both closely connected.

HOW FIELD MICE CAN BE BANISHED

POISONED GRAIN NESTS WILL GET THEM.

County Farm Bureau Agent Recommends that M. A. C. Plan Be Followed.

Great damage is done young fruit trees evry year by field mice. To check the ravages of these creatures, Prof. R. H. Petitt, of the Michigan Agricultural college, recommends poisoned grain. This is placed in artificial nests made of straw or shredded corn stalks.

The nests may be made on top of the ground or in shallow trenches. If made on top of the ground they should be protected from stock and birds by pieces of board or stones laid together.

To make an underground nest dig a shallow trench about two feel long and about the width of the spade. In this put a quantity of straw or shredded corn stalks, two thirds filling the trench. On ths middle of this layer of straw or stalks put a small quantity of poisoned grain—say a teaspoonful. Then on top of this place more straw or stalks with a couple of shovels of dirt over the middle, leaving tbe straw or stalks exposed at each end.

Mice find the straw sticking out of the ground burrow into it to build their nests and come across the poisoned grain and eat it, which ends the matter.

Use corn or barley. Poison it by dissolving some arsenate of soda in water and soaking the grain in it. It takes about a pound of arsenate of soda to a bushel of corn, using just as much water as the grain will soak in.

It is important to make tbo nests so they will keep as dry as possible. Use considerable straw or stalks, and cover with plenty of dirt, pieces of broad or flat stones.

These nests, made with proper care and distributed through an orchard, should practically free it from mice in a short time. Now is the time to make the nests.—County Farm Bureau.

Comfort and economy make happy homes. You get both by using Cole's Hot Blast Heaters. 44t1.

Have You Missed Your Courier

Have you missed your Courier during the past two weeks? If you have, do you know the reason? It is this: Several names have been dropped for the reason that you did not respond to our appeal to pay up all arrearages in subscription, and a part of a year in advance. We are obeying government orders to cancel all subscriptions not paid up to October 12. This order must be obeyed or our source of supply of paper will be cut off and possibly other extreme penalties forced upon us. In complying with this government order we do not want to lose a single subscriber. We at the same time do not want you to miss a single issue of the Courier. But if you have not up to the present time paid your subscription in advance, your paper will cease coming to you.

So far over eighty per cent of our subscribers have responded to the appeal sent out. This notice is intended for those who have not attended to this matter. Many have written or phoned us regarding their account, but there a few who are still on the delinquent list. To these we must say that if your Courier does not reach you, it is because your subscription is in arrears.

Lieut. Dan. W. Mather Says Army Work at Aberdeen Proving is Almost Beyond Belief—Forrest Wallace Anticipates Great Time on Furlough.

From Lieut. Dan W. Mather
Absrdeen Proving Grounds, Md.
October 23, 1918.

Editor Courier—"Am sending you an article taken from tonight's paper, giving an idea of the work hers. I have not sent anything to you before, as one hardly knows what is permissable, especially where there is so much testing and experimental work around. Until ona has ssen them, you eannot realize the scale these places are built on. A year ago they were just selecting ground; today it is nearing completion, as are dozens of other reservations and arsenals unthought of until the war. When you think of it—last year a peaceful farm on the Chesepeake Bay, and this year with its net work of roads, railroads, shops, administratien buildings, barracks quarters, stables, guns, gun ranges, bomb proof towers, aeroplane hangars, boats, dredges, saw mills, etc., it seems almost like the impossible has been accomplished.

"Firing goes on at any hour, and we are just as liable as not to waka up in the middle of the night and hear our windows shaking from the firing of one of the big boys, and on a clear night to see shell bursts of the anti-air fort guns, which I believe are the noisiest on the place. Our airoplanes are never-ending source of interest, whether tumbling, or in battle formation, or perhaps in Aberdeen just over the tops of the trees. One of their men fell victim of the "flu.", and last Saturday when his body was taken away on the train, one followed it for quite a ways at a distance which I estimate as less than 100 feet from us, as I could read the big numbers on the sides of the plane.

"The detonating range is the place where they keep me at present. I find watching the shell bursts quite interesting, more so than the firing just now, as there is a fine pear tree down there on the range which we greatly enjoy. Then too, on the way back there are several persimmon trees which I have found hold an added attraction for us, and have a fruit which is unexcelled. The surrounding country here is a heavily wooded country. Along this side of the bay quit flat and low, but raising into the rolling hills quite rapidly a few miles back. It is a rich farming region, sweet corn and tomatoes being the special crop, there being hundreds of canneries in the vicinity. I have often thought when I saw them, that there was some crop industry which may sometime developed to an equal extent in Charlevoix county.

"We are quartered in small houses built overlooking the Chesapeake, which is about six or eight miles wide here, and a very beautiful piece of water. Have been fortunate enough to have had my work carry me down opposite Baltimore on it, and enjoyed every minute nf it.

"The "flu." struck here as at all other camps, and we have had a number of the boys taken away, but the number sick is lessening every day, so we feel happier now.

"Must close for this time," Sincerely,—Dan. W. Mather.

The following article from the pen of T. A. Johnson, referred to in Mr. Mather's letter, follows:

"On tbe greatest ordinance testing reservation in the world I have just witnessed a thrilling exhibition of airplane bomb-dropping, trench warfare and big gun bombardment which made me think I was with those Yanks on the western front.

"Nothing goes oveseas in the way of guns, ammunition or supplies that has not been proven 100 per cent perfect by the government. Here at the proving ground every gun that goes aeross is fired at least five times; every shipment of shells or bombs is thoroughly tested, and every hand grenade ia put through its paces to see what it will do to the Huns.

Guns Thunder Throughout Day.

"All day long the guns, big and little, thunder their salvos across Chesapeake Bay. Big airplanes soar overhead and drop bombs which tear great craters in what was once peaceful farm land. Trench mortars of all sizes and varieties hurl their whizzing projectiles over the landscape. Gas projectors discharge what seems to be large tin cans into the air—gasless here, but loaded with deadliest fumes "over there."

"And the din is more than the naked ear of the layman can stand, although you jam into them all the cotton waste they will hold.

Ths Aberdeen Proving Ground stretches fnr 35,000 acres on the bay. A govsrnment railroad has been bullt to coanect the various testing fields. There are scores of long, low barracks buildings for the 3,500 enlisted men employed here, miles of concrete roads, dozens of storehouses for ammunition awaiting tests, and shops of all klnds. A great new steel structure is going up to house some of the departments. It will continue to be used by the ordinance department after the war.

Airplanes Drop Real Bombs.

The most thrilling experience of the day was the airplane raid on the bomb-dropping field. There was nothing "phoney" about it; one bomb exploded not 100 yards from the observation tower and gave the spectators a real scare.

"From this tower, nearly 100 feet high, stretches northward for several miles a broad, flat expanse of meadow-land torn up by bomb craters. Coming up from the aviation field 13 miles south, at an altitude of 3,000 feet, a squadron of three Curtiss planes, each carrying three 100 pound high explosive bombs flew one by ona over tbe tower. Almost while they were over it they released their bombs, the momentum of the craft carrying them forward onto the field.

"I could see the bomb from the moment it dropped from the plane until it hit the ground, throwing a cloud of sand and smoke 50 feet into the air with terrific detonation.

Incendiary Bombs Dropped.

"Circling back over the tower and descending, the aviators loaded up again; this time with incendiary bombs. These are dropped in the same way—simply by pulling a chain—but the effect is different. The bomb penetrates three or four feet into the ground, and in a moment a sheet of flame bursts into the air and blazes away for fifteen minutes. When these bombs are dropped on German warehouses the Hun don't have time to move out, for the explosion of the bomb throws the liquid flames in all directions. The bombs are loaded with a highly inflammatory material of secret composition.

"The bomb-dropping field adjoins the trench warfare range, where trench mortars and trench bombs are tested. A modern trench mortar is little more than a length of pipe about four inches in diameter, with a firing pin in the lower or business end. The bomb is dropped in and before you ean say "Kaiser Bill" it comes out again and whishes off in a grsceful arc over the field.

Bombs Loaded With Sand.

"For testing the mortar, bombs are loaded with sand, equal in weight to the amount of explosive they should hold, are used. These bury their noses in the ground and do nnt, nf course, explode; they are dug out and used again.

"But for testing bombs under actual service conditions there is a stockade dug out at one of the trench warfare ranges from which explosive bombs are fired. These land on the range perilously close to a collection of abandoned farm houses, and throw up the ground much as do airplane bombs, making craters three to ten feet across.

"At the main proof battery stands an array of field guns of all calibre, siege guns, machine guns, naval guns mounted on railway trucks, anti aircraft guns mounted on automobile trucks, and on permanent mounts, and giant howitzers with their forbidding noses pointing out for 20 or 30 feet, in addition field artillery carriages of all kinds used by the army are lined up here for testing.

Guns are Camouflouged.

The guns are mounted along a concrete platform about a quarter of a mile long, with a railway running up to it for bringing up the big railway guns. All are elaborately camouflaged with green and yellow paint. On this range all mobile artillery and all ammunition are tested, with the exception of the trench warfare range from which explosive shell which are fired from the water range out over Chesapeake Bay.

My Dear Mother:—"Received your letter of August 12 saying you had received the papers I had sent you, and am glad they reached you safely. Regarding myself, am going on my leave the last of this month. Am going to Nice, I think, at least that is where I put my application in for and some of the boys are down there on their fulough now, and I think I will be able to stay there for the seven days that my leave allows me. Of course the seven days does not include going and coming back, so will have seven full days. Nice is down on the Mediterranean sea, on the border of Italy, and is said to be a beautiful place. Will write you about my trip at a later date.

"At the beginning of my letter I forgot to tell you that I was feeling fine. We are not sleeping in our tents any more, but have our barracks in houses. We are fixed up fine, have wooden beds and are quite comfortable. We have had a lot of rain recently, but now it is nice and warm. You aught to see tbe big, fine pair of driving gloves I got today. They are fur-lined, with big cuffs, and are certainly just what I needed. I also got some new clothes aueh as pants, socks, shirts, shoes, etc., also got a regular new hat again, one of those with tbe wide borders on. You know tha kind they wear in the states.

"We are sure giving tha Huns merry h— now, as you ean see by the papers. We will be in Berlin before long, then we will bury Kaiser Bill face downward and the more he digs the deeper he goes toward h—.

"Well must close for this time, hoping to hear from you real often. Your Son,—Forrest.

FLU SITUATION ABOUT SAME

FEW CASES REPORTED IN CHARLEVOIX

Every Precaution Possible Taken Against Spread of Disease—Conditions Outside Battar

There is little change in the 'flu.' situation in Charlevoix. A few cases have been raported, but not of serious nature. Every precautionary measure has been taken. Guards placed on all roads leading into Charlevoix prevent people from infected districts coming into the city. No one is allowed to enter without a certificate of health.

In other sections of the county conditions are reported as serious. Boyne City, which has been hard hit, is in better condition today because of the emergency hospital opened there Sunday night.

In East Jordan several new cases have been reported and one or two deaths have taken place. Ellsworth reports one death with a number of serious cases. In Hayes township one death took place so far this week, although there are many homes that contain from one to several members of the family down with the epidemic.

Boyne Falls and surrounding territory is also hard hit and outside help has been given them. Conditions throughout the state show slight improvement, with the exception of Detroit, Lansing, Grand Rapids and the larger cities.

Save! Save!

Save fruit pits and nut shells to make carbon for Gas Masks for our American Soldiers.

Save Peach, Prune, Plum, Apricot, Olive, Cherry and Date pits. Also shells of Brazil and Hickory nuts, Walnuts and Butternuts. One Gas Mask will save the life of one American Soldier.

Put your pits and nut shells in our Liberty Barrel. Form a club in your neighborhood and let this store be your depository. We will see they reach the government.

Every neighborhood should form Fruit Pit and Nut Shell clubs.—Martin Block. adv44t1.

XMAS BOXES FOR SOLDIERS

CARTONS READY FOR SHIPMENTS OF GIFTS

Shipping Regulations Must Be Observed or Intended Gifts Will Not Reach Boys Overseas

The attention of ths friends of ths men who are in the service with the U. S. forces now in France is called to the announcement that tha cartons in which to send Christmas gifts are on hand. The following instructions must be followed: Only one parcel can bs sent to each man. A carton in which to send tbe gift may be had by calling at the Charlevoix post office and showing an official address label, which can come only from the soldier overseas. If this label is lost it cannot be replaced and no parcel can be sent. Tbe packags, unwrapped and unsealed, must not weigh more than two pounds, fifteen ounces. No unmailable articles must be enclosed, such as liquids, matches, articles in glass, explosives, etc. Ths unwrapped box must be brought to the post office, where it will be inspected, wrapped and sealed. The sender will pay parcel post charges to Hoboken, New Jersey, from which place it will be forwarded under the care of ths American Red Cross. No parcels can be received after November 15.

Candies and other eatables should be placed in oblong tin or wood boxes. Anyone connected with the Red Cross, or any official at the post office will be glad to give suggestions as to what may be properly sent.

The regulations above mentioned are all official and cannot be altered in any particular by the local authorities. Members of the Red Cross will gladly do all they can to help those who wish to send a Christmas gift to a loved one in France.

None of these regulations apply to men in the navy.—C. E. Taggart, Chairman Charlevoix County Red Cross.

BIRTHDAY FITTINGLY OBSERVED

Guests Make Merry and Heartily Enjoy Chicken Dinner

The home of Curtis Feltenbarger, near Phelps, was the scene of a happy gathering of friends and relatives on Sunday last, tha event being the birthday anniversary of Mr. Feltenbarger's brother, Curtiss.

After congratulations were extended, the guests sat down to a bounteous chicken dinner, which was greatly enjoyed. The afternoon was given over to "visiting" and having a right good time, not forgetting to mention the amount of sweet cider that disappeared during the afternoon.

Among the guests were George Wiggins, wife and daughter, Viva of Petoskey; Curtis Feltenbarger, wife and son, Clarence, of Antrim county; Clarence Hinton of Phelps and the Misses Lillian and Margaret McCraig.

Send in Letters from Soldiers

The Courier is desirous of publishing every soldier's letter sent to us, and have so far done so as extensively as almost any paper in Michigan, moreso than most papers we have received. The folks at home greatly enjoy these letters from abroad and training camps, and if you will send them in we will gladly publish them.

One nne or two occasions letters have not appeared the same week they were sent in. Thia was occasioned by our having more than we could handle for that week. If these letters do not appear as soon as our friends who send them expect or if wo find it necessary to cut out some of the personal parts, we trust our friends will understand that it is not because we do not want the letters or do not appreciate the friendly spirit in which they were sent to us.

Courier readers are greatly intereated in what your sons and brothers have seen and experienced and we are making these letters one of the special features of the Courier.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER'S NOTES

Influenza raging near the three large towns has caused the closing of all schools hut three within a radius of ten miles from Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan. The Nowland school, Tainter school, and the Boyne Falls schools are in session.

Only one or two cases of "flu." in the Falls and only one rural district near there with one case. Thus every school east of Boyne Falls is in regular session. Word comes from Lansing that Sleeper's closing order does not in any way effect schools as this is in all cases left to the local health officers. In rural districts the supervisor is the health officer in the absence of a special officer for this work. He has final authority in the closing of schools and may overrule the school board in time of opening if he shall deem this best.

The Ranny schools and Three Bells school opened Monday the 21st after two weeks vacation. They will remain open this week provided the health officer allows this to continue.

All teachers should in these few cases of school assembly send home every child who sneezes, every child having a eold, and all members of families with the influenza at home. Preach all the sanitation found now in every newspaper and keep in close touch with your health officer for further orders. Be careful of drinking cups, pencils exchanged, group seating, group studying, and misguided games.

Beaver Island schools all in session. Latest news tells of no "flu." on the Island. Good news found in visiting the schools of the Island will be published at a later date. So many good things have this fall temporarily escaped us in writing these notes that it will be best to make a summary at a later date and try to do justice to the many good things that leave a lasting impression on the mind of the visitor.

This week the following schools were visited: Springvale, East Chandler, Dana, Howard, Woodard, Hoffman, Cramer, Davis, Polish and Lakeside.

Will teachers in sending dues of Junior Red Cross to the treasurer please send all of the surplus of last yesr, and the new funds for this year? If funds exceed twenty-five cents per pupil from last year, the excess may be applied on this years subscription. Both should be sent to Miss Ethel Brintnall, less the amount paid out for supplies last year.

Directors are sending in statements of orders for arithmetic charts. Every school will want one for the spring exhibit. If you are a parent or teacher or officer do you know if your school has made it possible thus for your teacher to measure your boys number work with that of the neighboring school?

Get your farm work done now! Make this a continued potato vacation! Have your slogan: No work to do after the "flu."! Perfect attendance after this. When school opens 100 per cent in every school! Get in the band wagon and let's all pull together for better schools.

Two Presidents of the United States Write Commander Newberry

From Theodore Roosevelt

Oyster Bay, Long Island, October 19, 1918.

Commander Truman H. Newberry, New York City.

My dear Commander:

I congratulate you on your nomination, but far more do I congratulate Michigan and all our people. It was my good fortune to have you serve under me as Secretary of the Navy, and I can testify personally to your efficiency and your disinterested and single-minded zeal for the public service. To a very peculiar degree you have stood for that kind of government which puts the interest of the people as a whole first and foremost, and treats all other considerations as negligible, when the public weal is involved. The record made by you and your two sons in this war is typical of your whole attitude as a public servant. Both your boys at once entered the Navy, and are now on the high seas. You sought employment abroad; when that was refused you, you accepted any position that was offered in which you could render public service.

The nomination of Mr. Ford makes the issue sharp and clean. It is not primarily an issue between the Republican party and the Democratic party, for Mr. Ford does not seem to have any firm political convictions, and was content to take the nomination on any ticket without regard to what the general principles of the men supporting that ticket were; and his memory about past politics is so hazy that although he has mentioned a Republican candidate for president for whom he thinks he once voted, it does not appear that this is possible, unless he is in error as to his own age.

The issue is infinitely more important than any merely political issue. It is the issue of straight Americanism, of straight patriotism, and of preparedness for the tasks of peace and war, as against a particularly foolish and obnoxious type of pacifism, preached in peace and practiced in war. This is the first time in the history of our country in which a candidate for high office has been nominated who has spent enormous sums of money in demoralizing the people of the United States on a matter of vital interest to their honor and welfare. The expenditures on behalf of pacifism by Mr. Ford in connection with the Peace Ship, and in connection with his great advertising campaign in favor of the McLemore resolution and of the pacifist and pro-German attitude against our participation in the war, was as thoroughly demoralizing to the conscience of the American people as anything that has ever taken place. The failure of Mr. Ford's son to go into the army at this time, and the approval by the father of the son's refusal, represent exactly what might be expected from the moral disintegration inevitably produced by such pacifist propaganda. Mr. Ford's son is the son of a man of enormous wealth. If he went to war he would leave his wife and child immeasurably distant from all chance of even the slightest financial strain or trouble, and his absence would not in the smallest degree affect the efficiency of the business with which he is connected. But the son stays at home, protesting and appealing when he is drafted, and now escaping service. Your two sons have eagerly gone to the front. They stand ready to pay with their lives for the honor and the interest of the American people, and while they thus serve America with fine indifference to all personal cost, the son of wealthy Mr. Ford sits at home in ignoble safety, and his father defends and advises such conduct. It would be a grave misfortune to the country to have Mr. Ford in the Senate when any question of continuing the war or discussing terms of peace may arise, and it would be an equally grave misfortune to have him in any way deal with the problems of reconstruction in this country.

Michigan is facing the test, clear-cut and without shadow of a chance for misunderstanding, between patriotism and Americanism on one side, and on the other pacifism, and that foolish sham-cosmopolitanism which thinks it clever to deride the American flag, and to proclaim that it would as soon be a Hindoo or Chinaman as an American. If there should be at any time in the future a Hindoo Senate, and it should choose, in a spirit of cosmopolitanism, to admit outsiders, there is no reason why Mr. Ford should not aspire to membership therein; but he would be signally out of place in the American Senate so long as that body is dominated by men who zealously believe in the American ideal and faithfully endeavor to serve the American people.

Wishing you all success, I am

Very faithfully yours,

Theodore Roosevelt

From William H. Taft

931 Southern Building,
Washington, D. C.,
October 19, 1918.

My dear Commander Newberry:

I write to congratulate you on being the Republican candidate for Senator in the State of Michigan. I sincerely hope that you will be elected, and I am very certain that if you are, you will render to the State and to the country a valuable service in your high office. I feel that I can say this from personal observation of the way in which you discharged your official duties both while you were Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and while you were in the same Cabinet with me under President Roosevelt. It is of the highest importance that in the settlement of the important questions growing out of this war, we should have men in the senate of your experience in governmental matters, and of your political views. The Democratic majority in Congress has not been one upon which the President or the country could depend for the adoption of measures adequate to the winning of the war. The people of the United States can be much more confident, if we have a Republican majority in both Houses, that the legislative branch of the Government will wisely cooperate with the Executive Administration, and by constructive criticism make that Administration more effective than if Democratic majorities in both Houses are retained. With Mr. Ford's known pacifist views, carried to an extreme, indeed, with his nondescript political affiliations, and with his engaging in this canvass simply at the instance of the President, the people of Michigan are placed in a dilemma in respect to how he will represent them. He will either go into the Democratic caucus and follow implicitly the wish of the President, who induced him to run, or no one can know what he will do, not even Mr. Ford, in contingencies that are likely to arise. If you are elected, the people of Michigan will know that you will act with the loyal Republicans and that you will back the President to the utmost when he is seeking Congressional assistance for the winning of the war, and that you will be independent and courageous in pointing out the mistakes of administration, with a view to their remedy. I earnestly hope that the electors of Michigan will choose you.

Sincerely yours,

William H. Taft

"GLOOM IN WASHINGTON AND JOY IN BERLIN"

If it were not for the fact that there is always a small element among the voters—yearly growing smaller as education progresses—that is likely to believe without thinking almost anything it hears, the childish saying of some Democratic speakers and writers that the election of Republicans means "gloom in Washington and joy in Berlin," would be something to laugh about. In fact it is being pretty well laughed out of politics anyway.

But if the election of Republicans causes so much joy in Berlin, we are left to wonder why there has been so great an absence of hilarity in Berlin since the Republicans swept the state of Maine by increased majorities, and one would have supposed that Berlin would have gone into very ecstasies after Mr. Lenroot had been elected senator from Wisconsin over the active opposition of the administration. When the Republicans of Michigan brushed Henry Ford aside, after the president had asked for his nomination there, that should have caused a veritable orgy of joyousness in the Potsdam palace.

But yet one cannot help feeling that there is no great happiness in Berlin today. In spite of the gloom among the peurile Democratic caterwaulers responsible for these absurd and disloyal utterances, Berlin does not seem to be joyous. She seems strangely perverse in this matter and her moods do not respond to the opposite vibrations of the Democratic near-statesmen of America.

For the truth is, as Berlin and the world now knows, but for the fact that the president could depend upon Republican leaders and members of congress to force through his important war measures at the times when he could not depend upon the men of his own party, we might not even now have entered fully upon this war, much less be waging it to a successful conclusion.

In practically every important instance when the president has wished legislation put over as a war measure, legislation that was needed if the war were to succeed, he has been forced to call upon the Republicans of the house and senate to carry it through because the Democratic leaders of his own party refused to do so. And the Republicans, with fine patriotism, have done the things asked, putting aside any grievance they may have had due to the sectional and partisan favoritism shown by the White House.

The five great measures designed to increase the army and navy were piloted through the House under the direction of Julius Kahn, of California, ranking Republican member of the House military affairs committee, because the president could not count upon the support of these measures by Champ Clark, speaker; Claude Kitchin, floor leader; Chairman Dent, of the military affairs committee nor Chairman Pargett, of the committee on naval affairs.

Twenty-seven Democratic chairmen opposed these measures that were necessary if the United States were to do her part in the wer, and the president was compelled to call upon the Republicans of the House to come to his support when his own party deserted him.

If there has been "gloom in Washington and joy in Berlin" over any partisan happening since the United States entered the war, it must have been when Berlin came to know and the president to realize that the President of the United States could not depend upon his own party to back him in enacting the legislation necessary to carry on the war successfully.

But the Republican party has always been the nation's party when the necessity for war has become apparent. It was the Republican party that demanded preparedness on the part of the United States almost from the day the European war broke out. Had its words been heeded, the war in Europe likely would have been over long ere this. Even the preparation of this nation to enter the wur on a great scale might huve caused the struggle to end ever there before this country had entered, and certninly would have ended it within a comparitively short time afterwards.

And the German government probably is not fooled by bebyish catch phruses nor will the Americnn voters be. The election of a cirlle Republicun war congress in November would add overwhelmingly to the gloom that now permeates the German capital. In recent years there has been no occasion so important as this for patriots to vote for the restoration of the Republicun party to power in our national assembly.

Bishop Gallagher of Grand Rapids, now of Detroit, says: "Perhaps if the women of Germany had been entitled to vete, and could have thus by their ballot mnde their influence effective in shaping the policy of the state, militarism would have never grown so great, and the world would have been spared the sufferings and agony of the present inferno of slaughter."

"I believe thet the men of Michigan, in the coming election will blot from our constitution that insult to the position, intelligence and dignity of wemen, the denial of the ballot, and write instead-equal suffrage to men and women elike."

Our Michigan women are too busy at work to do expensive campaign work. Will our Michigan men let these opponents win over their women?

It is rumored thet Germeny has called in all her submarines, but we're going to be dend sure before we let any of our women and children go to sea.

The Belgians are going back to Belgium and Alsace Lorraine is coming back to France, and on top of that the world is coming back to decency.

The Germans spent forty years preparing for this war, and in all that time they never once thought of preparing themselves to take a licking.

The German people may survive defeat, but can they survive the reputation the Kaiser has given them?

Drop two bombs into Berlin and all Germany would move to Holland.

SOLID REPUBLICAN DELEGATION NEEDED

SHIFT OF CONGRESS CONTROL VITAL TO BEST INTERSTS OF COUNTRY.

COTTON ABSOLUTE MONARCH

Continued Control By Democrats is An Invitation to National Disaster.

"It is the solemn, patriotic duty of the votars of Michigan to send a eolid Republican dalegation to congroes," declares the Detroit Free Press. "The senatorial contest, the contests in the various reprasentative districts, should be datermined on the premise that a chift of party control in the national legislature is vital to the best welfare of the country. A perpetuation of control by the Democrats will invita disaster.

"Mr. Wilson declared politics adjourned, but today politics rules in government circles. Controlling Democratic partisanship has become a menace to the public good. It is using the national emragency as an opportunity for furtherlag its own selfish ends. It bas even revived sectionalism whbch six years ago was dormant, almost dead. The solid south has been placed in the saddle. Its men control the government. Cotton is not only king, it is an absolute irresponsible monarch. We read of a cabinet officer who in a public address mentioned Jeff Davis as one of the saviors of the nation.

"Membership in the dominant party is considered a prerequisite to statesmanship. The great men of former administrations who might give expart council in this time of trouble are left to cool their heels in antechambers; end to hevs been favored under any former administration frequently meana condemnation to the fate of Generul Wood.

"If the men who ere running the nation nnd directing its fate could be considered able, wise, and trustworthy from the point of statesmanship, much might be borne. But there is nothing either in the past record or in the present policies of the party in power which gives promise for the future.

"The Democratic party was the party of obstructive pacifism for three years while we should have been making every effort to prepare for an inevitable conflict. Its leader laughed at preparedness; he sneered at those who argued for it. And who we fiaally declared war against Germany, we found ourselves tótally unready to do any actuel fighting. So we wasted a year and billions of dollars before we finally became what we pretended to be, a combatant in the world fight for freedom end civilization. And in that year millions of people died who might have lived if we hsd started getting ready for a fight as soon as the Lusitania was sunk.

"Since we entered the war, the Republican members of congress have been the members who bave stood behind Mr. Wilson and have given him everything he has needed as commander-in-chief. If the president hed been obliged to depend upon the members of his own party for supplies and support he and the nation would sometimes have tared badly.

"The economic situation during tha first years of Democratic ascendancy has its lesson nnd its warning. In 1914 the Underwood tariff bill, with its free trade provisions, was rapidly bringing on the ruin of all our commercial and financial prosperity. The country was being flooded with foreign goods, the public treasury was nearing depletion. It was the war in Europe, with its large demand for what wes then contraband, that saved the situation for us.

"Since we bave gone into the war, a great deal has been done toward the mobilization of the natiun for military effort, but up to this day not one single constructive movement has been taken to insure economic solidity after peace comes. We are as unprepared for peace as we were for war. The president in the third of his "fourtsen conditions" to the Teutons stands committed to a continuance of free trade; and Mr. McAdoo and his friends sre laboring continually to foist upon the country as an outgrowth of the vast war powers thay enjoy, a system of government socialism which once in effect would speedily become subversive of our national institutions, would hepelessly corrupt our political life and would substitute for our present form of government something closely approaching paternalism.

"The United States of America requires for its best welfare, for the insurance of a prosperous and frea future as a republic, and for its very safety, a national legislature in control of the Republican party. And Michigan must do its part towurd tha election of sucb a congress.

AS TO PARTY SLOGANS.

"Stand by the President," is the Democratic party slogan in the campaign. "Stand by the War"—which includes standing by the president in all war matters—is the slogan of the Republicans. How do the party members live up to their slogans? Tha Grand Rapids Press says: "Democrats in congress idolize the president, but won't stand by him; while Republicans criticise him and then support him to the last ditch."

Do you think Mr. Voter that the women of Great Britian, Canada, Italy, France, Hawaii, New Zealand, Australia, Finland, Norway, Iceland, Sweden, Denmark and one half the other states are more intelligent than the women of Michigan? The women vote in these countries why not in Michigan? At any time in the past years if it was not a success they would have voted it out of these states, as there are more men than women in the western states.

MARRIED MONDAY AT HIGH NOON

Newly Weds Will Make Future Home in East Jordan.

On Monday noon, October 28, the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Gaunt of Eveline township was the scene of a quiet wedding, when Mrs. Gaunt's sister, Miss Josephine Clark, was united in marriage to Mr. Walter Ross of Bay City, Michigan, Rev. James M. Ruehle of East Jordan, officiating.

The bride wore a silk and satin gown and carried a beautiful boquet of flowers. The groom wore a blue serge suit. The ceremony was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gaunt, nephew and niece of the bride. Among other guests present were Mrs. Joseph Gaunt and family of Ellsworth, sister of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gaunt and family of Eveline.

A bounteous wedding dinner was served immediately after the wedding ceremony, and the table fairly groaned under the weight of the many good things to eat.

The groom had for some time been working for his brother-in-law near Gladwin and returned on Thursday last. Both the contracting parties have a host of friends who wish them a long and happily wedded life. They will make their home in East Jordan.

A Poet's Inspiration.

Sir Joshua Reynolds, who was a great friend and admirer of Goldsmith, came upon him unexpectedly one day when he was writing "The Traveler." Sir Joshua, approaching the door, heard Goldsmith discoursing most earnestly as if delivering a sermon. Entering, the artist found found the writer lecturing a little dog which was trying to balance himself on his hind legs. Looking over Goldsmith's shoulder, Sir Joshua found that the ink of the last line of "The Traveler" was still wet, indicating that a dog may be an inspiration to a poet.

Quick Action.

Quick action has become the byword of commerce. Fortunes have been made and lost and remade in the time the undecided person wavers in his or her decision. But quick decision must not to be confounded with jumping impulsively to conclusions. This extreme, which admits of little or no thought at all, is always as bad as the other.

Train your mind to act quickly. Plunge forward or draw backward but don't stand falteringly in the middle, for you stand in danger of being laid low by indecision.

INFLUENZA TAKES IRVING HILLIARD

Telegrom Telling of His Death Received Last Week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hilliard of East Jordan, received a telegram on Wednesday of last week, stating that their son, Irving Hilliard, has died at Washington, D. C., the night previous from Spanish Influenza.

On the Tuesday previous Mrs. Hilliard had left for Washington in response to a telegram stating that her son's condition was serious.

Irving Hilliard was 27 years of age last June. He was born at Cadillac and from there moved with his parents to Central Lake. About twelve years ago they moved to East Jordan and have since made their home there. The young man was in the employ of the government at Washington, and only a week previous was home for a few days. He taught school in various districts and was well liked where known. The remains were interred at Cadillac.

VICTIM OF DREADED "FLU."

DEATH CLAIMED BENJAMIN BOES EARLY SATURDAY

Junior Member of Horrenga & Boes, Owners and Operators of Ellsworth Creamery Co.

Benjamin Boes was born at Nordaloos, Mich., August 11th, 1890, and died at Ellsworth, Mich., Saturday, October 26th, 1918, death being caused by pneumonia following Spanish Influenza.

"Ben." as he was commonly called, was the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. John Boes of Reemus, Mich. He was united in marriage, November 24, 1915, to Miss Elsie Horrenga at Brooksido, Mich, and together with his wifes' parents came to Ellsworth December 8 of the same year, and purchased the Ellsworth Creamery Co. which business he has run successfully up until the time of his death.

Mr. Boes, during his residence here has formed many warm friendships and has earned the deepest respect of all with whom he came in contact, both in a social and business way, and the saying, "that those who knew him best will miss him most" was never used in a truer sense than in this case.

Deceased is survived by his wife and 18 months old baby boy, his father and mother, four brothers, Henry of Ellsworth, Joseph, John and Dick of Reeman, and by one sister, Mrs. Gerrett Tanis, also of Reeman.

Funeral services were held from the house Tuesday afternoon, October 29th, in charge of Rev. Pickart of the Dutch Reformed church of which Mr. Boes was a member, and the body was laid at rest in Boss cemetery. The entire community extends their deepest sympathy to the sorrowing family.

Wonderful Display on Exhibit in Hardware of W. A. Boss

George Heller received a shipment one day last week from Buckner, Va., which displayed in the show window of the W. A. Boss hardware here in town is arousing a whole lot of interest.

The shipment consisted of samples of produce grown on the Virginia farm belonging to L. H. Clark and embraces practically everything in in the fruit, grain and vegetable line.

Included in the list are some of the following, all A No. 1 articles of their kind Wheat, soy beans, black-eye peas, yellow dent, white dent and pop corn, tobacco, two varieties of apples, keifer pear, two kinds of peppers, both Irish and sweet potatoes, three kinds of beans, persimmons, hickory nuts, walnuts, chincopens and filberts, and the exhibit is topped off with two cigars made by Chas. Ford from home grown tobacco.

A feature of the articles is the splendid grade. A sweet mangoe pepper measures sixteen and one half inches in circumference, a keifer pear thirteen inches, and one of the apples, a golden sweet, is between twelve and thirteen inches. and both the white and yellow corn is fourteen inches in length. Everything else in top stuff also.

Mr. Heller is the only one from this vicinity who has been fortunate enough to visit the Clark'a at their southern home, and the flattering reports brought beck by him are proven by these samples to be based on facts.

Mr. Clark atill owns a farm one mila east of Ellsworth and it has been the hope of the people here that they would some time return to take up their residence among us, but wharever they aro the best wishes of their Ellsworth friends are with them and their old friends and neighbora view with pleasuro this evidence of their euccess in their home in the sunny southland.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Simon Bos

Following is a copy of a letter of Simon Bos who enlisted September 24, 1017, and has been in France since January 1918. The letter is written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adrain Bos of Atwood, Michigan.

France, September 15, 1018.

Dear Home Folks:—"Its a good while (10 days) since I hava written, 'but better late than never,' and we have been quite busy too lately. This is all the paper I have, but I guess anything is welcome from France, as it seems everyone is always glad when mail arrives from there.

"Well I am all O. K. and sefe as can be and the big push is still going, and 'going some, believe me!' The Yanks are there, and well the Huns know it and those that don't will soon find out.

"I workad as usual todsy, but it must be done, so its just do it. Our outfit has been head over heels in work lately and they sura did work too, gatting things ready for the event now in progress. For awhila our company averaged eighteen and three fourths hours a day per man and I guess that is going soma, but its bringing fruit now and no one complains or begrudges his little bit.

"I received four letters today, one from you in which Alice asks me to write to Rose E. and I have already complied; one from the Fakes' in Detroit and two from G. R. I aiso received another bunch of papers, which are also pretty welcome.

"Have seen thousands of Hun prisoners and they seem to be of all ages, although boys of 18 are quite plentiful. The young fellows are all tickled to death to be captured, as they say the war is finished now as far as they are concerned and they are singing and happy that they are captured. The older fellows and officers are always that proud, sullen, stiff headed Germans and they can't see why the Americans are fighting them, and of course Germany is right and also invincible. They have a German lieutenant in a hospital here and one of our fellows talked to him, and the German asked how many Americans were over here and when told, he said it wae impossibla, as every other transport was sunk by the subs, and so of course very few could come ovar, but I guess they will changa their opinions before very long.

"It's almost impossible to imagine what it means to pull off a drive, as there ara thousands and millons of sheils to ba hauled up, gune and tanks and hundreds of all kinds, ratione and everything else and then when they let loose with the guns. O! Boy! Alrplanes flying all directions, little spads, or French fighting planes and the big heavy bombers all mixed up. Why they claim the alrplanes were so thick they had to pull the observation balloons down to let them go by. (next)

"Well I guess this is enough so 'Au Revoir,' and don't do any useless worrying as I am all O. K. and out of danger,"—Simon.

Co. D, 21st Engrs., American E. F., France, via N. Y.

August 18, 1018.

A few extracts of letters written by Simon Bos follow, taken from letters written in August, September and October 2. Personal parts were eliminated.

Dear Home Folks:—"Monday evening and just a few lines to let you know I am still fine and dandy.

"I was off all day today, as last night I worked in the kitchen all night feeding the fellows as they came in. A pretty good job but I guess I wasn't built to be a kitchen mechanic.

"Haven't anything special to write about as what would perhaps be interesting won't go, so it's no use writing it.

"We have had things pretty quiet here lately, not much excitement only occasionally, and when we do have it, wa get enough in an hour to last us for a month, but so far, luckily no one has been hurt.

"The Red Cross and the Salvation Army surely are doing an immense lot of good here. It's surprising how everyone feels towards them. Even the fellows that don't care about much of anything take their hats off for the Salvation Army and I've never heard a soldier over here sny anything but the best for them. One of the boys said awhile ago, 'If there is anyone that wants to commit suicide just let him say something against the Salvation Army when a couple of soldiers are around.' That's the general feeling of everyone in the army, at least everyone that I've talked to and I've seen fellows from a big variety of outfits.

"Well the Yankees sure did some good work alright but it will just be practice compared to whet they'll do when once they get started. They'll make those Huns think they were hit by a tidal wave.

August 29, 1918.

"It's been rather chilly here lately and also cloudy most of the time and although I like warm, sunny weather, the clouds sure are welcome as 'Fritzy, doesn't like cloudy weather very well.

"It rained a little last night and I saw the most beautiful rainbow I avar saw. It reminded ma of the morning when we were lying in the harbor. It was showery and during our shower the end of a rainbow seemed to rest on a large French battleship. Believe me, it was a pretty sight and a little while later a sub tried to get into the harbor and of all the racket, big guns and little ones all belching out shot to beat the band. Such is life over here.

September 5, 1018.

"I am off today but have to work on Sunday. Am working now from 6:00 a. m. until 6:00 and 6:30 p. m. so mayba we aren't busy, but we are fortunate to get a day off, as some of tha fellows ara working seven days a weak, but we all see the reason of it and I haven't heard anyone complain at all about it.

"It is nothing unusual for a German to come walking into town a couple of miles behind the lines and give himself up. Three walked into a town the other morning and an M. P. stopped them and one said, 'finish fight, more coming,' Germans he meant.

"I have a German gas mask which I will box up and send you, as soon as I get time to do it.

October 2, 1918.

"I saw some French women and children harvesting some potatoes and they have some job. They loosen up the ground with a hook and then scratch them out by hand. I think if they could sea the machinery we use they would faint. Potatoes are a good price here too, as we bought soma and paid 50 francs per 100 kilos, or about $9.00 for 220 lbs. By we, I mean our company for the mess.

"As far as the weather is concerned, I am like a negro I was talking to the other day, he said, 'I sure have been told a lot of lies about this country,' and he is just about right. We had a heavy frost last night and it is very chilly during the day.

"Evidently you are doing considerable Red Cross work and you can be assured that it isn't going to waste and if you had seen the way they take care of the fellows as I have when they came in from the field you would realize its value. And the Salvation Army is some big benefit too. When I look at what they are doing and in the way they are doing it, as they took their few dollars and trust in God to help them and come over and then look at the churches, I can't help but feel ashamed of them.

From Leonard Herrington

France, September 12, 1918.

Dear Folks at Home:—"I will now try and answer your kind and appreciated letter of August 6. I received it about September 3 and started to answer it on the 4th, but have just got straightened around so I can finish it. I had to copy it all over again on clean paper, as I carried it until it was nearly worn out.

"Well, folks how are you by this time? I am well and hope this reaches you feeling the same as I do. I will write as often as I can. There are times when it takes from 12 to 20 days for us to mail a letter after we have written it, and there are some letters lost or delayed, so you must not worry when you do not hear from me as often as you think you should. You cannot begin to realize what we have to undergo here, and I do not care to write you about it, either.

"Well, father, you say there is nothing for you to write about—only the same old thing—three meals a day and work the rest of the time. You are lucky to be able to get the grub to eat and be able to work. I suppose you did have quite a time getting the haying and harvesting done. I often think of those odd jobs we used to change off on.

"There are lots of grapes here—the blue wine grapes are not ripe enough to eat as yet.

"I am very thankful I have so far come through all engagements without even a slight wound, hut it makes my heart ache to think of some of the misfortunes I have seen happen to other comrades. I am sorry it has to be, but we must win this war at any cost. "Our cause is just and win we must."

"I have seen several German prisoners lately. They are a loncly, homesick and war-sick bunch of fellows. I don't think they are very anxious for any more fighting. Have heard that some of them have said they would all give up and be taken prisoners if they dared to, but their own men back of them would be compelled to fire upon them with heavy artillery if they attempted such a move, so they must fight until they get a chance to surrender. It is my opinion, as well as many others, that the German government will wake up before long and submit to the peace terms laid down to them by the allies. If not I suppose militarism must be crushed.

"Will close now as I have told you about all censor will allow to pass through. Write often as I greatly enjoy reading the letters from home. Your son and brother,—Pvt. Leonard O. Herrington, 32nd Division, Co. B, 125th Inf.

Antrim City is a very peaceable place but Charley Stotts' peaceful reading was disturbed Sunday evening by a noise in the hen house. Supposing it to be someone or something kidnapping his chicks, he quickly armed himself with an old shot gun (one old enough to have been the one his dad corried in the war) and a lantern and started in pursuit of the thief. Cherley is a good marksman or he could never have killed the mink which he found. Sorry to say he lost two chickens.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST FEAR IS ADVOCATED

Course in Basic Ideas of Christian Science Urged at Des Moines Meet

Special to the Christian Science Monitor from its Western Bureau—A course in commonsense and the basic ideas of Christian Science, and an editorial policy for newspapers directed against fear, was urged at a meeting here recently of a committee of business and professional men which have virtually been in charga of the city during the so-called Spanish influenza epidemic. Dr. W. C. Wittee, city sanitarian, is chairman of the committee. The membership includes James R. Ilanna,, former mayor; Z. C. Thornburg, superintendent of schools; C. L. Herring, of the greater Des Moines committee; Marshall Miller, president of the trades and labor assembly; Ralph Faxon, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Charles Severude, druggist; and Drs. Granville Ryan, R. L. Parker, and Thomas F. Duhig.

The city has been under a rigid quarantine for a minimum period of two weeks, all schools, colleges, churches, theatres and amusement places having been closed to prevent further spread of the alleged epidemic.

The fact that the soldiers and officers at Camp Dodge who are Christian scientists have not been affected by the epidemic, was called to the committee's attention at the meeting by Mr. Miller.

"There is no question," said Dr. Witte, "that by a right attitude of mind these people have kept themselves from illness. I have no doubt that many persons have contracted the disease through fear.

"People can deceive themselves into thinking they have any disease on the calender, and doubtless many of them have thought themselves into their graves."

A recommendatiou that newspapers prepare editorial citing the immunity which Christian Scientists enjoy from influenza, and urging the use of common sense snd calm attitude of mind in conquering fear of infection, was made by H. W. Byers, corporation counsel for the city. The recommendation was endorsed by the committee as a whole, and newspapers were asked to quote the committee to that effect.

"Entirely too much publicity has been given to the supposed symptoms of the so-called Spanish influenza," was Mr. Byers' further comment, "and I would recommend that if anything be printed in regard to the disease it be confined to simple preventative measures—something constructive, rather than destructive."

"Fear is the first thing to be overcome, the first step in conquering this epidemic," said Dr. Witte. "I am not a Christian Scientist, but I believe an application of their prinpiples will materially aid in preserving the health of this community. They did not originate with the Scientists, but are to be found by anyone who will take the trouble to read bis bible.

"In my work in infected communities, I have always found Scientists the first to respond to the slightest suggestion of unsanitary conditions, and the first to comply with fundomental health measures."

Colds, Sore Throat, Etc.

Whatever remedy the physician may prescribe or you may take, be careful that the germs are not passed on to other members of your family. Avoid an epidemic.

This can usually be accomplished by keeping everything antiseptically clean with 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric. Make a quantity of boric water, as indicated by directions on the package, and everybody in the family use it freely as a mooth wash and gargle.

A little warmed may be snuffed up the nose occasionally for germ killing purposes.

Leading druggists sell 20 Mule Team Boric.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

transferred, and am at present with a fine bunch of fellows who all saw service on the Marne. So far I have not connected with any of the Germans.

"Have been across No-Man's land. It was literally dug up and full of shell holes, villoges all shot to pieces—hardly a wall left standing. All buildings are made of stone and consequently are hard to batter down. Continuous bombarding is going on now. Read tha papers carefully and you will see what the Kaiser called "America's little army" is doing. Their best work is going on now, but much is to be done this fall and I hope the Germans will get all the war they want before winter sets in.

"I saw General Pershing the other day. His boys gave him a surprise in the drive now on—advanced so fast that the artillery could not keep up. My, what a mass of transportation on these roads. Have seen more the past three weeks than books could tell about. It has been interesting so far, but facing bullets is real business.

"I suppose the resorters are about gone at home. It is cold and rainy here. Old Charlevoix would certainly look good to me. Have received no mail from you since July 12, and only two letters since my arrival in France. You can easily keep track of the division I am in by following the newspapers, but I am not allowed to tell you its name. Write often. Your son,—Pvt. Allan Shapton, H. Q. Co., 4th Inf., A. E. F.

Adopted by the common council of the city of Charlevoix, at a regular meeting held in the council rooms on the 28th day of October, 1918, by the following aye and nay vote: Ayes: Geiken, Geneit, Glassford and Washburn. Nays: None.—S. M. Rose, Mayor, Chas. H. Emrey, City Clerk.

There being no further business the council adjourned.—Charles H. Emrey, City Clerk.

Resolution

Resolved, by the board of health of the city of Charlevoix in the county of Charlevoix and state of Michigan, that the action of the health officer of said city heretofore taken, declaring the city of Charlevoix to be in a state of quarantine to prevent the spread of contagion by the communicable disease commonly called Spanish influenza be and the same in hereby confirmed, and a state of quarantine of said city and its inhabitants is hereby declared.

Resolved further, that the following rules and regulations governing such quarantine are hereby adopted:

1. No person or persons shall enter the corporate limits of the city until he or she has furnished satisfactory proof to the health officer of the city, or his duly authorized agent, that such person or person has not lately come from a district or locality infected with a communicable disease.

2. No person or persons shall depart from the corporate limits of the city until satisfactory proof is furnished the said health officer or his duly authorized agent, that such person or persons are not bound to a destination within an infected district, locality or premises, with the intention or returning to the corporate limits of this city.

3. No vessel shall enter the waters lying within the corporate limits of the city until satisfactory proof is furnished the health officer or his duly authorized agent, that such vessel does not come from a port or place infected with a communicable disease. Provided, that though bound vessels may be permitted to pass directly through such waters to another port but such vessel shall not dock within such waters for any purpose except to obtain necessary clearanco papers, fuel or supplies and in such case the vessel shall not land any passenger, member of its crew, other than the master thercof, or any part of its cargo, and shall not remain in such waters longer than one hour without permit from the health officer. Vessels seeking refuge may anchor in such waters during necessity but shall not land passengers, crew or cargo, or any part thereof, without a permit from the health officer.

4. Persons entering the corporate limits of the city from outside points under certificate of health, or otherwise, shall immediately report to the health officer for such examinations as shall be found by him to be necessary.

5. It shall be unlawful for more than five persons to congregate upon any street or alley or public place, or in any building or business place. Provided, that such restriction shall not apply to the members of a single family or to the owner or owners and employes of any one business place engaged in actual employment therein, nor to meetings of public officers in the discharge of their official duties. It shall be the duty of tha owner or owners, proprietor or manager of any such business place or of any public or private office to comply with, observe and enforca this regulation in his or her place of business, or office.

6. No person shall spit or deposit any discharge from the mouth or nostrils upon any sidewalk of the city, or upon any floor, wall, fixture, waste basket or other furniture of any public of private building, office, store building or other place accessible to the public.

7. No owner, proprietor, manager or employee of any place of business in the city shall exhibit or expose for sale any goods, merchandise or foodstuffs of any kind, unless the same is protected against infection. Such articles to be guarded against handling by tha public and from the daposit of infection by coughing, sneezing or spitting of infected persons.

8. All infected places shall be placarded by the health officer. Every physician called to treat ony person infected with a communicable disease or who has knowledge of the presence of such disease in any place within the city or immediate vicinity, or who has good reason te believe that any person has contracted such disease, or has been exposed to infection, shall promptly report the same to the health officer.

9 No person who has contracted a communicable disease shall go upon the street or enter any public place, or any place of business. Nor shall any person who has been ordered by the health officer, or his duly authorized agent, or by any physician to remain in any certain isolated place or dwelling, shall leave such place without a permit from the health officer and no person or persons other than a physician or regularly licensed nurse shall enter any placarded premises, or other place which he may know to be infected, without a permit from such health officer.

10. The health officer shall have power to require any person suspected of having contracted a communicable disease, or of having been exposed to such disease, to wear such mosk for the face as the health officer may prescribe, and it shall be unlawful for such person to appear on any street or alley or in any public place, or in any business place or office without wearing such mask as prescribed.

Resolved further, that any person or persons who shall violate any of these regulations, or the orders of the health officer, or his duly authorized agents, or who shall aid, assist, advise or encourage any other person to violate the same, or who shall wilfully conceal or aid in concealing such violation, shall be deemed liable to prosecution as provided by law and the ordinances of the city.

Resolved further, that this resolution be presented to the common council of said city for approval and when so approved that the same shall be published in the Charlevoix Courier and Charlevoix Sentinel for one week, and thst copies of the above regulations be posted in five public places in the said city.

Adopted at a regular meeting of the board of health of the city of Charlevoix, held on the 28th day of October, 1918.—Signed: Harrison Berdan, James B. Parsons, Mabel W. Nicholls, Board of Health.

RECOGNITION OF LOYAL SUPPORT

STATE BANK RECEIVES CERTIFICATE OF HONOR.

Rewerded for Active Work During Both Third and Fourth Liberty Bond Drives.

The official certificate of distinguished financial service for subscribing its full quota of United States Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness, issued in anticipation of the Fourth Liberty Loan, was received by the Charlevoix State Savings Bank a few days ago.

In June of tbis year it was decided by the treasury department to issue a certain amount of the certificates every two weeks until the Fourth Liberty Bonds were issued. These certificates to be absorbed by the banks of the country, and Indivlduals who were contemplating lerge subscriptions to the fourth loan.

The quota of certificates to be taken by each bank was based on a certain percentage of the bank resources. The taking of these certificates in the amount asked by the government was at the cost of a certain amount of sacrifice, and this Honor Certificate is not intended as a reward, but merely as a recognition of the loyal support which has financed the war plan of tbe government until the proceeds of the Fourth Liberty Loan were avallable.

It has been the constant aim of the officers and directors of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank to have that institution do its full share in complying with every wish or request of the government in financing its war plan. The bank has taken a most active interest in the handling of the different loan issues, handling $78,400.00 of the $119,000.00 sold in this district in the third loan, and $70,750.00 of the $110,000.00 sold in this district in the fourth loan. It is a great source of satisfaction to receive the Certificate of Honor for the services rendered at this particular time.

CHRISTMAS BOXES FOR SOLDIERS

The cartons for the soldiers' Xmas boxes have been distributed throughout the county. In a number of places, as here in Charlevoix, the post master, or his deputy, has been appointed to represent the Red Cross in the distribution of the cartons to the friends who may call for them. No place is commonly more central or more convenient than the post office.

Following is a list of piaccs where the cartons may be found: Charlevoix, post office; St. James, Viola Ward; Ironton, Mrs. Grant Hammond; Walloon Lake, post office; Boyne Falls, Mrs. John O'Connor; Clarion, post office; Bay Shore, post office; at Boyne City, Mrs. J. M. Harris in charge, and at East Jordan, Mrs. M. C. Blount.

Do not forget that no carton will be given to any person who cannot show an address-coupon from a soldier abroad. The time in which the boxes will be received and forwarded has been extended to Novemher 20.

The post office department requires that the name of the sender shall appear on every box. This must not be overlooked.

COLLIDES WITH SWING BRIDGE

Arbutus Dismasted When Boat Collides With Johnson Residence

Elmer Johnson, who lives in the swinging apartment on tnp of the bridge across Pine river during the season of navigation, and raises fine chickens and collects fine kindling wood as a side-line, had a rude jar one day last week.

The gasoline steamer Arbutus, owned by the Booth Fisheries Co., was going out of the river, and due to the high wind and swift current, and failure of the engine to work quickly in an emergency, the mast on the boat camo in eontact with the bridge as it was being opened to permit the passage of the boat. The mast came down with a crash, but the bridge came through unscathed. And now the Arbutus has a new spar, and the bridge chickens cackle louder than ever.

"UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER" CLUBS

Courier Reader Wants One Organized in Charlevoix.

The Courier has receivsd the following letter from a subscriber llving in southern Michigan:

Flint, Oct. 29, 1918.

Editor of Courier,
Charlevoix, Mich.

Dear Sir—"So far I have not seen one word in the Charlevoix Courier abont the "Unconditional Surrender Club" made in Flint, Mich., U. S. A. Perhaps Charlevoix has not beard of it yet. These clubs are setting the U. S. wild. Why doesn't Charlevoix organize one?

Yours truly,
A Courier Reador.

We have seen mention of the formation of these clubs in varioua citles, the idea being to secure as large a membership as possible, and then communicate the wishes of the club members for an unconditional surrender of the Kaiser and his allies, to President Wilson, as showing the sentiment of the American people as to their ideas on the terms which should be given the murderous Huns. From the way things are happening in Europe, it looks as if our people would have to hustle if they wish to get in line on this kind of a proposition. So far as the Courier is concerned, we belisve that General Grant fixed the proper terms for the Kaiser, when he replied to Generai Lee. And we do not believe any more favorable conditions should be given the Germans. What do you think about it?

REPUBLICAN SENATE AND CONGRESS

FORD RUNS AHEAD, NEWBERRY DOUBTLESS ELECTED.

Michigan Continues Sefely Republican Despite President Wilson's Influence.

Dispatches Wednesday forenoon assert that the new congress will have a Republican majority in both houses.

McCormick defeats J. Ham Lewis in Illinois. Here in Michigan the Republican state ticket is elected with the usual large majorities, but Henry Ford ran a close race with Newberry for the senate. At last reports Newberry had about 30,000 majority. This may be cut down by later returns from the rural districts where Ford seems to have much strength, but it seems certain that Newberry will have sufficient lead in the cities to offset any such possible gsins.

Here in this county, the entire Republican county ticket is, of course, elected by good majorities, but the vote for Ford surprised the prophets. The figurcs from 19 out of the 25 precincts in the county, show that while Sleeper has 567 majority over Bailey, Newberrq hus only 357 majority over Ford.

The townships giving Ford a majority, so far as reportcd, were 2nd ward of Boyne City, where he had two; South Arm, where he had 8; Hsyes, where ho had 27; Marion, with 15 and Eveline with 6.

The suffrage amendment has a good majority in Charlevoix county, the figures as received standing at 678 yes, and 369 no. Charievoix city voted 87 yes and 103 no, while Charicvoix township was the banner precinct with 17 yes and only one negative vote.

Returns from over the state indicate that the amendment has carried throughout the state.

BUSINESS AND PLEASURE TRIP

Mason Rose and Wife Tour Through Through Southern Michigan.

Mason H. Rose, accompanied by his wife, returned home last week from a vacation trip through southern Michlgan, during wbicb he combined business with pleasure and sold the war map for which he is agent, and also came near doing a job of diving at Lansing.

In the latter city a woman who had been crazed by the "flu" and the death of her child from the disease, committed suicide by jumping into the Grand river. Mr. Rose was in the city at the time and attempts to recover the body by dragging having failed, he sent home for his diving outfit, but the body of the poor woman was found just an hour before Mr. Mason's diving outfit arrived.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS NOW IN THE SERVICE

Sam E. King Relates Experiences on Trip Overseas and Attack of German Submarines—Maurice Nowland Says He is Wearing Same Smile as When He Left Home.

From Omer E. Jones.

An interesting letter from Omar E. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Jones of Marion township:

Ootober 5, 1918.

Dear Mother and All—"Ths la Saturday night and I have my work about caught up again after working good and hard all the week. Have had a hard time to keep from freezing, as our weather turned real cold while we were away on our permission, and it has not warmed up as yet. So far we have not been able to got any stoves or wood, and had to get along tbe best that we could, but I think that we will be able to get one stove for the office at least, or there will be very little work done this winter.

"We are on what you call very high land, but still low down and the air is very cold and demp all winter. A good many of the fellows in the company already have very bad colds, but I am no worse than usual for thls time of the year. Always did have a coid in the winter when home, and I guess that it will follow me over here. However, I have invested in some good heavy clothing for the winter, as I do not want to take any chances on getting sick, if I can help it. Would rather spend a little money on clothes than to spend any time in the hospltals here.

"Everything is about the same at camp as when I last wrote you, and it seems that nothing ever changes here. Guess I could go back on the plains and live when I get out of the army, as there is less doing here than on a farm, only when the Germans come flying over us. It has been some time since they have bothered us, and I guess we will not see any more of them in this part of tbe country. The way things look I guess the Germans are about done for, nnd I do not look for the war to last much longer. To be true with you, when we first got here and found out how things were going, I as well as the other boys thought that it would last three or fonr years yet, but we did not mention this in any of our letters. Howeyer things have changed and I am sure that enother six months will see the whoie thing settled. This no doubt sounds like a long time to you, but if you were familiar with conditions here, I think that it would look short to you.

"Am wondering what kind of a time you had on your trip to Chicago? I hope that the rest did you good. Gladys teils me that you have changed your mind in regards to the war, and I am glad to know that you are not worrying any more. As far as I am concernod, there is no need for you to worry, but tbe poor fellows at the front are the ones that you need to give a little thought to. They sure have had a hard time of it during the past few months, and a greet many will never see the U. S. again, which by the way is the only country for me from now on. Have seen all that I want to of Europe since coming here, and will never have the abroad fever again.

"Sure had a wonderful time on my permission, and would not take a good deal to have missed same. We were away from camp ten days in all, and believe me we traveled some in that ten days. Could not think of writing about all that we saw and did while away, but will save this until I get home, and with the help of several pictures I have bought, I can tell you much better. We went to Paris first, and spent 30 hours there. Paris is the only place in France where you can rent a car, so we made up our minds to do all of the riding that we could while there to see what it felt like again. The rates were very cheap considering the price of gasoline, and ws were able to drive all around the city for about $6.00 American money. We visited all the leading boulevards and park and promenades and every thing of interest that we could find. Paris is a beautiful city and we saw things that you could not find any place else in the world, and the scenery was wonderful. Went through several of the old cathedrals and I couldn't begin to tell you in writing how great the work of art is on same. Everything is hand-carved with the most beautiful paintings all over the inside, while the outside is also carved in different shapes and forms. Large statues are carved right in the buildings, and the whole structures are built of marble. In fact, you never see a wooden building over here. Everything is stone, cement or marble with tile roofing. Some of tbe cathedrals that we went through took over 200 years to complete, and others longer than that. One thet we were in was started in 1870, the time of the last German and French war, and they are still working on same, and it is far from being completed. We were in the highest tower in the world in Paris, which also is quite a sight. The big government buildings are a great piece of work, and there is no end to ths number of them. The parks are wonderful and some of the prettiest fountains that I ever saw are in them. Have pictures of most of the noted places, which I will bring when I come back to the states. Would send some from here but hate to take the chance for fear they will get lost, and I might not be able to get duplicates. Saw several shows in Paris and they were very good. Some we could not understand, while others were English plays. From Paris we went down to Marselles, down in the southern part of France on the Mediteranean sea, where we spent two days. This is a winter resort in France and all the people who can afford to spend tbe winters go there or to some other southern city on the coast. We did not care much for this place, as it was crowded with people of every nationality, and everything was too dirty. We spent a whole day in taking in the sights that we knew about, and got our money's worth of the trip, even though the place did not appeal to us. From here we went to Lyons, the third largest city in France, and I think that I like it better than Paris. We spent two days there and wished that we could have stayed a week longer. Everything was so neat and clean, and the people seemed to be of a better class than in Marseilles. There were many interesting places to visit there and it kept us going for two days to see all that we had in mind. Sent Gladys a book of pictures from there, which I was assured would go through O. K.

"We were fortunate in getting good rooms at the hotels and the owners all seemed to use us very nice. Very few Americans have been to Lyons, and the people took a great deal of interest in us. You always meet some one who can speak English, and we had no trouble in getting around, with what little French we had learned. From Lyons we returned to Paris, where we spent two more days and took in some more shows. All the way around we had a very nice trip, and although it cost quite a bit of money, we did not regret one cent that we had spent.

"From tonight's papers, I do not think we will be able to get another permission, for papers state that the Central powers are asking for peace, and tbe chances are that same will be made in the near future. Germany is about ready to quit, and if the allies do not make peace now, the Germans will lay down their arms soon. Everyone in camp is very much excited over the matter, and I find it a hard matter to finish my letter.

"I just filled out and have ready to mail an application for a commission, and am wondering if anything will be done with same now that peace proposals are in the air. Do not know what branch of the service it would be in, but I rather think it will be the quartermaster.

"Am unable to write any more, so will say good-night and will write again in a few days. With best love to all, from your loving snn, Omar."

Address: Mester Signal Electrician. Omar E. Jones, Co. 10, 1st Motor Mechanic Regiment, Signal Corps A. S., American E. F.

From Sam E. King.

Vendome, France,
September 11, 1918.

Dear Mrs. Jarvis—"I received your welcome and unexpected letter of August 8, and was surely very glad to hear from you. Also to hear how well Dick is getting along. I suppose he will be coming over here beforevery long. Well, I wouldn't like to tell him not to come, but this is ons lonesome country and none of us care to be here any longer than we really have to.

"We had a very pleasant trip on our wsy over from the time ws lsft Chicago, until we arrived in England. Of course from then until we arrived in the first American camp, was not quite so comfortable.

"On Marcb 18 we left the second regiment armory in Chicago for our long journey. We did not know where we wers going, but we all had a very good idea. We boarded a train at the Michigan Centrel sattion, which wss provided for our batallion, and was soon on our way. At 5:00 p. m. we arrived in Detroit and was met by the Red Cross, who had hot coffee and sandwiches for us. We passed by Niagara Falls very lato in the evening, so did not get a chance to see them. The next morning we wers met again by the Red Cross at Wilkesbarre, Pa., with hot coffee and boxed lunches, and thsn went straight throught to Camp Merritt, New Jersey. We stayed in the camp two dsys and then left for the port of embarkation, where we boarded one of the fastest mail shlps that crosses the ocean.

"Our bstallion was the only troops on the ship, so each man had a stateroom and there was plenty of room on the decks for walking around and playing the different games.

UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY ASKED TO RAISE BIG SUM

Now is the Chance to Really "Give" —When You Bought Bonds You Merely "Invested."

The campaign to raise a huge sum, the minimum amount of which has been fixed at $170,500,000 inthe entire country, will start on Nnvember 11th, and close on November 18th. Instead of having a separate campaign for the various war activity societies, the government has asked that a joint campaign be conducted, and that the money when raised be apportioned among the various bodies in the proportion to the amounts they have expended in the past since the wur began. This is a far better plan and ought to meet with the hearty approval of everyone.

The work of raising this fund will be in the hands of the county War Board, and as Chairman Ira Adams expects to be absent from the city, he has asked Rev. C. E. Taggart to take charge of the campaign in this county. The printed matter to be used in connection with the campaign has just arrived, and as the time is short before the campaign starts, every good American should be ready to do his share when called on. Just what the pian for raising the money in this county will be, we do not know, but this county will be asked to raise at least $15,000. Based on the Liberty Loan ratio, and the sum to be donated by the Charlevoix district would be between $4,500 and $5,000. While our peopie are not rolling in weaith, and we have no citizens wbo are making money out of this war in any way, but on the contrary all of us are losing on account of it , we are sure that the quota assigned tbis district will be quickly and gladly contributed. For this is a chance to really "give." When you bought a bond you were merely loaning your money to the government, and making a good investment from a monetary standpoint as weil as a patriotic and "safety first" one. In this drive what you contribute wili be a gift pure and simple, and contribution to a splendid cause. Get ready to donate wben the time comes. From a government official circular we cull the following facts regarding this great work:

Why America must subscribe much more than $170,500,000 during the United War Work Campaign, conducted November 11th to 18th by combined committees of the Y. M. C. A., K. of C., Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, American Library Association, and Salvation Army, combined at the special request of President Wilson, is outlined below.

DEER HUNTERS WILL BE SCARCE

NUMBER OF LICENSES SOLD BELOW AVERAGE.

Game in Abundance Reported in the Upper Peninsula—27 Counties are Closed.

Althoogh the opening of the deer aeeson is now only 4 daya distant, only six hunters have taken out licenses here in Charlevoix, tbough the deputies in otber towns have doubtless issued a number.

County Clerk Lewis has had the licenses, bianks and tags in his office for some time, but the applicationa are much below the usual number.

Deer hunting in Michigan this year will bo confined almost entirely to the upper peninsula, 27 cauntlea in lower Michigao having been closed by State Game Warden Joha Baird. The counties in which there can be no deer hunting are: Antrim, Arenac, Bay, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Clare, Crawford, Emmet, Gladwin, Grand Traverse, Huron, Kalkaska, Lake, Manistee, Mason, Midiand, Missaukee, Newaygo, Oceana, Ogemaw, Oscoda, Otsego, Roscommon, Saniiac, Tuscola and Wexford.

The law was passed in 1917.

Deer are reported plentiful in the upper peninsula this year, but hunters will be conspicuous by their absence this fali, as many are over in France hunting Huns, which connt for a great deal mors than deer.

The license for a resident hunter of Michigan is $1.50 for a deer licenae, and $1.00 for a gun license, the latter being required whenever the hunter intends to hunt anything but venison.

For non-resident hunters, a fee of $25 is charged for a deer license, and $10 for a gun license.

Many of the "old feliowa" who are in the new draft will take their old muskets off the rack, and go out in the forests to put their "batting eye" in prims condition for their future service in the draft army.

D. F. Meech left Tuesday for "Camp Annanias," on the Taquamenon river, E. R. Harris and L. VanSkiver of Ellsworth being the other two "regulars" of this camp to leave at the same time, and Chas. Edgar goes as a guest. An East Jordsn party consisting of Horace Hipp, Roscoe Mackey, Chas. Coykendail, W. H. Parks, Chas. McNamara and A. Cameron also leave today for a camp in the same vicinity. County Clerk Lewis says he is going to go later if he can possibly get away.

ARRESTED AS ARMY DESERTER

A Fool and His Liberty Are Soon Parted.

It doesn't pay to fool with your Uncle Samuel when you are in his military service, and the soldier who tries to avoid his duty will soon find that a fool and his liberty are soon parted.

Cecil Snell, who married a Charlevoix young lady, was a soldier at Camp Custer, and he was a mighty bright young chap. But he wanted to spend too much time with his bride. The army regulations and the limited leaves did not seem to him to give enough opportunity for honeymooning, so he proceeded to take time off on his own account.

He came to Charlevoix, and when he had been here some time, Sheriff Novak asked him when he was going back to camp. He replied next Tuesday, and left that day, but instead of going to camp, he went to Detroit. In the meantime he had secured money from H. L. Oldham here, and others connected with Red Cross activities in Grand Rapids. Later be came back to Charlevoix, and was picked up and jailed to await orders from the Camp Custer officials, but owing to the "flu" conditions he remained in the jail here about a month. Last week an officer came up from Camp Custer and took him away. And now Snell will probably get ten years or more in Ft. Leavenworth as a deserter.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER'S NOTES

Greatest number and greateat amount of W. S. S. and Thrift sales during the past week or even during the past month reported by the Mountain school. Miss Catherine LaLonde, teacher.

School districts becoming anxious because of long closing period should be sure to consult with health officer of township or city before deciding to open. If the health officer thinks it is then safe, the teacher should be instructed as a precaution against further contagion, that every child with a cold remain at home for 48 hours; that this rule be enforced for a month or more after all danger of contagion from influenza is past; that no children from homes having influenza be allowed to nttend school, and that convalescents from influenza remain away from school at least two weeks after recovery. Although the rigid rule above described will no doubt greatly lower the attendance records and produce great irregularity in grade work, it is our best assurance against an entire winter of the worse epidemic the world has ever known. No doubt it will work a hardship in many caaes, but these few will understand that for the good of the whole county, it is in the great majority of cases best.

New courses of study have been sent to all teachers. They are extra strong in patriotic work, in flag salutes, regulations and history.

One copy of the new bulletin, "Helping Uncle Sam," has been sent to every teacher, together with a letter explaining that she is requested to teach patriotism from this bulletin for morning exercises from November 11 to the 27th, for United War-Work campaign. Final lesson of bulletin provides for afternoon program on Wednesday, the 27th. Teachers are asked to report if they will follow this request of the state. Many have already so reported.

The Springvale school reports six weeks in which there has been 100 per cent attendance and no tardiness. They have had but six weeks of school and we can feel proud with their teacher, Miss Lorretta O'Donnell. So far no school has reported so good a record. Chandler No. 1 has no absence for the first three weeks, and only one or two after that. They hope to start in for a year's perfect record.

Junior Red Cross saving pits for carbon in aeroplane work report to M. A. C. for further instructiona.

The things that you can't forget in a county-wide trip: Rock Elm has a real living fountain, clear cool sparkling water piped into the school room. The joy and the interest which the Tainter school board and teacher are taking in their work, step toward making a Standard school. This fall the wood shed was moved to rear of building and a door cut through right beside the heater, and the next plans you will hear very soon.

Greentown school on Big Beaver has a record for tidiness and high ideals in sanitation—so far as reats in the teacher's power. The commissioner found Mrs. Gallagher, the teacher, on her knees acrubbing the floor because plasterers had made it hard for the regular cleaners to do a good job. She and the pupils blushed at heing found with the goods, but the commissioner was so proud of their work that she returned the next day to enjoy with them their housecleaning, to sing with them, to work with them. The dignity of labor is not lost and the giory of cleanliness is reflected in the livea of the pupils.

Aritbmetic charts on their way to East Jordan from North Dakota. Teachers and directors ahould see that theirs for the spring conteat is promptly procured. Charlevoix and Boyne City have likewise placed their orders, with the firm and one haa been ordered for every achool in the county. Are you ready?

IS IT "JUST A COLD?"

Charlevoix People Should Ask Themselves This Question.

Don't say: "It's juat a cold."
It may turn into backache, rheumatic aches, achy joints
Or other aerious sickness that comea from weakened kidneys.
Colds are due to congeation.
Congestion makea the kidneys over-work to filter the blood.
Colda often leave the kidneys weak.
First break the cold;
Then use Doan's Kidney Pills to avert the kidney dangers.
Let thia Charlevoix resident tell you about them.

Mrs. Albert Lemieur, 704 State St., aaya: "A heavy cold settled on my kidneya, causing me much suffering. My back got so sore I could hardly get around. Spots appeared before my eyes, blurring my aight; I can never forget how badly I felt. I had dizzy spells alao. Mornings I felt more tired than upon retiring. On the advice of a druggist I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and three boxea removed the trouble."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan'a Kidney Pills—the aame that Mrs. Lemieur had. Foater-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

"On March 22, my father's birthday, we sailed for this country and on our way out of port saw many ships, including ocean liners and the many well known little U. S. patrol boats, each having its own design of camouflage, some being exceptionally pretty. The one we were on was spotted the shape of an egg and all the colors of the rainbow.

"We had very nice weather all the way across, with the exception of one day which was rainy.

"On March 30, my birthdey, and the lest day out, old Bill thought he would giva me a little celebration, at least that was the wey I took it, and he sent three of his submarines out to meet us. Well, they met us and we met them, but they received a very warm reception. They tried to plant one of their torpedoes in the hull of one of our ships, but failed on account of our captain's level head. The torpedo was seen by some of the boys and was said to have missed us by only fifteen feet. Our gunners and the two torpedo destroyers, which were convoying us across, did some very fine work and it was reported later that two of the "subs" were destroyed.

"We arrived at an English port that evening, but did not disembark until the following morning, which was Easter Sunday. On account of the odd camouflage and landing on that day we renamed our ship the 'Easter Egg,' and the boys speak of it by that name yet.

"One of England's side door Pullman trains was waiting for us, so we loaded with eight men to a section and started across the country. Each car is built in sections and each section has a door on either side so you see why we call them side-door Pullmans.

"We traveled across England to a city on the English channel, where we entered an English rest camp. At this camp we had our first sight of German prisoners and no doubt they had been captured by the French, as they wore the letters 'P. G.' stamped upon their clothing. After staying in camp three days we boarded an old side-wheeler and crossed the English channel, arriving in L———H———, France, about four o. m. We then marched three miles through mud and pouring rain to another English rest camp. This time they put us in an old stable with some Hindoos for company, but we only stayed there one night and that was long enough. Then we had some box cars of French make, about the size of a piano box, to move in the next time, and they only put 27 of us in each car, so we had almost room enough to stand up, and you don't get sleep in the army, so we got along nicely.

"This move was about 200 miles and only took us 33 hours, so you see they have some fast trains over here. You might get a train that you could travel a hundred miles a day on if you gave the engineer a drink or two.

"This stop put us at what is now the largest supply base in France and we were put on fatigue the next morning, which was Sunday.

"We stayed in that camp about two weeks and then moved about 40 miles by motor train to our first job of the kind of work we are doing now.

"From then on I have been sent out on detached service time after time and have been over most of the country. The country is very pretty and I don't believe it can be beaten—only by northern Michigan.

"The old ruins, chateaus and cathedrals are simply wonderful. Some that were built in the 16th century are still standing and are as modernly built as their buildings of today. Each town, no matter how small it is, has from two to a dozen large cathedrals.

"We are now having our rainy season and it is just like late fall weather in the states. Very cold, lots of rain and some snow.

"I just received a long letter from Leo Powers. He is at one of the towns we were in some time ago. He says he is getting along nicely and feeling fine. I also hear from Forrest Wallace regularly, as he is in the sister batallion of the one I am in.

"Well, Mrs. Jarvis, I have said about all I know, so will close for this time. Regards to all and best wishes." Very truly yours, Sammy. Chfr. 1st Cpl. Sam E. King, S. D. 415th R. R. Tel. B'n S. C., American E. F.

From Forrest O. Weed.

France, October 8, 1918.

Dear Mother—"Tuesday evening I believe and having found a place where I could have a light lit, I will attempt to write a letter. Am in a small, but comfortable dug-out, that is when it is not raining like it did last night, as it does not happen to be leak proof in all places.

"We have had quite good weather until last evening, and today when it hes both rained and hailed, but not so hard, only enough to make it nasty and disagreeable. Tonight, even though it looks like a good one and the stars are shining brightly, I am really doubtful and expect it to rain but hope of course that it does not. It is getting nearly time to have a little snow, that is if it falls in November like it some times does in the states.

"Am certainly glad that Charlevoix has had such a good summer, as I have been informed that this season was as good as any before. Sincerely hope that you do not have as hard and cold a winter as before or as last winter was. Of course I don't know what the latter part of it was like, having left the states in January. Have been over nearly nine months and hope I do not have to stay that many more. At present it does not look as though we would have to, but of course we know but little of what is actually going on, excepting when we get the papers over here.

"Have had quite a few papers and gum from you lately, in fact, had a letter from you, papers and two magazines from Mabel today.

"Expect to write a good many letters tomorrow, as our platoon has the day off, but I was unfortunate with the rest of our squad and draw kitchen police for the day. Of course this goes in turns and it was our turn so we could not kick at all. This work, as I believe I told you, consists of helping around the kitchen, serving meals, etc., and really is easy, yet it takes most of your time during the day.

"I have written for those pictures I had taken some time back, but don't know whether I will get them or not, but if I do and can send I will send one to you. If I ever get where I can have some good pictures taken I will do so.

"Of course you perhaps realize that we are again on the front lines,

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain real estate mortgage whereby the power of sale therein contained has become operative, which mortgage was given by Peter Rush and Ida R. Rueh, his wife, to Helen J. Pulcipher which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, April 21st, 1916 in Liber fifty-six of mortgages on page forty; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Five Hundred fifty-three dollars and eighty-one cents, and a further sum of fifty-three dollars and nine cents taxes paid on the property described in said mortgage by Helen J. Pulcipher, together with an attorney fee as provided by statute, and no suit or proceedings at law have been instituted to recover the money secured by said mortgege or any part thereof; and whereas the tax required by the statutes to be paid on said mortgage was duly paid prior to the recording thereof;

Now therefore, notice is given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and of the statutes made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount then due thereon of principal and interest together with the amounts paid for taxes, costs and expenses of the foreclosure, including the attorney fee provided by statute, at public auction to the higher bidder therefore at the front door of the court house in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix (that being the place where the Circuit court for the County of Charlevoix is held) on the 14th day of December, 1918 at ten o'clock in the forenoon on that day. The premises described in said mortgage being herein described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at the northeast corner of Lot One in section seventeen, township thirty-four north of range seven west; theace west on the Quarter line of said section forty rods; thence south to the center of Emmet and Grand Traverse State road it being one hundred rods; thence east along the center of said road to the center line; thence north on said second line ninety-six rods to the place of beginning, being a part of Government Lot one of said section seventeen and containing twenty-four and one-half acres of land more or less.

HANG TIGHT TO LIBERTY BONDS.

Millions of subscribers to the 4th Liberty Loan are now on their mettle.

They are face to face with the job of completing their payments. It will take nerve, courage, and "staying power." It will take self-denial. Subscribing for the bonds, and making the first payment of 10 per cent was a sign of loyalty to the government and to the army and navy.

Keeping up the payments until the Liberty bonds are fully paid for—that is the real test of mettle. Anybody is likely to be carried away by the "fervor" of the revival meeting. It takes earnestness to live up to new principles for the rest of one's life. That is the real test. The same thing applies to the duty of "making good" our pledges for the Fourth liberty bonds. From now until January 30, 1919, a steady sustained effort to save and meet Liberty bond installments will indicate 24-karat patriotism and character.

Every person who signed a Liberty bond application and made the initial payment assumes an obligation of honor. To neglect that pledge or to let the subscription lapse would be a shameful thing. No right minded person will fail to carry out his Liberty loan subscription pledge, unless actual disaster makes it necessary to shift the burden on someone else.

What is the best way to take care of those Liberty bond subscription pledges? The best way is to make a "budget." Set down on a sheet of paper the exact amount of your weekly or monthly pay. Make a parallel column and set down the necessary items of your living. Rent, $....; groceries, $....; heat and light, $....; LIBERTY BOND PAYMENTS, $....; $.... (enough to meet the amounts when due).

Put the Liberty bond payment money right into the bank—every week or month—just as soon after pay day as you can. Then the money will be ready and waiting when the installments fall due.

Do not let anybody induce you to sell any Liberty bond you have paid for.

Do not let anybody induce you to turn over your Liberty bond as "first installment on a piano," or anything else. Have those Liberty bonds entered up in your savings bank book, and make an arrangement with your bank, if possible, to have the coupons clipped and added to your account.

Always deposit in your savings account the interest money received for coupons cut off your Liberty bonds. In this way you enjoy compound interest and get ahead faster.

Every Liberty bond that is sold, throws a strain on some bank or on the government. Every Liberty bond that is unnecessarily disposed of tends to divert money from the conduct of the war. And it deprives the owner of the benefits of his own self-denial and thrift.

Therefore: If you want to keep peace with your own conscience and maintain your own self-respect take great care on all these points:

1—Set aside out of your pay the money needed to meet Libarty bond installments under your plan of payment. Put that money in a bank.

2—Do not "lapse" on your Liberty bond subscription for any reason whatever, short of some absolute disaster.

3—Do not sell your Liberty bonds unless compelled by "dire necessity" to raise money; and then try to borrow on the bonds instead of selling them.

4—Do not let anyone induce you to "trade in" your Liberty bonds for merchandisa.

Hang tight to all your Liberty bonds, and complete all the payments by brave and persistent saving, sacrifice and self denial. That is the way to get the utmost possible return from your financial and moral investment.

THE SOLDIERS' MAIL.

The mail service for our army abroad has now been taken over by the army. It is handling a million letters a day that are received in France from this country, and about 300,000 letters a day that are mailed in France for soldiers in France. It has warehouses for sorting mail at French ports. It has railway mail clerks on some 2,000 miles of French railroads. It has a central post office at Tours, permanent post offices at various points, mobile post office right up to the firing lines, and mail orderlies attached to each company of troops.

In the past, when the mail service for the army was under civil control, great delays were caused in the delivery of mail by the necessary secrecy concerning troop movements. Now, under military control, all movements of the mobile post offices are telegraphed in code to the distributing post offices and the letters follow the soldiers as they march. All the hospitals notify the central post office of the identity of wounded soldiers received or transferred. The central post office works with the central record divisIon of the adjutant general's office where every soldier in the army is card-indexed, and 150 men are there constantly employed searching out addresses. A system has been devised by which delivery may be quickened to "replacement units" wha have been scattered among widely seperated troops. And various means have been found for overcoming delays due to lack of shipping facilities or congestion of mail at crowded posts.

It still remains true that mail for some 50,000 soldiers in France is delayed becausa the letters are inadequately addressed. In the future all such letters will be stopped at New York and returned to their senders. It is estimated that 300,000 lettera a month hava been delayed in the past becausa the men were in "replacement camps." Thia "floater's mail" is now being handled expediously. Tha delay due to censorship is not great and it is being reduced.

Tha army authorities are aware that nothing sustains the morale of a soldier like letters from home. Tha mobile post offices now keep up with the troops; the mail is received with the rations at the kitchen; and the whola re-organized postal servica is davoted to providing that the doughboy's letters shall reach him as promptly and regularly as his meals.

Ludendorf has quit. Hindenburg wanted to quit and finally did. King Charles is all in and the Kaiser is willing to split the difference and become hereditary president of the German republic.

The kaiser says, "I will not abandon my sorely tried people." No doubt the German people are worrying their heads off for fear the kaiser will abdicate.

General Foch is said to be a very bad letter writer. The Huns, however, seem to have no difficulty reading his handwriting on the wall.

It is said that former King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, is going to live in Germany. We thought that old chap had had enough trouble.

The Fourth Liberty loan went over the top, but the kaiser was probably the only man in the world who thought it wouldn't.

The happiest man in the world must be King Albert going back into Belgium at the head of his own troops.

One lesson learned from the war appears to be the art of German camouflage "politics is adjourned."

The Germans are evacuating Belgium pretty well without an armistice.

Automatic "Movies."

In a commercial moving picture apparatus the acenes are made visible by daylight as well as at night, and the exhibition is autamatically repeated for aay period desired. A miniature theater, forming one part of the outfit, is suitnble for a show window or other favornble place for display. The other part, the moving picture machine, will operate on either direct or alternate current, and after the succession of pictures has been projected the motion is reversed without attention, and the reel is rewound for a repetition of the disday.

Beneficial Shorebirds.

All the shorebirds are strikingly beneficini in their food habits. The slaughter of these game birds deprives the farmer of valaable allies nguinst some of tha worst crop pests. Such game birds as quail, grouse and pheasaat take less lasect food thaa the shorebirds, yet all of them do a certaiu amouat of good. Even hawks and owls have a bad name which for the most part is undeserved, it is said, and indiscrimiaate persecution of these birds is a serious mistake.

Comfort and economy make happy homes. You get both by using Cole's Hot Blast Heaters. 44t1.

Peru's Great Museum.

Peru's capital is the home of a nationaal museum, one of the wold's most interesting institutions of this nature. It shares with that of Cairo in displaying to modern peoples various incidents of life and activity of bygone races. Also the gallery of paintings of Peruvina history is particularly noteworthy. The remains of the first airplane to cross the Alps in which the Peruvian airman, Don Jorge Chavez, lost his life, is another interesting exhibit.

The Angry Tree.

In Australia there grows a species of acacia commonly called the "angry tree." It reaches the height of 80 feet, after a rapid growth, and in outward appearance somewhat resembles a gigantic century plant. When the sun sets the leaves fold up and the tender twigs coil lightly, and if the shoots are handled the leaves rustle and move uneasily for a time.

Wool Clothing for Winter Wear

When we say wool, we mean real wool—stock that was bought early in the season before the general shortage of wool, and not part cotton. We placed our order early for the stock we now have. It was a fortunate buy, for today we could not buy from the manufacturer what we have displayed on our counters. We have for both boys and men. The stock covers a field of weights and quality, and you will find just what you need here. We have prepared for the fall trade for many years, and our line of goods have always given the very best of satisfaction. No shoddy goods—but garments that will give service at prices that will surprise you, considering the high price of all wool garments at the present time.

F. G. Ilines received a telegram Monday from his son, Carl Ilines, who resides in Midland, stating that his wife was very ill with a relapse from the influenza, and requesting that his mother come at once. Mrs. Ilines left on the noon train for Midland.

Mrs. G. W. Crouter left last week for Buffalo, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Mattie Watermnn, for several weeks, and from there expects to join three other Charlevoix ladies in a trip to California for the winter months.

Leo Carey is in Petoskey, waiting with what cheerfulness he can for the quarantine to be lifted so he can return home. He was doing some work in that city, and when the quarantine was placed against Petoskey, he was "marooned" in that town.

Mrs. W. E. Hampton, Mrs. H. L. Iddings, Mrs. G. A. Crouter and Mrs. G. W. Crouter are planning to spend the winter in southern California. They will visit all the places worth seeing in the land of sunshine, but will be located at San Diego most of the time.

I am convinced, says Mr. Hoover, that if the war were to cease tomorrow the toll of actual dead from starvation and its attendant diseases within the German lines would double or triple the 5,000,000 or 6,000,000of men having been actually killed by Germany and her allies in arms.

G E. Loomis, prineipal in the high school, who has been acting in that capacity while awaiting his call into the naval service, received word last week that his mother was seriously ill at her home in Olivet, and left at once for that city. If her condition will permit, he will return to Charlevoix when the schools are again opened.

One of our prominent citizens gave his young son a birthday present of an up-to-date air gun a few days ago. Sequel: Broken windows galore in the Beach hotel and a bill for Dad that would buy a good sized cannon for the army. Moral: "Your shooting, son, is full of class. But mighty high comes window glass."

SCHOOLS MAY OPEN NEXT WEEK

But Parents Must Live Up to Certain Rules Made.

Dr. R. B. Armstrong, city health officer, states that unless the influenza conditions should take a turn for the worse, the public schools will be permitted to open next Monday.

In case they do open, however, parents should keep close watch of their children, and at the first sign of a cold, keep the children home from school and call a physician at once. Teachers will be instructed to keep close watch,and send children home that exhibit the slightest symptoms of the disease. Charlevoix has been very fortunate so far, and every person should exert all possible precautions to aid the officials in keeping the influenza out of our city.

The quarantine against towns near by that have been so seriously affected, will be continued until all danger is passed. It is much better to be safe than sorry.

Brown Dyes far Leather.

A brown dye for leathers may be made as follows: Boil half an ounce of Spanish saffron and a quarter of an ounce of arnatta in water until the dye is extracted, to which must be added some alcohol to set the color.

Da Your Best.

If your ambition is just to do your best, there is no reason why you should ever be disappointed. Remember, nothing is more certain to weaken the mind than the habit of inattention.

Carl was fond of biscuits, especially the upper crusts of them. One morning when his mother picked up a biscuit to prepare a sandwich for him Carl caught his mother's hand affectionately and said: "Please, mamma, give me two lids."

Pastime in Wales.

Knitting was at one time a favorite pastime among male farm workers in Wales. Fifty years ago shepherd boys in Cardiganshire were supplied with sufficient wool to provide themselves with two pairs of stockings. Sixpence per pair was paid for stockings in excess of this number.

Power of the Buzzard.

The power of the buzzard to sail through the air for long periods with little or no apparent movement of the wings is due to its expanse of the wing surface. Birds with smaller wing surface make up for this by rapidity of the motion of the wings.

Smokeless Powder.

The advantages of smokeless powder, besides its virtue of high explosiveness, are twofold. It does not create a smoke cloud that betrays the location of the gun or gunners, and at the same time the man behind the gun is not confused for a second by a pall of smoke that obscures the range of vision in the direction of the enemy.

OFFICERS NEEDED IN THE ARMY

Great Chance for Civilians to Secure Commissions.

The Courier has received from the war department a request to publish the following telegram and explanatory reading in connection therewith:

"Class 1 registrants who registered prior to September 12th, 1918, are eligible for individual induction for admission to Line Officers' Training Schools; Infantry, field artillery, machine gun and coast artillery."

Adjutant General of the Army.

In explanation of the above telegram it should be stated that at the new officers' training school, at Camp Fremont, Cal., all draft registrants between the ages of 18 and 45, with the exception of those registrants in deferred classifications on account of industry, occupation or employment, including agriculture, are eligible.

All civilians desiring to submit their applications should do so at once, and full information and application blanks may be obtained at the nearest educational institution where there is an army officer or professor of military science and tactics.

There is a great need for field artillery and machine gun officers and applications for the field artillery officers' training school at Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky., and the machine gun officers' training school at Camp Hancock, Ga., are being received. These school are open to civilians and information regarding the necessary qualifications for entrance to these schools may be obtained from any S. A. T. C. unit at the colleges throughout the state.

A scientific and technical education is valuable in the field artillery and machine gun branches, but any civilian having a thorough understanding and working knowledge of arithmetic, algebra to include quadratic equations and plane geometry is eligible. A knowledge of trigonometry to include solution of triangles and logarithms is desirable. A refresher course in mathematics under competent instructors will be given all candidates.

All civilians while at these schools will receive the pay of a private—$30.00 per month, and when commissioned second lieutenants they will receive $141.67 per month. All accepted civilian applicants will be sent to the schools by their draft boards at the expense of the government.

Owing to the shortage of help and our desire to conserve on gasoline, we will make no deliveries after Saturday, November 9. McCanns' Bakery. Adv. 45t-

MOTHER AND BABE CALLED BY DEATH

BOTH DIE WITHIN FORTY-EIGHT HOUR PERIOD

Father Seriously Ill With Same Disease That Takes Loved Ones From Him.

The old saying that trouble comes in bunches has once more proven true, when twice within forty-eight hours death entered our village and each time directed its steps to the home of Hugh Nelson.

The first time was at 1:30 a. m., last Friday, November 1, when Mrs. Nelson gave up the fight against pneumonia, and again at 2:00 a. m., Sunday morning, when her 18 months old daughter was claimed by the same dread disease.

Death is always sad, but these cases are exceptionally so by reason of the husband and father being in such serious condition from influenza that he could not be at the bed side of his loved ones, much less than follow them to their last resting place.

Mrs. Nelson, whose name before her marriage was Jaunita Reddick, was born at Barrytown, Mich., May 30, 1896. She was married at her home at Barrytown to Hugh Nelson September 22, 1912, and with the exception of a few months spent at Lansing, has resided ever since her marriage either at her old home or at Ellsworth, her husband at the time of her death being empoyed at the Ellsworth Produce Co.'s warehouse at this place. Mrs. Nelson was the mother of three children, Gaylord, aged five, Robert, aged two and one-half years, and baby Josephine, 18 months, who has gone to join her mother and sleeps beside her in the family lot at Barrytown.

Mrs. Nelson was a cheerful, home-loving woman who was loved and respected by all who knew her and who will be greatly missed by a host of people. Her body was taken to Barrytown on the afternoon train the day of her death, the body of her little daughter going over the same route three days later.

Everything possible in the way of medical aid was given Mrs. Nelson as well as little Josephine Dr. Parks of East Jordan and Dr. Armstrong of Charlevoix, both men being considered the equal if not the best in their line in northern Michigan, doing their best work, as well as the Rev. Dr. Huett, himself n former physician, making several calls each day, but it was all in vain.

She leaves besides her husband nnd children, her father and mother and one six year old brother, to whom the entire community wishes to extend the deepest sympathy.

ATWOOD.

Mrs. Ben DeVries is quite ill with pneumonia at this writing.

The sale of Hiram Hofman took place last Friday and was fairly well attended.

Miss Jennie Groenink has been spending a week at the Maurice Henry home.

Joe Veenstra has moved part of his belongings to the Mrs. VanHouten farm, south of Atwood.

The Misses Gertrude VanHouten and Jessie DeVries left Friday for Grand Rapids, to stay for the winter.

The light snow Friday was the cause of a great many getting their colts and cattle from distant pastures.

J. T. Odbert is making preparations to leave for the winter. He has hired Ben Sneller to do his chores during his absence.

Oscar Wynsma, from Jamestown, Michigan, spent a few days in these parts visiting relatives and friends He came to attend the wedding of his brother, Egbert Wynsma.

Wonder who can beat the record made by John Beuker of Ellsworth, and Conrad Klooster, picking up potatoes. They picked up 56 bushels in 43 minutes for A. Bos & Son.

The wedding reported by a newspaper circulating these parts, to have taken place a week before it actually happened, was solemnized last Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride. The principals were Egbert Wynsma and Miss Jennie Essenberg. Rev. Pickart performed the ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the afternoon and evening. The good wishes of the entire community follow them in their matrimonial venture.

John Cawood is helping Jim Wilson on the thresbing machine these days.

Will Hubbell and family of North Milton, spent Sunday at the Wilson home.

Miss Kate Wilson has returned to her school in Bellaire, after a three weeks vacation on account of the epidemic of Spanish influenza.

The Nelson family at Ellsworth certainly are deserving and extended the sympathies of every sincere and kind-hearted friend and acquaintance in their hour of deep sorrow. The passing of the two from one family to the great unknown in so short a time is a bereavement not often equaled.

ANTRIM CITY.

Mrs. Martin and Mr. Moblo called at the Brant home Thursday for fish.

Threshing has been the prominent thing this week, and practicaly all beans and buckwheat turned out fairly good.

Friday morning about 7:30, Mr. Montgomery's house caught fire, over the kitchen stove. Mrs. Montgomery tried in vain to put out the blaze. In about 20 minutes it was burned to the ground. Nothing was saved. Mrs. Montgomery went to Mt. Clemens and will remain there until he has things arranged here. They will live on their new farm a few miles from Flushing.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Major B. J. Beuker.

This week we have another letter from our old friend, Maj. B. J. Beuker, with the American E. F. Evidently Doc is set down in a beautiful part of a beautiful country:

Somewhere in France, Oct. 6.

Dear All—"Most of your nice letters were waiting here when I arrived. I am now in charge of a beautiful French chateau, which has been ordered to be made a hospital. We were at first billited in a little village some miles away from here, but the necessity became so great that a hospital had to be established. Why they took an ambulance man for the job I do not know. I do know that it is an awful job to be thrown absolutely upon your own resources in a strange country, but it is fine training for all of us. I could fill pages with our experiences, but that will have to wait because we are not allowed to write everything we would like to.

"The grounds of the chateau are surrounded on three sides by a high stone wall and on the fourth side runs a river. The foundations and the stables and the waterfront were built ages and ages ago, but the chateau is modern as far as building goes, with beautiful marble stairways and carved oak ceilings, etc., but the plumbing, etc., is rotten. The grounds are simply the most beautiful I have ever seen in any country. Rocks and woods and walks and fountains and shrubbery and flowers, gardens, vineyards without end. It used to belong to some prince who is now living in Paris.

"The people are very nice to us. How long we will stay here I do not know—probably a month or so. When the division moves to the front we of course go with it. Have not heard anything of the boys since I left the U. S., only that I heard in your letter that they were still O. K. about September 5th. No matter where we move now our address will always be the same, Major B. J. Beuker, 309 Sanitary Train, A. P. O. 905, American E. F.—just that and nothing else.

"I am well and content and will write oftener now. Have a medical staff in this hospital of 12 officers and 200 men and some nurses. Do not like it as well as outdoor work, but it will not last forever. Give my regards to all friends. A special kiss and hug for you and all you want for the rest." Bernard.

From Xelle Miles.

In France, October 9, 1918.

My Dear Mother—"Received your loving letter a few days ago and was so glad to hear from you and know that you are well and having good weather. It found me well and enjoying a term of army school, which puts me in mind of my high school days in East Jordan. We have practical work in the day time, and lectures and studies at night. We have fine instructors, a good place to sleep, and plenty to eat, and altogether this makes a fellow feel like working after going through what I have.

"I see in tonight's paper the 32nd Division report as to the men we lost. I knew a lot of the boys, but there are none from my company.

"As I sit here writing my thoughts are back in Michigan, until the spell is broken by some of the boys doing some loud talking, trying to convince each other who has the best division. In my class there are boys from the east to the west coast, and from the north to the south, and they all slightly differ as to who's outfit is the best.

"My class played another football game, and it was 0 to 0, so it was real exciting. I am in hopes we can play off the tie, as I am sure we can beat them.

"I met Lieut. Dickie after the game today. He is a nephew of W. P. Porter of East Jordan and was very pleased to see me. Well, mother, will close and will look for lots of letters soon. Your loving son, Sergt. Xelle Miles, Hdq Co., 125th Inf., 32nd Div., American E. F.

From Clarence Heller.

The following letter from Clarence W. Heller, has been given us for publication. Clarence has many friends who will be pleased to hear from him:

"Dear Aunt and Uncle—"Received your nice letter of August 22, yesterday, and was glad to hear from you.

"I am very well and happy. I think I told you in a former letter that I was located in LeMans. This is a nice place and am having some very good times.

"I wish to express my appreciation for the way that you are conserving sweets. We have sweets, principally syrup, with our meals. We also are able to buy jams and candy at the Y. M. C. A. and commissary, and sometimes chocolate at the little French stores. So you see that we are not entirely without sweets, athough I suppose there are some over here that are not quite so fortunate.

"It hardly seems possible, but I am now starting on my second year in the service, almost three months of which I have spent over here. The time surely goes fast. Isn't it nice that it does, for one never knows and it may be a long time before we get back, although every thing has been in our favor for some time.

"This being Sunday I am debating how I shall spend the day. Last Sunday I rented a bicycle and went about fifteen miles to see some of my old friends. I had a good time, but but before the day was over I was so tired I loaded my bicycle on the train and came back.

"Yesterday some of the boys and myself were taken through an old place which at one time (centuries ago) was the abode of royalty. It was extremely interesting, as it is being preserved in the old form as much as possible, and is full of interesting relics. We were also taken through some of the underground tunnels and passage ways that seem to be under the entire city. They are seven tuanals deep, but we were only down as far as the third one one owing to danger. It seems that the religious wars were carried on for years down there underground. We were told that these tunnels were used up until early in the 17th century. One interesting place was a chamber where the people were put to death. There were some very crude iron hooks suspended from the ceiling where the people were hung alive by their chin until they dropped into a very deep pit. Sounds fishy to us dose'nt it? But everything is there and it is easy to see that it has been there for years.

"We must close for this time Will write again soon, and am always pleased when I hear from you." Sgt. Clarence W Heller, Hdqrs. Group, Classification Camp, A. P. O. 762, American E. F.

crease of the American Army and of its inevitable continued increase. Moreover, when these budgets were were made it was thought that the total number of American soldiers on both sides of the Atlantic by next summer would not exceed 3,000,000, whereas our military leaders are now preparing us for an American Army before the end of next summer of between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000.

2. Because of the marvelous expansion of the American Navy. When Amerien entered the war, we had less than 70,000 men in the Navy. There are now over 500,000, and the number will be further increased.

3. Beeause this war, unlike other wars, is not alone a war of armies and navies, but the war of the entire peoples. In particular, it involves vast numbers of the industrial classes. Since our first financial plans were announced the claims of these industrial classes at home and oversees have pressed upon us, and it has been made clear that we must augment greatly our efforts on behalf of these millions of men an women related to war industries.

4. Because the burden of this war is to fall heavily upon the women of America and the Allies. This has been true of the other wars, but even more so of this world war. The facts concerning the needs of the mulitudes of women affected by war conditions have been pressed upon us in such a way as to convince us that a much larger financial provision should be made on their behalf than the budgets of our organizations contemplate.

5. Because of the comprehensiveness of the ministry being rendered the American army and navy and the forces of our allies. It is the aim of these agencies to place at the disposal of our soldiers and sailors all that is best in American life. We represent to them the American home, the American school and college, the American library, the Amerienn forum, the phases of American club life, the finest aspects of the American stage, and, above all, the American churches and synagogues. This is a colossal program, and necessarily calls for a large expenditure of money.

6. Because of the continuity of the service we are seeking to render. We aim to follow the soldiers and sailors from the time they leave their homes, while they are in transit, while they are at the training camps, large and small, while they are on their way to the ports of embarkation, as well as at those ports, while on the sea, during their stay at the ports of debarkation, during their experiences in further training overseas, in the zone of combat, including the front-line trenches, while they are at leave resorts or in the hospitals or in the prison camps, and then all the way back to their homes.

7. Because the greatest service in many respects which we must be prepared to render will be during the period of demobilization. Even should the war last far beyond another year, we cannot begin too soon to prepare for this period when men will have all their time on their hand. It is estimated that it will take over a year to bring the American army home. That will be a time of grave danger unless we provide suitable recreation and opportunities for study and advancement and growth in efficiency. This we must do at all costs, but it will cost much money.

8. Because of the imperative need of placing all our helpful facilities at the service of the French army of 4,000,000, of the Italian army of 3,000,000, and of the smaller but very important armies of Russia, of Belgium, of Macedonia, of Mesopotamia and of Egypt.

9. Because of the indescribable need of the millions of prisoners of war, who must look to us solely for our comprehensive program in the interest of their physical, mental, social and moral well-being.

The fact that the need will continue for at least a year after the actual conclusion of peace is accented in the bulletin. It is said that it will require fifteen months to bring back the Canadian army, eighteen months to convey the Australian army home, and not less than a year to return the members of the American expeditionary force to their homes; so that, in any event, the fund MUST be raised for the sake of America's sons in the service.

Business and the Golden Rule.

Business men testify that the way of treating people represented by the expression, "Business is business," is going out of fashion. They say the best business is to work the Golden Rule into it wherever it is possible. Everybody notices that courtesy and politeness are more in evidence among the employes toward customers and among successful employers toward employes. Men and women get on best in all business relations when they treat each other as equals, and give what they like to receive.

Looking Through a Tunnel.

The little circle of the world you see when you are looking through the length of a tunnel is always beautiful by contrast. No matter if it is only a stretch of track with a few scrubby trees and an arch of blue sky above it, you, looking from the blackness of the tunnel, think it a picture worthy an artist's brush. To the sick good health seems happiness enough, and those who are in trouble ask nothing better than a mind free from care. Bot sensible people do not need to be deprived of life's blessings in order to appreciate them.

as my letters come so irregular, but write every time I can. At present I can hear the rumble of the big guns as they send a little surprise package over into Fritzs' line. These kind of pence terms are sent over to the Kaiser's men or subjects quite often. Have also seen a balloon shot down by aeroplanes, a great sight. The observer upon the approach of an enemy plane, unless the balloon is pulled down, drops out in his parachute and generally lands unhurt. The balloon, upon being punctured by the machine gun bullets fired from the planes, catches fire and burns very rapidly, for it is filled with gas, causing a dense smoke while burning. It really is exciting for the plane also, as generally machine and anti-aircraft guns are opened upon him, making it pretty hot, and sometimes even bringing down the plane. Have seen some cases where planes have been hit by guns from the ground and again being downed by a rival plane. Sometimes they come down completely out of control, but diving, tumbling, etc. Other times they are under control, but out of running order and have to land, and still others are forced to land by rival machines and are captured. They also catch fire sometimes and burn on the way down. A good many of these sights are mighty interesting, and one very seldom tires of seeing a good battle in the air. Anyway, I haven't as yet.

"You said there had been a plane in Charlevoix. Suppose it caused a great deal of interest around there. One is a mere trifle over here, as we sometimes see nearly a hundred in the air ,and nearly always see a few.

"Well, I guess I had better quit and make bed, then "cushey," the French word for sleep." Your loving son, Pvt. Forrest O. Weed, Co. C, 107 U. S. Engrs., American E. F., A. P. O. 734, via New York.

From Maurice Nowland.

August 28, 1918.

Dear Folks—"No doubt you will be glad to know that I arrived safe in France. We were nine days coming over, and we had a fine trip, nice weather and a calm sea. We got in last night and marched out to a field where we pitched our tents and ate supper of hard tack and corned beef. Then it rained a little and we crawled in our blankets. This is what they call rest billets. I guess you can rest when you get used to it, but I am going to take a shovel and level off my bed a little. Tonight we are beginning regular soldiers life.

"We never saw a sign of a submarine coming over, so haven't had any excitement yet. We were well convoyed. We saw a few sharks, a lot of flying fish and a few school of sea porpoises. They looked so odd following after each other and leaping clear out of the water every few feet.

"There was some sort of amusement on the boat every day and in the evenings movies and devotional services. On the last day there were a few boxing matches between the sailors and soldiers, and the army carried off the honors.

"Well, France is somewhat different than the U. S. A., as we constantly see something of interest. All the roads and fields are enclosed by a hedge. Many of the people wear wooden shoes, so I am not going to say anything more about my heavy hob-nailed boots that I wear The women wear a queer head dress. I was surprised at the amount of English they can handle. A great many of the youngsters ran along shaking hands with us and talking what English they knew, as we marched through their town. Two little tots furnished much amusement standing on the corner and singing at the top of their voices, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

"The houses are made of cement and stone, and it is sometimes hard to tell which is the house and which is the barn. It is a beautiful country and the people welcome us warmly. Of course we cannot go away from camp except on duty.

"Am feeling fine and am ready for action. You will have to excuse some things about this letter as I am writing under difficulties. Hope you are all well. Suppose it will be quite a while before I get any mail, and you won't hear from me quite so often, but they take good care of us in the army, so don't worry. This is a great life and I am content.

Dear Mother—"I suppose you've been looking for a letter a long time before this reaches you, but don't worry, as I am getting along fine, and after this may be able to write more often. I have been quarantined for the mumps. There were eight of us shut in together, so have had lots of company.

"Haven't heard from anyone yet and suppose it will be some time before I do, as we have moved twice since I last wrote. The people in this town cannot talk English. We are in a little village, but with the aid of our little French books, we can point out the words and get along very nicely. Things are somewhat different over here than what I had pictured them. The buildings in this village are very old and made of stone, and everything is walled in. Stone walls extend on both sides of the street and a door through the wall leads into the yard, probably the front yard and probably the barn yard. The buildings are large and they have lots of barns. We are quartered in barns, often next to the cows, but we get used to it. We have many amusing experiences, and we have learned to put up with a lot that we did not think of in the U. S. A. I am still wearing the smile that I left you with, so you see there is nothing to worry about.

"We have a bed sack we fill with straw and it makes a good bed. I never knew before how far our country was ahead of any other, and I never knew how soft I had things and what luxuries we had and enjoyed every day and thought nothing of it. This is a good experience for me and I will feel like a millionaire to live as I lived before. Money cannot help one much here as the people live very simple and have no modern convenience. Of course in the larger towns they may have. The first thing we do when we settle in a village is to start cleaning it up. Of course one has to consider the man power is all at the front. I often laugh when I think of some things I used to think was a little tough, or when I had been particular about something to eat. Don't imagine now that I am not taken care of, but I just wanted to show you the spirit that I am taking things in. I am tougher than a knot and ready to meet the Boche.

"I suppose you have read how the boys are going after them. We will show them something, you can bet, and I will never be satisfied to go back until I have had a hand in it.

"The most we lack is amusement after our work is done. We do as the French do—go to bed as soon as it is dark. There is scarcely a light to be seen anywhere after dark. All inhabitants use candles.

"They have a Y. M. C. A. in this town. A franc goes about as far as a nickle in the U. S. One may have a pocket full of bills and not much money at that. They have lots of one franc bills (20 cents.)

"I was about three miles from Paris. Saw the tall buildings and churches. The war will soon be over and I will be back in the spring no doubt. Write me all the news. I can tell more when I get back than I can write, and what ever you do, don't worry. I wouldn't part with my experiences for anything. Oh say, there is no mince pie or anything of that kind over here." Your loving son, Maurice.

October, 1918.

Dear Mother and All—"Have been getting your letters quite regular the last few days. I just got No. 6, written September 11. I cannot keep up with your correspondence, but will do the best I can. You know we move so often we do not have time, and besides we are not allowed to have a light of any kind.

"I am sitting on my bunk writing on my mess kit, which is turned bottom side up on my knees, and I only have a few minutes before I will have to get busy, as I have just had dinner, and want to finish tonight, and the Y. has to put their lights out at 8:30, so you see I have not much time.

"I know you are disappointed in not hearing from me more often. Those little newspaper clippings that you sent me were enjoyed very much. It is the only reading material that I have seen from the U. S.

Later—"Well, things are coming my way and everything is brighter. I just got the Courier of August 21, as I came in from drill. I am glad you sent it.

"Suppose you are wondering what it is like over here. Well, most of the villages are vacated by the inhabitants, and one cannot blame them, for when a bomb comes down through the roof of a house there is not much left of it. There are a lot of trenches and barb wire entanglements. We can hear the big guns pounding the Germans and at night see the flashes from them and see the searchlights looking for aeroplanes overhead and signals being flashed back and forth. It is very interesting.

"I saw captured machine guns and other paraphernalia, and was in a woods where there was a lot of ammunition they left.

"I am glad I am in the game, and ready to meet the Boche. They are on the run, and it will be over soon. They started this scrap, but we will show them who will finish it. It seems a shame that they should come into a country of such peaceful people as the French and destroy it. One can see the effects that the four years war has had on the people. Women and old men are doing the work. Just now they are busy digging potatoes. There is one old fellow that is hitched along side of a horse and is plowing with him. When a fellow sees such things he grits his teeth and is determined to get the Hun. That's the one big idea over here, and I expect to get a few when the chances come my way. I have talked with fellows that have been over the top. Every one that comes from the front line trenches soon has an audience. You know the stuff the Americans are made of and I am glad I am one of them, and able to carry a gun in in this cause."

"Well I could write lots, but never mind I will soon be back and then I will tell you all about it." Give my regards to all. Your loving son, Pvt. Maurice Nowland, Co. I., 34th Inf. 7th, Div. American E. F.

WAR'S EFFECT ON RUGS.

How the Price of Beautiful Floor Coverings Has Risen.

Said a rug expert recently:

"I should say offhand that about 20 per cent of the increase in rug prices is due to conditions in the dye trade, 40 per cent to the falling off in wool imports and 25 per cent to shortage of labor. The remaining 15 per cent may be accounted for by increased transportation charges and by the fact that the rug manufacturers, owing to the fluctuating conditions, are inclined to safeguard their own profits a little more closely than before the war.

"In general it is correct to say that the price of domestic rugs has advanced from 25 to 45 per cent over the prices that were asked before the European war began. Thus a Wilton that could be bought for $60 a year and a half ago must now sell at $75; an Axminster or Brussels or velvet rug that cost then $27.50 must now sell for $35 or $40 and is expected to advance to $45 in the near future.

"The most popular moderate priced rug at the present time is the Axminster. It is constantly gaining in popular favor over that old time favorite the Brussels rug, and some manufacturers have even discontinued their Brussels weaves. Of the Axminsters the Chinese patterns, these being duplicates of Chinese designs, are especial favorites. Different shades of blue, such as delft, indigo and the so called old blue shades, are considered the most desirable. The blue is generally in the groundwork. These Chinese designs were first put out in domestic rugs about three years ago and at once met with popular favor. Let me say that the housewife who is able to get a special priced, marked down rug is fortunate, for this means that she is getting a rug that has been for some time in stock and so is dyed in the safer dyes that were obtainable before the war. Carpet manufacturers have now warned all their customers that the dyes now used are more likely to mellow and weaken than those formerly used.

"In buying Axminster and velvet rugs of medium grades better service will be secured from the seamless rugs."

How to Stop a Leak in a Gas or Water Pipe.

A leak in a gas or water pipe frequently causes no end of damage before the plumber can be called. Still it can be stopped temporarily with a filling mixture made of yellow kitchen soap and whiting mixed in a thick paste. When your wash boiler or any pot or kettle begins to leak at any unexpected moment you can save the day with an emergency cement made by mixing the white of an egg with fine coal or wood ashes until it forms a thick paste. Plaster this over the hole on the outside of the vessel and then hold it over the fire until the egg is baked and the cement hardens.

How to Clean Silver With Just Whiting and Oil.

When silver is very much tarnished, and this is often the case when it has been put away for some time and not used, it is a good idea to clean it with oil and whiting. Take an old piece of cloth or rag, dip one corner of it in the oil—lard can be used instead if more convenient—then in the powdered whiting, and, rub the black marks with it. They will gradually disappear with this treatment, and the silver must then be rubbed with clean dry whiting and polished with a soft leather

Curious Wooden Clock.

Seattle, Wash., boasts a curious wooden clock, three and a half feet in diameter, with a minute hand over four feet long. The case is not guaranteed, but it is supposed to be over 225 years old and is expected to last for some years to come. The works are placed in a section of Douglas fir log, one end of which is ornamented with the face numerals.

FALL OF KAISER IS CELEBRATEO

PEOPLE GO WILD WITH JOY OVER ANNOUNCEMENT

Business Suspended, School Closes, Whistles Blow, Bells Ring, City Turned Upside Down

It is over. The war is a thing of the past. We have won, and Charlevoix most fittingly celebrated the occasion.

Charlevoix gave vent to her joy Monday, upon receiving news that the armistice had been signed by the German envoys at General Foch's headquarters in France.

Rumors received over the Western Union and railroad telegraph lines were circulated on the streets early in the morning, but no official confirmation was received until during the middle of the forenoon.

On account of the falst reports received on Thursday of last week and the consequent celebration, people of Charlevoix were at first disposed to place little credence in the reports, taking the attitude of "show us" before we make any demonstration. About 10:00 a.m. W. E. Hampton, chairman of the city war board, received confirmation of the report from Grand Rapids, which was posted in the window of the postoffice. Within the next hour several telegrams were received confirming the report—then plans were made to celebrate, and celebrate we did.

Just after dinner signs appeared on the doors of business places bearing these words: "Who in h—l wants to work today." And it seemed to strike the key note of the real situation, for within the next half hour every store on the street was closed and both employer and employe made ready to celebrate in a manner not soon to be forgotten.

People shouted, horns were blown, bells rung, whistles blown and in every way possible the people made their joy known. School was dismissed and the students, both large and small, paraded the streets, singing patriotic songs, waving flags, and making noise in every conceivable way.

Automobiles soon made their appearance decorated with flags and filled with occupants beating pans, ringing bells and blowing horns. Other cars drawing a string of old tin pails, wash boilers, furnace pipes, and other noise-making contrivances paraded the streets, adding greatly to the already ever increasing din.

An automobile drawing a dummy labeled Kaiser Bill was dragged up and down the streets, a man riding on a sled alongside of him frequently throwing "the hook" into Bill. Later he was burned.

The celebration continued during the afternoon until about five o'clock, when the tired bunch went home for supper. Between six and seven it was resumed with greater vigor than ever and continued until after ten o'clock. Cannons were fired, shot guns and pistols added to the din, Kaiser Bill was hung in effigy and riddled with shot gun wads. Later he was dragged through the streets until the celebrators were compelled to quit, thoroughly tired out.

False reports that Germany had accepted the terms of the armistice and that fighting had ended threw the city into a delirium Thursday and turned out to be the greatest hoax of recent years.

Official assurances that the report was false failed to check the almost riotous demonstrations which swept over many American cities.

A cable dispatch from France to the United Press by its own president, and picked up and circulated through the country by another agency declared the armistice signed at 11 o'clock, and that fighting ended at two o'clock.

Charlevoix celebrated, but outdid herself when the correct announcement came Monday.

Some Difference Now

One hundred days ago the Germans were 35 miles from Paris. Today they are back on the 1914 lines and have sued for peace. After many occasions when hope has been deferred and of bitter disappointment, France knows at last that triumph has come and has given reign to unreserved joy.

WORKS BECOME VILLAGE PROPERTY

City of Bellaire Absorbs Water Supply Company.

The deal between the village of Bellaire and Henry Richardi for the property of the Bellaire Water Supply Co., the terms of which have been under consideration for the past several months, was completed Monday, November fourth and will be known as the Municipal Water Supply Co.

The advantage of municipal ownership has been demonstrated by the success of our electric light system and the future of Bellaire's water supply is assured by this deal.

It is understood that no change in the source of the water will be made at present but plans are being considered for the change in the future.

There will be no bonds issued in connection with the change in ownership as the cost of the plant will be paid from its earnings.

With our own electric lights, water system and public schools, this village rightfully holds its place at the head of the villages in this part of the State.—Bellaire Independent.

NOVEMBER DRAFT CALL CANCELLEO

NO MORE MEN TO BE SENT TO ARMY CAMPS.

Many, However, Will Continue Taking New Recruits. More Than Three Million Men in Service

The last selected soldier has gone to camp. Orders were received yesterday by the Charlevoix local board and all other boards in the United States from Provost Marshal General Crowder cancelling all outstanding drafts and directing men scheduled to move to camp in the November call be halted. The action, General Crowder stated in Washington, was taken upon the order of President Wilson.

The order was first flashed to the United States railroad administration and contained instructions not to entrain to camp any more selects.

General Crowder's order stopped the movement of approximately 252,000 men to camps during the coming five days, and more than 300,000 men during the month of November. The order does not effect calls for the navy and marine corps.

Mr. Baker made this statement, after a conference, which included the heads of practically every important bureau of the war department. He said more comprehensive announcements concerning the situation would be made later.

"All that can be said now," he said, "is that further calls and inductions under the draft have been suspended and that, so far as we can, those man who have been called, but who have not completely passed through the camps, will be turned back to civilian life."

It is pointed out in the orders to local boards that their work is to be continued, and that the draft machine will remain in readiness to function quickly again, however remote the possibility of its necessity.

Practically every man in the 300,000 called to enter service in November was a registrant on September 12, when the 18 to 45 age limit became effective. More than 3,000,000 men to date have been ordered into military service under operation of the selective service law and more than 2,700,000, including nearly every man found physically fit and without dependent or industrial exemption of the original 21 to 31 year group, has joined the service.

Draft boards will continue the work of examining and classifying men until orders to discontinue are received.

TURKEY RAFFLES ARE UNDER BAN

None to be Held in Charlevoix This Year

County officials announce that there will be no turkey raffles in Charlevoix county, or raffles for any other kind of fowl or food.

The federal food department has so decreed and the various county and city officials have been instructed to enforce this rule.

In former years there have been turkey raffles at Thanksgiving time and also at Christmas, but this will be done away with this year.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR SOLOIER BOYS NOW IN THE SERVICE

American Soldier Says Fences Take Up Too Much Room in France—English People Surprised at Yanks' Ability to Bake Flip-flops and Superintend Work

From Alfred C. Sarnsen, Nephew of Mrs. Hugh King of Ironton

France, Sept. 22, 1918.

"Dear Aunt,—Although I have been in France some weeks I haven't run into any of the Bushay, Bellevonce or Sarasin tribe. In fact the only person over here that I ever knew before is a fellow in the Battery with whom I went to school in the second and third grades.

"I suppose your first question would be 'How do you like the army?' Let me state that I think a great deal more of Uncle Sam as a civilian employer than as a military employer, and a little history may help explain this.

"Immediately upon landing we were taken to a rest camp. All we did here was to pitch pup-tents, sleep on half a blanket spread on the plowed ground, and cover with the other half, an overcoat and a blouse. For exercise we arose with the bugle at about 5:30, stood reville, then after a breakfast of a bacon sandwich and a cup of black coffee, we walked a couple of miles down to the water front and juggled railroad ties or unloaded boats all day, stopping at noon for army 'slum' and coffee. You are a first-class cook, but I bet any army 'slum' would have you guessing. Some day take a little beef, some bacon, spuds, salt, pepper, water, breadcrumbs, perhaps some onion and beans and most anything else at hand, throw it in a pot and then try it on Hugh. You may escape a divorce proceeding on account of the children, but it is doubtful. After our days of rest(?) we piled into an army truck and were taken back to the bread and bacon. It was bacon and bread for breakfast and then for a change it was bread and bacon for supper. Notice the change? We used to argue as to which it was to avoid mistakes in our meals. This rest lasted a week and then we took a bath. A couple of regiments marched about three miles to a stream of water which was nearly a foot across in some places and we bathed and washed our clothes to move. One regiment has 250 men, a couple of regiments would be 500 men, so you can picture our bath. Then we moved. Our censorship prohibits telling how, but I can state that we moved to Mothstroit in the province of Morhihan, and you will know that I muved, but that is all. We were billeted with French families here. The real French farmer. My home was owned by an old Frenchman who ran a blacksmith shop in one end of the first floor, his wife ran a grocery in the middle, and a wine shop at the other end. They slept above, and if he had owned stock it would have been kept in a lean-to behind which was handy. Twenty-two of us had the top floor. It was a great life.

"They use the two-wheeled carts, the brush broom and oxen that mother used to tell us we used in Canada, and each woman had a white lace cap of her own design, and the girdles are the same that are in that picture of some wedding that you had a year or so ago. The landowners wear a straw hat with black velvet ribbon, and a dress like the modern artist slips over his clothes to work. The renters wear anything that is handy, and wooden shoes seem to be the style altogether.

"The fences are of earth thrown up some two foot or so and planted with blackberry vine and thornapples on the top. An American cow which thinks nothing of barbed wire would hesitate at one of these fences, but they take up too much land for a progressive country, because each acre of land is surrounded by them. In fact my idea of what I have seen of this country is that a person would go blind looking for a place as old fashioned and unprogressive as this in America. One of the fellows remarked that the Germans were bigger fools that he had imagined back in the States if this is what they are fighting for.

"From Mothstroit we came to my present camp, where we have barracks and start intensive training for a month or six weeks, and then we go to the front. This means some good stiff schooling and drilling for a month or more. However, it isn't likely to be squads east and west which is some relief. Every time I hear 'rifle and belt' I get homesick. I really believe I could write a volume of sarcastic remarks on Infantry Foot Drill.

"I have a han's egg on my dome, and an enlargement of the knuckle on my middle finger to testify that I celebrated my birthday last Friday. It was first football practise and I got them from 'getting even' with a lieutenant by running into him a couple of times. All back privates know that the officers have to obey orders, but all the same we blame them for the labors we have to endure and take every chance to get even. What better chance than to met one head-on during football. He was a great deal larger and I had to remember all the stunts of a four year football course to hold my own.

"It will be three months next Tuesday since I hit the army, and I think I draw my first army pay tomorrow or the said Tuesday.

"I will try to be more prompt with next edition." As ever, Pvt. Alfred C. Sarnsin, Battery A, 8th Field Artillery, American E. F.

From Edger L. Harvey

October 10, 1918.

"Dear Ones,—I am now safe on English soil, and am glad to be there too. It was rather a long, tiresome trip, but I enjoyed the last few miles of it. I have travelled quite a few hundred miles while here, and believe me the English have it all over us for pretty scenery. They seem to have hundreds of tunnels on the railroads and they seem to spoil the view. The mountains and pretty brick farm houses with level green fields form a picture hard to beat. About nine-tenths of the houses are built of brick and every house has several large chimneys, with about six or more little chimneys sticking out from the large ones. Nearly all the fences are built of stone.

"All the men of my regiment received a note of welcome from King George today, and a special envoy gave a speech. Believe me, it looks fine to see hundreds of khaki colored clad men in line and led by a big band and Old Glory waving before them. When playing the Star Spangled Banner today, when the clouds were so thick that there was no sunlight, the sun suddenly shone out in a beautiful ray over our troops. It sure made me feel queer for a minute, and lots of the fellows noticed this transformation.

"It looks as though the war would end very soon now. We get the latest here all the time and the reports look very encouraging.

"That was surely some storm we had coming over. The waves tore away about 8 feet of an iron railing and bent it nearly double. So that you can see it was some storm. I was up on the deck next day and the forward end of the boat was pretty well scarred from the effects of the water. That storm we had on Lake Michigan that time was nothing like this. I am glad that I am safe on shore again.

"I have five blankets in all now. Guess our officers do not expect us to freeze. Well, folks, don't be afraid to write to me. Always let some good writer address your letters, as it is very important.

"Well, guess I will ring off. Write twice a week at least. If I am not here will get them.

"Suppose you have read of the size of the English trains. Believe me, they are small compared to ours. More like toys. The street cars have double decks. I haven't seen an electric light since I came over. Good bye, folks. Don't worry about me, as I am feeling fine, and am sure taking some trip at Uncle Sam's expense. Of course, it is not always free, but it's easier than hauling kilnwood. With love to all, Pvt. Edger L. Harvey, Bat'y. E., 73rd Art. Co. C., American E. F.

From J. Frank Campbell.

Witney, October 13, 1918.

"Dear Sis,—Your very welcome letter was reached by me yesterday. I had to go to London yesterday to register so the British could not draft me into their army, and while there received your letter. I wouldn't mind being a soldier, in fact I want to be, but not in any army but that of the U. S. A.

"Since writing to Uncle nothing of importance has happened except that the officers mess, where I eat, is served in a nice warm room now instead of a small and very poor tent. That helps some.

"Today has been the best that I have seen during the past month. It didn't rain, the wind did not blow very hard and the sun shone quite warm most of the day. I never in all my life saw so many rainy days and nights too. The natives must be web-footed for sure. I do hope we get about three weeks of warm weather before winter sets in. Twelve above is real cold here in the winter, but deliver me if twelve above here is the same as twelve below in Texas, and I imagine it is going to be the same.

"The Y. hut I am supposed to be building will be completed this week. We have been held up on it for nearly two weeks on account of material which I secured Friday. Getting any material here is like trying to buy a public building in the States. One must see the King and every one else all the way down the line to the seller, but have all the material now

SECONO NUMBER LECTURE COURSE

OPIE READ, WELL KNOWN AUTHOR, FIRST ATTRACTION

Has Delighted Thousands by His Original Thought and Story Telling.

The season's lecture and entertainment course has been interrupted by the influenza epidemic. However, the several numbers will be staged at the Opera House on Tuesday evening, November 19. This number will be an exceptionally strong one and should be enjoyed by all the people of Charlevoix.

Opie Read is a well known author on the platform. Mr. Read shines with a brilliance all his own. "Everywhere he is received with enthusiasm." The indescribable witchery of his words, the charm of his voice and manner, the influence of his personality combine to weave the major spell that holds his hearer enthralled.

Opie Read is an original thinker. He is also a fine story teller and tells only his own stories. He tells them as none other can and has delighted thousands.

The Charlevoix Lecture and Entertainment Course is staged, not for profit, but to provide clean, instructive amusement for the people of Charlevoix. The lecture and entertainment course should receive the support of all citizens who believe in all the year round town idea.

The tickets are for sale by High School students and at the Central Drug Store. The price is $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for students, for five first class attractions. Buy your tickets today. The reserve seats for this number will be sold at the Central Drug Store, Friday next, at 7:30 p.m. Ten cents extra per seat.

WALLS OF WARE HOUSE COLLAPSE

Farmers' Marketing Association in for Heavy Loss.

Wednesday afternoon of last week a portion of the east wall of the new Cooperative Warehouse at Bellaire collapsed from the pressure of the big bins of potatoes which had been piled to the roof.

The part that collapsed was near the door at which a wagon load of potatoes was being unloaded. The wagon, which was old, was partly demolished, but the team luckily suffered no serious injury.

Men worked late Wednesday night getting the potatoes back under shelter and in a short time the damage will be repaired.

Fur Season Opens November 15

The season for taking muskrats, otter, fisher, martin, mink, racoon and skunk opens November 15 and continues until March 15, inclusive. There is no limit placed on the number that may be taken. It is unlawful to have them in possession during the closed season or to destroy house or holes of muskrats or skunks or to use firearms in hunting muskrats.

LIEUT. SCROGGIE DEAO IN FRANCE

DIED OCTOBER 13 FROM GUN SHOT WOUNDS

Postmaster T. G. Finucan Receives Word of His Death From Hospital Where He Died

Word was received Monday by Postmaster T. G. Finucan, from Evacuation Hospital No. 11, France, giving the details of the death of Lieut. Dean C. Scroggie, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Scroggie, formerly of Charlevoix, now living in Detroit. The letter as received is given below:

Evacuation Hospital No. 11

American E. F.

October 13, 1918.

The Postmaster,

Charlevoix, Michigan.

My Dear Sir:—"Thinking you may be able to obtain the address of the nearest relative of 1st Lieut. Dean C. Scroggie, 28th Infantry, I am requesting that you inform them of his death, this date, of this officer.

"Lieut. Scroggie was admitted to this hospital on October 10th with a severe abdominal wound, incurred in battle about 2:00 p.m., October 9th, and died this date, October 13th, at 12:00 noon.

"I request that you may present my deepest sympathies to the family of Lieut. Scroggie, and say that everything possible was done to aid him in his recovery. It may be well to add that his death was not accompanied by pain, but that he died comfortably and without evidence of distress. Please inform his nearest relative." D. F. Duval, Colonel, M.C. Comdg.

Thus has another Charlevoix boy made the supreme sacrifice. Dean was a graduate of Charlevoix High school, class of 1914, and was 22 years of age. After his graduation he entered the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, taking up the medical course. About two years ago, he enlisted in the ambulance corps and soon after was sent overseas. From all reports he came into contact with the real horrors of war, was gassed, had several narrow escapes from injury, but came through without injury of a serious nature.

About two months ago he was transferred from the ambulance corps and promoted to second lieutenant, and later, since news has been received here, to first lieutenant.

The news of his death was received in this city with profound sorrow and regret, and the bereaved members of the family are extended the heartfelt sympathy of a host of friends.

RED CROSS MOVES TO NEW QUARTERS

Now Located in Suite of Rooms Over Levison's Store

The local branch of the Charlevoix chapter of the American Red Cross society have moved from the Masonic Temple to the rooms over Levinson's store. The rooms will be open every afternoon, with different organizations of the city in charge, the assignments to appear in the next issue of the weekly papers. Ladies who can spare a few hours each week should feel at liberty to come any day, as the request from the National headquarters is very urgent that our work shall in no way fall behind.

There is also a call for jellies or jams for Michigan boys, who are now located in a base hospital in New York City. Send by parcel post to Miss Hurd, of the war preparedness board at Lansing, Michigan, who will forward the same to New York. The local board are very grateful for the ready response to the call for comfort bags to be sent to this same hospital.

The board of the Charlevoix branch will hold a business session the first Tuesday of each month at 3:30 in the Red Cross rooms.

The board solicits the loyal support of the Charlevoix women and hopes to see the rooms well filled every day with workers, as our boys will be in need of our support for many months, and the needy in the war stricken zones will require all the assistance America can give. Will you help?. Mrs. E. E. Cross, Chairman of local branch.

Purchasers of 4th Liberty Loan bonds are requested to call at the banks for them, as they were received the first of the week and should be in the hands of those who own them.

Do You Perspire Freely?

Why should you buy Borated Talcum Powder to prevent perspiration odors when you can buy the pure Boric for less money? It's the boric acid in talcum powder that does the work. Then, use the pure thing—20 Mule Team Powdered Boric.

It has a soothing effect on the skin—it is an antiseptic as well as a deodorant and does not clog up the pores as most talcum powders dn.

Use 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric and save yourself the embarrassment of perspirstion odors. A little of this preparation, sprinkled in the bath water will work wonders.

20 Mule Team Powdered Boric is sold at all good drug stores.

Notice.

Use of the present dumping grounds will be discontinued December 1st, 1918. After that date all rubbish shall be deposited in the property owned by the city on Sec. 26, and known as the City Stone Quarry. Charles H. Emrey, City Clerk. 45t2

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER'S NOTES

Teachers Wanted! Curfew and Thumb Lake schools want teachers at once. They pay fifty dollars per month. Former teachers may qualify with special test at office of commissioner of schools. Other applicants must have the required amount of normal training in order to qualify under the same conditions. Neither of the above special examination offers apply to teachers airesdy holding certificates in this county.

A number of our business men hsve a good practical pedagogy in their daily work—that is if we consider pedagogy applied common sense regardless of the science. A copy of the "Gleanings" from the daily Rough Notes Co. was lately loaned to the commissioner and the foliowing gleanings were noted:

"Any amount of business betterment but not a smoothin for decsy."

"Plsns well laid on a basis of sufficient knowledge, when properly executed, always win out."

"Look steadily at a bright light for hslf a minute and then face the darkness—the light still shines ahead of you. So do the blazing fires of the past mark the pathway of the future."

"Tis better not to have too many why's. 'Tis better just to know and do."

"It pays to kick if in so doing you bruise your toe and have to sit down and think."

"The singie North star of purpose has more home runs, to its credit than all the stars in the whole Milky Way of Reflected Life."

"Genius is perspiration, not inspiration."—Edison.

"Msnagement means getting the most out of the mschinery, be it of iron snd wood or flesh and bone."

Eight visits made during the past week. Most of the schools now in session once more. Marion and Norwood townships completed the once over.

Tuesday the 5th, the Commissioner visited the Miles school, went on through to Ellsworth to Norwood, visited the school there, and northward to Hilton school. Things were going splendidly in every place, and in every case the teacher had an entirely new set of books, making the gamut of the improved list from the first grade up. Only one school was found during the week in which the recommended grammars hsd not been adopted.

Miss Berg of Marion Center, is guiding the manufacture of some very interesting food posters. Freehand cutting of pig and turkey, with the free hand cutting of message above pig saying, "Eat us here," and telling us to send the turkeys "over there." The boys and girls seemed happy even in the thought.

Miss Maddaugh of the Johnson school, was teaching language very effectively by means of a good food poem snd had prepared some very good leaflets, done by third grade pupils entitled, "Seven Reasons for Saving."

Mrs. Flagg at Barnard tells us that the Liberty Bond which her school bought as a memorial to Leslie Shapton, a former student of the school, is now all paid for but about two dollars. So fsr as we know this is the only group of students undertaking this alone, and it was a magnificent undertaking. Improvements on the building show up 100 per cent.

Miss Cook of the Knop school, called at the office last week for a short visit, and the commissioner was pleased to learn of a long list of splendid books which she had selected for the new library order which the district is making. They will have practically every grade supplied with supplementary language work and will rsnk close to the top among the rural libraries of the county.

Milea school also is ordering some fine new books and we may look for an interesting school year for the boys and girls.

Sanitary paper towels are arriving in many districts and the old time germs are suffering death by fire under direction of the teacher.

Wildwood school hss a fine new clock and new books. Two very inexpensive items would now make this a standard school. Three or four other schools must be nearly there now, that is if memory is playing no tricks, and if the former amount of equipment is wll intact.

Best W. S. S. report for the past week comes from the McGeagh school in which Miss Clare Thorsen is teacher.

EVELINE

Weather is holding out splendidly.

Wallace Kemp lesves for camp in South Carolina next Fridsy.

Rev. Hoyt, who is now a chaplain in the army, preached at the school house Sunday and will be here again next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Clark made a trip to Traverse City one day last week for the treatmant of Mr. Clark's eyes.

The Eveline Farmers' Club will meet again next Friday evening, November 16. Rev. Hoyt will be with us and the war board will also send a good speaker. There will be a program worth coming to henr.

HOPYARD

Helen Haggerty visited her sister, Mrs. Routly, last Monday.

Miss Eileen Fairchild visited Edith Struthers one day last week.

We have received our new pencil sharpener which we like very much.

Our schooi started Monday after a month's vacation on account of sickness.

Peter Winnick worked for his uncle, Bert Whitman, two weeks digging potatoes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Smith and fsmily called on Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Struthers Friday evening.

COUNTY NORMAL NOTES

Miss Josie Hammond, our new student is a graduate from the East Jordsn High school last year.

The county normal students are all back, ready to take up their work which has been broken up by the four week's vacation.

Miss Hszel Allen is tesching ss a substitute in the South Side school, taking the plsce of Miss MacDonald, who is ill.

and expect to complete this job this week and then move on to the next one.

"I met a young man here in camp who asked me where I came from, and when I mentioned Michigan he wanted to know if I knew anyone in Charlevoix. He was an instructor in the High School last year, and said that he stayed with Mrs. Cooper. Am sorry that I haven't his name.

"This evening has been a busy one; in fact the whole day has been. In spite of it being Sunday we worked (that is the boys worked) on the hut during the forenoon. After dinner I walked down to an old ruined castle not far from camp. It has a very interesting history. Will send cards later. All these old things make a person feel very little and of no account for they have been built for hundreds of years. The builders seemed to have thought that they were going to live for ever, but they didn't as far as I have been able to find out, and their children's children's children are all dead. The old castles are falling down and yet the old earth just keeps rolling along as though nothing had ever been different than it is today. It makes me think more and more about the present. Enjoy life, keep warm and eat plenty, do good where ever you can, and tell the people who try to trouble you to go to H—, and be as happy as a clam. The foregoing is my motto in Latin.

"After returning I wrote a long letter to Tillie, and then baked 48 pancakes for the boys in the British Y. That is all the batter I had, but they could have sold ten times that many. They think I am some wonder to be able to superintend the erection of a building, and bake pancakes as well as I did. The lady of the house stood around and watched to see how I flipped them over. Some guy round these diggings.

"This is where I go to bed. Good bye and love to all." J. Frank Campbell, 47 Russell Square, London, England.

From Loren Hart.

October 9, 1918.

"Dearest Mother,—At last, after about a month of travel, I guess we have arrived at our destination. After leaving the boat we were sent to a rest camp, where we rested for three days, and had nothing else to do. Then we were put in box cars and took a (censored) ride across France.

"Things gradually changed as we come along. The port of entry was an old peasant town surrounded by small farms, and the people all dressed in old time customs.

"We are now in a large city, or rather just outside as we have been previously. We will be quartered in barracks, and as soon as the shops are finished I suppose we will be kept busy.

"I am going to try and keep a diary of everything of interest that happens, and we will have that to refer to when I get home. Most of the things that I see I cannot write about. There are very few things over here but what have military importance. I fear that most of my letters will be short, as the desire to write has to a certain extent left me. There is so little that can be written that is interesting.

The Type Used in One Year to Publish Endorsements of Doan's Kidney Pills

Of the many kidney remedies on the market today, none other is recommended like Doan's Kidney Pills. Fifty thousand benefited people gladly testify in the newspapers of their own towns. Forty-five hundred American newspapers publish this home proof of Doan's merit. The type used in one year to tell this wonderful story would make a solid column of metal twice as high as the world's highest mountain. Placed end to end the lines of type would reach from New York to Chicago. These miles of good words told by 50,000 tongues sound glad tidings to any Charlevoix sufferer who wants relief from kidney and bladder ills. Here's a Charlevoix case. Don't experiment. Use the remedy endorsed by people you know.

Barney Herington, cement contractor, 108 W. Garfield Ave., says: "About eight years ago my back gave out on me. It became so lame and sore I could hardly bend over and when I did, sharp, knife-like pains caught me in my back and I could hardly straighten up. My kidneys were not acting regularly. As I had often read about Doan's Kidney Pills I tried them and three boxes cured me and fixed me up in good shape. Since then when I have had to use a kidney medicine, Doan's Kidney Pills have always done good work."

"Dear Sister and all,—I wrote you a letter a day or so ago, but will write another and enclose this coupon so you can send me something for Christmas. You can send candy as it is the only thing that we cannot get over here. The Y. M. C. A. furnishes us with gum and tobacco, and we can get that cheaper here than in the States.

"I will be satisfied if you send me just candy this year for Christmas. I have no news to tell. I am well and hope this finds you the same." Your loving brother, Walter Mitchell, Co. B. Signal Bn. S. C., 730 A.P.O.A. E.F.

From John P. Colden

One of the most interesting letters we have so far received from the boys in Uncle Sam's service, is from John "Paul" Colden of Clorion, for a number of years cashier at The Inn, and well known to many of our citizens. The letter follows:

Cape Haitien, Haiti,
October 10, 1918.

Dear Folks: This letter has been so long in coming that I shall try to make it a little more interesting than usual. For several reasons I have not told much of Haiti, principally because I knew little about it. However, in the nine weeks I have been here I have had an opportunity to see some of the country and to learn of many of its interesting features. I will start at the beginning of my stay here.

"After our long boat trip, the fellows were quite curious to get a glimpse of their destination. The trip from Cuba had been a short one, and the trip along the coast of the island reminded us of Cuba. The mountains seemed as high, but were not covered with the haze characteristic of Cuban mountains. As we entered the broad-mouthed harbor we saw first the fort, and then the little city of Cape Haitian. The fort was built by Napoleon's brother some time ago and time has left its impression upon it. It proved interesting if not impressive. As we rode farther into the harbor the town lay spread out before us in a fine panorsmic effect.

"Cape Haitian is very old and the buildings, while substantial and large, bear signs of French origin. There was an absence of gay colors such as I described Santiago as having. Here the buildings are nearly all white. As we came ashore in small boats, we passed the custom house and entered the 'square.' Then we entered upon 'A Street'—the street which follows the shore of the harbor. It is one of the principal and busiest of the Cape's thoroughfares.

"Along 'A Street' are many of the warehouses and offices of companies engaged in export trade, as well as some local stores. Such signs as these are in evidence. 'Dutch West Indies Co.,' 'Deve & Laroux,' 'Hotel Internstional,' 'Hotel New York,' 'Gendarmerie Headquarter's Department de Cap,' etc. Warehouses for coffee, cotton, honey and other exports are scenes of much activity.

"Most of the streets are very narrow and straight, sidewalks are must walk in single file. Hence, the streets are used by most pedestrians. The other traffic consists mostly of pack mules, two-wheeled carts, a few automobiles and some horse carriages. The cathedral and the other two churches are fine buildings. So also are the city homes of a few wealthy merchants. Many pretty homes are scattered along the shore, toward the fort and a few are situated on the mountain side above the town. Store buildings are nearly all two stories high and have balconies over-hanging the street. Window-glass is so rare that I remember of seing it only once or twice. Large wooden shutters are used to close the buildings at night. These, together with the thick walls (of a sort of adobe), secure stores agsinst nocturnal invasions. Wooden shacks are not numerous, but are found around the edge of the town and are occupied by the poorer and more indigent natives.

"One of the most important buildings is the market. It is a low shed affair, resembling somewhat the train sheds in the states. Here people come from all over the country during the day to sell and buy. And what a heterogenous mess it is! Every farm product and almost every article commonly sold in stores are found here. Each woman squats on the floor with her little display of wares about her. Frequently she forgets to remove from her head a heavy basket of supplies which she has carried with her. Usually she will be a person who knows little English, but do not fear about her cheating herself.

"It is not necessary, however, to visit the market to purchase needed articles. There are 'department stores' which rival American shops in the variety of their wares. Show cases are not used but the shelves and counters are laden with every conceivable thing. The shop-keepers, whether Haitian or 'high yellow,' are courteous and persistent. I think they know the two price system and size up their victims. Yet, as we can purchase American soap and toilet articles, drugs, lanterns, etc., we should be satisfied.

"The other accomodations of the town are not far behind the commercial. A Catholic cathedral and another church are here. The priests are Frenchmen, several of whom have spent nearly their whole life here. They speak little English, however. There is also a Protestant church—a Wesleyan Methodist. The minister is an Englishman from the Isle of Jersey. He speaks with a decided English accent. His, indeed, is a big work, for he is the only missionary here that I know of. He preaches a Haitian, a French, and an English service on Sunday; and during the week he is very busy with his work among the natives. The marines who attend his church respect him highly and pity him for the bigness of his task.

"There are schools here, also. I know little of the elementary schools although I know they exist and are well attended. There are a number of persons who teach French. One of the priests, several of the 'Gendarmes' and a few merchants hire out to marines who are ambitious enough to study here. I don't think education is compulsory among the natives, and the older ones are very ignorant, yet doubtless within a few years a good school system will be established.

"Although there is no 'Y' camp here, the needs of the marines are well attended to by the government. The canteen attempts to supply tobacco, candy, 'eats,' soft drinks, etc. Although the ship service is often so slow that the smokers have to go without their 'humps' and 'Bull' for weeks at a time. The American Library Association has supplied us with quite a library, and magazines finally reach here. So we are able to enjoy many a pleasant hour in our tents or in the canten with our favorite authors. In this connection I must not fail to mention another accomodation. There are two Chinese restaurants here where 'ham and eggs' and even ice cream can be obtained. Our restaurant de luxe is Bernard's—'the father of the marines.' Three of us enjoyed a very fine meal there last night—Steak, eggs, hot chocolate, etc., served on the upper balcony. I didn't get a peek at the bill, but was told prices are very reasonable. I might add that I felt much as though I were at a banquet at home, for the meal was served in very good style and followed by good Havana cigars and 'speeches.' That is, Oullette of Detroit led a discussion on the war, which was thoughtful and interesting. Whenever Joe Oullette, 'Shorty' Schultz and I get together we have interesting times. Often get into interesting discussions.

'I have told you of all I can think would interest you about Cape Haitina, but will attempt to tell you a little more about Haiti. I have had an opportunity to see a little of the country and as I had an interesting guide on one occasion, have learned some interesting things.

"Of course, Fort au Prince is the principal city, but is located in the department of the South. The President lives there and the seat of government is there. Porto Plata, Le Treu, Carical and Quanamintho are little more than groups of houses. These are connected by roads, some of which are very good. There is a small railroad which goes out from the Cape, but it is short and leads only up into the mountains.

"I dislike calling the principal occupation here 'farming.' Really, the natives only wait for nature to produce food. I haven't been able to figure out whether providence created lazy men and then out of pity provided an easy living; or whether He provided the luxuriant country and the people just became lazy. It is true, however, that Haiti is a very rich and productive country. The soil is a heavy red clay and, although it gets very dry and baked, seems to reserve enough moisture to raise fruit and vegetables in abundance.

"The most important product, to the natives, perhaps, is the fruit. Fine old orchards, now in ruins, still continue to bear good fruit. Oranges sell 'deux pour centime'—two for one cent 'gold' (American).

"Bananas, or figs as they are called, are good. They grow in little orchards almost everywhere, and sell for a cent apiece. The trees so much resemble the plantain trees that I can scarcely distinguish them. The bananas are usually larger, however, and have brown stalks. The natives cook the plantains as we would sweet potatoes.

"Alligator pears make a fine salad. They are about the size and shape of pears but have a large stone in the center. The 'meat' is yellow and soft. Grape fruit are raised. Mangoes are about the size and shape of the alligator pears, but are yellow. They, too, have large stones, but the meat is very fibrous and stringy. Pineapples and cocoanuts are plentiful. The latter are so typical of the country that a cocoanut tree appears on the emblem of the soldier and on the coins. Sugar cane, sweet potatoes,

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain real estate mortgage whereby the power of sale therein contained has become operative, which mortgage was given by Peter Rush and Ida R. Rush, his wife, to Helen J. Pulcipher which said mortgage was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, April 21st, 1916 in Liber fifty-six of mortgages on page forty; and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Five Hundred fifty-three dollars and eighty-one cents, and a further sum of fifty-three dollars and nine cents taxes paid on the property described in said mortgage by Helen J. Pulcipher, together with an attorney fee as provided by statute, and no suit or proceedings at law have been instituted to recover the money secured by said mortgage or any part thereof; and whereas the tax required by the statutes to be paid on said mortgage was duly paid prior to the recording thereof;

Now therefore, notice is given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and of the statutes made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount then due thereon of principal and interest together with the amounts paid for taxes, costs and expenses of the foreclosure, including the attorney fee provided by statute, at public auction to the higher bidder therefore at the front door of the court house in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix (that being the place where the Circuit court for the County of Charlevoix is held) on the 14th day of December, 1918 at ten o'clock in the forenoon on that day. The premises described in said mortgage being herein described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at the northeast corner of Lot One in section seventeen, township thirty-four north of range seven west; thence west on the Quarter line of said section forty rods; thence south to the center of Emmet and Grand Traverse State road it being one hundred rods; thence east along the center of said road to the center line; thence north on said second line ninety-six rods to the place of beginning, being a part of Government Lot one of said section seventeen and containing twenty-four and one-half acres of land more or less.

Dated September 7th, 1918.

CHANGING TIME

The war is practically ended, and the allies have won a glorious victory; a victory of right over might, over civilization over barbarism, such as the world has never seen or scarcsly dared expect. The actual finish may be delayed; for a hasty peace might easily be a dangerous peace, and time will be required for solution of many new problems. The map of Europe will undergo extraordinary changes; stormy times may be expected; also great social and economic changes. But this is the dawn of a new and brighter era. The effects at home will be widespread. While considerable of our army may be detained abroad for a period, demobilization must soon begin; warlike activities will decline, and trade and industry must be readjusted gradually to peace conditions. We will then be obliged to send large quantities of food and raw materials to Europe, for which we will have to give credit, because goods to send in payment are scarce. Along with peace there will come a sense of relief and a new hope; and though the near future is full of perplexities courage and resources are in abundance to meet them.

Commodity prices are fabulously high despite government regulation, which has accomplished little beyond imposing a somewhat mild restraint upon rpofiteering. Values are now upon such a dizzy level that consumption is being restrained by impaired buying power much more than by any federal interposition. Indications are that the apex has about been reached, and that reaction which peace may stimulate should soon be evident. War waste will soon stop, and gradually the many millions now employed in destruction will turn brains and energy to production, so that before very long scarcity should become less and less pronounced. A sudden fall in prices would certainly prove a misfortune and is not probable in view of the world-wide scarcity of materials and lnbor. On the other hand a gradual fall, would stimulate consumption, expand buying power and prove the basis for a new and wider prosperity. With the coming of peace there will be other encouraging changes. New and broader ideas will take possession of men. Transportation will be permanently revolutionized, and will not go back to former methods, whether we have government ownership or not. Banking methods are changing rapidly; and in business affairs generally co-operation is taking the place of combination and suicidal competition. A new spirit is in the air; a spirit of hopefulness which prevails despite the social, economic and political problems confronting the world.—Henry Clews Report.

FAIR FIGHTERS

At the close of the campaign of 1918, as at the close of the campaign of 1916, the Republicans have the satisfaction of knowing that they laid their case fairly before the people of ths country, making no effort to mislead, even by inference. There was no attempt to introduce false issues, no attempt to make unfounded claims, no attempt to misrepresent the opponents. In 1916 the Democrats went to ths country upon the falss issue of "kept us out of the war." In 1918 they went to the country on the equally false issue that election of Democrats to Congress was necessary to the winning of war and the conclusion of a satisfactory peace. Republicans would rather be right and lose than to be false and win.

ONCE IS ENOUGH

Because the Kaiser put it over on us in the diplomatic correspondence of 1914-16, he thought he could do it again in 1918. But the people of ths country are taking more interest in diplomatic affairs than they did then, and they won't stand for any more sacrifice of national honor.

Judging from the terms Austria accepted, it appears that Marshal Foch must have done most of the talking.

About all that was left to Austria was a shirt, and that isn't a very good one.

After the war the kaiser "will stand no nonsense from America."

Germany now has an idea what Foch's peace terms are.

What is the Austro-Hungarian government anyway?

Penny for the kaiser's thoughts.

GIVE UNTIL IT FEELS GOOD

President Has Asked Ths People Of This Country To Comply With Ths Request Of Ths United War Board.

Michigan is ready and waiting for the opening gun of the United War Work Campaign to be fired on the morning nf November 11. Thousands of workers throughout the state are on their toes and prepared to see that Michigan stands out as a shining light among her sister states.

It is this campaign which is the test of true patriotism; in which some slight sacrifice can be made for the boys who are fighting our battles in the trenches. The seven great, accredited war relief ngencies—Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., K. of C., Jewish Welfare Board, Salvation Army, American Library Association and the War Camp Community Service—have called npon the American people for $250,000,000 with which to carry on their work of relief.

President Wilson has askad that tha people of this country comply with this request. Give, Give, Give until it feels good. It has been said that "it is better to giva than receive." In this case those who givn will receivs the greatest reward, that of satisfaction in having helped to comfort some mother's son who has gone through tha horrors of a bloody battle.

Tha purchasing of Liberty Bonds is a patriotic duty, but thara is no sacrifice for you are receiving a high rata of interest on your money. Tha boys in the trenches are making the GREATEST SACRIFICE. During the week of November 11 every man, woman and child in tha state will be offered an opportunity and priviledga of making a monetary sacrifice.

And, how little that is in comparison with the offer of tha boys to givn up their lives. Do not be a slacker. Back up the boys over there. They deserve it. If the solicitor does not approach you sack him out, for this is an opportunity and a priviledga you cannot afford to miss.

Wool Clothing for Winter Wear

When we say wool, we mean real wool—stock that was bought early in the season before the general shortage of wool, and not part cotton. We placed our order early for the stock we now have. It was a fortunate buy, for today we could not buy from the manufacturer what we have displayed on our counters. We have for both boys and men. The stock covers a field of weights and quality, and you will find just what you need here. We have prepared for the fall trade for many years, and our line of goods have always given the very best of satisfaction. No shoddy goods—but garments that will give service at prices that will surprise you, considering the high price of all wool garments at the present time.

Miss Cooper was a graduate of the Charlevoix High School and has many friends in Charlevoix that wish her much happiness. Mr. Herman has a position in Kalamazoo, and they expect to make their home there for the present.

Last Friday Mrs. Leo Carey entertained eight of her friends at a pot-luck supper, whieh was served at six o'clock. The guests of honor were Mrs. Ainslie Mayne, who leaves this week for Connecticut, Miss Irene Finucan and Miss Annette Nordrum, who leave this week for Detroit. The young ladies took their sewing and visited until a late hour. A reading was given by Miss Finucan whieh produced a lot of fun and laughter.

HAIR TURNS WHITE; CAN'T BREAK SPIRIT

Boy From Princess Pat Regiment Is Kept Alive By Aid From War Relief Societies While a Prisoner in Germany.

London—(By Mail)—He dropped into a chai. at the Eagle Hut in London. His face was youthful, but his hair was white. On his shoulders was the insignia of Princess Pat's regiment. Dropping into the chair next him I fell into talk with the boy.

"I coma from Regina," ha said. "My nams is Harry Drope. Yes, my hair is whita now, but it was coal black before I was taken a prisoner by the Germans. I was captured on June 2, 1916. A bunch of us at the extrema end of a salient had decided to stick it out. They pretty well wiped us out. I was knocked ont from loss of blood when thay took us in—wounded in two places from shrapnel.

"I spent 22 months in East Prussia. There were Russians, Roumanians, Italians, French, Balgians, British and Colonials in tha prison camp. We were up at 4 a. m. in summer and at 5 in winter. We were given substitute coffee, turnip soup and half a pound of war bread a day, and had to do hard manual labor. The Russians died like flies from hunger. The British and our boys would have died too, if it had not been for food we received by parcel post.

"Two Russians and myself escaped last June. One of the Russians was recaptured. The other Russian and myself walked 600 miles and at last reached Moscow. Bread was twenty shillings a pound. I was broke. Donald A. Lowrie, of Seville, Ohio, the Y. M. C. A. secretary thera, took me in and kept me for five days. I could not secure a passport from the Bolsheviki, but by good fortune I met Sir William Clark, the head of the British Economic Mission who attached me to his party. Traveling by boat and by box-car we finally reached Murman, the Allied headquarters.

"The folks at homa cannot realize what the Y. M. C. A. means to the boys over there—the "Y", the K. of C., the Jewish Welfare Board and the other of the seven welfare organizations which at President Wilson's request hava gotten together in the United War Work Campaign to raise $250,000,000 to enable them to continue their activities.

"Yes, I am going to carry on. Having been a prisonar of war I cannot rejoin the Princess Pats, but I am going into the air force and do my fighting in the air. I am on my way, now to Minneapolis. My sweetheart is an American girl. She livas in Minneapolis."

The Hat Shop will be closed after November 30. All hats must go regardless of cost. Come 46t1

WILL SPEND WINTER IN FLORIDA

People Greatly Regret Departure of Dr. Hewitt

Churches were opened agsin last Sunday night for the first time since Banks township was placad under quarantine, and the M. E. church at Ellsworth was filled to hear the Rev. Hewitt's last sermon until bis return from Florids early next spring.

The announcement of his leaving, which takes plsce on Wednesday of this week, came as a surprise to most of his congregation and is due to medical advice, Mrs. Hewitt's heart being in such condition that it will be impossible for her to put in a winter in the north.

Dr. Hewitt spoke on the subject "What is Life?" and delivered what was conceded by many to be the best sermon ever preached in the Ellsworth M. E. church. He is making arrangementa for a man to take his place during the winter and as the Congregational church has been purchased work will start in the spring to convert it into a parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt will be located for the winter at Jacksonville, Florida, and will be glad to hear from any Ellsworth people either by card or letter at any time.

ROBUSTNESS

Nature has not been prodigal with everybody in the matter of robustness. Many, all through life, must stand guard and combat colds, coughs, bronchitis or perhaps more serious pulmonary ailments. For nearly five decades has been helping to turn weakness into strength. For those who are delicate, with tender lungs, weak throats and a proneness to debility and anemia, the definite nourishing and tonic qualities of Scott's are of special value.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Alva Feltenberger.

Camp Custer, October 16, 1918.

"Dear Aunt and Uncle,—I will try and answer your welcome letter. It found me in good health only feeling rather tired, as I was on guard duty last night, after drilling all day yesterday.

"There has been a lot of sickness here lately; as high as 164 deaths in ten hours. We are still in quarantine, and cannot go down to Y.M.C.A. or to the Company's store. The Y. man brings the paper and stamps to the boys.

"Well I hope that this war will be over soon, and by the looks of the papers it probably will, but suppose it will be some time before Leonard gets home.

"This is all for this time. Write soon." Alva Feltenberger.

Camp Custer, October 24, 1918.

"Deer Aunt and Uncle,—Will drop you a few lines to let you know that I am well and getting fatter every day. Would have answered your letter sooner, but we are still in quarantine, and it is hard to get paper and stamps.

"It has rained here all day, and we did not do much but learn to roll a pack. I have been out on the rifle range for several days, and have been in the pit two days painting targets. When I was shooting I got several bullseyes.

"We received word here today that Germany had surrendered, but I guess it was a false report. We have to serve six months in the army even if peace is declared. I hope they move us to a warmer climate, as they say it gets awful cold here in the winter.

"Must close for this time." From your nephew, Alva Feltenberger, Co. L., 78th Inf., Camp Custer.

From Leonard Herrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Herrington.

October 11, 1018.

"Dear Ones All,—I will now take time to write and let you know that I am alive and fairly well. I am in the hospital slightly wounded, and exhausted from long and hard service and exposure to the weather, and the horrors of the battlefield, but hope to be on the job again soon.

"I am going to try and get into a different branch of the service, either in the artillery or some mechanical branch.

"I must eat dinner now, as I am to be moved to another hospital this afternoon, and do not want to miss my dinner. Will close with lots of love, and hoping to hear from you soon." Ever your loving son, Leonard O. Herrington, Co. B., 125th Inf., A.P.O. 734.

IT'S different from others because more care is taken in the making and the materials used are of higher grade.

Black Silk Stove Polish

Makes a brilliant, silky polish that does not rub off or dust off, and the shine lasts four times as long as ordinary stove polish. Used on sample stoves and sold by hardware and grocery dealers.

All we ask is a trial. Black on your cook stove, your parlor stove or your gas range. If you don't find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. Insist on Black Silk Stove Polish.

Made in liquid or paste—one quality.

Black Silk Stove Polish Works

Use Black Silk Air-Drying Iron Enamel on grates, registers, stove-pipes—Prevents rusting. Use Black Silk Metal Polish for silver, nickel or brass. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

"A Shine in Every Drop"

ANTRIM CITY

Mr. Montgomery spent Sunday at the Stoel home.

F. H. Brooks is doing some carpenter work for John Smith.

Mrs. Stott was on the sick list last week, but is some better now.

Mr. Muckle and Mr. O'Dell of Central Lake called on Mr. Brant Sundoy.

Beans, buckwheat, potatoes and radish seed have been hauled to Ellsworth and Central Lake from around here this past week.

H. Elzinga had the misfortune to lose a fresh cow Saturday night. The cow was seemingly well at night but in the morning it was dead.

Strange Bequest.

A strange bequest was made by a retired soap manufacturer recently. He left the sum of a little more than eleven hundred dollars, to found a home for "homeless cats and dogs," but stipulated that the money is not to be touched until the year 2163, by when the donor estimates it will have increased to two hundred million dollars.

Moved and supported that the bills as read be allowed and the Secretary be instructed to draw orders on the various funds for the amount of each respective bill. Motion Carried.

Moved and supported that the Treasurer be authorized to borrow $2,000 for 2½ months on the best terms obtainable. Motion Carried.

Moved and supported that the estimated cost for operating the County Normal for the ensuing year be fixed at $1,900 and the Secretary be instructed to report the same to the Supt. Public Instruction. Motion Carried.

The Superintendent presented the following letter in his report.

October 5th, 1918.

Mr. H. A. Craig, Supt.,
Charlevoix, Mich.,
My Dear Mr. Craig:

This year we have accepted for admission a single unit of German together with a single unit of another language in case the second unit of German could not be taken because it was withdrawn from the curriculum.

We have not announced that we shall do so for next week, but it is possible that we may make the same arrangement.

It is interesting to note that the War Department Committee on Education and Special Training in its orders to institutions for units of the S.A.T.C. has given French and German as the two foreign languages which may be elected by members of the S.A.T.C. I may also say that the Ann Arbor High School continus to teach German, although the classes are small.

All this in accordance with the utterances of President Wilson and other Administrators and Statesmen whose position on war questions is beyond criticism.

Very sincerely yours,
A. G. Hall, Registrar.

There being no further business the Board on motion adjourned.

E. J. Hiller, Secretary.

A Sane Outlook.

Exaggerated outpourings of our physical ills and troubles tend most certainly to their verification. Our minds respond to salacious scandal (if we allow it to be retailed to us) until we also are vitiated. Exaggerating the faults or the merits of children give them an unduly distorted idea of their importance. The reading of sensational fiction unfits us for a proper appreciation of standard literature; and exaggeration of architecture and house furnishings places us unmistakably in the ranks of the newly arrived.

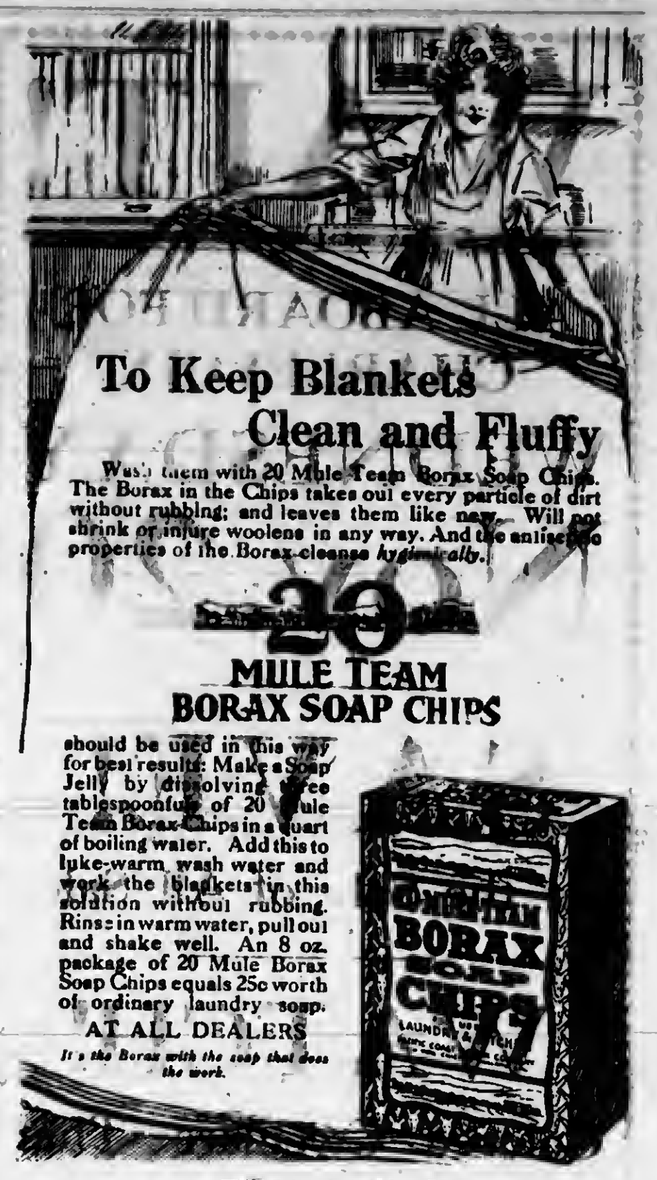
SALTS IF BACKACHY AND KIDNEYS HURT

Drink lots of water and stop eating meat for a while if your Bladder troubles you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and lazy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.



To Keep Blankets Clean and Fluffy

Wash them with 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips. The Borax in the Chips takes out every particle of dirt without rubbing; and leaves them like new. Will not shrink or injure woolens in any way. And the antiseptic properties of the Borax cleanse hygienically.

20 MULE TEAM BORAX SOAP CHIPS

should be used in this way for best results: Make a Soap Jelly by dissolving three tablespoonfuls of 20 Mule Team Borax Chips in a quart of boiling water. Add this to luke-warm wash water and work the blankets in this solution without rubbing. Rinse in warm water, pull out and shake well. An 8 oz. package of 20 Mule Borax Soap Chips equals 25c worth of ordinary laundry soap.

AT ALL DEALERS

It's the Borax with the soap that does the work.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

cotton, peanuts nnd tomatoes are also raised here.

"The woods nre very dense and are prectically impassable exxcept for little paths. Whlle most of the trees resemble our own, vines hang down and the high grass and undergrowth mnke a very thick moss. Add to these the cactus plants, which often grow fifteen feet high. Fig trees are small and have a cluster of long leaves which shoot out from the top of the stalk, about eight feet from the ground. Mango trees are very large. Cocoanut traes grow to a great height and have quite round, smooth trunks. The palms are very pretty and can be seen at a great distanca. Rings run horizontally around tha trunks at intervals of about two inches. Mahogany trees are plentiful, but mostly quite small.

"The other day I was riding in the country, a small native boy, Dandy, was with me. He explained a good desl of the country to me. One tree—a large variety with waxy leaves—be was unable to name, but attempted to describe to me. He said when one is sick (and he went through amusing gestures to show the kind of sickness) they burn the tree, which makes a very strong odor that seems to clear out the sick person's head and make him well. Dandy rolled his eyes about, assumed a horrifiied expression nnd begnn sniffing. He would mnke a good movie actor. Maybe he will be one some day, for he intends to live in the states when he gets big.

"I have yet to mention the products for export trade. These consist chiefly of coffee, honey, cotton, dye wood nnd mahogany. A good deal of sugar cane is raised hut seems to be consumed by the natives. The refincries do not turn out good whitn sugar, possibly becnuse the peoplé are too busy turning out rum. This product—which is more than a by-product—is 'dynamite,' but most of the natives are brave enough, not only to handle it, but to imbihe it as well.

"There is one fentura of the country—its history—that I cannot reinte. It is very difficult to learn of the pnst becnuse there arc no available histories here. Yet Ilaiti has seen a more romantic time when the French were its mesters, and some day I hope to learn of it all. The Haitians were able to drive out their intruders and establish their own Republic. In their complacency they came to feel far superlor to the white people and had difficulty in realizing their backwardness. It was not until Uncle Sam stepped in that the people realized their short-comings. Haiti is now moving forward and who knows but that some day it will rival its neighbor, Cuba?

"America is aiding a people which is very quick to grasp at its new opportunities and it has sent people to a very rich and prosperous country. Haiti is near the United States, geographically, and may some time be the object of American investment end davelopment. It is already near us politicelly for it is one of our allies against Germany, and is co-operating with the marines in attempting to meke a Haiti a safe place for Democracy.

"Since it is not my opportunity to be in France with the colors, I try to live contentedly bere and dremn of my return home and, farther in the future, of a possible return here in my old age, when Haiti shall have become a flourishing important little Republic, the goal toward which it is working." Your son, Psul.

Ptv. John P. Colden, U.S.M.C., 54th Co., 2nd reg., 1st Prov. Brig., Cape Haitien, Repub. of Haiti, c o Postmaster New York City.

From Walter Hull.

Two letters from Walter Hull to his mother, Mrs. Bud Hull, have been received recently. According to him, letters are received 'over there" occasionally, but not often enough to satisfy the boys' longing for home and loved ones.

Somewhere in France,
September 27, 1918.

"Dear Folks—Will drop a few lines tonight to let you know that all is well with me, and hope the same condition exists at home. What is the matter with the folks in Charlevoix? Have not henrd from anyone since I have been here. I have written about a dozen letters, but so far have received none. Heard from Will and Margaret, but no papers so far.

"This has been n nice day, although it rains every night. I wns on guard last night nnd it seemed as if daylight would never come. We are in n nice little town by the name of Guer. The people have market days and bring their pigs, sheep nnd cettle to eell on these days. It is comical to eee the women carrying the pigs in their erms. Others have ropes around their necks. The pigs are very long lagged and of slim build. We are staying in a stone house and slecp in the third etory. Members of the family occupy the belance of the house. Some of our company went on a hike today, but several of us did not go.

"The people here only drink cider and wine—never drink weter as it has to be boiled before they can uee it. Well, this is all I cnn think of tonight, so good bye for this time."

Wnlter.

Under date of October 14, Private Hull writes as follows: "I received your latter today, which was written the 26th of August.. This is the only one received so far. Hope you are all well, as everything is O. K. with me. This has been a very wet, rainy day—seems to fairly pour down. Suppose it is the same at homa, however. Did you get those handkerchiefs? They cost 88 cents apiece, as everything is very expeneive here. Will send more when I get paid again. So far have had only one pay day.

"Have written at least ten letters slncc I have been here and hope to get some enawers soon. We are going to move soon, but do not know where we will go. As there ie so little for me to write about, will close for this time. Love to all. Pvt. Walter Hull, Co. F., 310 Am. Trns., American E. F.

From Lee G. Newsom

The following letter from L. G. Newsom, a member of the crew of the U.S.S. Beale, received by his grandmother, Mrs. William Gregory, of Hayes township, has been given the Courier for publication. The letter follows:

On bonrd U.S.S. Beale,
October 7th, 1918.

"Dcar Grandmother and all—Have not written much since I have been over here, so will drop a line nnd let you know that I am all O. K. nnd having a fine time.

"Landed on this side June 11 and have been travelling the scas ever since. We are having some bad weather here now—rains nearly every day, but not a bit of snow so far.

"Don't know when I will bo back, but if I escape all the German subs and mines, I will probably ba back inside of a year, but cannot say for certain. Tell the rest of the folks that I do not get much time to write, and this letter will hava to do for a number of you. Do not worry about me, for I will be all right and am able to take care of myself.

"I had a six day furlough last month and visited several interesting places, and saw many well worth seeing. Will tell you more about them when I return home. Wish you would give my nddress to Mr. Loomis and other teachers that wish it, as I would like to hear from all the folks. And, say, if you can send me a Charlevoix Courier once in a while I will more than appreciate it. By reading it I will keep in touch with all the people in town and in the country. Will probably get a furlough if I come to the states and will be home on a visit at least. With love to all, I remain, L. G. Newsom, U. S. Naval Forces, Europe, Base 6.

TROOPS TO HAVE ELABORATE XMAS

WAR RELIEF AGENCIES TAKE YULETIDE INTO CAMPS IN FRANCE.

SANTA CLAUS TO BE THERE

Funds Raised By United War Work Campaign Will Aid In Cheering Soldiers.

Santa Claus is going to France, too. Tbie queer little figure so familiar tn America with "his little round belly that shekes when he laughs like a bowl full of jnlly," is going to pay his first visit tn France.

Tbe French children have never known an real or invable a character as Santa Claus. Their Christmes bas consisted of lenving their little sabots in the chimney corner while some kind spirit came in the night and left a gift there. But this Christmas will be visualized for them in a manner thay can never forget.

Inside tha funny red suit and wearing the snnwy beard and wig may be a Y. M. C. A. or Knights of Columbus Secratary, a Jewisb Welfare or Salvation Army men, for the service organizetions are going to take an American Christmes tn France, tha last one on the other sida of tha Atlantic. Oh, yea, it is too, the last war timn Christmes.

The organizations will be guided in their Christmns program by the ona nf last year, exoept that it will be more extensive and much more elehorate. Whan our boys were askad inet season what they wantad most for Christmas, thay repliad with one voice—"childran."

Who conid conceive of e real Christmas without children? Not any member of tha A. E. F. certainly.

"You might just as well include the children in whatavar you plan," the Canteen Girl warnad tha Christmns Committee when it met in Paris. "If you don't, tha boys will maka their own Christmns. They miss the little ones at home and will find snbstitntes in tha French bablae." And the Canteen Girl knaw becnuse she spent the previous Christmns in e heavy artillery camp "somewhere in Fraacn." So this yaar the Freach children are included in the festivities as a matter of course.

"The Flag."

Tha hut was as near a dream as one could be with a mud floor, an glass in the windows, very little heat, and many, many rats. Bnt hnily and mistletoe were used without stint. Bright banners and posters adorned tbe walls and the flag—"THE FLAG", the British say wn call it, "as if there were no other flag"—was suspended over thn canteen counter in e frame of ivy while rays from an electric lamp cast from a reflector fell on its glittering stars.

Army trucks arrived loaded with children gathnred np for miles nround The polius came from tha camp across the way, and all tha guests ware there The Chaplain mnde an address of welcome in his faltering, French, that suddenly two hundred childish voices pitched high in their excitement, sang all four verses of the Marseillnise. Instantly every cap was off, and three thousand artillerymen stood stiffly at attention. A hurst nf applause, followed by the singing of "Tha Star Spangled Banner!"

Then tha real fun began.

This little picture is painted from last year's celebration and is a sample of a hut Christmas.

Early in the morning of this great holiday, the generals, colonels and all the other officers will be awakened by Christmas carols sung by khaki clad choir boys. Then after they have all gathered in the huts, the religious services will be held. First a Mass will be said by a Catholic Priest than, perhaps a Rabbi will talk to his boys, nnd later the Protestant minister will hnld worship.

In all tha huts will be planty of Xmas cards snpplied by thn agencins for tha boys to send the folks at home. And for soldiers in ont of the way places, cards will be issued with thn compliments of the enrvice agencies, which will entitin them to a certain amount of smokns and eats at any hut centeen.

But thn real Christmas gift from the agnnoins will be a booklet containing somn of the wonders of America. Thnre will be a picture of the highest building in Naw York, beanty spots of Yellow Stone Park and important points in Amnrican history. The French believa everything the Americans tell thnm but the English are apt to be dnbious at times.

"Come now, said an English Tommin, "yon cawn't expect mn to belinve that stuff abont a fifty-one story building in New York, you know."

Aftnr they gat this book thn soldiers will be able to convince these "douhting Thomases" if they hava to maka 'em count the stories.

Maka yonr Christmas present to him through thn fifteen thousand men and women wearing the service uniform bv giving your share of the $60,000 000 they nend.

MASS MEETING AT LOEB FARM

FORMATION OF FARM BUREAU ITS OBJECT

Progressive Farmers and Business Men Urged to Attend—Work To Be Outlined

In this issue the proposed by-laws of the Charlevoix County Farm Bureau are being printed. It has been found as a result of the past six years' experience in county agent work in the northern and western states, that certain fundemeatal principles are usually associated with success. Of these principles, one of the most important and universally accepted is that the active co-operation, advice and assistance of the farmers themselves is necessary to the success of the agent and his work. The best means of securing this local support has proved to be the establishment of a county organization usually known as a Farm Bureau. Such an organization should be made up primarily of farmers and managed by them. The chief functions of the Farm Bureau are:

1. To coordinate the efforts of existing local agricultural forces, either organized or unorganized, and to organize new lines of effort. It does not supplant any existing organizations, or compete with them, but establishes a clearing house through which all may increase their efficiency without in any way surrendering their individuality.

2. To bring to the agent the counsel and co-operation of the best farmers in the county in planning and executing an agricultural improvement program.

3. To furnish the necessary local machinery for easily and quickly reaching every community in the county with information of value to that community or to the county as a whole.

4. To encourage self-help through developing and exercising leadership in the rural affairs of each community.

5. To reveal to all the people of the county the agricultoral possibilities of the county and how they may be realized.

During the past year the county agent in Charlevoix county has been working without the support of any active Farm Bureau and it has been deemed advisable to complete an organization just as rapidly as pussible for the planning and carrying out of the Farm Bureau Activities. For this reason a meeting is being called November 22 at the Loeb Farm.

The meeting is called for 10 o'clock a.m., and all of the progressive farmers and business men of this county are urged to attend. Several outside speakers will be present and it is hoped that the Hon. D. D. Aitken, president of the Holstein-Fresian Association of America will be present and give a talk on the future of the dairy industry.

All are invited to attend. A pot-luck dinner will be served at noon so please come prepared for same.

Following are the by-laws of the Farm Bureau as proposed for adoption:

ARTICLE 1.
Name

The name of this organization shall be Charlevoix County Farm Bureau.

ARTICLE II.
Object

The objects of this organization ahall be to promote the development of the most profitable and permanent system of agriculture; the most wholesome and satisfactory living conditions; the highest ideals in home and community life, and a genuine interest in the farm business and rural life on the part of the boys and girls and young people.

ARTICLE III.
Program of Work

The objecta of this organization shall be effected through the adoption and promotion of a definite program of work. This program shall be based on the resulta of a careful study of the problems of the county. It shall be formulated and carried out by the members of the organization with the assistance of their agents and such specialists as may be available from the State Agricultural College.

ARTICLE IV.
Membership

Section 1. Membership—Any person interested in the objects of this organization may become a member by peying a membership fee. At least 80 per cent of the membership shall consist of boas fide farm owners and rural residents.

Section 2. Fees and Dues—A minimum ennual fee of one dolisr shall be cherged for active membersbip in this organization, but there shall be no restrictions on the amount of such voluntary subscription as mey be suthorized by tbe organization for special purposes.

ARTICLE V.
Officers

Section 1. The officers of this organization shall consist of a President, e Vice-President, e Secretary, and s Treesurer, all of whom sheil be elected for a period uf one yeer by the members present at the annual mecting and shsil serve until their successora shall be elected and qualify. Thc officers shall be chosen because of special fitness to represent important projects or activities of the organizetion, ae well as because of their fitness to perform the regular duties of their respective offices.

ARTICLE VI.
Executive Committee

Section 1. The Executive Committee shall consist of the officers exofficio and not more than (eeven) other membera, each chosen because of epecial fitness to represent an important project or activity of the organization, who shall be elected for a period of one year by the members present at the annual meeting to serve until their successors shall be elected and qualify.

CROWDER THANKS DRAFT BOARDS

COMPLIMENTS THEM ON THEIR EFFORTS

Extends His Personal Coogratulations on the Great Achievements. Much Work Yet to be Done.

In a recent telegram to the various selective service boards of the nation giving instructions for the discentinuance of various parts of the work of the board, Provost Marshal General Crowder said some very complimentary things concerning the work of the boards. A part of his message follows:

"In entering pursuant to the foregoing instructions upon what seems, in view of the mighty events of tbe day, to be the final work of this character to be done by the selective service system, I extend to the membera of that system my personal congratulations upon their truly great achievements of the past year and a half, achievements that have taxed to the utmost the time, the ability, and the endurance of all those engaged in tbe work, and that have furnished the army to which in large measure must be given the credit for saving to the world both civilization and government by the people. To you, members of that system, must come a sense of duty well done which only a loyalty, patriotism and devotion such as yours can bring. The country and the world knows that it owes to you a debt of thanks and gratitude which cannot be measured by words but only by tbe affection, the respect, and the esteem, now yours, of those among whom you live and from whom you have taken that which was beyond price.

"In undertaking the completion of your wurk under the orders above given, bespeak of you the same interest and tireless energy which has characterized your work in the past.

HARVEY CAMPBELL BADLY INJURED

Caught in Elevator at Ottawa, Ohio, Sugar Factory.

Harvey Campbell, who is employed at the Beet Sugar Co., at Ottawa, Ohio, was seriously hurt last Thursday while attempteing to repair the machinery of the elevator, which was standing at the first floor.

A man on the third floor, not knowing Mr. Campbell was at work, started the elevator, catching him and tearing his right arm and shoulder almost out of its socket, and shoving his head to one side so that he was almost choked to desth.

The elevator was stopped as quickly as possible, but Mr. Campbell was unconscious when removed. Two doctors were immediately summoned and he was removed to his home where he is receiving the best of medical care.

FALL SHORT IN WAR FUND DRIVE

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY BEHIND IN HER QUOTA.

Little Accomplished in Eastern Part of Couoty on Account of Querantine.

At noon Wednesdey Charlevoix county lacked considerable in the reising of her allotment of $15,006 for tho United Wer Work campaign, wbich has been on since the first of last week. Officials of the Charlevoix County War Preparedness Board say that this county must go over, in this drive, hence the campaign has been continued three days, and even longer if further time is needed to send it over.

This is about the first time since America declared a state of war between this country and Germany, and then carried out the declaration by making Germany bow in defeat, that Cbarlevoix county has fallen below par in its campaign for war funds.

The campaign is for funds to be used by the most worthiest of world organizations, and the funds are needed more at this time than any heretofore. Seven organizations all engaged in war work will be benefited by this drive, and now that hostilities have ceased on the western front, the men havo more leisure moments in which more recreations must be planned by the war workers.

Practically every letter received from the men in service both in this country and abroad, tell of the great work done for the boys by the war workers. In many camps, where boya are training, funds have been subscribed by the men to aid these organizations. Those to receive a proportionate part of the total funds to be subscribed in the nation are: Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, Salvation Army and American Library association

In the eastern part of the county the drive has been greatly hindered by the quarantine against Spanish influenza, and official permission has been given to extend the time three days. In the City of Charlevoix the allotment is short about $300, and in the Charlevoix district about $700. The allotments as given out were as follows: Cherlevoix county, $15,006; Charlevoix district, $4,726; Charlevoix city, $3,960.

Every effort is being made to raise the allotment, and it will be a poor finish, officials of the war board say, if Charlevoix county greets her heroes when they return home, with the announcement that the county "fell under" in the wind-up drive for funds to help these boys.

WOMEN MAY VOTE AT SPRING ELECTION

All Sooo to Eojoy Full Benefit of Suffrege

Charlevoix women will be among the first in the state to enjoy full suffrage in a regular election. The equal suffrage amendment was adopted by a vote of the male electors of the state. Its majority is about 15,000. This is less than the suffrage leadera expected and hoped for, but it is enough and they are pleased with the results of the campaign.

According to an opinion given out by local attorneys, the amendment is immediately effective. Thus the women of Cbarlevoix who are qualified under the general election law—that is, those who meet the same requirements as are fixed for male electors—will have a right to vote in the spring election for mayor and city officials who are chosen.

EXAMINE NO MORE REGISTERED MEN

Local Board Receives Notice to Discontinue This Work

The Charlevoix county selective service board has received notice from headquarters to discontinue examination of class 1 men of the September 12th registration.

Men called for examination any day this week have been notified of this action of the war department. The work of classifying the 18-year old men of this registration will continue, however. All of the men 19 to 36 years of age have been classified.

8,504,000 DEAD IS WAR'S TOLL

NEARLY ENTIRE WORLD WAS FIGHTING

Fully 40,000,000 Men Uuder Arms io Verious Armies.—Battles In Three Cootioents.

From the assassination of the Archduke Ferdinand and the Duchess of Hohenverg at Ssrajevo, Bosine, by a Serbian studont on June 28, 1914, in all 1,508 days have passed up to and including the aigning of the armistice on November 11, 1918, say war historiana.

Thirty days after the assassination, Austria, on July 28, 1914, declared war on Serbia, rejecting Serbia's almost complete acceptance of Austria's demands.

Three days later Germany, by declaring war on Russia, entered on 'a conflict' which, after raging without interruption for 1,564 red days, ended with virtual surrender under the armietice of Thursday.

Before the war had spent itself the following nations had become associated as the Allied powera: Serbia, Russia, Belgium, France, Great Britain, Japan, China, Montenegro, Cuba, Portugal, Rumania, Greece, Italy, Liberia, Panama, San Marino, Siam, Brazil, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Hayti. Associated with these Allied powers as a belligerent was the United States of America, which declared war against Germany on April 6, 1917. From that date to the armistice totals 590 days.

Wer Spectators

Othor nations, who severed diplometic relations with Germany, but did not become combatants, included: Bolivia, Egypt, Gautemala, Honduras, Peru, Uruguay.

The conflagration spread to the major powers of Europe with the first week of August, although Italy did not join the Allies until May, 1915. Turkey, in February, 1915, and Bulgaria in the following October, joined the central powers.

The total cost of four yeara of war up to August 1, 1918, reached the stupendous total of $155,600,000,000 in direct expenses; an additional $38.000,000,000 is the estimated property loss, and $2,144,000,000 represented the shipping loss; a grand total cost of $195,744,000,000.

The cost to the United States had reached on November 1, $20,561,000,000, which represents a per capita cost of 28 centa a day for every man, woman and child in the country. The United States loaned to the Allies $7,017,000,000.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Tbe following Thanksgiving day proclamation waa issued Monday by Governor Sleeper:

"Now, therefore, our God, we thank Thee and praise Thy glorious name.

"We, the people of Michigan, have many reasons for thankfulness.

"We are thankful that our fertile fields have yielded abundantly of their fruits.

"We are thankful that a dread epidemic has been stayed through the prompt measures taken by the public health authorities throughout the state and the intelligent co-operation of the whole people.

"We are thankful that we are Americans and that no part of our land has been laid waste by the cruel ravages of war.

"We are thankful that our Michigan soldiers and sailors, by their deeds of valor, have written a glorious chapter in the annals uf the great war; and that the indomitable spirit of our people has manifested itself to the end.

"But most of all we are thankful that this terrible, devastating war, which for more than 19 months bas dominated our thought and dictated our action, is at last practically ended and soon we shall bo free to devote our energies and activities to the constructive arts of peace. The long night of darkness and sorrow and travail and tears and blood is over and the day of blessed peace has dawned upon the world—peace with victory.

"Therefore, I, Albert E. Sleeper, governor of the state of Michigan, do hereby join the President of the United States in proclaiming Thursday, the 28th day of November, as a dey of thanksgiving and prayer."

The cost of the war in humen life was as follows: Men killed in action, 8,504,000; wounded, including men wounded more than onee and wounded who returned to the army, 25,504,000; permsnentiy incapacitated by wounds, 6,119,000. The Germens, according to a statement msde in the reichstag almost a year ago, had then lost 6,000,000, of which total 1,500,000 were desd, 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 wounded (500,000 of them crippled for life), and 2,000,000 absolutely invalided.

40,000,000 Armed

It le probable thet more than 40,000,000 men bore arms as combetants in the war. The latest officiel estimetee, published a yeer ago, placed the total coneervatively et 38,000,000; 27,500,000 on the side of the Allies and 10,600,000 on the side of the central powers.

The war spread in a eeries of actual battlefolds covering three continenta, and was brought home in other active ways to America and Australia as well. Campaigns, outside the west and east fronts were conducted in the Balkans, Mecodonia, Northern Italy and Austrian Tyrol, Mesopotamia, Egypt, Arabia, Syria (including Palestine), in various parts of Africa, in China against the German islands of the Pacific which small German holdings there, in the were seized by Australian and New Zealand troops; and, more recently, in parts of sprawling Russia, European and Aeiatic.

421 BILLION IS GREAT WAR BILL

ACTUAL CASH EXPENDED BY ALL NATIONS

Io Struggle for World is One Hundred Six Billion—275 Billioo Wreckage

In dollars actually spent the cost of making tho world safe for democracy is $146,100,000,000.

The expenditure is thus divided:

Germany	$32,400,000,000
Great Britain	31,500,000,000
Russia	23,400,000,000
France	20,000,000,000
United States	20,000,000,000
Austria	12,500,000,000
Italy	6,200,000,000
Turkey	100,000,000

The last named power consumed much more than the amount stated opposite ber name, but the unnamed sum was advanced by Germany and Austria—which is included in the figures of these two countries.

In the costs allotted to Great Britain, France and the United States there must be deducted the loans made by these nations to Belgium, to the Balkan states, to Portugal, to Brazil and to the minor or quiescent belligerents generally. For instance, the United States lent to her allies $7,000,000,000, so that the net expense of the war to this country to date is $13,000,000,000.

Totel Debts 170 Billion

Before the war the debts of the major participating powers stood as follows:

France	$6,500,000,000
Great Britain	3,500,000,000
Russia	4,600,000,000
Austria-Hungary	3,995,000,000
Italy	2,800,000,000
United States	1,000,000,000
Germany	1,165,000,000

or a total of $23,560,000,000, making the total indehtedness to date:

Germany	$33,505,000,000
Great Britain	35,000,000,000
Russia	28,000,000,000
France	26,500,000,000
United States	21,000,000,000
Austria	16,495,000,000
Italy	9,000,000,000

or a grand total of $169,500,000,000.

In estimating the money penalty of the struggle to the day Germany signed the armistiee at $146,000,000,000 the computation excludes the destruction of property on land and at sea.

The former is reckoned at $250,000,000,000, the latter at $25,000,000,000; so that the material cost of the war all in all, rises to the appalling sum of $421,000,000,000.

NORMAL NOTES.

Several of the Normal class contributed voluntarily to the war fund.

The County Normal girls and Miss Bates visited the board of supervisors at the court house, Friday forenoon.

Most of the class attended the Opie Read lecture.

AMERICA FOR AMERICANS ONLY

IS NOT A HIDING PLACE FOR RENEGADES

Not Entitled to Adventeges Uoless They Become Full-fledged Citizens.

The Courier has received the article printed below from Geo. H. VanPelt. Van is all "good roads," but he has hit the nail on the heed in this new line of work.

The war haa opened the eyes of the people to many things, and one of them is thie question of aliens in our midst. No man, no matter where he was born, is entitled to the advantages of America unless he iatenda to become a full-fledged American. We want no more alien landholders or business grabbers of any sort. It is America first henceforth. The letter follows:

American for Americans.

"We want the peoploa of Europo to know that our doors are open to them and 'Welcome' is on the mat.

"But we want them to understand that if they come to live in our house they must become members of our family.

"We are not keeping a hiding place for renegades nor a place of refuge for reprobates.

"When a man comes over here to settle down and make a living, he should come all the way.

"He should not come here and set about to get rich, and then when we ask something in return, squeal that he is not a citizen, but owes allegiance to some other power.

"We are willing to treat all our people alike, but we want them to bear tho burdens of citizenship if they ask the benefits of our institutions.

"No man ehould be allowed to take from us and give nothing in return.

"If ha is unwilling to becomo a member of our family, he ahould go back where he came from.

"No man who is not a citizen, or at least a declaraat, should he licensed for any business in this country.

"No man who is not a citizen or at least a declarant, should be allowed to own any real estate here.

"If ho is honest in his intentions he will be willing to become a citizen; if he isn't, we don't want him.

"Get me?

"I am one of the committee formed for the purpose of making new immigration laws. I wish to present good, strong arguments in addition to what I myself now think, or I may change my mind entirely when I get all the facts. Will the readers of this item please write me regarding their thoughts on immigration, and they might also tell what they think of my proposition of concrete roads built by federal aid."

Yours for Unadulterated Americanism, VanPePlt.

Miss May L. Stewert called on the school Friday.

Mrs. Will Sanderson spent Monday in Ironton.

Rev. Taggart and wife took Sunday dinner at the Tumath home.

Mrs. Robert Saunders is spending a week visiting friends in Ironton.

A number of Ironton folke went to Cherlevoix Monday night to help bury the kaiser.

Mr. and Mrs. Greenman of Central Lake are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Lewis Brown.

Mrs. George Metz went to Detroit Wednesday. Mr. Metz has work there for the winter.

Mrs. Ogden entertained her lady friends Monday afternoon. Lunch was served to twelve.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freer and Mrs. Ostan of Wolverine spent Sunday at the Webb home.

The Red Cross met at the hall Thursday. They will meet with Mrs. Berry Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Kimball and son, Gordon, and wife left for Chicago Wednesday to spend the winter.

School commenced last Monday after three weeks of flu scare. Miss Howard of East Jordan has charge of the grammer grades.

Mrs. Arthur Ogden and children of Holland and Mrs. C. W. Reber and Mrs. Ed Ream of Wildwood, are spending a few days with Mrs. Ogden.

Save money and your wife's back by getting Cole's High Oven Range. It makes work easy and coal bills light.

MARION

F. W. Smith left Friday morning for Durand, Michigan.

Mrs. Sarah Oar was the guest of Mrs. Matthew Saunders Saturday.

The Red Cross society met last Thursday with Mrs. George Meggison.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gregory spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Harrington.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ingalls and Mrs. C. Pierce were callers of Mrs. J. H. Adams Sunday.

Mr. and Miss Pervis of East Jordan were Sundey guests of Joseph Guild and family.

The Misses Marybelle Hair and Peerle Gregory spent Saturday and Sundey with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gregory.

Marion Centre Grange had a meeting last Friday evening, the first for some time past, on account of sickness.

Edward Cunningham received from Ernest Mitchell at Washington, D.C., a box of nuts and large apples, one of the apples weighing exactly one pound.

EVELINE

Dell Park and family spent Sunday in Rapid City.

Mrs. Chris Knudsen has spent the week visiting her mother near Traverse City.

Wallace Kemp expected to leave Friday for camp, but was disappointed in receiving notice that his services will not be needed.

We hear that Joe Courier and family will remove to East Jordan in the near future. Wilber Spide and family also talk of leaving the farm for the winter.

Eveline Farmers' Club met on Friday night last and a good crowd was present. Rev. Hoyt and Rev. Sidebothen were present and addressed the club. Miss May Stewart was also present and gave us a good talk. It was voted to have a pie social on November 29. Most of us have not seen a pie in so long that a pie social should be quite popular. On that night will occur the semi-annual election of officers. Come prepared to vote for the one you want to see elected. Let's get organized for a good run of winter meetings. It is to be regretted that some of our school boys make a practice of tampering with visitor's cars. Miss Stewart's car was tampered with and this is not the first complaint.

BARNARD

We are glad to note that the Liberty bond purchased by the Barnard school is now all paid for.

Our warm weather still continues, but we will not be surprised to see some of the beautiful snow some time soon.

The Ladies Aid society met with Mrs. William Shapton last Wednesday. A good time, nice crowd and a profitable meeting is reported. Two comforts were tied.

The Sunday School board meets this week Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burns. Election of officers and other important business will be transacted.

A hay baling outfit belonging near Harbor Springs was in the neighborhood last week Thursday baling hay and struw for Clyde Smith and Charles Graham.

On Thanksgiving Day there will be a pot luck dinner at the church. The school will furnish a progrem in the afternoon, also our pastor will speak to us and a free will offering will be taken.

Mr. Arthur Gaunt and family were Charlevoix visitors on Sunday.

Erving Newville moved his furniture up to Boyne City last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thomas visited at the Beare's home Sunday.

Catharine LaLoude spent the week end visiting her sister, Mrs. Withers, of Charlevoix.

The pupils are taking lessons from the bulletin, "Helping Uncle Sam," and are enjoying the work very much.

A slight mistake was made by the corrcepondent last week. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Hosegood were the callers at the Henry home.

The school children enjoyed attending a funeral last Tuesday. Although it seems impossible to have an enjoyable time at such a place, but thie being Kaiser Bill's funeral, it was enjoyed by all. Amid ringing of cow bells, yelling and tooting of horns the pupils spent their noon hour riding about on a flag decked hayrack. After spending some time celebrating in such a manner, all returned to school, more ready for work than ever. Later the Kaiser was burned in effigy after dragging him through the mud behind the rack.

HAYES

Thomes Stroud is still in the Petoskey hospital.

Mrs. Erma Gaunder of Grand Rapids and Miss Mildred Kane of Washington errived Monday evening for a few weeks' visit with relatives.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER'S NOTES

Neerly all our schools again in session. Everything going well and splendid attendance reported.

This is the patriotic instruction period. Every school should now be receiving daily lessons on war work. There should be no relaxation because of victory. Our work is far from finished.

Because of the long closing period, many teachers did not receive their material until the very day of the drive but it is expected that although all have not yet reported in the affirmative, we still have a 100 per cent corps of teachers in patriotic instruction work.

The teecher in primary room in McKinley school, St. James, holds the record for being the best lady carpenter among our teechers. She tore down part of the fence because it was annoying to her, took her old platform, turned it upside down, put stout maple legs on it for support end behold it was a sand table of unusual merit. A painter working on the school building touched it up a little for her, and it is as nice a piece of furniture as you need in any school room.

The Ranney school has a new table ready for the hot noon lunch. Let the cold season arrive now. They are ready.

Best W. S. S. report this week came from the Phelps school, C. H. Dewey, teacher.

Attila's Hoard Never Found.

Alaric the Goth plundered Rome and got together a vast amount of treasnre. When he died, the legends relate, this loot was buried with him at the bottom of the Susento river, and all the captive slaves who were forced to build his tomb were slain, so that the Romans might never find his resting place. The rich spoils of Attila, the story runs, were buried in a cave. Neither hoard has ever been discovered.

THEATRICAL

"America's Answer"

The system of convoying troops across the ocean devised by the United States navy when the transports with American boys began to crowd the high seas has been the wonder of the military and naval world. Despite the fact that the German U-boats had distinct orders to land the transports bearing the American soldiers to the battlefields of Europe, they failed in this dastardly work most signally.

The failure was due almost entirely to the magnificent protection afforded the transports by our navy, and this systematic mothering of the brood by the naval vessels, both large and small, is clearly shown in "America's Answer," the second big United States official war film which will be shown at the Majestic theatre on December 14 and 15.

For the first time, in this film the government lets go the secret of the successful convoying. It appears just as it was wont to start from the docks at Hoboken and continued clear to the other side of the ocean. Those who have had letters from boys "over there," giving some description of the convoy game, can understand it better by seeing "America's Answer," and those who have wondered why the U-boat warfare against the United States transports failed so miserably, will see the answer in "America's Answer."

As was the case with the other war films "America's Answer," is being shown in Michigan under the auspicee of the committee on Public Information and the Michigan War Preparedness board. Government profiits on the picture go to the American Red Cross, while those of the state go to the war board's dependent fund for Michigan soldiers' and sailors relatives at home.

Burn Cheap Fuel--Then Save One-Third Your Coal

Not only buy soft coal, but order just two-thirds of what the ordinary exclusive soft coal heating stove would consume in a season. You can do this every winter, provided your heating stove is a Round Oak Double Burner. In the face of fuel shortage this heater will burn any kind of combustible material, including hard coal, soft coal, coke, wood, or slack, and it lasts a generation.

Your most careful investigation is invited.

ARTICLE VII.
Community Committees

Section 1. The President of the organization, in consultation with recognized local community leaders or on recommendation of the members in each community, and with the approval of the Executive Committee, shall appoint a chairman in each community in the county as determined by the Executive Committee. This chairman shall be appointed because of special ability to assume direction of all matters pertaining to the Farm Bureau organization and to the relationship of the Farm Bureau to other rural organizations. Other community committeemen in each community shall be agreed upon jointly by the chairman and the Executive Committee and later appointed in writing by the President. Each member shall be appointed because of special fitness to represent an important project or activity of the organization in the community. The number of committeemen in each community shall depend on the number of projects or activities undertaken in the community. At the first meeting of the committee a secretary muy be elected.

ARTICLE VIII.
County Project Committees.

Section 1. The formation of county project committees are automatically authorized through the adoption by the Executive Committee of definite projects or activities. Each project or important activity will be represented by a county committee consisting of the project representative on the Executive Committee as chairman and the project representative on each community committee which has formally adopted the project and when such representative has been officially appointed by the President of the organization.

STIFLED VOICES

The Republican publicity association, through its president, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., today gave out the following statement from its Washington headquarters.

"No other business has been hit harder by the war than the newspaper business, particularly in the smaller cities and country towns. The large metropolitan papers have probably suffered least. During 1917, more than 1,200 publications went out of business. After making allowance for new papers started, it appears that there was a net loss of 62 dailies and 569 weeklies.

"The mortality statistics for 1918 will probably show as great a loss for the shortage of paper, the increasing cost of all kinds of supplies, and the higher wages, together with the heavy call upon newspaper men for military service, have been more severe this year than last.

"And one of the serious features of the situation is that the people of the country probably do not realize that the most valuable portion of the press has sustained the greatest loss. Under popular government the country press, including not only country weeklies, but the smaller dailies, is the real voice of the people. Editors of large metropolitan papers do not have and cannot have the close touch with the people that is a necessary incident of the life of the country editor. Just as Washington, D.C., is the poorest place in the country to get a line on the political thought of the nation, so the big city newspaper office is the poorest place to get a correct picture of national thought, either political or otherwise. The people of the United States should realize this, and should see to it that whatever else happens the country press shall be maintained.

"Freedom of speech and of the press is the first essential of a Republican form of government, for the representatives of the people cannot know the thoughts and aspirations and desires of their constituents unless voiced through the mediumship of the local press to which they have access either directly, through the publication of communications, or indirectly through the editor's interpretation of the views of his community.

"The country press, including the smaller dailies, represents the producing element of our national life. The large metropolitan press represents the commercial factors. Just as production is the first essential of a permanent prosperity, so the maintenance of that portion of the press that speaks for the producers is most important.

"The metropolitan press has its place in our national life and nobody wishes it ill. The fact remains, however, that the vital interests of the nation are most promptly and most clearly represented and the thought of the people most freely and most courageously voiced by the country press. The people of the country may not see it now, but they will some day realize that the large preponderance of suspensions among the weekly publications is a menace to national welfare."

WHY WORRY?

Don't let the "readjustment" bugaboo frighten you into becoming a watchful waiter. As Samantha Allen used to say, "Be calm!" Great periods of industrial depression have always been caused by over-production, but no such situation meets us today—in fact, along some lines, our shelves are as bare as the cupboard of old Mother Hubbard. Production and consumption will quickly level up and proceed along normal lines. Wages will go back somewhat gradually to normal—a Republican normal, not the Democratic bread-line normal of 1914. Republicans will be in control of both branches of Congress when the reconstruction measures are brought up, so we may feel assured of sane, non-sectional legislation needing but the presidential signature to make it function for the nation's welfare. So why worry?

EASTLAND ECHO

Three years ago the steamer Eastland sunk at her dock in Chicago carrying 812 persons to their deaths. Investigation proved that the accident was due to the gross incapacity of federal steamboat inspectors. It is an established principle that the government is not responsible for the acts of its agents, hence the only recourse of the relatives of the unfortunate victims of the disaster was to sue the owners of the boat. The claims have been carried to the Supreme Court and a decision has been handed down under which all the claimants lose their fight for damages. Doubtless the matter has been settled strictly in accordance with the law, but if the accident had occurred on a railroad, owing to the faulty inspection of rolling stock, millions of dollars in damages would have been demanded and paid. If more responsibility attached to the government on account of its officers charged with the security of life and limb there would be more hesitation in appointing to such places political henchmen entirely lacking in qualifications.

JUNKER JO RUNS AMUCK

"The war thus comes to an end," says President Wilson, "for, having accepted these terms of armistice, it will be impossible for the German command to renew it."

The next day Secretary Daniels assures us that the naval construction program is to be continued, the only change being that the building of battleships will now be given preference over work on destroyers. Furthermore, the contract given to Henry Ford for building 100 eagles is to go on, although but two of the boats have been launched thus far.

LOST ALL PERSONAL BELONGINGS

Mortimer Orvis Thankful to Escape With Whole Skin

Mortimer Orvis of Evelone township, now with the American E. F. in France, wrote the letter published below to his brother, who has given it to the Courier for publication. Mort was slightly wounded, but is again on the fighting line. The letter follows:

France, Sept. 15.

Dear Brother Everett—"Just received your long looked for letter which I did enjoy very much.

"Lost all my personal belongings while at the front, but was glad to get away with my skin. They got me alright, but not bad, so am back with my company, and everything is O.K.

"We have given the Boche hell since we got started, and I guess they realize it now. They see that the devil himself cannot stop the Americans. The way the Americans go at it would make your hair stand on end. Those dammed Americans (as the Germans call us) are better than the Kaiser thought they were.

"Well, this life sure is great, only when you have to face the machine gun bullets, and those high explosive shells. You sure will hit the ground and hit it hard when you hear one of those things coming. I only hope my luck stays with me to the last, and that they stay out of my path.

"Well, I will close for now. Good luck and love to you. Your brother Mort. Pvt. M. F. Orvis, Hq. Co. 125 Inf. A.E.F., A.P.O. 734.

STORAGE AND REPAIRING

It's time to engage a place to store that car during the winter months. You can't drive it much longer this season. We make a specialty of storing cars. Our garage is modern in every respect, as fire-proof as any in northern Michigan, and we can assure you that proper care and attention will be given your car if left with us.

REPAIR WORK

After the season's use your car needs a thorough overhauling and cleaning; worn or broken parts replaced, new adjustments, carbon removed from cylinders, and the many little things that put the car into perfect running condition so that when you "step on her" every part will be in perfect working order. That's our business during the winter months. Then we have the time and are not compelled to rush the work out as sometimes we have to during the late spring and summer months. Store your car with us, then give us an order to have it overhauled and repaired if needed. We guarantee satisfactory work and courteous treatment.

HANGING PICTURES.

Why Some Pictures Belong Only to Certain Rooms.

The personality of the owner should be expressed in the pictures in the home, according to Miss Araminta Holmes, instructor in domestic art in the Kansas State Agricultural college. "A picture may be suitable for one room, but quite out of place in another," says Miss Holmes. "The living or reception room should pay homage to the good taste of the guests. The family bedroom may be filled with many heirloom portraits, but in any room family portraits are best in the closet or drawer unless the originals stood for some trait of character worthy of emulation or unless their portraits were painted by masters.

"Any one can purchase photographs of the best. A poor original is worthless, while a good reproduction of a masterpiece may be priceless in the formation of one's own taste and character.

"Do away with the inevitable mountings of fish and game in the dining room. A dead rabbit or a stale, dusty fish is out of harmony with the table service and is not conducive to an enjoyable meal. For a delft blue dining room Dutch pictures repeating the color scheme of the room are good. Otherwise the same kind of pictures may be used in the dining room that are used in the living room."

How to Make Your Child Grow Up to Be Beautiful.

Every mother desires that her child shall be beautiful, but beauty on the outside is born of health on the inside. The same is true of beauty of disposition or of what we are wont to term "goodness" in the child. It is exceedingly difficult for people of mature years, possessed of some degree of self control, to be bright, cheerful and amiable with a body suffering with ill health. How much more so for the child!

Every child may not be endowed with perfect symmetry of face and figure, but the sunny disposition, the clear complexion, the rosy cheeks, the gleaming eye, the ruby lips, the pearly teeth, the plump form, together with perfect poise of body, which all may cultivate, will lend even a greater charm.

Early beginnings count for much in matters pertaining to health, as with all other things connected with child culture. Upon the right treatment of the little babe during the first year depends much of its subsequent well being.

ELLSWORTH LOCALS

Vera Davis of Phelps is attending school here this winter.

Hugh Kinner has gone to Detroit, where he expects to work this winter.

Mrs. C. Bushay and Miss Mae Skow spent last week at their home here.

The marketing association has been taking in quite a lot of beans lately.

Hugh Nelson is spending a few days visiting his sister at Mecosta, Michigan.

Mrs. Taisey and Miss Lowe visited friends at Manceiona last Saturday and Sunday.

Ray Nelson left last week for Spooner, Wisconsin, to continue his work on the railroad.

Mrs. Henry Yettau returned last week from the Petoskey hospital much improved in health.

James Ruis has the only case of influenza in Ellsworth at present and he is getting along nicely.

Billie Moon entertained several of his little friends last Tuesday afternoon in honor of his sixth birthday.

Allan Ardema is spending a few days at his home here. He is on furlough from the Great Lakes training station.

Lloyd Yettau left for Grand Rapids and Detroit on Monday of this week. He expects to work in Detroit until next spring.

Mrs. Roger Speyer and baby left last week for Grand Haven to visit her parents. She expects to be away about two weeks.

The call for the seventeen Antrim county men scheduled to go to Camp Wadsworth, S.C., November 15, was cancelled last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Ardema and children of East Jordan spent a part of last week visiting relatives and friends in and around Ellsworth.

Carpenters have finished work on the W. A. Boss residence and are now working at the home of John Hennip, where they are building an addition.

George Hunter expects to leave some time this week for Detroit, where he will visit his parents a few days. He has not yet fully decided where he will work this winter.

Beginning Monday of this week school will run on fast time, thirty minutes ahead of standard time. This will give the children living out in the country ample time to get home before dark.

Dell Bowman returned last week from Canada, where he had been on a hunting trip. He was lucky enough to secure a moose and a large deer. The moose horns measured forty-six inches from tip to tip and was quite a curiosity to many people here.

W. K. Klute of Grand Rapids, addressed a fair sized crowd at the Blue Hall on Friday evening of last week on the United War Works campaign. The Banks township quota for this work has been raised by assessment this time, thus saving a lot of time and trouble.

Eugene Best received a telegram from Pontiac, on Friday of last week, telling of the death there of his oldest brother. The death was caused by influenza. Mr. Best was at Pontiac visiting the family less than a year ago and until the message came telling of the death had supposed the brother to be in excellent health.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Chelles received word last week of the death in France of Nile Paige, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Chelles. Mr. Paige, whose home was at Shelby, was well known here, having spent a good share of his time here for the two years prior to his entrance into the army. His death was caused by wounds received in action.

PLEASANT HILL

Little May Friend is visiting at the Powell home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Powell visited at the Cady home Sunday.

Miss Martha Dekkenga visited at the Fielstra home last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Powell were at the Fielstra home Sunday evening.

John Powell has bought a new horse of Mrs. William Hofman near Atwood.

John Fielstra bought a horse of George Perry of Norwood one day last week.

While Mr. and Mrs. Fielstra and son, John, were coming home from church Sunday morning they had a narrow escape from possible serious injury. The steering wheel went out of order and their car went down the bank. No one was hurt and nothing was damaged on the car except the wind shield.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

WORDS FROM HOME

Statements That May be Investigated Testimony of Charlevoix Citizens

When a Charlevoix citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Charlevoix resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

H. R. Fox, carpenter, 205 Park Avenue, says: "Sometimes when I catch cold or do too much stooping my kidneys get out of order and my back becomes lame. Whenever I get these attacks, I feel all tired out. All I have to do when I get an attack like this is to take Doan's Kidney Pills and they straighten me up in A No. 1 shape. All kidney sufferers should use Doan's."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Fox had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

GIVES GARAGE TO WAR RELIEF

American General Turns Over Commodious Barn to Salvation Army.

New York, Nov. 8.—How an American General gave up his garage so that it might be converted into a Salvation Army hut somewhere in the Toul sector, is told in an interesting letter received at the headquarters of the United War Work Campaign, No. 60 Vanderbilt Avenue, New York City, from a Salvationist in France.

When Staff Captain Coe and Adjutant Case reached A——— in the Toul sector, some five hundred French soldiers, who had been gassed a short while before, were being removed from the dismantled wn. The appearance of the Salvationists was greeted with cheers by the troops, and they were offered chow and quarters without delay. This only place available to them for use as a Salvation Army hut was a commodious barn, which was used by the commanding general and his staff as a garage.

The Salvationists sought the general's headquarters, determined to obtain possession of the barn at any cost.

"What can I do for you?" asked the general smilingly.

"We need your garage," responded Captain Coe.

"The barn is yours," answered the general.

VICTORY GIRLS RALLY TO SUPPORT OF U. W. W. C. DRIVE

"Every Girl Pulling For Victory" Is Slogan Of Young Women Who Are Doing Their "Bit" At Home.

New York, Nov. 4.—"Every girl pulling for Victory". This is the slogan of the Victory girls.

"Everybody is doing something to win the war but me", a fourteen year old girl said. "I'm left out. I can't buy Liberty bonds or go to France as nurse".

It is for the "left out" girl who wants to make a real sacrifice for the men at the front, that Victory Girls "Earn and Give" division of the United War Work Campaign has been established.

Victory Girls is as much an army at home as the men in the service are an army wherever they are called. Like Victory Boys they are an "Earn and Give" division of the United War Work Campaign. When a girl enrolls she pledges herself to earn a stated sum for war work. This means that an girl, or boy either, can give any money that she or he has not earned.

Africa's Big Population.

Nearly one-fourth of the earth's land surface is comprised within the continent of Africa, and it is as far around the coast of Africa as it is around the world. Every eighth person of the world's population lives in the Dark Continent. The blacks double their number every 40 years and the whites every 80 years. There are 843 languages and dialects spoken among the blacks of Africa, but only a few of them written. One area in Africa unoccupied by missionaries is three times the size of Ohio. Throughout Africa there is one missionary for every 133,000 souls.

No Romance.

After Cinderella left, the court chamberlain reported the finding of a slipper.

The prince yawned.

"'Tis a marvelously small one."

"Yes, they buy 'em too small and then they have to slip 'em off to rest their feet."

And that's all there was to the episode.

Obituary

Mable Luella Madill was born in Ellsworth August 28, 1890, and passed away at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Kiddey, at Bicknell, Indiana, November 13, 1918, leaving her father, mother, two sisters, two brothers and other relatives to regret their loss.

Her sweet, sunny smile will be missed by her many friends, friends that were limited in number, only by her acquaintanees.

She was a good daughter, a good sister, a good woman—what higher tribute can we give.

Funeral services held from the home of her parents in Ellsworth Saturday, November 16, 1918, by Rev. Albert Kridler. Interment in the Boss cemetery.

The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

The following people from out of town attended the funeral:

Miss Jessie Lensen, Petoskey; Mrs. Lydia Frink, Mt. Clemens; Mrs. Miria Barnes, Elk Rapids; Mrs. William Gee, Elk Lake; John Hoekin and Lottie Hoekin and Mr. and Mrs. Will Hubbel, Kewadin; Mr. and Mrs. George Frink and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Routely, Belmira; H. H. Kiddey and wife, Bicknell, Indiana; Bess Madill, Indianapolis; Herbert Madill, Wahjamega; Lowell Frink, South Milton.

FAIRVIEW BANKS

Charles Kass is on the sick list.

Gerrit Postmus is working in the creamery at Ellsworth.

H. J. Timmer visited at the Mitchell school Monday afternoon.

Miss Bertha Scholten is working for Mrs. W. Weiss of Ellsworth.

S. Waldyk of Grand Rapids, is visiting relatives in this neighborhood.

The Christian Reformed church has extended its call to S. Bousma of Sullivan, Michigan.

Oscar DeGroot and Frank Boss of Wright District, helped Harry DeGroot butcher a couple of hogs Monday.

ROCK ELM

Jesse Lawton was in East Jordan Monday filling out his questionaire.

Ben Smats has wired his new house for electric lights and is hoping to have it completed so as to move in before cold weather.

Mr. Tate, who recently purchased the William Jennings place, left home on Thursday looking somewhat lonely, but returned on Friday smiling and happy with a bride who will share his future joys and sorrows. Congratulations.

Needs Less Food.

A few minutes a day in an electric cafe giving frequency waves enables a man to get along with less food, according to a Paris scientist.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She mixed Sulphur with it to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our heartfelt gratitude to the many friends who helped us at the death of our loved one, also for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Madill and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kiddy.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

To-morrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

There being no further business the Council adjourned. Charles H. Emery, City Clerk.

Beware of Gathering Rust.

Any machine, neglected and left standing idle, soon gathers rust. As the rust accumulates it exercises a corrosive action. It eats into part after part of the machine, which presently is good for nothing. Had it been regularly used that piece of machinery would have lasted much longer. Idleness has been its destruction. So is it with the human machine.—Exchange.

Snowy White Clothes Without Scrubbing

No matter how big the wash or how soiled the linen, 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips will put your clothes on the line snowy white—with all the hard work of wash day left out. It's the Borax in that does it! It softens the water and loosens the dirt so that the pure soap can dissolve it away. Next wash-day use 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips this way: Make a Soap Jelly by adding three tablespoonfuls of Chips to a quart of boiling water. Put enough of this solution into the wash-water to make a good suds and soak or boil clothes as usual. Will not shrink woolens or injure fine fabrics. An 8 oz. package of 20 Mule Borax Soap Chips equals 25c worth of ordinary laundry soap.

It's the Borax with the soap that does the work.

WARM DWELLINGS FOR WORKERS ON DAMS AT DAYTON

Men Laboring to Protect War Industries Will Be Made Comfortable.

Snug and cozy winter quarters for the 1,200 men now employed on the Miami Conservancy flood protection works near Dayton, Ohio, and for the 1,200 more who will soon be needed are being prepared with redoubled energy since the decision late in September that this project is a necessary war industry and that men essential to its progress may have deferred classification in the draft.

Warm Dwellings.

The bunkhouses or dormitories at the five construction camps are being made tight and warm for the winter. Fitted with shower baths with hot and cold water, modern inside toilets, electric lights and warm lounging rooms in addition to the private bedrooms, they furnish unusually comfortable quarters for the winter months. The Miami Valley, in a line with northern Virginia, usually has very mild winters as compared with the northern states, and flowers are in bloom out of doors until the middle of November or later. Last winter was the coldest for 40 years, but usually snow stays on the ground for only a week or two, and outside work continues all winter.

Southern Ohio District Exemption Board No. 3 decided September 26 that the flood prevention work in the Miami Valley is a necessary war industry. It is not considered safe to leave the valley's many munition factories unprotected from possible flood a moment longer than necessary. Since the going of engineers and other workers to war would slow up production the work will be in deferred classification and there will be hundreds of skilled and unskilled workmen to be kept comfortable during the winter months.

Keep Up Fires.

Both skilled and unskilled laborers on the conservancy work may rent the comfortable houses with three, four or five rooms, which have lately been built at the camps, and bring their families there to live. The winter supply of coal for all the camps was bought months ago and every cottage and bunkhouse will have its coal shed.

"There will probably be some one at each camp to look after the stoves in all bunkhouses and keep up the fires," said Alex McKinnon, overseer at the Germantown camp the other day. From eight to 72 men sleep in each bunkhouse. All through the pleasant fall weather they have been lounging outdoors in the sunshine after their meals, but as winter comes on they will want warm places to sit.

One of the new buildings at the Germantown camp will probably be furnished as a club house for winter use.

To Build Conduits.

The "dam-with-a-hole-in-it" idea, which is the basis of the flood protection works near Dayton, is a new one to many people. The dams are to be big earthen ones, extending across an entire creek or river valley. A concrete lined "hole" or conduit resting on solid rock in the hillside will extend clear through each dam, letting the water go through at its usual level. The conduits are only large enough to let a safe amount of water go through, so in flood times, some of the surplus will back up behind the dams to run off gradually as the flood subsides.

Flood water on the Loire river in France is kept back in two places by retarding dams of this kind.

Some of the concrete work on these conduits can be so protected through the cold weather that it may go on as usual, without danger from freezing, it is thought. There will be work enough to ensure jobs to the entire force, as certain pieces of work which can be well done in winter have been put off until then.

Families at Camp.

There is a good general store at each camp, water and sewer connection in every house. Each camp has a good school, too; and children in the conservancy camps have been hard at work in the schoolhouses since early in September.

One advantage of providing dwellings for the workmen where they can have their families is that the wives can help out in unexpected emergencies. In this way the women may have a chance to earn money for themselves.

The cook at the Germantown dam took "French leave" all of a sudden one day not long ago. Some of his helpers went with him. However, even better meals than usual were served to the laborers, foremen and office men. Wives of several of the men came right over to the mess hall, made mashed potatoes, waited on the tables and helped otherwise. Their husbands ate there instead of at home.

Good Dinner.

Noon dinner consisted of mutton stew with savory brown gravy, mashed potatoes, boiled cabbage, salad made out of beets and onions, bread and butter, coffee and apple sauce. Everything was served in big dishes and right off the stove.

"We had a good breakfast," said a man whose wife was "helping out." He named fried eggs, griddle cakes, meat, potatoes, coffee, milk and oatmeal porridge as the breakfast menu, and he seemed to have relished the change from his home table. His wife had made the salad, and he admitted it was good.

She would finish up her work quickly, she said, because there was a Red Cross meeting called to sew for the French and Belgians at one of the houses in the camp. Germantown is two miles and a half from the camp, so the women are dependent on each other for society.

Will Spend Millions.

The colored laborers live in a comfortable farm house across the creek from the main camp. Some of the foreign workmen have their own boarding houses and mess halls, run by their own people.

One of the winter plans at the Germantown camp is to have dances, concerts and church services in the school house. This has a big stage and a good floor.

Men from all over the country are already at work for the Miami Conservancy District at the five dams and on the river channel improvements. Fifteen million dollars worth of bonds was sold last winter, with the approval of Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo, and another ten millions will probably be issued to provide for later expenses. The work is likely to keep on for at least four more years.

THAT ROCKING CHAIR SHRINE

Place Where Mother Sat Will Forever Be a Sacred One to Childhood.

By the window in the sitting room stood the old chair. It was "mother's chair"—otherwise it would have been just a chair. With mother in it, however, it became the shrine to which flocked her devoted little worshipers.

In the rocker, as we sat on mother's knee, or at her side—for the chair was generously made—the bumped head and the bruised heart were healed. Frightened, we found there a safe retreat, a refuge from every harm. At night, the bedtime story was told to the rhythm of its soothing swing. Joys, sorrows, all were brought to its encircling arms. Mother's chair, rocking, rocking, rocking by the window.

"Mere sentiment!" you say? Then, God pity you—you have no precious old chair.

The old chair, we think, had a hand in the making of character. Maybe it was more effective in this service than we realize. Seated in it, we watched the needle in quick, nimble fingers, gliding in and out among the frayed edges, tirelessly; we heard our childish perplexities explained over and over again, with no hint of vexation; we sang the songs which taught us some of the beauty of life; we listened to stories of bravery and truth. Industry, patience, beauty, courage, honesty—they can be traced back through a golden pathway, straight to mother's chair.

The old chair had seen valiant service. Old-fashioned, scarred and worn, it still stood in the familiar place by the window. Why is it not refinished—the scars smoothed out, the worn places covered? What! Cover the marks which little hands have made, the worn spot where mother's tired head rested, the scars made by tiny, restless feet? Such a question came from one who did not understand. To him, the old chair was mere wood and paint—just a piece of furniture, not a shrine.

We do not say it aloud—our greatest longings are not spoken—but sometimes, when life gets tangled, we find ourselves going again to the old chair to have the knots untied. When grief comes, we sob it out, there. When joy comes we run to tell it there. When we fail, when we win, our thoughts take us to the old chair. And at night, the little lisping prayers come begging to be said, and we send them, along with our grown-up petitions, up to heaven, by way of that sacred shrine.—People's Home Journal.

Flanders.

The Flemish form of the name Flanders is Vlaenderen and the word means the country of the Flemish. The Flanders of the middle ages was a self-governing countship, that is, a country whose ruler was a count, but at times it was under the suzerainty of France, and sometimes under that of the empire which then included the Germanic states. The Flanders of the middle ages is today divided between France and Belgium, the greater part being included in Belgium, and two provinces to the western part of the latter country are known as East and West Flanders, the latter fronting on the North sea. Practically all the country that formed the Flanders of the middle ages is low and level; hence it was commonly called the Low Country. Ypres and the British lines out to the North sea and south for a considerable distance into northern France, are in a country that formed part of old Flanders.

Remarkable Fence.

A postless fence is located on the big road near Monroe, La. Years ago, so many years ago that nobody in this section knows when it was, nor who was the labor-saving genius who did it, this fence was built by forcing split boards between saplings. Then the trees grew. They kept on growing until today they are of immense size and deeply imbedded in them are the ends of those old rails. It is impossible to tell how deeply they extend into the tree trunks. They are weathered and yet they ring as true and sound under a hammer as though just hewn. The rails were arranged in rows about a foot and a half apart, to a height of five feet, and around the ends until one of the most substantial fences imaginable has been created.

RED CROSS ORGANIZE FOR WORK DURING YEAR

Ask Co-Operation of all Women in City—Work Schedule for the Coming Week

The American Red Cross has mobilized the heart and spirit of the whole American people, and has resolved itself into a great movement, embodying the spirit of service, the spirit of sacrifice, all that is best and highest in the ideals of our country; and we believe is destined to become of permanent value in our national life.

In view of this fact an organized plan for Charlevoix Auxiliary, for the coming year will be attempted. Our chairman, Mrs. E. E. Cross, and her assistants, seek the co-operation of all ladies in the following arrangement, by which we hope to secure plenty of workers for each day, but all ladies are welcome at any time regardless of their assignment or affiliations:

Monday—Congregational and Baptist ladies, Mrs. R. F. Sloan, overseer.

Tuesday—Eastern Star, Mrs. Will E. Hampton, overseer.

Wednesday—Lady Macabees, Mrs. R. O. Cram, overseer.

Thursday—St. Mary's Altar Society, Mrs. J. L. Crane, overseer.

Friday—Charlevoix Rebekahs, Mrs. H. Nicholls, overseer.

Saturday—Methodist Ladies, Mrs. H. L. Decker, overseer.

Ladies in charge will open the rooms at 1:45 p.m. and see that the rooms are in order before leaving.

A special call is made just now for ladies who can make button holes. This work may be done at home, so if you will either call or send for it, we will see that this work reaches you. Mrs. C. G. Cooper, Secretary.

APPORTIONMENT OF PRIMARY MONEY

Many Counties Receive More Money Than They Paid In

According to figures compiled by Auditor General O. B. Fuller thirty-eight of the eighty-three counties in Michigan received more primary money than they paid to the state in taxes. The total amount of the state tax was $9,108,219.97 and the total primary money apportioned this year was $6,441,309.98.

Among western Michigan counties included are: Antrim, Benzie, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, Isabella, Kalkaska, Lake, Leelanau, Manistee, Mason, Mecosta, Missaukee, Montcalm, Newaygo, Oceana, Osceola and Wexford.

Protection from Dangerous Contagion

Owing to its antiseptic properties, 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric can not be too highly recommended for liberal use in the care of the person wherever and whenever exposed to any contagious disease. It may be applied as a powder or with water as a solution.

It may be used with absolute freedom and safety in all the natural cavities of the body; physicians almost always prescribe it as an eye water, mouth wash, etc., and wherever introduced the antiseptic action is certain; but there is no danger from its use as there is with some other disinfectants. Insist upon having the original package of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric and then you know that you have the real article full strength. All leading druggists.

400 PEOPLE WERE PRESENT

AT MEETING HELD AT LOEB FARM FRIDAY

County Farm Bureau Orgaaized and Officers Electad—Record Breaking Attendance

The Loeb Farm, on the suuth shore of Pine Lake, was the scene of one of the greatest actlvities ever held in Charlevoix county between the bours of 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Friday of last week. The cause of the excitement was the reorganization of the Charlevoix County Farm Bureau. Coupled with this was the desire and the interest of our population in the beautiful Loeb Farm.

Between the hours of 10 o'clock and the serving of the pot-luck dinner at noon, the crowds wandered through the dairy barns of this most wonderful farm, and from whnt they saw they gained an idea of the efficiency and sanitation of an ideal dairy.

The tremendously large barn, built of field stone, will accommodate comfortably some 300 heads of thorough-bred Holstein cattle. At the present time only a small portion of the cattle barn is completed. In this section the most sanitary conditions prevail. The floor and mangers are of concrete with the exception of that part of the floor on which the cattle stand or lie, which is paved with creosoted wood brick. The walls and ceiling are lathed and plastered with a beautlful white finish. The ventilation of these barns is ideal and sdds to the health and vigor of the milk-producing cow. Every cow is provided with an individual drinking cup. Milking is done by the vacuum method and a gas engine is provided for pumping the air through a pipe line over the stanchions. To this the milking machines are attached by couplings between esch stall.

The decorations of the barn consisted of beautiful flower boxes filled with blooming geraniums.

About noon the pot-luck dinner was served on improvised tables provided by the management of the farm. These were located in the part of the barn which is still under construction. To say that the dinner was enjoyed and that there was plenty for all, will but give you an idea of it. Too much cannot be said regarding it and to give complete justice to the many things which adorned the table would require a very large space, but suffice to say everyone was satisfied to the extent that the full cider barrel remained untouched until late in the afternoon.

Immediately after dinner the meeting was called to order by William J. Pearson of Boyne Falls, who has acted as president of the Farm Bureau since the installation of the County Agent system in this county. He was promptly elected temporary chairman and Mr. Sloan of Charlevoix elected temporary secretary.

The program consisted of educational speeches by H. G. Smith, County Agent of Kent county, who spoke upon the necessity of farmers' organizations and the importance of a well organized Farm Bureau. He emphasized the importance of having a well defined plsn of work for the development of the county and for the solving of problems concerning the various parts of the county such as production, standardization of farm crops, live stock, county welfare work and other equally interesting topics which if properly developed will work no end of good in our county.

Immediately following the appointing of the various committees on by-laws, nomination and project, D. D. Aitken of Flint was given the floor and for more than an hour he held bis large and appreciative audience in closest attention. His constructive talk dealt chiefly upon the importance of standard stock raising. In introducing his subject he referred to recent experiments made in one of our large laboratories on rats of common variety and showed that even the lowest type of animal kingdom cannot live without a diet, including milk products and butter fnts.

He emphasized the importance of milk and its connection with the health of our people, especially the children, and gave figures showing that thousands of children die annually from the lack of proper nourishment. His remarks were made in such a forceful manner that the farmers present sensed the situation and realized the importance of increased production and the adoption of sanitary methods in dairying. Mr. Aitken will long be remembered and no doubt a great deal of good will occur as the result of his talk.

Mrs. Fouler of East Jordan then sang in her usual pleasing manner, "That Land of Mine." It was received with such enthusiasm that she responded with an encore, singing a popular war-time song which was equally well received.

The committees being ready to report, E. E. Twing, County Agent of Kalkaska county, gave a short talk on the problems that arise in the county.

The reading and adoption of the by-laws was next in order of business, and when the report of the nomination committee was called for and read, a motion was made to waive with the rules and the entire list as prepared by the nomination committee was duly elected. President, W. J. Pearson; vice-president, William Townsend; secretary and farm records, W. F. Tindall; treasurer, Elmer Ingalls; Boy's and Girl's Club Work, May L. Stewart; Home Economics, Mrs. W. M. Boylan; Crops, Frank Bird; Soils, Carl Strobel; Live Stock, Mr. Otto; Marketing, William Burns. These elected officers constitute the

LOOKING AFTER MICHIGAN BOYS

AIM TO RENDER SERVICE TO DISABLED MEN

New Hospitals Located on Staton Island, New York—Over 2,000 Beds Available

When the war preparedness board of Michigan decided to establish a bureau of military relief in New York for the benefit of Michigan's soldiers and sailors, it was like starting a voyage on an uncharted sea. No state had undertaken such an enterprise, and no voluntary organization had done work of the kind on any such scale or plan as would afford much help or guidance. In fact, the experience of voluntary organizations would not have been such as the state could follow anyway, because the state is able to carry such work farther than could be done by private efforts, and the official status of the bureau places it on a different footing from any other enterprise of the kind.

The board, however, believed that there was an important work to be done and that the only way to do it was to do it—that is, to go ahead and let the details be worked out by actual experience. Two factors were of great help at the start. One was the friendly attitude of army, navy and Red Cross authorities, the other was the hearty spirit of co-operation among the Michigan people resident in New York. The former was absolutely essential, the latter very valuable; for official approval was necessary in order to obtain the desired information and privileges, while the co-operation of volunteer workers in New York furnishes a form of help that could not be purchased at any price.

The primary aim of the bureau is to render aid and service to disabled Michigan men returning from overseas. To that end arrangements have been made for notifying the bureau of the arrival of such men and enabling a representative of the bureau to see each man personally if circumstances permit. The number of Michigan wounded returning from France is still small, which saved the bureau from being swamped at the outset before its machinery could be perfected.

Apparently it takes three or four months from the date of battle before a wounded man arrives at New York. For example, some recent arrivals at the naval hospital are men who were wounded last June in that terrific fight in which it is reported that more than two-thirds of the 8,000 marines engaged were killed or wounded. It is to be noted also that only a certain class of wounded have thus far been sent back from France—those who are too seriously hurt to be able to return to service, but who are in condition to stand the home voyage. A large proportion of the wounded, of course, recover quickly at overseas hospitals and rejoin their commands.

At this rate it would appear that the returning wounded will not reach

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR SOLOIER BOYS NOW IN THE SERVICE

Douglas Nettleton Tells of Traveling in French "40 Homme" Cars—Boys Throw Away Heavy Packs While on Long, Grilling March—Dons Gas Mask

From Douglas Nottlaton
Somewhere in France,
Sept, 11, 1918.

Dear Mother—"I think my last letter was up to the time we were quartered in pup tents at the landing port. We were there about two days and Saturday afternoon we broke camp and hiked to the railroad station. Of course most of our hikes are with full packs as we have to carry everything we own on our backs.

"When we got to the depot a little dinky tram with about twenty box cars pulled in and it was sure a joke (before riding on it). The box cars were about the size of an automobile truck and not as heavy. If the train run off the track a dozen men could throw it back on again. On the side of each car was marked the number of men to go in it—thus: 40 hommes, 45 hommes, etc. We had a lot of fun over that. The fellows called it 40 homes. Forty-five of us fellows went in one car and bclieve me it was crowded with the men and packs. We tried a dozen different ways to figure out how we could sit down to sleep and finally managed it by having a row sleep in the middle un the feet of those who sit on the side. We had bread, corn beef and canned beans along for chow and stopped about three times n day and got coffee at the stations. We were on the road two days and two nights and it sure was a tough experience.

"We landed in a little village which I judge must be about 1000 population and must be about 250 miles from where we started. Twenty-two of us, including myself, are quartered in a chicken coop with cement floor, and after the box cars and transports it seems like a palace. Conditions are funny here. You can't buy anything. No candie, no cookies, or cakes. No fruit except a few grapes which cost 50 centimes (10 cents a bunch). In France the soldiers are allowed to buy beer and light wines, so when we arrived here some of the fellows had to go out and get drunk, but the most of them are in the guard house now.

"Was down to the Chemin de fere (depot) last night and they are unloading all kinds of knock-down shacks. They tell me they are to be our mess halls. We are going to have a canteen soon.

"They say there is about 160 bags of mail for this regiment at another town waiting for transportation so expect some mail soon from home and will sure be glad as I have not had any letters since I boarded the transport. D. N., Hdq. Co. 64th Inf., A. E. F., Franco.

"The chief said this morning that the Kaiser had admitted that they can't lick the U. S. and is preparing his people for a peace drive. Will be home about Washington's birthday.

Somewherein France.
September 29, 1918.

Dear Mother—"We packed up and left our last billet at eleven o'clock Friday and marched and marched about two miles to the railroad station, and believe me these packs are some heavy now we hnve our gas masks nnd tin hats. We wore on the road until Saturday afternoon at three o'clock and passed through one of the historical cities of the war. I cannot tell you where wa are but think I am permitted to say that our division is to replace one that has been pretty well battored up and that we are closer to the front and our regiment will go into actlon sooner than I expected. Our regiment is supposed to bo the best in the division and will be used as shock troops. We are close enough to hear plsinly the American bombardment of Metz. I was talking to the color sargeant yesterday, who is an oldish man and speaks French fluently, and he told me that the people of this town expect peace inside of a month. That is quicker than I expect it, but still it might as the lieutenant says happen over night.

"I am healtby and happy as may be and have but one worry and that is that you will worry more than there is any occasion for. There is that about the war that makes a fellow, as he gets nearer to the front, grow more enthusiastic and anxious to be in it, and I can appprpeciate the feelings of the fellows who go over the top to help do their bit.

"I am very tired today and the reason is that last night I did about the hardest work I have ever done in my life. We got off the train at a little burg near here and had a field supper, and at seven o'clock started on the hike with full packs which as it is now weighs I should judge about (deleted by censor) pounds. In a long hike the army marches fifty minutes and rests ten each hour. I think we marched a little over twenty miles and was on the road from seven p.m. to five a.m., during which time about one-half of the company fell out snd have been straggling in all day. I came through O.K. with the first of them although am pretty tired and stiff today. Stood it about as well as any of them I think. The paca makers are the officers who go ahead and carry only about a twenty-five pound pack.

"One funny thing happpened to me. From now on we do all our marching at night and no smoking allowed, and there are some places on a narrow road between trees that are pretty dark. We had our first rest last night in just such a place and I noticed a raise at the side of the road and being the nearest to it I was the first to set down to rest myself from the weight of my pack. It happened though that this ridge was very narrow, with a steep incline on the other side that I could not see, so when I set down the weight of my pack took me down the hill head over heels until I struck a tree. Was not hurt at all and on the way down I remember wondering how I must look with my pack rolling down hill. I had no more than crawled out than another fellow did the samo stunt. There were times when I would just as soon have tackled six Dutchmen with my bare hands as finish that hike, but I finished it, and there has been a lot happened since then. We slept in a kind of barracks that night and spent the next day looking around the town trying to get the kinks out of our legs. Went to bed in a barn

VICTIM OF HUN BULLET

MARION TOWNSHIP BOY DIES OF WOUNDS

Harry Potter Among the Thousands Who Have Made the Suprame Sacrifica

Word was received from Washington last week announcing the death of Harry Potter, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Potter of Marion township, in a hospital in France from wounds received while engaged in the big American drive that stopped the mad rush and terminated in the utter defeat of the German army.

Harry Potter was 26 years of age. He was sent to Camp Custer by the local draft board about a year ago, and went overseas with his company July 20, 1918. Just previous to bis going to Camp Custer he was married to Miss Winnie Sitsema of near Ellsworth. During the early months of last spring he was home on a short furlough, expecting on his return to Custer to be among those to soon leave for overseas duty.

He was a member of Co. I, 7th Inf.

REMAINS TAKEN TO EAST JORDAN

Death Takes Charles Herriagton After Extended Illness

Death claimed another resident of Charlevoix last Friday night, when Charles Herrington passed away at his home on Antrim street.

Charles William Herrington was born October 2, 1851, in Euclid Township, Ohio. He came to Charlevoix with his wife about nine years sgo. About four years ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis and since that time has been unable to do any work. Deceased had been confined to his bed for about three weeks before his death, which was caused from a complication of diseases.

He is survived by a wife, two girls and two boys, three of the children being married and living in pther cities. Mr. Herrington was a member of the Church of God, and also belonged to the Maccabee lodge.

Funeral services were held Monday, at ten o'clock from the Church of God, Rev. Pontious officiating. The remains were taken to East Jordan Monday for burial.

HAROLD USHER BACK IN U. S.

Now at Michigan Hospital No. 2, Staten Island, N. Y.

The editor of the Courier received a telegram early Monday morning, stating that his son, Harold W. Usher, had been invalided back to the United States from Franee, and is now at Debarkation Hospital No. 2, St. George, Staten Island.

A second telegram Tuesdny morning stated that he would soon be transferred to a Michigan hospital and expected to receive his discharge and be home by Christmas.

Whether wounded or incapacitated by illness is not known at present, the telegram stating that he had written details concerning himself.

LEAGUE NATIONS OR LIBERTY ENOS

POLITICAL SCIENTIST SEES INTO THE FUTURE

Says Paoplo Must Choosa to Give Up Armament Racs or Old Fraedom

Whether we are to have a rostoration of freedom of speech and are generally to enjoy the same degroa of civil liberty as before the war, depends, according to Professor R. T. Crane, associate professor of politlcal science in the University of Michigan, very largely on some arrangement of that sort, which is generally termed a League of Nations.

Professor Crane was formerly in the United States' consular service.

"The world seems to have two alternativea," said he, "either that greater guarantees of peaceful international relations, through some organization of the nations be effected, or else that we live in a continual state of armed preparedness.

"If the latter is to be the choice, the country will probably continue to suffer the evils of censorships, which are shown to be vitally necessary during the war.

"If we are simply to return to the old international situation, we must expect a continued and probably a growing interference with our goveral liberties.

"Republican France has had to suffer these evils almost as much as Germany, simply because as a consequence of the military preparednees into which she has been forced by the German menace.

"There has been enormous inrease in the power of the federal government during this war. This has been particularly true of the executive. We have in large measure, been under exccutive dictatorship. Tho law, and even the constitution, lose some of their sanctity during war. Acts are done—and it is conceded that acts must be done under the overwhelming necessities of war—that are not only unsupported by law but are actually contrary to law.

"The American people have conceded this freely during the war. The same nocessity exists, though in a lesser degree, in preparation for war, and in the preparation for war, the same relative concessions.

"The United States can hardly escape military preparations if thin is to continue to be the international order of the day.

"This much we must bring ourselves to face: We must either effect something in the nature of a League or Nations, or we must face the curtailment, to some extent, of our old liberties."

MEET FORMER FRIENDS OVERSEAS

This Great Big World is Not so Largo After All

That this great and good old world of ours is not such a large place, and that one meets friends or acqusintances, no matter in what place on the globe they may be, was never more strikingly illustrated than information obtained from two letters from our boys "over there" to friends "over here" which reached the city the first of the week.

For example: Lieutenant William Mitchell, in company with a brother soldier, were wending their way to mess hall, when he was accosted by a Red Cross nurse. At first he did not recognize the lady who spoke, but soon found he was addressing Miss Eva Cram, who joined the Red Cross some months ago. Tho location of the place where they met was censored.

Pvt. Lynn Thomas, with his company, were marching from one place to another. They stopped a short time in a certain little French town. Lynn soon afterward entered a restaurant, and immedlately recognized a former schoolmate and companion of boyhood days, Loren Hart. Thus these young people, well known to each other, met in a foreign country at most unexpected places. The world is not so big after all.

MOUNTAIN DISTRICT

Mrs. F. Bearss attended the meeting at the Loeb Farm on Friday.

Mr. Duffey purchased a cow at a sale near Boyne Falls last week.

The second and third grades are making an interesting study of the Pilgrims.

Mr. Wilson delivered a load of about forty-five turkeys to Mr. Schaub at Boyno City on Monday.

Malcolm McDonnal and two neices, the Misses Beryl and Dorothy, were callers in the neighborhood on Sunday.

The school children now own $104.25 worth of W. S. S. and Thrift Stamps. As there are only ten pupils we are very proud of their good work along this line.

Plans are being made to begin a Literary Society. The first meeting will be held Wednesday evening, December 4, at the school. Light refreshments will be served. Everyone come and join in and have a good time.

EVELINE

Give us another two weeks of open fall weather, please.

Messrs. Allison, Spidle and Charlie Cooper expect to leave soon to work in Detroit during the winter.

Those who attended the meeting at the Loeb farm last Friday report that they were very well repaid.

Get Auto Licenses

Automobile owners of the state may secure 1919 tags now either from the state house or the branch in Detroit. By doing so they will save themselves the delay which annually swamps the department of state about the last of the year. WILD OATS GAINING IN STATE

May Become Dangerous Pest Unless Dealt With Early

A series of reports received by the farm crops department of the Michigan Agricultural college tell of a widespresd invasion af the state this season by the wild oat. The weed, which if not controlled, becomes a dangerous pest, was brought into the state last spring with spring wheat imported from the west. Immediate control measures are urged by ths farm crops men of M. A. C.

"Few people realize what a dangerous weed the wild oat is," declares Professor F. A. Spragg in a new issue of the Quarterly Bulletin. "Wild oats mature early and usually ripen before the crop in which they grow. They shell off and normally lie in the ground until the next spring without sprouting. In fact, a portion of them normally lie in the ground for a term of years, garminating only under tha most favorabla conditions when they will again be weeds in a grain field. Wild oats have bean known to lie under timothy sod for four years and germinate when the ground was broken far cropping.

"To control the pest, observe the following: (1) Plant only clean seed. (2) Pull wild oat plants wherever and whenaver they appear, even at tha risk of pulling up some other plants as well. (3) If you hava wild oats go to seed this year, put tha land into a cultivated crop next spring. (4) If yau had any wild oats in your harvasted grain do not use it for seed. (5) Before using the sacks again, turn and clean them."

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER'S NOTES

Miss Howard is initiating a general "Good for the Order" contest in the Ironton grammar grades. Conduct, courtesy, interest, thought of others, are main features scoring for the sides in the contest. Dolmar Anderson and Eva Brown are the opposing captains, the losing side to psy forfeit. Students are entering into the game in good spirit.

The Ironton primary room under Miss Allen have a general contest in full swing in which purchase of Thrift Stamps, parfection in spelling, and perfect, punctual attendance are the main features for winning of points.

Bay Shore school building has fortunately two rooms built for the olden days when two teachers were necessary. The present teacher, Miss Ethel Brotherton, is converting the unused room into a work room, has already had work bench built and the boys are planning what they will make during noon hour and recess periods. They will no doubt organize under the M. A. C. Handicraft Club and work under guidance.

Miss Brotherton has invested the district library money in books wisely selected for general school work with a large percentage for children of the primary grades.

At Fairgrove school the commissioner arrived late in the afternoon and was entertained at request by a review of the special work the school had been doing. War songs were sung with spirit and then little Miss Hilda Ford, age eleven, delivered a four-minute oration on the Fourth Liberty Loan, which had been prepared for Liberty Day gathering, and which was absolutely the best junior oration which the commissioner has heard this year.

Schools visited since last writing were: Ironton, Horton Bay, North Bay, Lakeside, Bay Shore, Burgess, Hopyard, Undine, Curfew, Webster school, and Advance. Everything going splendidly in this territory and spirit the best yet.

Advance has a quantity of new primary equipment and a large order of library books well selected and adapted to school. Mrs. Crane is surely to be commended on her care and forethought in the grading of the books.

Miss Thayer has just opened the Curfew school after having been released from her contract at Walloon. Walloon has only twelve pupils attending for the winter and is able to get along with one teacher only. Her release helped out in another worried place.

Miss Rose Canniff of Hudson is ably filling the place left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Miles.

The best W. S. S. report for the week comes from Hiltan school, second from Marion Centre, and third from Boyne Falls.

Mountain school with an enrollment of ten pupils has total ownership of $104.94, present value. No school reporting has quite come up to this standard.

Red Cross reports indicate that every school is on the way, and it is hoped our county will be 100 per cent this month.

THEATRICAL

"America's Answer"

Lieutenant Christian R. Holmes, who returned from France last July wearing two service bars and three wound stripes, together with the French Croix de Guerro and Service Cross, receatly had the novel experience of seeing himself in "America's Answer," the big U. S. official war picture at Memorial Hall in Columbus, Ohio.

In the picture Lieutenant Holmes and lieutenant Murphy are shown being cited and orated for bravery under fire by Major Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., who was subsequently severely wounded. Lieutenant Holmes when he saw the picture was on a visit to his father at the Chillicothe, Ohio, cantonment. The picture, "America's Answer," will be shown at the Majestic Theatre, December 14 and 15 and the people of this vicinity will be given the opportunity to see Lieutenant Holmes as he saw himself.

Facts About Ship's Speed.

A ship increases her speed more readily over deep water, but on the other hand, the faster a ship runs the more depth of water she requires to prevent the hindrance caused by the dragging influence of the friction which is always felt when the ship's keel "seases" bottom. Running ten knots an hour, a ship must have between 26 and 27 feet of depth, or she is dragged from below. If running 20 knots she needs a depth of 104 to 105 feet, and when running 30 knots she feels the drag over a depth of nearly 324 feet.

large numbers for several weeks yet, when we shall begin to get the results of the heavier American fighting in September. Another reason for delay, however, is that the government does not wish to bring them home until the hospital facilities on this side are abundantly ample. It is not enough to have, on paper, a bed for each soldier. There must be such ample reserve facilities that any incoming batch of wounded, however large, can be accommodated immediately with beds to spare. To that end extensive hospital facilities are being provided. About a dozen of these great hospitals are already in operation, though some of them have few patients as yet.

The new hospitals located in the country, such as General No. 3, at Colonia, New Jersey, or Debarkation No. 2, at Fox Hills, Staten Island, are not only models of construction and arrangement, but remarkably pleasing in their location and surroundings. The latter, for example, a huge establishment with more than 2,000 beds, occupies a beautiful site on what was once a golf course in the picturesque uplands of Staten Island.

Several great buildings in the heart of the city, close to the great railway terminals, are also to be used for the same purpose. One, now about ready, occupies a department store which has been very successfully converted for the purpose. Another hospital of immense size will occupy the Grand Central Palace, a big commercial exhibition building, which is rapidly being turned into what will be one of the best, as well as one of the largest, establishments of its kind. Other buildings are reported to be destined for conversion to hospital uses.

The naval hospital, which receives all sick and wounded sailors and marines, is entirely separate from the system of army hospitals. It has a great establishment of its own near the Brooklyn navy yard, and its patients are also distributed among thirty or forty already existing hospitals in various parts of the city. The number of naval patients, both now and in prospect, is, of course, much smaller than the number that the army expects to deal with.

It is expected that the Michigan bureau will find scope for much useful work among the wounded men. It does not aim to duplicate the services already so well performed by the Red Cross, but to extend a certain "home touch," which only a Michigan organization can give, to Michigan boys. It is believed that a genuine Michigan greeting, with Michigan news and such incidental aid or service as may seem proper, will be very heartening to a wounded Michigan boy and will be something that he could get in no other way. At the same time the bureau expects to render a useful service to friends at home through the transmission of information and the answering of inquiries regarding Michigan men in service. All such inquiries should be addressed thus: "Michigan Bureau of Military Relief, 36 West Fortieth street, New York." By Stuart H. Perry, Director of the Michigan Bureau of Military Relief, 36 West 40th street, New York.

EULOGIZED BY CINCINNATI PAPER

Cross Village Topic of Write-up of Interest

A Cincinnati paper gives the following which will be of interest to readers in this section:

Cross Village—"L' Arbre Croche" of the Jesuit missionaries—was one of the first Indian towns to be established, Christianized, and ruled by the brave fathers who carried the cross and the banner of France into the wilderness more than 200 years ago. Braving the perils of the lurking Iroquois and the northern winters, the Jesuits won the Ottawas to their faith and loyal adherence, gathered their red-skinned converts together, and founded Cross Village on the eastern shore of Lake Michigan. In Cross Village great sermons were preached, great deeds were wrought, and the Christianizing of 20,000 red men was accomplished by the missionaries going forth from the Ottawa town. From Cross Village, too, the mighty Pontiac issued his commands, and in Cross Village were arranged the details of the great conspiracy that almost drove England from the west, almost gave the wilderness back to its savage owners.

Only the other day, Cross Village burned to the water's edge—was utterly destroyed. And as Cross Village burned, Alexander Kagebitang, Ottawa Indian, son of the Ottawa chief and lineal descendant of the heroic Pontiac, gave up his life in France. Pontiac was ever the foe of the American, the deadliest enemy of Britain, and the truest friend of France. His descendant died fighting for the common cause of all three nations—and as he fell, Cross Village, home of Pontiac, and of the noble missionaries, burned out in one wild flame!

The great war has countless tales that are stronger than any fiction—and what fiction could be stranger than the united "going out" of the last Ottawa chief, the last descendant of Pontiac, and the old Indian village that gave shelter to Pontiac and his children.

No Royal Road to Old Age.

Unhappily there is no agreement on the recipe for living to a ripe old age, although every centenarian believes he has the secret. The fact is, there is a good deal of luck about it. Of course everybody knows that the person who starts in with a good physique and lives happily and temperately and usefully has the advantage over the person who inherits a weak body and doesn't take care of himself. But even among those who have everything in their favor many fail to reach the four score years of the psalmist.

IT CAN'T BE DONE

If you can explain how a man with a three foot pole can outtilt an adversary with a ten foot pole you can tell how a producer in the United States under the existing scale of wages can compete with an alien adversary with half or less that scale, without putting a handicap on the foreigner. Otherwise you are wasting your conversation in defending the existing tariff law and pretending to believe that if it continues in effect there is not going to be either a heavy reduction in wages or a cessation of production. You can hate an employing producer all you like, and you can regulate and restrict and handicap him all you wish, but you cannot compel him to operate a factory or a farm at a loss, nor can the government itself produce at a loss without having someone to tax who is making a profit.

BRAKES OFF!

What this country needs now is OPPORTUNITY, spelled with capital letters and without any periods, pauses, or other punctuation. The country needs to have bureaucracy take its hands and feet off the brakes. The machinery of American industry is ready to go ahead at full speed whenever officialdom will permit it to do so. American builders need structural workers, our factories need operatives, our farmers will need help and must have early assurance that the help will be available. Business men need clerks, stenographers and accountants. All kinds of enterprise needs capital. Everybody needs opportunity and when that is granted the nation will enter at once upon the greatest forward movement in its history. If officialdom will release its grasp upon labor, capital, and enterprise, the initiative, energy and intelligence of the country will do the rest.

WHY WAIT ONE YEAR?

The Republican Congress, elected in November, 1918, will not convene, in the regular course of events, until December, 1919. If the President sees fit, he can call a special session, which he probably will not do unless urgent need compels. Congress should pass Representative McArthur's bill to require the holding of three regular sessions of each Congress, the first one in March following the election. When the people vote for a change they ought to get it.

PERSEVERE!

The war is over, but partisan, sectional, extravagant, inefficient administration is not. If you want good government, you must keep eternally asking for it.

There is room in this country for only one flag, and that is the flag of the republic of the United States. When four million soldiers from over here and over there return to civil life, raising any banner antagonistic to the flag these men have fought for is not going to be the favorite outdoor sport of people who believe in safety first.

There is serious talk to the effect that democracy may be introduced into the solid southern Democratic states of the union after we have saved the rest of the world for it. In these states it has been supposed up to this time that the only kind of democracy there is, is the variety you spell with a capital "D."

At last the socialists have got up a full fledged heaven of their own in Russia, but nobody has been trampled on in the rush of socialists to get to it. They are like the man who died and woke up in a strange place, with the remark: "Why this doesn't look like heaven." The reply was: "It isn't."

The fourteen points seem to call just as clearly for the political and economic independence of China as for that of Belgium. The system of spheres of influence and control, utilized to the oppression of weaker nations, should be ended just as completely in Asia as in Europe.

One of the things this country can do to prove that we mean what we say when we talk of our appreciation of the service of the soldier, is to let him come home just as soon as is possible consistently with the safety of this nation and of the world.

It is evidently the intention of our pacifistic war department to make up for the delay in starting the work of war preparedness by continuing the job of shoveling out the millions just as long as possible.

With President Wilson in Europe a necessary part of the equipment of a Democratic congressman will be a private wireless station to enable him to know occasionally what he thinks.

Grant went to Europe and received the honors of a conquering hero, which he really was, but it did not get him a third term.

It is evident that this war has been a picnic for some people and that they would gladly make it last forever if they could.

ALLIES ARE FED BY SELF DENIAL

Generous Doing Without in America Supplied Food to Europe.

Exports from this country since it entered the war have kept starvation from Allied Europe and have maintained the health and strength of those who have been bearing the brunt of our battles, so that they could hold out to victory. Now that hostilities have ceased we must assume the added burden of keeping starvation from increasing its toll upon the millions who have been liberated from the Prussian yoke. Famine would undo the work which has been accomplished in freeing the world for democracy. No stable government can be established and maintained by a nation harassed by hunger. A starving people turns to rioting and anarchy. Food has given strength and courage to the nations fighting for democracy; it must now give the nations strength and tranquillity to re-establish themselves in freedom and democracy.

Without our help it would have been absolutely impossible for the Allies to maintain a living ration. Since our entry into the war we have been contributing largely to the support of one hundred and twenty million people whose normal food supplies have been cut off, whose production has fallen almost to the vanishing point, whose fields have been devastated by Germany. The food exported from the United States in the past year has been sufficient to supply the complete ration of twenty-two million people.

It is hard to grasp the magnitude and significance of the assistance which has been lent the Allies by the patriotic, voluntary service of the American people. The food we sent abroad last year would have been sufficient to feed one-fifth of our population. And this was done in spite of the fact that we entered the year with short crops. Our surplus was practically nothing. An overwhelming proportion of the food that left this country last year was saved out of the normal home consumption of our own people.

In spite of difficulties met in internal transportation and shortage of ocean tonnage our food exports last year amounted to a figure that a few years ago would have been unbelievable. Even the most optimistic element of our population faced with anxious consternation the prospect which opened before us with the beginning of the 1917 harvest year.

The American people have not been compelled to save. They have been appealed to on the basis of humanity and of patriotism. They have responded voluntarily.

Besides such incidental benefits as the improvement in figure and health that we've reaped from our meatless, wheatless days, think of the fun we've had out of them—the new crop of jokes, jibes, topical songs and cartoons to replace the mother-in-law joke and the boost to our reputation for ready humor!

COME IN AND BE CONVINCED

You will wonder how we ever can do it—how, when materials are so high, that we can retail these Plush Coats at the prices we do.

Quality is of the Before War-times — Styles that combine beauty and economy

And, after all, there's nothing to excel a Plush or Silk Velour coat for all-round purposes. We repeat—it is of major importance that your Pile Fabric coat be properly steamed. Be sure of that, no matter where you buy it.
Here, where quality is supreme, you will find only the best of plush, tailored in garments truly authentic in style.

STORAGE AND REPAIRING

It's time to engage a place to store that car during the winter months. You can't drive it much longer this season. We make a specialty of storing cars. Our garage is modern in every respect, as fire-proof as any in northern Michigan, and we can assure you that proper care and attention will be given your car if left with us.

REPAIR WORK

After the season's use your car needs a thorough overhauling and cleaning, worn or broken parts replaced, new adjustments, carbon removed from cylinders, and the many little things that put the car into perfect running condition so that when you "step on her" every part will be in perfect working order. That's our business during the winter months. Then we have the time and are not compelled to rush the work out as sometimes we have to during the late spring and summer months. Store your car with us, then give us an order to have it overhauled and repaired if needed. We guarantee satisfactory work and courteous treatment.

DIED WHILE IN TRAINING CAMP

Levi Lewis Was a Former Resident of Hayes Township

Levi Lewis, son of the late Joseph Lewis of Hayes township, died October 30 while in training at Fort Wordon.

Deceased was born in Hayes township in 1889, and lived there until ten years ago, when he moved to Tacoma, Washington. He was in the September 12 draft, and was called into service the 21st of October, leaving Tacoma on that date for Fort Wordon. He had a severe cold at the time and was taken to the hospital immediately upon arriving at the fort. The cold developed into pneumonia, and he died nine days later. He was buried with military honors.

He leaves a wife, mother, seven sisters and five brothers, two of whom are in the service. Mr. Lewis was the first one of the thirteen children to be taken.

HUNTING TRIP ENDS WITH TRAGEDY

Ellsworth Hunter Mistakes Man for Deer With Fatal Results

The usual enjoyment of the three weeks spent annually on the Taquamenon river in Luce county by the Ellsworth deer hunters was marred this year by the first accident which has ever happened since the camp and party was organized about eighteen years ago and strangely enough the oldest member of the party, E. R. Harris, and the one considered the most careful of the bunch, was the one responsible.

Mr. Harris shot and fatally wounded James Rye, a member of the Big Falls Hunting Club of the Soo, whose camp was about three miles down the river from where Mr. Harris and party were camped.

The injured man, who was dressed in a complete suit of gray, was mistaken in the thick brush for a deer and so severely wounded that although the best of medical aid was given, could not survive the shock, combined with the loss of blood, and died shortly after he arrived at his home.

Mr. Rye was taken first to the Ellsworth hunting lodge and following medical aid he was placed in the game warden's launch and taken to Newberry and placed on the train for his home. He lived about thirty-five hours.

Mr. Harris is nearly heart-broken over the affair, and although no member of the party attaches the slightest blame to him, he will probably never enter the woods again.

ELLSWORTH LOCALS

Roy Best spent Thanksgiving at the home of his parents at Alden.

J. H. Elzinga was at Elk Rapids on business on Monday of this week.

Emily Weiland left Tuesday for Detroit where she will work this winter.

There will be no school Thursday and Friday of this week on account of Thanksgiving.

James Ruys has recovered from his recent attack of influenza and has resumed work at the garage.

Dr. Parks has returned from the Upper Peninsula and is on the job again looking after the sick in this vicinity.

Several cards were received the past week from Dr. and Mrs. Hewitt, who are now nicely settled at Jacksonville, Florida.

Beginning next Sunday evening services will be held at the new church. Sunday school at 1:30 and preaching at 2:30.

Miss Bertha Harris of Battle Creek arrived the first of the week to spend a few days with her brother, Ernest and family.

E. R. Harris returned from his deer hunting trip last week and the balance of the party are expected home some time this week.

George Liberty and family will leave this week for Detroit, where they will visit some time before going on to Chicago to spend the winter.

Mrs. Harry Potter received word last week of the death in France of her husband, which occurred last month from wounds received in action.

Harry Gross, Bob Ambergy and Alfred Moblo returned from their Upper Peninsula hunting trip last week. The two former were lucky enough to fill their license.

The auction sale at the Martin home near Atwood was well attended last week and everything was well sold. Mr. and Mrs. Martin expect to spend the winter in town.

Atwood sportsmen have been arming themselves with gun licenses the past week in preparation for the game supper to be held at the town hall at Atwood, Thanksgiving night.

Herbert Matill left on Wednesday of last week for his home at Wnjemega, Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Kiddy and Bess Madill left the same day, the former for their home at Bicknell, Indiana, and Bess for Indianapolis, Indiana, where she is attending business college.

A deal has been closed by which the Methodist people become the owners of the Congregational church property and subscriptions or donations to the fund for the payment of the purchase price may be handed to any of the trustees or to Miss Angstron at the bank at any time.

D. E. Clow had his car badly smashed and turned over last Sunday evening in a head-on collision with the machine owned by Rev. J. H. Rayle of Elk Rapids, about two miles south of that place. Mr. Clow was accompanied by M. R. and Hugh Nelson and Mr. Rayle was accompanied by his son, who was driving the car. The fault was admitted by the Elk Rapids people to be entirely theirs and the bill for necessary repairs will be settled by them.

TWICE-TOLD TESTIMONY

Charlevoix People Are Doing All They Can for Fellow Sufferers

Charlevoix testimony has been published to prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills to others in Charlevoix who suffer from bad backs and kidney ills. Lest any sufferer doubt this evidence of merit, we produce confirmed proof—statements from Charlevoix people who again endorse Doan's Kidney Pills—confirm their former testimony. Here's a Charlevoix case:

Mrs. M. Olney, 310 West Hurlbut st., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills on different occasions for kidney trouble. I suffered from severe backaches and Doan's Kidney Pills greatly benefitted me. Others of my family have also used this medicine for lame back and pains in the kidneys with good results."

Again Praises Doan's

Five years later Mrs. Olney said: "I have never found a kidney medicine that can equal Doan's Kidney Pills. The occasional use of this medicine keeps my kidneys in good condition. I will never go back on what I have said before in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Olney had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N.Y.

PEACE ADDS TO U. S. FOOD TASK

Europe Needs Nearly Double Last Year's Supplies From America.

ECONOMY MUST CONTINUE.

World Survey Shows Sufficient Wheat, But Shortage of Fats—Government's Stimulative Program Justified.

With the return of peace America is confronted by a food problem even harder of solution than that with which we coped in time of war. We have an entirely new world situation in food. It will mean essential changes in our domestic program. But more important than this, it must of necessity require increased export.

Last year we shipped 11,820,000 tons of foodstuffs to the European Allies. Had the war continued we would have increased this enormous figure to 17,650,000 tons in the present year. Now, with the responsibility of feeding millions of people liberated from the German yoke, our exports must be brought up to at least 20,000,000 tons—practically the limit of loading capacity at our ports.

World Food Demand Increased.

The end of the war will create an enormously increased demand for food. Humanity demands that the starving millions freed from Prussian oppression shall have sufficient supplies to assure their return to health and prosperity. If these liberated nations are faced with starvation they cannot establish orderly governments. Hunger breeds anarchy in a people. The war to free the world for democracy will be lost after it has been won. America must continue its work to liberation and by sharing its food make democracy safe in the world.

In order to meet this new situation the Food Administration has made a careful survey of the food resources of the whole world in relation to the total demands. Computing supplies on the basis of the avoidance of waste and war consumption, it is found that wheat and rye may be obtained in sufficient quantities to meet economical world consumption; high protein feed for dairy animals will show a shortage of about 3,000,000 tons, while there will be sufficient supplies of other feeds to allow economical consumption; beans, peas and rice will also be found in sufficient quantities to maintain economy in consumption; there are sufficient supplies of beef to keep pace with the capacity of refrigerating space.

Great Fat Shortage.

The most distinct reversal of policy will come with pork and dairy products, vegetable oils, sugar and coffee. Utmost economy will be required in the use of fats and oils, in which there is a world shortage of about 3,000,000,000 pounds. There are sufficient supplies for us to return to our normal sugar consumption if other nations continue their present short rations, or even if their rations are slightly increased. If the European countries, however, are to resume their normal sugar consumption it will be through our continued conservation in order to share with them. There is a surplus of coffee.

Of the world total required to produce these results North America will furnish more than 60 per cent. The United States, including the West Indies, will be in a position to furnish a total of about 20,000,000 tons—against our pre-war exports of about 6,000,000 tons.

The bread grains situation allows the world to abandon the use of substitutes in wheat bread. Large supplies have accumulated in the Argentina, Australia and other hitherto inaccessible markets. A continued high milling percentage, economy of consumption and elimination of waste make it possible for the world to return to a white wheat loaf.

Of all our export possibilities in fats, the largest and most important item is pork. While we cannot supply the world deficiency, we will be able to help it enormously because of the past policies of stimulating production and restraining consumption. The government's policy with regard to stimulating the production of wheat and of pork, the readiest source of fats, is thus amply justified by the situation upon the return of peace.

Famine Specter Still Stalks.

The people of the United States must continue care and wise economy in the use of food in order to complete the work of liberating the world. But even with the utmost conservation and production in this country there will be in Europe for the next year or more starvation beyond all human power to allay. In North Russia there are 40,000,000 people to whom food cannot be made accessible this winter. Their transportation is demoralized in complete anarchy. And even if internal transport can be assured their ports of entry would soon be frozen. Millions more who have felt keenly the oppression of war will be beyond reach of assistance.

We must realize that upon our shoulders rests a greater responsibility than we have ever before been asked to assume. We must realize that millions of lives depend absolutely upon the continued service and sacrifice of the American people.

We must realize that the specter of famine abroad now haunts the abundance of our table at home.

SEVEN LOAVES OF BREAD FOR EVERY PERSON IN U. S. SAVED FROM WASTE

Farmers and Threshermen Patriotically Respond to Call of Food Administration.

From information received by the U. S. Food Administration from the principal grain growing states, it is now possible to announce with fair accuracy the amount of wheat saved last harvest by improved methods of handling. According to official calculations, efforts toward cleaner threshing saved fully 16,000,000 bushels of wheat with corresponding savings of other small grain harvested and threshed in a similar manner. In addition, other states, though unable to furnish figures, reported greatly reduced harvest losses.

The figure for wheat alone is equivalent to seven one-pound loaves of bread for every person in the United States and represents food that formerly was either an absolute loss or was recovered to only a slight extent by poultry and livestock. While opportunities in this branch of conservation were large, the quantity of grain recovered surpassed early expectations. It is noteworthy also that results were secured principally through voluntary co-operation.

No conservation measure of the Food Administration, it is declared, has received more wholehearted support than that pledged and rendered by farmers and threshermen toward reducing grain waste at its source.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to keep her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

at eight-thirty and at nine the order came to roll out and make up packs and move on. We hiked about eight miles and part of the time it rained but I stood it fine. When we had gone this distance it was about midnight and we went to sleep in the woods—details and reasons to be verbal at a later date—slept in woods over night and staid all day until seven p.m., when we turned out and marched to the town where we are quartered in a big house. During our hikes most of the fellows threw away half of their equipment and a few their whole pack. One bunch that dropped out the first night just got in this morning.

"Because of certain complications that I can't explain here, I don't expect to receive any mail for a while, but keep writing and I will get it some time. I may not get paid for several more months either as they have lost track of the pay roll but am used to being broke now and don't care if they keep it all and give it to me when I start for the U. S. There are lots of details of this business that I must leave out of my letters, and expect I am telling more now than most of them.

"This will be all this time. Love."

D. N.

P.S.—Just back from a gas drill and thought I would tell you how it went. We went into a room with our masks on where they had some gas prepared. We talked and experimented with them on, then took them off and made a rush for the door. It was tear gas and there sure was some tears flowing when we came out. Then we took about a fifteen minute hike with the things on and they are not very comfortable, but it seems as if one can get used to most anything in the army.

BOOM PERSHING FOR PRESIDENT

Republicans to Nominate Famous American General

A campaign for the election of Gen. John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American expeditionary forces in France, to the presidency in 1920, has been formally launched in Ohio by the incorporation of "The Pershing Republican League."

Former United Statcs Senator Charles Dick of Akron, and fourteen other prominent republicans of Akron and Summit county are sponsors for the movement.

The Pershing league was formally organized in Akron. It is said that Mr. Dick probably will be made president.

Aa set forth in the articles of incorporation, the purpose of the league is to "crystalize the already existing sentiment for General John J. Pershing as president of the United States in 1920 and to work for his nomination and election."

With the organization of the Akron league, other leagues arc to be formed immediately in every state and district in the nation.

"We do not know whether Gen. Pershing wants to be president or not," sold Mr. Dick.

"But we do know there is a great sentiment throughout the nation for him to be and the organization of the leagucs is to crystalize that sentiment. If it is sufficient to nominate him, I am certain he will eonsider it his duty to accept the nomination."

ENTERTAINED AT POT-LUCK SUPPER

Young People Have Enjoyable Time at Glossenger Home

Last Thursday Mrs. Harry Glossenger entertained sixteen of her friends at a pot-luck supper in honor of Miss Clara Frosh of Grand Rapids.

When supper was announced the guests were told to find their places, the place cards were hidden and the names spelled buckwards, causing much fun and laughter. The guests were finally sented and everyone enjoyed the bountiful supper. The evening was spent in music and visiting, the guests departing at a late hour fully decided to repeat the occasion again in the near future.

SCHOOL CLOSED BUT ONE DAY

Thanksgiving Day Only to be Observed This Year

Thanksgiving Doy, (Thursday of this week will be observed by the closing of our city schools on that day only, routine work to be continued Friday, the following day.

This announcement will undoubtedly be received with disappointment by the school children, but is occosioned by the recent extended closed period of the schools on account of the influenza epidemic.

Superintendent Craig says that every day lost must be made up as nearly as possible if the students are to complete the year's course of study.

J. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be here again Monday, December 2.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys burt and yonr back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to foad your atomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the estire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flusbing them witb a mild, barmless salts wbich removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 bours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so wa can readily understand ths vital importance of keeping the kidnays active.

Drink lots nf water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four nunces nf Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast eacb morning for a few days and ynur kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lamon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize tbs acids in urine so it ao longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink wbich everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, alskeep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney troubls and backache.

SUGAR TESTED MORAL FIBER

Doubters Declared Saving Staples Would Be Easy Compared With Sacrificing Luxuries.

FIGURES SHOW RESULTS.

Americans Demonstrated Sturdy Support of War by Conserving for the Benefit of the Allies.

Wbea figures begas to ehow deflaitely that the people nf the United Siales wers actually reducing their eonsumptiou of foods aeeded abroad, the Unlied States Food Admialstration was told tbat it was comparatively easy to bring about coaservation of etaple necessitiee, but that it would be far more difficull to accomplish as actuol decreaso in the use of luxuries. The doubters took sugor as an example, and declared that it would be practicolly inpossible to bring our consumption of sugar down to u point tbat would ueet only the food needs of the people.

Now that demands upoa ocean tonaage will he lightened, Europeon nations will be able to go farther afield for foodstuffs, and will no longer be eatirely dependent for sugar upou North American supplies. With tha stocks now in prospect, we will hava sufficient sugar to place this couutry back upon normal consumption if the present short rations in Europe are not materially increased. If the European ration is to be materially increased over the present low amount it can he only through the American people's making it possible by continued restriction tn a greater or less extent here.

The fact that the Food Adiuisistration has been able to relox the voluutary sugar ration is in itself proof that tha ration of two pounds per person per month was generally observed throughoul the country. This conservatiou allowed the Food Administration to build up a reserve, and to tide nver the period of scarcity, until the the new crops of Louisiana caue and beet sugar were ready for distrihutioa.

The records of the Food Administration show thal in July, August, Septemher and October 995,000 tous were distributed. Normal consumptios for that period is 1,600,000 tons. This shows a definite, concrete saving of nver 500,000 tous. These figures apply to sugar consumed on the toble, la the kitchen and in the various industries, and show conclusively that in tha homes and public eating places of America, where 70 per cent. of all our sugar is consumed, the eugar consumption has been reduced by mora tban one-ibird.

In the four-month period beginniag with July, this country normally uses 400,000 tons of sugar per month. Last July 260,000 tone entered into distribution. In August only 225,000 tons were disiributed. Ia September the figurcs showed 279,000 tons, and then fell to 230,000 tons in October.

There could be no more definite proof that the Auerican people huve given iheir loyal co-operatton und support of the war.

AN AMERICAN HABIT THAT WAS EXPANDED.

Comtng to the relief of the distressed is not a new sensation to us. Having sent shiploads of food to the famine sufferers of India as ofthandedly as the housewife hands out a cut nf the loaf to the wayfarer, it seemed the most natural thing in the world to succor Belgium, to take on the feeding of a natiou quite inforuially.

The test of peace is to summiou for the healing of nations devotion equal to that given the tasks of war.

Save that we may share
Save food

METHODS OF DEMOCRACY.

Tho extent to which the United States Food Administrator bas relied on the voluntory support of the American peopla is shown by a statement made by the United States Food Administrator speaking before the Senate Agricultural Committee less than three months after this country entered the war. That he was justified in his implicit confidence is the strength of democracy has been clearly reflected by the measure of support wa have lent the Allies.

"If democracy is worth anything," Mr. Hoover declared, "we can do these things hy co-operation, by stimulation, by self-sacrifice, by the patriotic mobilization of the brains of this country. If it cannot be done in this manner it is better that wa accept German domination and confess to failure of our political ideals, acquiesce in the superiority of the German conception and send for the Germans to instruct us in his use."

FIRE CAUSES HEAVY LOSS

FOX ISLAND FISH COMPANY THE HEAVIEST LOSER

Loss in Nets Alone Will Reach $12,000—Fire a Spectacular One

Ono of the most disastrous fires that has visited Charlevoix for some years started shortly after five o'clock last Friday evening in the net house formerly owned by G. C. Geikan and about a year ago purchased by the Fox Island Fish Company.

The fire started in the roof of the building near the chimney, and within fifteen minutes the entire structure was a mass of flames. So rapidly did the fire spread and so intense was the heat that the owners of the building were unable to remove thirty boxes of nets piled near the door ready for loading aboard a tug the following morning.

Within twenty minutes after the fire was first discovered the ronf of the building fell in, the high west wind fanning the flames and causing the fire to burn with great intensity.

The flames spread to the east to the galvanized boat house owned by L. S. Rupert, which was quickly but a twisted mass of red-hot iron and at the same time destroying two gasoline launches and a row boat.

A building used for storage purposes by Hamilton & Son, was also destroyed. Housed in this building was a $3,500 gasoline launch owned by Charles Gilbert of the Belvedere resort, also a $500 gasoline launch owned by Mr. Kiefer of the Belvedere.

The fire was a most spectacular one, the high wind carrying large pieces of burning boards and shingles hundreds of feet in the air and south and east onto resort dwellings on the grounds of the Belvedere. It is quite safe to say that had it not been snowing during the progress of the fire, many buildings in the Belvedere resort would probably have been destroyed, entailing a loss that would be hard to estimate.

An estimate of the loss by fire is not far from the following figures:

Fox Island Fish Co., nets $12,000, building, $3,000. Some insurance carried.

Charles Gilbert, gasoline launch, original cost $3,500.

Mr. Kiefer, gasoline launch, $500.

L. S. Rupert, 2 gasoline launches, one valued at $1,000 and the other at $150; row boat, $20.00.

Hamilton & Son, building, canvas, fixtures, tackle, etc., estimated at near $700.

A majority of each individual fire loss was covered by insurance.

DOUBLE SURPRISE AT DUTCHER HOME

Friends Make Merry and Enjoy Occasion Greatly

Monday afternoon, November 25, when Mrs. Ada Dutcher returned home from Ladies' Ald meeting, she found a well-planned surprise awaiting her.

About twenty of her lady friends had gathered to remind her that birthdays come to all, and that she had not escaped. A bountiful lunch was served at 4:30.

Scarcely had this party broken up when another one consisting of Mrs. Dutcher's Sunday school class, and their husbands came to give her daughter, Florence, a farewell reception, before leaving the next day to make her home in Peoria, Illinois.

Again refreshments were served after which the remainder of the evening was spent in music and games. Upon returning home, all wished Mrs. Dutcher many more happy birthdays, and Miss Florence much joy and happiness in her newly wedded life.

SUGAR CARDS NOW WAR RELICS

FOUR POUND LIMIT STILL IN EFFECT, HOWEVER

People Expectad to Voluntarily Ration Themselvas and Not Exceed Four Pound Limit

The sugar card is now a relic of the war and will remain so if the people will only use a little judgment in the use of sugar and live up strictly to the rules laid down by the Federal Food Administration says A. A. Swinton, chairman of the County Food Conservation committee. Retailers' and wholesalers' certificates were also annulled.

"The annullment of sugar certificates and sugar cards does not mean that people are to waste sugar or use it extravagantly," says Mr. Swinton. "All persons are expected to voluntarily ration themselves and not exceed the quota of four pounds of sugar a month for each person. In other words the people are put upon their honor to conserve sugar and keep in mind that we must provide sugar for the allies who have so nobly stood by us in the war and that millions in Europe will be denied sugar if we plunge into an orgy of extravagance.

"I believe the people will keep faith with the food administration and ration themselves as rigidly as though the card system still obtained.

"Beginning with December first, sugar may be purchased in any quantity the same as before the war, but it should be borne in mind that purchases should be based upon the rationing of four pounds for each person per month in order to show those in need on the other side of the Atlantic that it is not necessary to place us under legal restrictions in order that their necessary requirements may be supplied."

NEED MANY ACTIVE WORKERS

SHOULD BE NO LET UP IN RED CROSS WORK

Local Work Committees Appointed at Tuesday's Meeting—Donors of the Week

"That there will be an appealing cry of humanity from all over ths world no one can doubt," said Henry Davidson, chairman of the wsr council of the American Red Cross, who has just returned from a threo month's trip in Europe. The needs of France, Belgium, Italy, Russia and the Balkans will not terminate with the formal declaration of peacs. A hard winter is ahead. Expoaurs and the hardship of war and the dislocated industrial conditions of the world have produced hunger, want and disease.

There will be such distress in the world, that it cannot be met by voluntary organizations. Governments themselves must bear the chief burden, and I am confidsnt that cooperation between the governments may be relied upon in an endeavor to meet this wholesale work of relief which will be needed.

In addition to this, there will, however, be the necessity and opportunity for supplementary work which Red Cross organizations througbout the world can do, should do, and must do. Certainly the women of America, working through the Red Cross chapters, and the women in other countries able to do similar work, will find their hearts dictating more than their hands can do. I suppose no woman will think of relaxing activity, her endeavor to meet the calls for supplies of whatever character as issued from Red Cross headquarters at Washington, until a comprehensive and definite program may be worked out.."

Whatever plans may be developed by governments, whatever calls may be mads upon ths Red Crosa organizations of the world to supplement the work of the governments, it is clear that the Charlsvoix auxiliary of tho American Red Cross must be kept strong and efficient that it may do its share in full measure. Therefore a meeting of its officers was held at the Red Cross rooms Tuesday afternoon, at which time the chairman, Mrs. E. E. Cross, made the following appointments:

Work Committee—Mrs. R. F. Sloan, chairman.

Knitting Committee—Mrs. Maud Eagleton, chairman.

Nurses Survey—Mrs. R. B. Armstrong, chairman.

Junior Red Cross—Miss Anna Lombard, chairman.

Belgian Relief—Mrs. H. Nicholls, chairman.

Purchasing—Mrs. R. F. Sloan and Mrs. E. E. Cross.

Civilian Relief—H. L. Oldham, chairman.

Membership Committee—Mrs. J. L. Crane, chairman.

The donors for the week are: Mrs. Sarah Emrey and Mrs. Maude Eagleton, besides a splendid lot of work turned in by the Barnard branch.

The rooms will be open every afternoon from Monday to Saturday, inclusive. All are invited and all welcome. Much work is to be done and therefore we need many, many workers.—Mrs. C. G. Cooper, Secretary.

RUN OVER BY FREIGHT TRAIN

Durell Horton Killed Tuesday Afternoon by P. M. Train.

Durell Horton, workman nt the Portland Cement company plant east of Bay Shore, was run over and literally ground to pieces by a local Pere Marquette freight Tuesday afternoon of last week, about a mile west of Petoskey. Horton was stone deaf and was walking on the track. The train was going down a heavy grade at a rapid speed.

The man was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Durell U. Horton of Petoskey, and was an employe of the cement company.

In speaking of the salary paid Secretary McAdoo the fact is brought out that the president of the New York Federal Reserve bank receives a salary of $35,000 a year. And thia is the administration that made so much noise about abolishing the high salaries of railway executives.

Mine Dear Son:

Your ledder almost cracked der heart of your Fodder. I don't blame you mine son for not vanting to associate mit uder ignorant Americans vot know so little about var. You know dey haf had so little experience in var dot dey don't know vat real var is. I vonted von Hindenburg to show dem, but he gets smart too. He says dey are too rough and too reckless mit der machine guns. But, mine son, for vat did you leaf dem machine guns and dings behind vot took your fodder forty years to build? Vot you mean? Oh, mine son, try and get ovsr der homesickness before dose rudo Americans, like dot big duffer from dot place dey call Atwood, in dot state dey call Michigan, vot say, "To Hell Mit Der Kaisar," followa you cloar bome. I am afraid dey will not stop on der outside, but come right in on der royal mats; dots vot make ms very angry. Don't let so many cannons und machine guns und all dem dings behind, for I may come out of dis var all right and vant to haf a nodder vun. Maybe I die und go to my revard. You vill vant to hafe a var of your own. You must stop vasting your toys und play dings dat vay. Ve may neffer see anodder Christmas llks dis vun.

Und you say you need der breast blates for der back in your letter. Dat showa der Americans don't know vot der breast blates are for. It is not good military etiquet for dem to shoot ven der blates are on der oblisite side. Vot you tink? I am sending you some ear mufflers so you can't hear dem fool Americans play der "Star Spangled Banner," on dem blatcs mit machine guns.

It is foolish, mine son, to ask for dem speeches at dis time. I tried der same ding der odder day. Prince Max. sent vun of mine speeches to der Bresident Vilson, und dem ill mannered Yankees just keep on coming vile der bresidcnt reads der speech. Did you efer hear of such a ding. Und right last veek efery body, efen der vash vimmens und der cribbies vot sells papers in der streets in der United States are lending to der Liberty Loan right vile der bresident reads der sbeech. Vot you tink of dot?

Dese Americans are like a calf I heard 'bout. Listen und I vill tell you just how der Americans are. A man had a dear calf und de mama cow died, so der man had to coax und peg und do all such dings to get der calf to drink der mllg from dec wooden pucket; see? Vell, finally der calf did geta its hed in dere pucket, und it juat vodn't stop, so der man had to call his vife to come und get hold of der calf's tail, und ahe pulled, und pulled some more, till at last der calf vas made to take its head out der pucket. Now ve got desc Americans in dis var, who ve goin' to get to pull 'em out? But vot der tefil ve goin' to do? No voa vants to get a tail holt on der Uncle Sam like dle voman did dat pulled der calf's head out der bucket.

Oh, I deil you dis is a cranky vorld, mine poy. If der blamed beoblevood do yust my vay efery ding vood pe all right vvid me. I half talked to Gott 'pout mine troubles till he von't listen any more. I guess I vil half to go to der tefil, and efen he may haf heard some bad dings about me.

LAST BEER MADE SATURDAY NIGHT

President Wilson's Proclamation is Now In Effact

Brewing of beer and other malt beverages stopped at midnight Saturday throughout tha United States. Ths special presidsntial committee wbich recommended the presidential proclamation prohibiting brewing as a war conservation measure, decided to make no recommendation to President Wilson on suggestions that the proclamation should be rescinded in view of the armistice.

Sufficient petitions to assure ths submission of an amendment to the state constitution legalizing sale of beer and light wines have been filad with the secretary of state by the Michigan State Hotel Men's association.

While the law requires approximately 44,000 signatures for the initiation of a constitutional amendment, the petitions contained approximately 150,000 names.

The beer and wine amendment will be submitted at the general state election next April. Michigan women, who register as qualified electors, will have an opportunity to vote on the amendment.

NOTED EDUCATOR DIES AT LANSING

FORMER SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

H. R. Pattengill One of the Best Known Educators in State—Editor Moderator Topics

Charlevoix people identified with the public school system will probably learn with the deepest regret of the death in Lansing November 26 of Henry R. Pattengill, who is said to have known and to be known to more school teachers in the state of Michigan than any one man. He was one of the best known educators in the state and had many warm personal friends in every practically every county.

He was almost as well known in the upper peninsula as in the lower Michigan, and he was a frequent visitor to Charlevoix, both during his term as state superintendent of public instruction and in later years, as speaker at county institutes and meetings of educational institutions. His last visit to Charlevoix was during the county fair last October, when he addressed a large audience at East Jordan.

Mr. Pattengill served as superintendent of public instruction from 1892 to 1896, and it was during this period that he built up his extensive acquaintance among the teachers of the state.

He was a graduate of the University of Michigan in 1874, taking up teaching as a profession. He was superintendent of schools at Ithaca and St. Louis and for a few years previous to 1885 be was professor of English at the Michigan Agricultural college. In 1885 he established the Moderator Topics, a weekly school paper, which has circulated extensively among teachers. He continued his connection with it throughout his term as a state official and during the latter part of his life and was its editor at the time of bis death.

DECEMBER TERM OF COURT OPENS

JUDGE CHESTER OF HILLSDALE ON BENCH

Jury Discharged Tuesday Forenoon and Majority of Cases on Calendar Put Over

The regular December term of circuit court opened Mnnday morning at the court house, Judga Guy M. Chester of Hillsdale, prosiding in place of Judge Mayne, who is in Detroit. On account of train connections, Judge Chester did not arrive in time to hold court on Monday, but was on the job Tuesday morning.

The calendar was an unusually large one, containing 20 criminal cases, 16 issues of fact and law and 11 in chancery.

Tuesday morning sentence was imposed in the case of The Peopis vs. Samuel McClure for statutory rape. McClure was handed the limit of sentence, being given from 5 to 15 years at Jackson, with the recommendation of serving seven and one-half years. The case was one of the most revolting in the history of ths court, and the only criticism we can make is that the limit of sentence is set by law.

On account of but few of the cases being ready for trial, the judge dismissed the jury Tuesday forenoon.

Decrees for divorce were also granted in two cases. Worden vs. Worden and McShea vs. McShea.

A verdict of near $3,000 was given the plaintiff in the case of the Big Rapids Savings Bank vs. the Boyne City Hotel Co.

ALL WAITING FOR WAR TO CEASE

Doughboys Figured Right Along That Boches Were Quitters

LeRoy L. Bancroft wrote his sister, Mrs. Alfred Williams of near Ironton, that the Boches were getting what was coming to them and would soon sue for peace. His predictions came true before he thought they would, and there must have been great rejoicing when the news of the signing of the armistice became generally known. His letter follows:

A. E. F., France.
November 3, 1918.

Dear Brother and Sister,—"I am writing you a few lines to let you know I am all right and hope these few lines find you the same. I have just got back from the front for a while. I have not had a chance to write for some time. I got five letters from Mamie a few days ago and one from Irven and Alta together today, dated September 29, and they both told me about Ralph and Luther both being at Camp Custer, but I think the war is drawing near to an end. The Yankees are not going to give them any rest until they have gotten enough. Some of the nations fighting with Germany have already given up and I think the Boche will soon be ready to give in.

"I am in a little place called Billets. I have not heard from Emary since I have been transferred, so don't know what he is doing and have not got any trace of Mortimer Orvis yet. Well there is not much to write, only it is lonesome here, but the time goes fast, too. Well I will close wishing all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. As ever your brother. LeRoy L. Bancroft, Co. G, 4th U. S. Inf., A. E. F. France.

Doe-wah-jack presents the wonderful Round Oak Double Burner

Burn Cheap Fuel--Then Save One-Third Your Coal

Not only buy soft coal, but order just two-thirds of what the ordinary exclusive soft coal heating stove would consume in a season. You can do this every winter, provided your heating stove is a Round Oak Double Burner. In the face of fuel shortage this heater will burn any kind of combustible material, including hard coal, soft coal, coke, wood, or slack, and it lasts a generation.

Your most careful investigation is invited.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER'S NOTES

Almost every teacher has reported 100 per cent Junior Red Cross in the rural schools. Final checking for all schools comes soon. Central division period for organizing ends December 11th.

Every rural school has been visited by the commissioner, the round of the county being completed the Wednesday preceding Thanksgiving. Visiting of the Boyne Falls schools, county normal work for a week, and then only special trips until the spring schedule. Plenty of office work, but not the continual travel of the fall and spring.

Schools visited during the week were Sudman, Gill, Forest Hill, Springvale, Maple Grove and Undine.

We found splendid little programs in the making in Gill school, Forest Hill and at Undine. It is no doubt true that every school was working on the program plan as indicated in "Helping Uncle Sam." A few of the teachers had added splendid little touches to the government outline.

Miss Muriel Kerry of Undine introduced a new feature in evening programs by conducting a series of regular recitations in all grades of work. It was immensely interesting and every pupil was present. Parents crowded the room and many said it was the largest crowd ever gathered in the school house. We may be sure that the visiting evening proved valuable and fathers were glad to be able to attend with the mothers. Following the recitation work the patriotic program was rendered with its many pleasant little surprises and was voted one of the most successful in years. Forty thrift stamps were sold and money raised for Junior Red Cross.

Splendid reports on Wednesday's program have reached this office concerning the success of undertaking in Ranney school, in Knop school, and in Star district. The Ranney school raised money for hot noon lunches. Knop school had a social in combination and Lewis Behling, returned from Camp Custer, talked to the assembled guests. The Star district raised money for general purposes and sold boxes for thirty dollars, all of which is to be refunded in thrift stamps. Other schools not heard from except in a general way. It was surely a big night.

The Chaddock school postponed its Wednesday night program to Friday night. Money was raised for the Junior Red Cross. A splendid program of primary grade stories, numbers from "Helping Uncle Sam" and groups of songs, was rendered. Miss Metcalf may well be proud of her boys and girls.

Springvale school has an Ever Busy Club, organized prior to the Junior Red Cross but greatly supplementing its work. Miss O'Donnel says that she changes the duties of each pupil each week so as to avoid monotony, but at the time the commissioner visited her, the following line-up was on the board:

Clean eraser, Harold.
Keep porch clean, Etta.
Keep papers off floor, Preston.
Dust and keep fires, Hazel.
Fill the tank, Mark.
Sweep floor, Gladys.
Clean library, Lawrence.
Keep table and book-esse orderly, Mary.
Clean basement, Elizabeth and Foster.
Ventilation, teacher.

Wonder if the passerby would know by the schoolgrounds and porch that there was system and pep within? Just a little sample of rural schoolhouse-keeping, but it surely is worth while. Miss O'Donnell is doing some splendid work in Springvale and her truancy reports come in week after week with the simple message—"Perfect attendance.

All of the directors did not remember to order the chart, but now that they have come, we have yet to learn of the school board that is not in the market for one of these splendid bargains.

Best W. S. S. report during the past week is that of the Walker school of Eveline township.

EVELINE

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Clark were at Breezy Point for Thanksgiving dinner.

Walter Cooper went to Petoskey Monday to have his tonsils removed. He is home again and getting along very well.

Frank Bearss and family and Russell Thomas and family ate Thanksgiving dinner at the Frank Greenman home.

If you have not donated toward the United War Fund, make your contribution through the school district war committee headed by John Nasson. We have a certain quota to raise. Don't be a slacker.

The Farmers' club met Friday evening. New officers were elected and a pie social indulged in. Wallace Kemp was elected president, Joe Clark, vice-president, Walter Cooper, secretary, Robert Sherman, treasurer and Benjamin Clark, marshall. The next meeting will occur December 20.

Judging from the alacrity with which American soldiers and sailors chase the red flag flappers up and down the alleys every time they make an appearance, the prospect of forming bolshevik soldiers and workmen's councils is not quite as good here as it is in Russia

WHY WILL NOT CONGRESS PROTEST

A few days after the signing of Germany's terms of surrender, a gas mask factory employing ten thousand people suddenly ceased operations in New York City, throwing every employee out of work. Many of those employed, it was stated, were women relatives of men in the service. A meeting of manufacturers in the locality was called by the management of this plant with a view to placing, if possible, part of these people in other factories. No other arrangements had been made for readjustment.

The day this happened Secretary Daniels' paper, the Raleigh News and Observer, was carrying a half page advertisement of the United States Employment Service calling for twelve thousand skilled and unskilled construction workers for work at the cantonment being built at Fayetteville, N. C. A few days later advertisements appeared in the same paper for labor agents to scour the country for carpenters and laborers to work on this same construction enterprise,—rendered entirely senseless by the close of the war. This advertising is still going on, despite the frequent public announcements of Secretary Wnr Baker that he is stopping useless expenditures.

A week after the war ended,—for the war ended when Germany surrendered under the terms of an arrangement dubbed "armistice" by those who falsify through the use of phrases,—a contract was let for the construction of roads nt this same Fayetteville cantonment calling for the expenditure of $2,500,000. The tract of land occupied by this proposed cantonment was formerly a game preserve; only seven per cent of it is under cultivation; the price at which most of the land was last sold was a dollar an acre. The total value of the tract is certainly not over a quarter of a million dollars, yet ten times that amount of money is to be spent in roads to thread it, although the tract does not belong to the United States, but is merely under lease at a dollar per acre per year, with the statement made before the Senate Military Affairs committee that there will be big damages to pay on account of the disturbance of crops. At any rate the newspapers announced recently that the Senate Military Affairs committee had decided against buying the tract, which was offered at ten dollars an acre. Fayetteville dispatches, however, state that government agents were last week engaged in buying the land.

It is very evident that this money is being shoveled out merely for the pleasure of spending it, or by way of favor to the locality affected. There is certainly no military purpose in the continuance of this project, for the government already has cantonment accommodations for a million and three quarters of men. The money is being recklessly spent in a state in which three per cent of the population bought bonds in the Fourth Liberty loan campaign, though it was mostly collected in states like Pennsylvania, New York and Illinois where twenty-five per cent of the people bought bonds. But the waste will not benefit the people of North Carolina as much as it will injure them. What is Congress going to do about this? Will it continue to make appropriations without lifting a voice in protest against the frightful waste that is now going on? The money might as well be dumped in the Atlantic ocean. Industrial plants which abandoned their ordinary activities to come to the aid of the national government are having their contracts cancelled and output curtailed without arrangements, in many cases, for readjustment, but scores of millions are being expended on such projects as this Fayetteville cantonment,—and the case is typical, merely as a manifestation of the spoils system.

What, if anything, is Congress going to do about this?

STRANGE IS RIGHT

It is strange that a newspaper man should be compelled to solicit advertising or offer argument for its use, remarks a man who knows what he is talking about. Funny, isn't it, that the man who thinks he is a business man, will get up in the morning from an advertised mattress, shave with an advertised razor, take off advertised pajamas and put on advertised underwear, advertised hose and shirt, tie, advertised suit, sit himself at the table and eat advertised breakfast food, drink advertised coffee or substitute, put on an advertised hat, light an advertised cigar, go to his place of business, where he turns down the advertising solicitor or salesman for his home newspaper on the grounds that advertising does not pay.

The Civil Service commission reccommends that all collectors of internal revenue and their deputies, collectors of ports, surveyors of ports and postmasters of all classes should be blanketed into the classified service. In view of the fnct that all of these officinls are now Democrats no reason is apparent why this cannot be done without interfering with the work of saving the world, and especially all the public jobs, for Democracy.

It will be recalled that after the Liberty motor was invented it was discovered that it took castor oil to lubricate it; that a ship wns thereupon sent to India to collect seed to plant ground to raise beans to make oil to lubricate the machine. We now have enough castor oil to float a battleship, and we suggest that in the absence of any better use for the stuff it be administered to the gentlemen who engineered our aircraft program.

The publication of the government Blue Book, ecntaining a list of federal offiices and salaries, has been discontinued. Probably it would be impossible to assemble enough paper for this job, but if the list were printed after six years of thnt simplicity and economy befitting a democratic government, the result would stagger humanity.

The Grand Duchess of Luxemburg, after bidding the Germans good-bye, welcomed the American troops. The Grand Duchess is like the Democratic party; she has a new platform to meet every emergency.

It is now divulged that we are expected to pay France rent for the ground overrun by our troops over there. And our boys went right ahead regardless of expense.

Is Henry Ford going to throw in a subscription to his new weekly with every flivver, or a flivver with every new subscription?

THEATRICAL

America's Answer

While the people of America have seen and heard of what the Yanks have been doing in the trenches and on the front firing lines, a screen vizualization of what is going on back of the lines overseas is to be seen first in "America's Answer," the second big official government war film which is now being shown throughout Michigan by the Michigan War Preparedness Board and which will be seen at the Majestic theatre, here, December 14 and 15.

Billions of dollars were spent by the United States government in the backing up of General Pershing's men in transportation, ammunition, guns, and a score of things of which the non-army public has but little conception. Before the Yanks cut loose on their own hook, as the First American army, and started the rush on the Hun which finally drove him out of Belgium, arrangements to back up every move he made had been completed. All of these non-fighting, and yet of great importance to the fighting, units are clearly shown in "America's Answer," and no one should miss seeing the film portrayal of the real mechanical sinews of war, irrespective of the human beings who actually do the fighting.

As was the case with "Pershing's Crusaders," the big film now being shown is exhibited throughout Michigan entirely for the dependents' fund of the War Preparedness Board which supplements the government pay and insurance allottments where they are insufficient. Several thousand dollars a month are now coming out of this fund.

FREE FARE BILL MAY YET CARRY

Cong. Scott Would Give Soldiers Rail Transportation

Free transportation for men in the service when on a furlough to go home is proposed in a bill introduced by Congressman Frank Scott, of Alpena, in the house of representatives and referred to the military affairs committee.

The bill itself was not considered as having sufficient merit at the time it was introduced, but today feeling seems to have been crystalized in favor of the proposition.

When Mr. Scott introduced the bill, he told a story of one of his constituents who was called home by the illness of his mother, but was delayed until after she had died because he did not have the necessary funds to carry him to Michigan. However, the boys in his company "chipped in" and gave him money. But this cnme too late.

Insistent that such a law is neecssary, Mr. Scott has incessantly talked nbout the proposed law and solicited its support from individual congressmen. Rep. P. H. Kelley, of the sixth Michigan district, told today that he at first took the matter lightly, but now is convinced that such a law will be all right. "There must be several boys in many camps wanting furloughs to visit sick relatives, or even if they are granted a furlough for their own pleasure, the government ought to see that they do not have to spend four or five months' salary to see the folks back home," declared Mr. Kelley.

LEONARD HERRINGTON RECEIVES SLIGHT WOUND

Also Has Slight Attack of the Flu—Hopes to be Home by Christmas

France, October 19, 1918.

Dear Ones All:—"I will try and answer your last letter, received about two weeks ago, while I was at the front. I wrote you a few lines about eight days ago, stating that I was at the hospital slightly wounded. I am now at a different hospital and my wound has practically vanished. Am feeling fairly good considering the climate and other conditions. I suppose you would like to know how I was wounded. It was done by a machine gun bullet striking the rim of my steel helmet and knocking it down against my forehead, which cut my head a little and bruised it, also causing my eyes to swell partly shut for a few days.

"Yes, as you say, the Germans are getting beaten on all fronts lately and I guess they want peace pretty bad. Their soldiers are getting so tired of the fight that they are all looking for a chance to be taken prisoners as fast as they can. Great numbers of them are dropping their arms every day and putting up their hands and hollering 'American, Kamrade.'

"Well, mother, you asked me if I ever prayed to God to save me in the next world. Indeed I do and have for several years, but in secret, not to be seen or heard by man. He has saved my life so far and I trust He will continue to do so. It has now been thirteen months since I stepped in your door. I surely hope it won't be that much longer. Just think, about eight months of that time has been spent in lonely France, five months of it on or near the firing line, and over the top several times. Just a short time ago you were surprised to hear of me being at the front. I suppose I should have told you long before I did, but was afraid you would worry about me more than you have.

"I bet you were glad to get the huckleberries from the folks on the upper peninsula. I know I would be tickled if I had them here, although I have been buying fruit jams lately that came from the states, such as blackberry, pineapple, grapes, currants, plums and peaches. Believe me, it goes pretty good, but oh how I would like a few feeds of mothers' cooking again. There is none superior and few equals.

"So they have improved the roads some between our place and Central Lake. You are right when you say it would be a pleasure to me to ride over them as they were in 1917. It would be a pleasure to me to ride or even walk over the worst road in the U. S. A. in a hailstorm at midnight, with a pack and rifle on my back. I have learned to be a pack mule since I have been in France. If I ever get back, don't expect any more hard work of me because I have seen my share of hard service. There is an easy living awaiting me and much pleasure also. Now please don't think I am disabled because I am not. So let us pray and hope that the better future will soon be present. Will close with good luck to all. P.S. This is October 24 and I will write a little more. I have been on the move the last few days, am now at a replacement camp, expecting to go back with my company soon. I expect when I get there, there will be some mail and pay awaiting me. I am sure of the pay and in hopes of the mail. Your loving son, Leonard.

November 5, 1918.

Dear Folks at Home:—"I will write you a few lines to let you know I am still alive and feeling pretty good. Have been sick since I wrote the other letter about a week or ten days ago.

"I haven't been back with my company yet as I expected to on account of my sickness. I had the 'flu' and when the fever broke I felt weak and had a cough, so was sent to another hospital.

"We have been having a few nice bright days lately with a few rainy ones mixed in. These fall days make me think of when I used to be at home and going rabbit and partridge hunting and killing once in a while a squirrel or two. I wish those days were present now and I believe they will be before long.

"I haven't been paid for about two months, so am saving my spending money. Now if this war ceases I will have my allottment, discontinued so I can have some spending money to use on my way home.

"Well this is all I can think of now so will close by sending my best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Also a big turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner. I would like to be home for Christmas dinner awfully well, but don't hardly expect to. I wish you all good luck hoping this finds you all well and happy. As ever your son, Pvt. Leonard O. Herrington, Co. B, 125th U.S. Inf., American E. F., Somewhere in France, A. P. O. 734.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU MEETING

Scheduled to be Held at Bellaire, December 20

Annual meeting of Antrim County Farm Bureau at Bellaire December 20, 10 a.m. Every farmer in Antrim county should be present at the annual meeting of the farm bureau. The election of officers will take place at this time and a program of work to benefit all agricultural interests of the county will be laid out at this time.

Every county in the state and most all counties in the United States are organizing farm bureaus to advance the interests of the farmers and to organize a movement which will be heard by our law making bodies as well as directing some of the agricultural bodies in the states. Every other business has an organization which looks out for the interests which they represent and why not the farming interests.

Remember the date, December 20, 10 o'clock a.m. at the Court House. A. B. Large, President.

The question of who won the war now being up for decision, we nominate W. J. Bryan, who did it by resigning in time.

HAVE YOU A BAD BACK?

If You Have, the Statement of this Charlevoix Resident Will Interest You.

Does your backache night and day;
Hinder work; destroy your rest?
Does it stab you through and through
When you stoop, lift or bend.
Then your kidneys may be weak.
Often backache is the clue.
Just to give you further proof,
The kidney action may be wrong.
If attention is not paid
More distress will soon appear.
Headache, dizzy spells and nerves,
Uric acid and its ills
Make the burden worse and worse.
Liniments and plasters can't
Reach the inward cause of all;
Help the kidneys—use the pills
Charlevoix folks have tried and proved.
What they say you can believe.
Read this Charlevoix woman's account. See her, ask her, if you doubt.

Mrs. Jennie Smith, 1206 Bridge St., says: "My kidneys acted irregularly and my back got so lame I could hardly get about to do my housework. Finally I had to take to my bed, where I remained several days, absolutely helpless; I couldn't even turn over. I felt miserable and was in a terrible condition before I began to take Doan's Kidney Pills. They brought relief the first and continued use cured me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Smith had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

JOHN VISSCHER PNEUMONIA VICTIM

Succumbs to Dreaded Disease After Short Illness

John Visscher was born in Newaygo county, Michigan, September 27, 1886, and died at his home on his farm one and one-half miles of Ellsworth at 4 p.m. November 27 after a short illness, his death being caused by pneumonia following influenza.

Mr. Visscher came to Ellsworth in 1912 and settled on the farm where he died. He was married to Fannie Jansen July 13, 1914, and to this union were born two children, Engbert, age 4 years and Thelma, aged 8 months.

Mr. Visscher's parents are both living as are his four brothers and five sisters at Reeman, Michigan, and it was to his old home at Reeman that his body was taken, the funeral being held there and the remains being laid at rest in the family lot Saturday November 30.

Deceased was a loving husband and father, a kind friend and neighbor and an industrious, energetic citizen. The broken hearted widow and the fatherless children are extended the deepest sympathy of the entire community.

MUST NO LONGER PICK UP PENNIES

New Post Office Ruling Gives Carriers Some Protection

Postmaster Clow is in receipt of a communication from the Post Office department at Washington which deals with the stamp proposition on rural routes. It is to the effect that rural carriers must no longer pick up pennies which are placed loose in mail boxes.

This habit has so grown on patrons of this route the same as others that at last carriers all over the country have protested so hard that the department has passed the aforesaid ruling.

Our rural carrier wishes it announced that he carries at all times a supply of stamps and stamped envelopes and begs the patrons to either purchase their stamps or else place the money in an envelope and pin it to the mail to be stamped.

This is the Stove Polish
YOU Should Use
IT'S different from others because more care is taken in the making and the materials used are of higher grade.
Black Silk Stove Polish
Makes a brilliant, silky polish that does not rub off or dust off, and the shine lasts four times as long as ordinary stove polish. Used on sample stoves and sold by hardware and grocery dealers.
All we ask is a trial. Use it on your cook stove, your parlor stove or your gas range. If you don't find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. Insist on Black Silk Stove Polish.
Made in liquid or paste—one quality.
Black Silk Stove Polish Works
Sterling, Illinois
Use Black Silk Air-Drying Iron Enamel on grates, registers, stove-pipes—Prevents rusting. Use Black Silk Metal Polish for silver, nickel or brass. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

ELLSWORTH BOY HIGHLY HONORED

Prasanted With D. S. C. at Camp Beauragard, Novambar 23

Although Louisiana is a large state the honor of presentation of the first Distinguished Service Cross was made there recently and strangely enough an Ellsworth, Michigan, boy, Sgt. W. L. Chelles, was the one upon whom the honor was conferred. In a letter received last week by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Chelles, Sgt. Chelles has this to say in regard to the presentation.

"General Means presented me with my D. S. C. last Saturday, November 23, before the entire 17th division. Following the ceremony I mounted a horse, rode up beside the general where I remained while the entire division passed in review. The entire stunt was pulled off for me and I was told that it was the first D. S. C. ever presented in the state."

Wren is well and happy but has no idea how long he will remain at Camp Beauregard.

MILES DISTRICT.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bechtolt expect to move to Harbor Springs to make their future home.

Lloyd Purvis of East Jordan, is visiting at the home of his cousin, Mrs. L. O. Isaman.

The hay balers are baling hay for Clevo Isaman near Enst Jordan. Elmer Fowler is helping them.

ELLSWORTH SCHOOL NOTES

A union chapel was held in the high school room Wednesday, November 27. The following program was given:

Reading of the Thanksgiving Psalm, Mrs. Patterson. The President's Proclamation, Miss Lowr.

Song, Intermediate Room.

Thanksgiving Menu, Primary room.

Recitation, Henry Ruis.

The Inquisitive Children, Intermediate room.

The Landing of the Pilgrims, John Chellis.

The Return of the Mayflower, Fred Hillman.

The Whistle Song, Primary room.

Address, D. E. Clow.

Song, "America," School.

School attendance is the best it has been since the beginning of the school year. The fall work is finished, health conditions are much improved and nearly every pupil is back on duty.

Eng. I have taken up the first principles of composition.

The fifth grade have begun to learn Christmas poems.

Red Cross Thanksgiving posters made by the third grade did their share towards decorating the walls of the primary room.

The sixth grade have drawn some fine maps of North America, showing the prevailing claims of France, England and Spain in the 16th century.

The modern history class is studying Germany and Italy in the feudal age.

The study of music has been added to our school curriculum.

The teachers have secured the use of the unfinished room in the schoolhouse from the school board for a play room and gymnasium. The pupils of the school appreciate this act of the board very much as it gives them a comfortable place for recreation.

Rena Best visited in all rooms on Wednesday.

Thanksgiving pigs made by the first grade caused much merriment among the children.

An effort is being made to make the Ellsworth school 100 per cent Red Cross by Christmas.

The fourth grade have learned "The Children's Hour."

Map drawing in the 7th grade is creating a great interest in geography.

The Thanksgiving vegetable boys and girls, which appeared upon the blackboard in Miss Lowr's room Tuesday morning, were the source of much fun.

The class in 8th grade history have taken up the study of the "Wars with the French."

Appropriate exercises are being planned for Friday, which has been designated as "Food Day in the Schools of America."

We hope that all members of the Ellsworth school will respond to the Red Cross Christmas Roll Call.

Maybe it was Henry Ford's defeat for senator in Michigan that got the boys out of the trenches by Christmas.

In our first advertisement of the BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY, last week, appearing in this newspaper, we drew your attention to a wonderful opportunity presented to you in the offer of BOSTON-KENTUCKY Treasury shares at ten cents par share.

WE CALLED YOUR ATTENTION to the large acreage of the BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY comprising 1350 acres in Rowan county, adjoining the Ragland Pool, and 960 acres in Clay county, Kentucky, all carefully selected territory—and what is of prime importance to you—ALL BOUGHT AND PAID FOR and carrying.

NO LEASES NO RENTALS AND NO ROYALTIES

The BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY will pay no tribute to anyone for the privilege of spending its shareholders' money for the development of oil lands not belonging to it. The BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY will use its shareholders' funds to develop lands in which each shareholder has an interest in proportion to his stock-holdings and produced will be utilized for dividends and for the expansion of the drilling and development program.

IMPORTANT NEWS FROM KENTUCKY

During September, 1918, a total of 232 new wells was completed of which 202 wells are commercially productive, indicating a successful completion of 87 per cent. This is a remarkable accomplishment and compares favorably with the most prolific districts in the world. On October 25 last, 518 new wells were in process of drilling. For the week ending October 12, the Cumberland Pipe Line delivered to refineries 88,236 barrels of crude petroleum, or an average daily run of 12,002 barrels, each barrel of which was worth $2.00. Indications point to the production of Kentucky for the year 1918 exceeding FIVE MILLION BARRELS, a marked increase over the year 1917, and the value of the 1918 production will exceed

THIRTEEN MILLION DOLLARS

We gave notice in our last week's advertisement that the price of BOSTON-KENTUCKY Treasury shares would advance to fifteen cents. THE PRICE HAS ADVANCED, exactly in accordance with our announcement and we now offer the second allotment of BOSTON-KENTUCKY Treasury Shares at FIFTEEN CENTS PER SHARE. To those who did not grasp the opportunity offered last week at Ten Cents we say which in all probability will appear in our next week's advertisement. Send your orders in at once. You may wire your reservations at our expense, but act quickly. Remember that our acreage is unusually large and that our capitalization is unusually small.

DO NOT WAIT FOR THE NEXT ADVANCE

MERILEES ENTERTAINERS ARE WELL WORTH HEARING

Give Delightful Program of Songs and Readings—Ticket Sale Next Monday

The Merilees Entertainers, a young ladies' quartet will appear here on the Lyceum course Wednesday evening, December 11, at the Opera House and those who know about this company say that the Merilees give a varied and delightful program of songs and readings which will be a distinct entertainment treat.

The entertainment opens with the four charming and vivacious Merilees in Japanese costume and carrying Japanese parasols and fans. They give a twenty minute musical sketch filled with good music and sparkling humor.

Then comes a Colonial sketch in appropriate costume followed by a ten minute portrayal of the pastimes of Holland presented by this same charming quartette in the garb of the Dutch youths including the regulation wooden shoes.

In addition to these interesting features the Merilees give during the evening a popular concert in evening dress; quartets, duets and solos, with one of their number in lively readings.

The Merilees have had a most successful Lyceum record. They have also proved themselves to be capital Chautauqua entertainers, having gone over one of the important Redpath-Chautauqua circuits, and when they come here everyone may be sure that they will give a unique and compelling entertainment.

ATWOOD

Winter has set in and if the Saturday storm wasn't genuine we'd like to see one.

Word was received by his parents that Laverne Harwood sprained his ankle and was in a hospital in France recovering from his injury.

The game rabbit supper served in the Town Hall Thanksgiving evening was well attended. Everyone enjoyed the supper prepared by Fred Ladue, our veteran cook. Net proceeds $21.00.

Wish we were living near Central Lake or near there. With a climate balmer than California or Florida (according to newspapers printed there.) It must reach perfection.

Maurice Henry will remain in the employ of J. H. Smith, managing his farm here for another year.

H. Klooster will make a business trip to Detroit, Holland and other towns in southern Michigan this week.

Hiram Hofman had his household goods moved to Boyne City last week. A. B. Sneller made two trips for him with his truck.

Burton Blow from Winnetka, Ill., spent a short time looking up friends in Atwood last week.

Mrs. John Koster and son, Miner, are visiting relatives at Jamestown and Muskegon at this writing.

Gerret Essenberg purchased a tract of wood timber of John D. Smallegan on the Indian Garden ranch. He figures on cutting it this winter.

A great many cases of influenza are prevalent in the Maple Hill district according to reports.

Miss Etta Poll is at present employed at the John Koster home during the absence of Mrs. Koster.

ADVICE TO "FLU" CONVALESCENTS

SPAIN AND ENGLAND REPORT INCREASE IN TUBERCULOSIS AFTER INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC.

U. S. Public Health Service Warns Public Against Tuberculosis. One Million Cases Tuberculosis in United States—Each a Source of Danger.

Influenza Convalescents Should Have Lungs Examined—Colds Which Hang On Often Beginning of Tuberculosis. No Cause for Alarm if Tuberculosis is Recognized Early—Patent Medicines Not to Be Trusted.

★ Beware tuberculosis after influenza. No need to worry if you take precautions in time.

★ Don't diagnose your own condition. Have your doctor examine your lungs several times at monthly intervals. Build up your strength with right living, good food and plenty of fresh air.

★ Become a fresh-air crank and enjoy life.

Washington, D. C.—(Special.)—According to a report made to the United States Public Health Service, the epidemic of influenza in Spain has already caused an increase in the prevalence and deaths from pulmonary tuberculosis. A similar association between influenza and tuberculosis was recently made by Sir Arthur Newsholme, the chief medical officer of the English public health service, in his analysis of the tuberculosis death rate in England.

In order that the people of the United States may profit by the experience of other countries Surgeon General Rupert Blue of the United States Public Health Service has just issued a warning emphasizing the need of special precautions at the present time. "Experience seems to indicate," says the Surgeon General, "that persons whose resistance has been weakened by an attack of influenza are peculiarly susceptible to tuberculosis. With millions of its people recently affected with influenza this country now offers conditinas favoriag the spread of tuberculosis."

One Million Consumptives in the United States.

"Then you consider this a serious menace?" was asked. "In my opinjou it is, though I hasten to add it is distinctly one against which the people can guard. So far as one can estimate there are at present about one million cases of tuberculosis in the United States. There is unfortunately no complete rensus available to show exactly the number of tuberculosis persons in each state despite the fact that most of the states have made the disease reportable. In New York city, where reporting has been in force for many years, over 35,000 cases of tuberculosis are registered with the Department of Health. Those familiar with the situation believe that the addition of unrecognized and unreported cases would make the number nearer 50,000. The very careful health survey conducted during the past two years in Framingham, Mass., revealed 200 cases of tuberculosis in a population of approximately 15,000. If these proportions hold true for the United States as a whole they would indicate that about one in every hundred persons is tuberculous. Each of these constitutes a source of danger to be guarded against."

What to Do.

In his statement to the public Surgeon General Blue points out how those who have had influenza should protect themselves against tuberculosis. "All who have recovered from influenza," says the Surgeon General, "should have their lungs carefully examined by a competent physician. In fact, it is desirable to have several examinations made a month apart. Such examinations cannot be made through the clothing nor can they be carried out in two or three minutes. If the lungs are found to be free from tuberculosis every effort should be made to keep them so. This can be done by right living, good food and plenty of fresh air."

Danger Signs.

The Surgeon General warned especially against certain danger signs, such as "decline" and "colds which hang on."

These, he explained, were often the beginning of tuberculosis. "If you do not get well promptly, if your cold seems to hang on, or your health and strength decline, remember that these are often the early signs of tuberculosis. Place yourself at once under the care of a competent physician. Tuberculosis is curable in the early stages.

Patent Medicines Dangerous in Tuberculosis.

"Above all do not trust to the misleading statements of unscrupulous patent medicine fakers. There is no specific medicine for the cure of tuberculosis. The money spent on such medicines is thrown away; it should be spent instead for good food and decent living."

CONSIDER THESE PRICES

Prices on goods that draw customers to my store. My sales during the month of November show an increase of almost 100 per cent over any other year that I have been in business. This is due largely on account of the high quality and low prices of my merchandise. For December I intend to make my business show more than one hundred per cent increase over previous years. I am going to sell a greater portion of my immense stock of Men's Fur Coats, Mackinaws, Pants, Overalls, Shirts, Socks, Gloves and Mittens. To make it an inducement for you to buy will make the following prices:

15 Men's Fur and Wind and Water-proof Coats. December prices	$9.00 to $50.00
6 doz. Men's and Boy's Mackinaws. December Prices	4.50 to 15.00
20 doz. Men's and Boy's Heavy Pants. December Prices, per pair	1.00 to 5.50
4 doz. Men's Sweaters. December Prices	1.50 to 8.00
20 doz. Men's Heavy Overalls. December Prices, per pair	1.00 to 2.00
40 doz. Heavy Wool Socks. December Prices, per pair	.50 to 1.00

EXCEPTIONAL OFFER IN WOOL SOCKS

Heavy Wool Socks that cannot be bought on the market today and like those I am selling for $1.00 per pair, I will sell to you after you buy one pair for 75c. You must buy one pair, paying $1.00, before I will give you the second pair for.....75 cents.

MEN'S GLOVES AND MITTENS

I have an unlimited quantity of Men's Gloves and Mittens that I am selling at a lower price than the manufacturers are asking today at wholesale. I bought this stock before the raise in price and will give the people of Charlevoix county the benefit of the big saving. I also have a complete line of Harness, Robes, Blankets, Horse Goods and Remedies such as Sal-Vet, Wool-Fat, Fleck's Powders, Dr. Daniel's Remedies, etc.

This sale will continue during the entire month of December, so your money will purchase the same amount any day you come to the store.

VOLUME 26. NUMBER 50 EIGHT PAGES CHARLEVOIX, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1918 PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

RED "X" DRIVE STARTS MONDAY

EVERY MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD IN CITY

Wanted as a Member—Renewal of Membership Costs Only One Dollar.

On next Monday the big Red Cross drive for membership starts and will continue through the week. It is for new members and renewal of membership, and the cost is $1.00 for the year.

The American Red Cross has a record that needs no words of praise to make it shine the brighter. The Red Cross has done more for the soldiers and sailors, more to alleviate the sufferings of the sick and wounded of our own boys, and the hungry and afflicted of our allies, than words can ever tell.

When we subscribed for bonds and war savings stamps we were helping win the war, but at the same time we were helping our own pocketbooks, but now we have a chance to GIVE, and only those who give, can realize the joys of giving. And the Red Cross is an institution to which we can give and know that every penny will be spent where it will do the most good. Remember—

You are your brother's keeper. You are the Red Cross. The whole world needs you and is listening for the growing volume of your pledge.

In the land where the tooth of war has bitten to the bone, where hitherto America had been only the unmeaning name of something very far away, you have carried healing and courage. Your name, the simple name of the Red Cross, has become a synonym of friendship and the surety of relief.

And to the American soldier you are 'the folks back home." He doesn't want to think that a quarter of you are with him and the rest don't care. He wants to know and wants the world to know, that you are with him—to a man, to a woman, and to a child. That is what puts heart into him and gives him standing in the world.

You have been the watchman in the long nights of this war. Do not desert the watch. Our own two million fighting men are over there waiting for the pledge of your united support. And you have got to look him in the face when he comes home.

Let the answering message that "ALL IS WELL" ring from every corner of this country and the world.

The American soldier has staked his life against every dinbolical form of death. He is just a boy nnd he is human and he is ours, and he wants the "hail from home."

Let us be prompt, EVERYBODY to sound it. Let us stand by till the tattered old flag comes home. As you love the "boy" and the country, make it unanimous.

$7,000 PAID BY STATE SAVINGS BANK

Christmas Saving Club of 1918 Receives Savings.

Checks ranging in amounts from $12.00 to $63.75 nnd nggregating $7,000.00, were mailed December 10 by the Charlevoix State Savings Bank to the members of its 1918 Christmas Savings Club.

With the prevailing high prices of food stuffs and all necessities, together with taxes, etc., to be paid at this season of the yesr, the money just distributed is most welcome to the many members.

The 1919 Club really opens December 18, but in view of the urgent requests of many of the old members, the bank is accepting memberships now and will continue to do so until further announced in these columns. From the interest already shown the officers of the bank predict an even larger club for the coming year. The plan being offered for 1919 is more elaborate than ever before, weekly payments up to $10 being accepted in what is known as the "Accumulating Banking Club." This particular feature should interest business men.

The sure way to have your share next year again is to start with the new club now.

The officers and directors of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank are well pleased as well as the members with the success of the club for the past year.

SUGAR JAR IS CURED BY THE WAR

Hoover Has Goat of Extravagant Usare of Sugar.

Hoover has our goat. The war may cease, pestiferous prohibitions of one sort or another may be removed, and the liberty of ante-bellum days descend upon us, but we will not revert to tha hsbits of sugary extravagance of old. Somehow, when the ban was lifted we remembered the syrupy eoffee we used to drink, and the nectarina flavor we gava to our tea, and wondered how it would seem to pile in the sugar—but we aro not doing it, just the same.

The waiter with the watchful eye reports that patrons are models of parsimony in the matter of sugar, and grocers say that the anticipated rush for sugar has not materialized. The sugar book, in which your name was inscribed each time you bought a pound, has been thrown in the waste basket, but the watchful eye of the retailer prevents unusually copious purchases. In his turn, the grocer is being looked after by the wholesaler, and the wholesaler by the jobber, and profiteering is as much taboo as it was before the lid was off. But so far both consumer and the merchant have been most exemplary, say the food men. The "sugar jag" has not been indulged in.

RURAL SCHOOL LUNCH CLUBS

ORGANIZED IN THREE RURAL SCHOOLS LAST WEEK

Miss Duthrie of East Lansing in Charge of Work Assisted by Couoty Leaders.

Tho Hot Lunch School Clubs for the rural pupils were organized in the schools of Burgess, Ironton and South Arm districts on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

Miss Duthie of East Lansing, had charge of the organization work and was assisted by Commissioner of Schools Mny L. Stewnrt and Mrs. C. F. Smith, Emergency County Club leader. The leaders were taken to the different schools by the county agent, who also took an active part in the organization of these clubs.

At Bay Shore a Manual Training Club was organized.

The Hot Lunch Clubs were organized for the purpose of giving the children of the rural schools an opportunity of getting at least one warm dish for their noon-day meal.

In the organization of these clubs the school is divided into sections, the number of sections depending upon the size of the school. Each section is sub-divided into three parts: One club being "cooks," another "house-keepers," and the third are "bookkeepera" for one week. In this way each club gets a course in cooking, house-keeping and bookkeeping in turn.

This work is in accordance with plans which have been found to be very satisfactory and which a great many schools have adopted. It is felt that the pupil's health will be greatly benefitted by having this warm dish at noon-time, and this alone is sufficient reason to warrant interest in this kind of club work.

County School Commissioner, May L. Stewnrt, is strongly in favor of this work and has given much time and assistance in the organization of the different clubs.

In the near future it is expected that many other schools will organize clubs along this line. The results of this club work will be reported upon next spring when they have the county round-up of schools, which is now being planned.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS NOW IN THE SERVICE

French Observance of Signing of Armistice Not Equal to a Hickville 4th of July Celebration Says Leff Carey —Found a Keg of German Beer.

From Miss Eva Cram.

France, October 18, 1918.

Dear Folks—"We are settled at last in our little abode. It surely does seem good not to be in some one else's home like we have been lately. Our base was just about fixed for us, and no place ever looked so good as these American soldiers and American barracks.

"We are in a beautiful place. The hills are in red, yellow and green. It has been a nice autumn. The scenery was simply beautiful coming up here to the camp from the place where we landed in France.

"France surely has the funniest little cars and engines on their railroads. The cars come in first, second and third apartments, and we drew a second class one, and surely had lots of fun. There are four apartments to a coach and eight of us to each apartment. There are only ten supposed to sit in there and not sleep, so you can imagine the size of the cute little things. The engines have the funniest little whistles. They sound like a cat that has had its tail stepped on, and look about like the ones that were in America first. Part of the way we had real, honest to goodness, American engines and engineers. They didn't seem to move much faster than the French ones, but the boys said it wns the way the French run the roads.

"Guess we must have run all over France to get here, but we didn't mind it as the country was so beautiful, and there were so many of us that we did not have time to notice the slowness of the train. Am sending the Xmas card home, as you cannot send the package without it. I would just as soon that you would send Hershey's bars or such, as the package is so small. With lots of love, Eva Cram, A. N. C., Am. Base Hospital No. 64, A. P.O. 919, Am. E. F.

From Robert Jones.

October 19, 1918.

Dear Mother—"Well, how are you feeling? I nm in the best of health. I am still in a difficult place to write a letter, but as soon as I get where I can, I will write a good long one.

"Am getting along fine and working like the dickens, so don't worry about me.

"It is quite wet here as it rains most every day, but we always get a place to sleep. Must close now and will write more next time. Got the papers and letters nll O. K. Goodbye, love from Bob."

Under date of November 6, the following letter was received:

Dear Mother and All—"Well, how are all of you feeling these fine days? I am feeling fine.

"We are having fine weather today, but up until today it has rained every day. I received your letters and papers and was more than pleased to get them, as reading matter is very scarce here. I do not have much time to read nt present, but hope to in a few yesrs.

"All the boys are feeling fine. Harry Beuker has gone on a furlough for a few days. We have good things to eat and sometimes a good place to sleep. At present I have a mansion—am sleeping on the floor of an old tumbled down house. I have but little time to write as we are very busy, but will write more if possible next time. I think the war will be over in a few weeks the way things look now. Must close for this time. Love to all, Bob."

From Claud Volkert.

Dear Uncle Dick—"Have received a couple of letters from you racently, and was glad to hear from you. It was good news to hear that you come out on top at the primaries, although I do not feel at all anxious about the final outcome.

"It has been so long since I wrote that I hardly know what to write about. Suppose you will think that calamity has overtaken me or that the mail steamer has been sunk. Will try to write more often in the future.

"Have been in two attacks since I last wrote. The first was a cinch for us, as the Germans dropped back and gave little opposition. We advanced about twenty kilometers in two days and found very few Heines, but plenty of avidenca that they had been there. In one of tha dugouts wa found several kegs of German beer. We were, of course, skeptical about drinking it, hut finally tasted it and found it very good.

"The Boche had things fixed up very nice behind their old lines. We stayed for a few days in a barracks in the woods which were used for officers quarters. There were pianos in the different rooms and other furniture which had been removed from French homes when Fritz made his advsnce in 1914.

"From this front we went to another sector where we remained for twenty days, working with the two division. A French officer told me that it had been a 'tres mauvais' (very bad) since 1914, nnd guess he was right, as it is the worst place we have found along the line.

"The Heinies had plenty of artillery on the hills which commanded the surrounding country, and used it pretty well in spite of the Americans ndvancing about eighteen kilometers while we were there and drove the Germans from the hills. It was open warfare as far as trenches are concerned, but a good deal of woods. There were no dugouts after the first days' fighting, and all you could do was to drop to the ground when the shells came too fast and near.

"One night we worked over a shell torn road. It was very dark and there was also a noticeable amount of gas. We went feeling our way along until the work was finished, but when we were through for the night we only had fifteen out of over twenty cars. The others were in the shell holes or ditches. The next morning when we went out there, we found Fords in shell holes, Fords in bushes and one went over a bank fifteen feet high and turned completely over with all four wheels in the air. The driver was not hart, and fortunately the car was empty. We salvaged all our cars and managed to get them back to the S. S. U. repair shop, with the exception of one, which was a total loss.

"One of the boys got on the wrong road and run into a German machine gun nest. He got rather a hot reception and had to leave the car and bent it back, but came out with only a slight flesh wound. A couple of days later, after the division had advanced, we got to the place where the car was, but there was nothing left of it. It had been ignited by an exploding shell and burned to the ground. We are now back having our cars doctored up at a repair shop.

"We are near one of the finest cities in France, a city that has been bombed more than any other in France. Yesterday I visited tha Hotel de Ville, where they have on exhibition a bomb of the 600 pound class that fell in soft ground and had been extricnted. It was sure a wicked looking thing, mensuring eight feet in length and containing 350 pounds of explosives.

"I also visited an old church which before the war was the personal property of the emperor of Austria. The paintings were covered over and the tombs of the dukes of Lorraine were covered with sand bags to protect them from bombs. The old lady, who is care taker, explained things of interest, and we were able to get some good postcards of the place which I will send you later.

"There is a very good swimming pool here. The Y. M. C. A. has leased it, and we were here for the opening swim. The water is furnished by a natural hot spring, and has a temperature of about 80 degrees, and is quite strong of iron and sulphur. We have been having mud baths at the front and it is quite a treat to get back and take a mineral bath.

"There are very few Americans in the city. Just a few officers and a few S. S. U. boys. We are quite fortunate to be a separate organization and thus be able to be here, otherwise we would probably be in some country village back of the line with the division.

"It is sure a treat to get back and see people in civilian clothes, after seeing nothing but soldiers and uniforms day after day at the front.

"Uncle, there are only two of us now left, that Aunt Julia has gone, and some day after the war we will have to take a little trip over here. It is a great country and I know you would enjoy it, especially the battle front.

"I met Lester Taggart from Charlevoix, here the other day. He is with a section which is attached to a French division. We had quite a chat about our experiences and also about the folks back in Charlevoix. He was going out the day I saw him, as his division was going into the lines.

"Well, I think I will call this quits for this time, and try and get this off on today's mail. As ever, sincerely yours, Claude Volkert, S. S. U., Sec. 649 Convois Autos, Par B. C. M., France.

From Sgt. L. C. Carey.

Dear Sister Erma—"After having made excuses of one kind or another for my consistent failure to give you an answer, or at least and acknowledgment, of your good letter that came so very long ago, I'll try to convince you that it hasn't been all hot air. Of course, these weekly contributions of mine are not confined to anyone excepting as far as the address is concerned, and I doubt not that you are as well acquainted with what has been written previously as though they had all been personal matters between us. PETOSKEY CATTLE FOR LOEB FARM

DR. GEORGE REYCRAFT SELLS EIGHT HOLSTEINS

Seven Cows and One Young Calf Go to Big Dairy and Stock Ranch of Chicago Mao.

The biggest deal in blooded cattle pulled off in Northern Michigan took place Tuesday of last week when Dr. George Reycraft, owner of the Reycraft farms, sold to Albert Loeb, of Chicago, eight pure-blooded Holstein cattle for the big Loeb farm near Charlevoix. Io as much as Mr. Loeb has on several occasions declared that he would have none but the finest cattle on his farm, the quality of these Holsteins is recognized.

Dr. Reycraft started his Petoskey herd in 1915 and it is now known as one of the finest in the country

The herd of eight sold by Dr. Reycraft wns headed by Danish Guanabaco DeKol No. 239,802. The cow's tested record for seven days is 24.31 pounds of butter. With her went four of her daughters: Petoskey Revera Belle DeKol No. 427,100, which has a record of 19.21; Petoskey Queen Pledge No. 427,101; Butter Girl Pauline No. 427,102, and a four-day-old calf as yet unnamed. In the lot were also Danish Pontiac Korndyke No. 322,513 with a test of 15.51 pounds of hutter in seven days; her daughter, Petoskey Sweet Friend Aggie No. 450,485, and Danish Korndyke No. 322,512.

These seven cows snd one young calf brought a handsome price and one which will unquestionably set stockmen in this region thinking seriously of raising more pure-blooded stock.

The cattle were taken to Charlevoix by General Manager Sloan of the Loeb estate, and R. V. Otto, manager of the dniry department of the farm.—Petoskey Evening News.

RUMORS ARE ENTIRELY UNFOUNDED

People Need Not Keep Away From City on Account of Flu.

It has been reported to the Courier thnt people from Ellsworth and vicinity are keeping away from Charlevoix because of reports that the town was quarantined on account of the influenza.

Such rumors are unfounded. The town is not quarantined, there has not been a single death from influenza, and we have had fewer cases of the disease than any town of this size in the entire state. At the present time there is no reason for any person being afraid to visit our city, and we welcome all—except those who are themselves suffering from the "flu." We haven't got it, and we don't want it, either.

Where is my soldier boy tonight? Ask the Red Cross.

SHOOT GROUSE NEXT SEASON

BAIRD FAVORS OPENING SEASON TO HUNTERS.

Great Increase in Number of Birds Reported From All Sectioos of State.

Aecording to a Lansing dispatch, State Game Warden Baird favors opening tha partridga season naxt year, he saying that the number of birds seen this year in the woods warrants the step. All the upper peninsula counties—the entire state, practically—had closed seasons for partridge last fall. There will be many hunters who will be opposed to opening the season in 1919, they contending that the birds ought to be given two seasons in which to get a foothold in the northern woods again. Tha Lansing dispatch referring to the matter, which is likely to become a subject of considerabla controversy, is as follows:

"Partridge are very numerous the last two years, and the shooting of them will once more become possible in 1919, if Game Commissioner John Baird can get the legislature to open up the partridge shooting and change the season so that all of the open time will occur during November instesd of October.

"Partridge are very numerous now," says Mr. Baird, "and I think the season should be opened up. The entire closing proposition came about as I am now convinced, not to save the partridge, but to prevent hunters from the lower peninsula going into the upper peninsula after birds. But the birds seem plentiful south of straits and the conservation of them is hardly made possible any longer."

"The raising of ring necked phensants by the state has now gona far enough, in Mr. Baird's opinion, to permit of the shooting of tha male birds of this species. For two years the birds have been raised on the state game farm at Mason and the birds have been scattered throughout the state.

"Deer hunting this fall has again brought to the fore the question of what to do with the wounded deer which hunters do not trail and which die far from where they are shot. Invariably they are left dead in the woods, and are food for wolves and other carnivorous beasts. In seasons of no snow the kill of deer of this description is generally large, as the hunters are unable to track them after wounding. Pursuit by dogs, or rather the scenting of the trail by dogs, is about the only possible cure for such a condition. In the four counties south of the straits in which deer could be shot this year, there was no snow and experts insist that as many deer died in the woods after wounded as were really killed and secured. The same is true to a large extent in some sections of the upper peninsula, where lack of snow early in the season makes tracking of deer after wounding impossible unless they were so badly wounded that the trail could be readily followed."

Despite conditions that were unfavorable for the hunters a good part of the season, the number of deer increases shipped across the straits the past season showed an increase of 300 over tha number for the season in 1917. According to the reports to Mr. Baird, the transshipment at the straits was 2,249 carcases. The number of lower state hunters in the district was somewhat in excess of the number in 1917, it is said.

AN ACT OF KINDNESS

A Charlevoix Resident Speaks Publicly for the Benefit of Charlevoix People.

If you had suffered tortures from kidney trouble,

Had experimented with different remedies without relief,

If you were finally cured through a friend's suggestion—

Wouldn't you be grateful?

The following statement has been given under just such circumstances:

Mr. Herrington has used Doan's Kidney Pills.

He publicly tells of the benefit he has received.

His is a simple act of kindness to other Charlevoix sufferers.

No need to experiment with such convincing evidence at hand.

Mr. Harrington spenks from experience.

You can rely on what he tells you.

Barney Harrington, cement contractor, 108 W. Garfield Ave., says: "About eight years ago my back gave out on me. It became so lame and sore I could hardly bend or stoop. When I did, sharp, knife-like pains caught me in my back and I could hardly straighten. My kidneys were out of order, also. As I had often read about Doan's Kidney Pills I tried them. Three boxes cured me and fixed me up in good shape. Since then when I have had to use a kidney medicine, Doan's Kidney Pills have always done good work."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr Herrington had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N Y

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM SOLOIER BOYS

ther or not, and if you should have been kept in absolute ignorance of the state of my health and being, and the extent of my activities, I assure you that your loss is small. However, that hardly pays a just debt.

"I have been wondering, or rather we have been wondering, just what has been doing in the home town these last two days. And we have had some happy moments conjuring up all kinds of celebrations that have been pulled off on account of the 'Peace Dove's' appearance. It is quite likely that the stories that will be told about last night, concerning the goings on in America will be quite as interesting and exciting as any that might be told about the same occasion over here. In fact, I am inclined to believe that, city for city, the revelry attained even greater height in the states. And there never was a better cause to celebrate. I'll leave that to any Frenchman—or American. We all are waiting for the reports to come in from home, telling about the night.

"We are led to believe from stories that are heard and read, that certain of the cities here went a long ways toward giving the event the proper observance, Paris especially, and not a few of us are rather envious of those Americans who are stationed there. But as with other things, the particulars of Paris' applause will cover the globe in miles of newspaper, and we will all have the benefit of it equally. That may not be so of this little town, and so you may wonder what the people did here. It could easily enough be made into a long story, but I don't want to tire you, however, it must begin with the rumor that the kaiser had abdicated and that the terms of the armistice would be signed. Most certainly everything pointed in that direction and we all felt confident of it. However, at eight o'clock that morning there were no indications that the towns people were anticipating anything extraordinary. The gray walls and cobble stones wore jost the same resigned and weary expression and the countenances of the people you met on the street were just the same as those you saw the day before or a month before. It seemed just a little strange, but Fox and I continued out into the country for a little hike, much the same as usual, returning about 9:45. You can hardly imagine the change that had taken place. The official information had come that the terms had been signed and that fighting was to stop at eleven o'clock—and every body wore a smile—a great, running, bubbling, contagious smile that swept away all the tears and pain and sorrow of four years—for the moment. I can say that the true meaning of 'Smiles' had never before been so forcibly brought home to me. I hadn't missed them until I saw them again.

"It was a beautiful day, bright, warm, and joyous, certainly a fitting one for the ushering in of the peace era. And these poor, battle-scarred, war drained, patient, struggling people smiled and wept, and beamed upon you as you passed, and took you with them through the seven stages of delight and made you glad, really and truly glad, that you were here. Then the flags came out, sprouted, grew, bloomed and multiplied all in the same instant. Rue Chalon, from a narrow and winding, cobbled business street, became a 'Queen's highway' on May day, with flags of all the allies, but mostly of the French and American. Those children that could, ran and skipped and cried gleefully, waving a flag of France, or possibly one that embodied not only the tri-color, but also the Stars and Stripes, and occassionally Belgium's emblem and the Union Jack. The more exuberant ones grasped your hand or patted you on the back with 'Vive l'-Amerique', 'La guerre finis, la guerre finis.' There was no disorder. In fact, there was scarcely a ripple as we would think of it in the states; but to these who have been so long under the yoke and who really are not demonstrative, contrary to all previous notions, the very privilege of waving their flag was THE bone of contention, and they revelled in the waving of them.

"We were quite disnppointed. We had expected something to happen—a holiday with bands and dancing and wild-eyed Frenchmen and joy-crazed women and children, a bon fire and a fireman's parade, with possibly a few of the main buildings razed just to see them fall, or something of that sort. But it didn't hnppen. At about one thirty the little blue-eyed damsel in the book store was even shedding tears and very unhappy because of the horror of the past four years. And all the others were by this time in that reminiscent mood, and it surely did look like a sombre celebration to us.

"However, it was leaked around that there would be doings in the evening, so we got ready to accept it. At about seven o'clock the twelve of us in this o_ce strode forth, armed with a solitary mandolin, two pie tins and our restive throats, prepared to help them all we could. When we roached the main street we met the old time 'absent' atmosphere. A great note, said we, and immediately burst forth in a spasm of song. Well, thnt started something at least. The windows became crowded with spectators and those in the street tagged at our heels. We gave them everything we knew from 'Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here,' to 'I Wish I Had a Girl,' and a few extemporneous yells. That's all there is to it. Wherever we went the crowd went. Down at the station there must have been—oh, I don't know how many people, and they wouldn't let us stop. It was funny and I certainly had fun, although we got so hoarse we could scarcely squeak. An old Frenchman stepped in the ring and volunteered the 'Madelon' and the 'Marselles,' which we cheered voluptuously (if that's the word), and then we couldn't shake the crowd. The man with the mandolin wore out two picks and raised a blister on his thumb, but the music (?) never wavered. There was a respite for a half hour or so while the fire works were on. The French shot some really pretty rockets, signal fire of some kind I think, but the whole was hardly a circumstance to a Hickville 4th, say along about the nineties. There was no noise, only the swish of the shooting rockets and the muffled bursting of the torpedoes in the air. The populace stood about in groups and lent their whole-hearted approval in suppressed ejaculations. A few Japanese lanterns swung in and out amid the throng, and rancous American mirth rent the stillness in various quarters, giving the event its only semblance of hilarity.

"Slowly the crowd dispersed, all in the same general direction. Our withered band trudged with them—hoping—in vain. We hummed a ditty and swelled the chorus—and the party started on again. What a time we had. For an hour or so we moved them at will from one corner to another and even got some of them swaying to the strains. I really believe it was the first time some of the natives had experienced the thrill of a lusty cheer and unrestrained merriment. The 'G' string broke and we left them.

"Thus was the 'Peace Dove' welcomed in ———France. Today the flags have continued to float from every window, and it would seem from the terms of the armistice that I have just finished reading, that they may continue so to wave at will from now forever after.

"We haven't received travel orders yet, and we are not looking for them for some time to come. We have no idea how long that will be, but we have at least the hope that it won't be as long as we thought at one time it would be, which is some neat way of expressing something that means nothing. For now let us be happy that we are on tha last lap.

"Tell mother I shipped her a package today and that it is for her only. Everything in it will keep until Christmas—if it is deemed best to wait for that day to arrive. It ought to arrive about tho same time as this.

"Well, sis, I'm due to write my French lady, so you, being only a sister, could hardly expect to occupy any more time. (Loving brother.). I hope you are happy despite the schools being closed and that everyone is making the most of all the untoward circumstances. Love to all.—Leff.

THE CURSE OF ONE-MAN POWER.

The Republican Publicity Association, through its president, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., has given out the following statement from its Washington headquarters:

"The most deplorable feature of the effort to increase paternalism is the lasting effect it has upon the individual mind. Day after day the bureaucrats at Washington say to the people of the country, 'You can't do it, leave it to us.' Bureaucracy not only tends to destroy self-confidence, but it discourages self-help. 'Don't try to do anything for yourself; just pay increased taxes to make up our salaries and expenses and we will do everything for you. You are poor, helpless, ignorant, ambitionless and perhaps dishonest beings without hope of making a success of anything. Give up in despair and let us tell you what to eat, what to drink, what to wear, what to buy and what to sell, what price to pay and what price to receive, how to do business and how not to do it.'

"Those are not the exact words of bureaucracy, but, boiled down, that is the neeessary meaning of everything the socialistic government-ownership, paternnlistic bunch have been handed out from Washington for the past five years—with particular energy during the past two years.

"If the people of this country become confirmed pessimists it will be due largely to President Wilson. He has assumed that only a government officials can run the railronds, the banks, and the finances of the government. He acts upon the assumption that only a postmaster general can run the telephones, telegraphs, cables, and the post o..ce departmtnt. Mr. Wilson endeavors to do the political thinking for the country in either peace or wnr. He is, in his own opinion, the only man who never thinks wrong, and when he changes his mind it is time for the entire country to change. Men who do not agree with him are 'nervous and excited.' Politicnl parties that do not agree with him 'have not had a new idea in thirty-yenrs.'

"If we are to accept bureaucracy's picture of this country, what n doleful song we should sing. What dejected countenances we should carry to our daily tasks if we really believed the assumption that the success of private industry and public business depends upon tho wisdom concentrated in so small a grounp of men. To what a low stage in civilization must we concedo we have fallen, if we acquiesce in bureaucracy's view of our international and moral decadence.

"But there is no need to be despondent. An optimistic spirit has prevailed in this country since the days when the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock. Without the optimism a small band of colonists would not have thrown off the yoke of autocracy in 1776. Without that spirit of optimism we should not have gridironed this contioent with rails of steei. Without that optimism we should not have taken the risks involved in sinking oil wells and mining ahafts, felling foresta and conquering a wilderness. Without that optimism we should not have stretched wires over the land and cables under the sea. Without that optimism we should not have established here a government of the people, for the people, by the people.

"And it is not optimism alone that has made this natlon great. Back of that spirit of hope nnd confidence there has been intelligence, energy and courage—a capacity to do, an eagerness to do, and a daring to do. And in the whole, long, proud list of accomplishments of the people of this country, there is not one for which bureaucracy ean claim credit. What a sorry spectacle bureaueracy makes of itself, then, when it tells the people of this country that they are incompetent or dishonest and must be guided in all their activities by men who never made a success of any productive enterprise. And what a sorry speetacle the people of this eountry will mnke of themselves if they stand for the insult."

AMERICA'S PART IN VICTORY.

Here are some of the things this nation has contributed to the triumph of the allied nrmies:

A war chest of $57,000,000,000 for expense up to the end of the current fiscal year. Of this $7,017,000 000 has been extended to our allies in the form of loans.

An army of 5,000,000 authorized strength. More than 2,000,000 are on the battle ground after being transported 3,000 miles through submarine infested watera while another million and a quarter were training and embarking here at the moment Germany surrendered.

A navy of 1,000 fighting ships that has protected our stream of tranports through the war zonc and at the same time helped keep the kaiser's fleet harmless in German ports.

Fully 18,000,000 tons of foodstuffs shipment of which saved our allies from hunger, much of which represented the cheerful self-denial of America.

Countless artieles of latest army equipment, including some of the mightiest engines of war yet devoloped, wrought by a peaceful nation suddenly becoming an arsenal.

Nearly 7,000,000 dead weight tons of merchant shipping and transports to help overcome destructions by U-boats.

The Red Cross and countless other relief workers, giving food, medieine clothing and comfort incalculable.

Far-reacbing, however, as was all that, as much influence as it all had to bring about the final rasult, the moral suport which America gave weighed evan heavier. Americe entered the war at the psychological moment, at a time when the nations bravely holding out for four years needed just auch encouragement as America could give to them. As soon as the firat columns of the never-ending stream of man-power, youth in its undiminished strength, found their way across the water into France in spite of all the U-Boats, the confidenee of the Allies in final victory rose a great deal and just that much the morale of the foe broke down. America became therefore the factor which forced the decision.

SEE AMERICA FIRST.

It is estimated that bafore the war American tourists were spending something like $400,000,000 a year in Europe. That was an absolute monetary loss to the country. Now It is reported that all the steamship lines are flooded with applications for accommodations, indicating that the rush to Europe will be many times thnt of the past, if the accommodations can be had. It is not at all unlikely that American tourists will be spending a billion dollara a year in Europe when they get a chance. The only way to get the money bnck is to produce goods to sell to European purchaers. In other words, we shall work to produce goods to pay for the entertainment of our tourists. It is too bad that more people cannot appreciate the beauties and advantages of tourist travel at home.

NO COME-BACK.

David Lawrence says the morale of the President's friends "is at low ebb." The metaphor is not a happy one. With the tides the flow succeeds the ebb. With Mr. Wilson there will be no flow.

DEATH CLAIMS PIONEER RESIDENT

Robert Fairburn Dies at Lockwood Hospital, Petoskey.

Death claimed another pioneer resident of Ironton last Wednesday, when Robert Fairbairn passed away at Lockwood hospital, Petoskey.

Robert Fairbairn was born January 10, 1850, in Gatineau Mills, province of Quebec. He wns married to Agnes Mosher in 1882, and moved to Ironton about thirty years ago, where they resided for ten years, then moved to Charlevoix, where he was engaged as a carpenter.

About nine years ago deceased suffered a stroke of paralysis and from that time has been steadily failing in health. He waa taken to the Lockwood hospital eleven months ngo, and has been confined to his bed the past five months, death claiming him Wednesday evening, December 4.

Mr. Fairbairn was a member of the Methodist church for 20 years, being nn active member when his health permitted. Two sisters are left to mourn their loss, Mrs. J. M. Carruthers of Royal Oak, Victoria, British Columbia, and Mrs. Ellen Gray of Ladysmith, provinee of Quebec. His wife died July 1 of this year.

Funeral services were held from See'a undertaking rooms, Friday, Rev. Candler offciating.

Paulson—Johnson.

Married, last Saturday evening at eight o'clock at the Congregational parsonage, Miss Martha Paulson of this city, and Harold Johnson of Elk Rapids. The young couple will reside here for some time. The Courier joins their friends in wishing them a happy wedded life.

JOHN PAPINEAU VICTIM OF FLU

Well Known Young Man Dies in a Ohio Hospital.

The news of the death of John Papneau came as a shock to his friends and acquaintances here Sunday, when they learned that he died Sunday morning at one o'clock, death being caused from pneumonia following influenza.

John Papineau was born October 25, 1893, in Charlevoix, and lived her all his life up to three years ago, when he went on the Superior City, on the grent lakes, as engineer. He took a three year course in the Charlevoix high school, and during that time was on the foot ball team.

John was in Cleveland where they were laying up the boat at the time he was taken ill, and waa planning on entering the Case Techincal school in Cleveland some time this month to finish his course in engineer ing. He was taken to the hospital in Painesville, Ohio, on Tuesday, nnd passed away Sunday morning at one o'clock.

Mrs. Papineau received a telegram Saturday morning telling her of her son's illness, and left at noon for Cleveland, but did not reach there in time to see him alive.

The remains were brought here Monday afternoon and was taken charge of by the I. O. O. F., of which order he was a member.

He leaves a mother, sister and one brother, besides a number of relatives to mourn their loss. Funeral services were held Wednesday nt 2:30 p. m., from the Methodist church, Rev. Henry Candler officiating, the I. O. O. F. having charge of the funeral. Interment in Brookside cemetery.

FLU HAS TAKEN 359,000 IN U. S.

Fully 20,000 Soldiers Died of the Disease in the Army.

Between 300,000 and 350,000 deaths from influenza and pneumonia have occurred among the civilian population of the United States since September 15, according to estimates to date of the public health service. These calculations were based on reports from cities and states keeping accurate records, and public health officials believe they are conservative.

The epidemic still persists, but deaths are much less numerous, according to reports recently received. A recrudescence of the disease now is occurring in many communities, but this is believed to be sporadic and not to indicate a general renewal of severe epidemic conditions.

Insurance companies have been hard hit by the epidemic, government reports indicate. The government incurred liabilities of more than $170,000,000 in connection with life insurance carried by soldiers in army life, not including those in Europe. About 20,000 deaths occurred in the camps in the United States, war department records show.

ANTRIM COUNTY FARM BUREAU

TO BE HELD AT BELLAIRE ON DECEMBER 20.

Election of Officers, Adoption of By-Laws and Constitution and Other Business.

The annual meeting of the Antrim County Farm Bureau, to elect officers, adopt a constitution and by-laws and make definite plans in regard to membership, will take place in the court house in Bellaire at 10:00 a. m., Friday, December 20, 1918.

Antrim county is the most completely organized county in the state along marketing lines. It also has more Russett Rural inspected seed than all the rest of the state.

There is no reason why just as large or even larger per cent of the farmers should not belong to a well organized, active Farm Bureau, as to the marketing associations. The bureaus are being organized very rapidly at present all over the agricultural sections of the United States. They are federating and through this method the farmers of the country are gaining for themselves tremendous strength, financially, legislatively and intellectually.

The 55 agriculturnl counties of New York state will increase their membership by 60,000 this month. In this "reconstruction period" there is more need than ever of the farmers generally joining the bureau.

The County Farm Bureau is the medium through which the United States Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural college operate. In fact, they cannot successfully help counties that do not have this machinery. It has been stated recently on good authority that "no agency is doing more to build sanely into the Nations plans an orderly program for the weal of the agriculture of the nation than our farm bureaus."

Chambers of agriculture are going to be organized over the United States this coming year. The state association will be made up of two members from each county, elected from the Farm Bureau. Counties not having a paid up membership, will undoubtedly not be in this as well as missing a lot of other good things.

The Farm Bureau directs the county agricultural agent. Through it his efforts attain the highest degree of success. When 80 or 90 per cent of the farmers of the country are well organized by belonging to the farm bureau, there will be no question but that they can have anything they ask for within reason.

Antrim county, is primarily an agricultural one, so remember this very important meeting. R. E. Morrow, Secretary of Antrim County Farm Bureau.

DEATH CALLS MUCH LOVED WOMAN

Entire Community Regrets Demise of Mrs. F. W. Scism.

Ida M. Wattles was born in Somerhill, Cayuga county, New York, June 20, 1858, and died at her home in Ellsworth at 4:30 p. m., Friday, December 6, 1918, death being caused by a complication of disease following Spanish influenza.

At the age of 21 she was united in marriage to Frank W. Scism, and with her husband came to Michigan in 1896, settling at Ellsworth, where she resided until the time of her death.

Mr. Scism was called by death on January 21, 1898, and since that time deceased has lived with and kept house for her only child, a son named Lee R., who by her death not only loses a loving mother, but also suffers by the breaking up of his home.

Among the other relatives left to miss her are four brothers, William and John Cole of Ellsworth, George Cole and Mason Wattles of New York state, and four sisters, Mrs. Branch, Mrs. Brockill, Mrs. Peppin and Mrs. Nolan, also of New York.

Mrs. Scism had been a true and helpful friend and neighbor and her kind and helpful wurds and deeds will ho missed by many. She has been a patient sufferer for the past several years, her ill health dating back to an attack of pneumonia nearly 20 years ago.

The funeral services were held Monday, December 9, from tha M. E. church, and tha remains were laid away in the Scism lot in Boss cemetery.

WILL LOCATE AT ELLSWORTH

Former Michigan People to Return and Enter Into Business.

The Herald, published at Raymond, Washington, under date of November 29, has the following to say regarding former Michigan residents who are about to return to this state and enter into bulsness:

"Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Klooster and family left Thanksgiving morning for Ellsworth, Michigan, where they go to make their future home. Mr. Klooster has been for the past year government inspector for airplane stock.

"The Kloosters have lived in Raymond for the past eight years. Mr. Klooster was employed at the Siler mill prior to his appointment as spruce inspector for the government. He will engage in the creamery business with his brother in northern Michigan, a new country just opened up in the past six or seven years. They have a host of friends here who will wish them that their lot may be cast in pleasant places."

A WARNING.

It has come to my notice that certain people have been circulating false reports concerning soldiers.

It is needless for me to say that this is absolutely the most contemptible and lowest thing that anyone can do, it only creating sorrow and grief among the relatives of soldiers who are bravely serving their country. I have taken steps to get hold of anyone making these remarks or even repeating them, and I state in advance that should I get proof of anyone telling or repeating lies concerning soldiers, I will turn them directly over to the Federal government. Harry L. Oldham, Chairman C. and M. Relief, American Red Cross.

WILDWOOD

Duncan Crawford went to Central Lake Snturday.

Mrs. E. R. Wilson is very ill with Spanish influenza.

Harry Taylor and his whole family are recovering from an attack of the "flu."

John Crawford drove over to his sons, Duncan, on Tuesday and stayed until Wednesday.

Mrs. Cross returned to her home in Central Lake last week, after spending some time with her son, James Wilson and family.

Word from Ellen Crawford says, she will not make the trip home from Washington, D. C., for Christmas.

Neal Crawford buzzed wood on Monday. Bert Sinclair did the work with his wood cutting outfit.

Mr. Reed Genett accompanied by his wife and mother, drove over to the William Knight home on Saturday, where they spent the day.

Mr. Rossell is spending the week at Wolverine, this state. On his return he will conduct gospel meetings at the Cloverdale school house.

Our weather has caught a thaw so to speak, for which we are very grateful. With winter beginning at New Years it will be long enough in Northern Michigan.

Jim Wilson has been at home several days awaiting hourly almost a call that his threshing engine is repaired, when he will return to the machine for further duty. While at home he moved his family to their cottage by the lake.

MILES DISTRICT

A. W. Carr sold a colt to Oscar Degroot and two cows to Frank Wright, lately.

William Bechtelt has a sick horse and called Dr. Colden of East Jordan, this week.

Bernie Klooster is still alive today (Tuesday) at noon, but his condition is very serious and small hope for his recovery is being entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klooster and two children of Raymond, Washington, arrived on Saturday of last week for a short visit with relatives her and at Atwood.

Bert Melosh is one of the latest from this vicinity to join the army of men headed for Detroit to work this winter. He left for that place on Tuesday afternoon of this week.

Norman Feldman of Petoskey, was in Ellsworth on business the first of this week. This is Norm's first trip to Ellsworth for some time, as he was but recently discharged from the army.

Landlord and Mrs. VanSkiver have plans made to close the New Orient about the 20th of the present month and take a vacation until about the first of April. They will visit friends in the west and south.

De Witt Patterson, with Co. D., 56 Am. Train, stationed at Camp Eustus, Va., writes a very interesting letter regarding a field meet held thare Friday, November 29, in which he took part in the 100 yard dash, the three-legged race and the relay race. DeWitt carried first in the first two, and got second in the last event. He says that some units there have been discharged, but he has no idea when his turn to return to civil life will come.

ROCK ELM

Ernest Duffey, who has been working for his brother-in-law, Walter Clark, has returned home.

In spite of the bad roads, the school social, which was held at the Grange hall Friday evening, was well attended. An interesting program was rendered by the pupils, after which refreshments were served. The proceeds of a little over seven dollars will be used in the Junior Red Cross work.

YOUTH-TIME

The important time to lay a strong foundation for robust manhood is while life is young and the body developing. A growing child needs every possible help to conserve energy and confirm the body in vigorous health. To a developing child comes with particular help. Thousands of the strong men and women of today were in youth-time nourished and strengthened to withstand the inroads of disease by the consistent use of Scott's.

ONE OF FIRST TO GO OVERSEAS

MELVIN J. WALKER MEMBER OF PERSHING'S TROOPS.

Wounded In Big Battle of Chateau Thierry In July—Death a Surprise.

Melvin J. Walker, eldest son of H. J. Walker, living one and one-half miles east of Ellsworth, was born in Lapeer county, Michigan, August 16, 1898, and died in a hospital in France at 7:00 a. m., September 3, 1918.

He enlisted in the regular army at Detroit, July 6, 1916, and was assigned to Co. I, 26th Inf., in which outfit he remained until his death.

Pvt. Walker was one of the first to go overseas at the outbreak of the war, the 26th being one of the outfits sent with General Pershing. He was wounded at Chateau Thierry, July 20, and was taken to the base hospital where it was found necessary to amputate one leg just below the knee. A second operation was necessary, however, and the limb was taken off above the knee, but the sacrifice was in vain and the young man gave up his life that freedom might live.

While in the hospital he wrote his father here three times, each time saying that he was doing well, but as no letter had been received for some time and no word of his death had been received here, his parents supposed that he was out of danger and looked forward to his arrival on this side.

The telegram announcing his death came December 3, just three months after death occurred, and came as a surprise and a shock, as his parents had supposed that they would be notified at once should anything happen.

Rev. J. Pickart of Atwood, occupied the pulpit of the Christian Reform church Sunday.

The attendance at the Mitchell school was very small the last two weeks on account of the flu.

Miner Wielenga and H. J. Timmer attended the auction sale of Mr. Peck at Bay View last Tuesday.

Parties here reading the Central Lake Torch of last month think there is a lots of "hot air" in it sometimes.

E. VanderArk, our township treasurer, is on the job again for a couple of months collecting taxes.

Waldyk & Schaver are loading a car of block wood at Kuipers siding this week, via Charlevoix, at $3.00 a cord.

We had the pleasure meeting, Mr. Cribbs, county agent and Robert Morrow county treasurer, last week Tuesday.

Word received from J. H. Timmer at Camp Custar is to the effect that he expects to eat Christmas dinner with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boes are thinking of selling their farm, and move back to Reeman, Michigan. We hope they will change their mind, and stay here, being very good neighbors.

PLEASANT HILL

Dorothy Powell is sick with the flu.

Mr. DeYounge is busy loading a car of wood.

Miss Ethel Benrss was absent from school Monday.

Roy Powell was at the Fielstra home Sunday evening.

Lee Bearss is home from Muskegon on a few day's vacation.

We are sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Scism which occurred Friday night.

The school is closed in this neighborhood on account of the teacher being sick.

John Prince and Bill Baar left for Detroit last Thursday to visit his brother, Nick Prince.

Albert Fielstra and Annie Prince went to Charlevoix Tuesday to have some dental work done.

Edwin Jones of Norwood, visited the Fielstra home from Thursday until Friday, and he is now working in Porter woods.

WRIGHT DISTRICT

Fine weather now days for December.

This school is planning for their Christmas program.

Fine weather for cider making which is still going on at present.

Henry Vanderberg called for Willard Herrington to go and repair his engine. Willard has already repaired Davis' engine and Al. Bauch's engines.

Miss Ethel Smith, the school teacher called and took supper at the Melvin Smith home Monday night of last week and had a very nice time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Herrington spent Wednesday at the Chester Donaldson home, they thought they would snow under before they got back, but they didn't quite, although it was rather cold.

Miss Bertha Alward returned Sunday, December 1, from her uncle's Jack Parsons, where she and her parents took Thanksgiving dinner, her sister, Ethel, remained there and went to Charlevoix later.

Miss Eva Wrisley spent from Sunday evening, until Wednesday evening, with her grandmother, Mrs. A. Wright. Her daughter, Mrs. Feltenbarger, spent Sunday night and Monday at the same place.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Melosh, Mrs. Harry Potter, Curtis Feltenbarger and son, Otto, Walter McElroy and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sitzema and family all were at the H. H. Herrington home Sunday of this week.

COBB THRILLS IMMENSE AUDIENCE

Avers No Punishment Too Great for Kaiser and His Hordes.

Irvin S. Cobb, special correspondent of the Saturday Evening Post, in a recent address at Kalamazoo, says no punishment is too great for the kaiser and his horde of butchers:

With dramatic vividness he told of one advance of the Germans which he witnessed from across a river, an advance which at first was but a thread which gradually grew into a ribbon, then a great blanket of green. And when the battle was over the dead Germans were piled 10 feet high for 200 feet.

He said: "When I think of the laws of man and God which they broke for four long years; when I think of Edith Cavell with her hands tied behind her back, shot dead against a wall; when I think of the 50,000 women and girls in two French provinces alone, captives of common soldiers; when I think of the Lusitania going down with its helpless women and babies; of the Red Cross ships and hospitals which were shelled; when I think of 50,000 American boys lying dead in France my one regret is that that mound was not ten times as high, ten times as wide, and ten times as thick, and that the stiff form of the kaiser was not stretched across it as a corner piece."

COMMISSIONER NOTES

Burgess school has organized a Hot Noon Lunch Club, and is raising funds for incidentals. Miss Canniff is planning a box social and also a fine Christmas program. New readers are being ordered and its spirit is at its height.

The Mountain school district has organized a Literary Society with a meeting every week. Evidently this is one of the splendid functions having place for parents, and made by them. Mr. Earl Clark is president and Miss LaLonde tells us things are going on splendidly.

The school at Clarion raised over fifty dollars for the United War Workers' Fund. They had already more than raised their quota for the Junior Red Cross.

Miss Duthie, Assistant Emergency Club Leader for Boys and Girls was in the county Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. Accompanied by the Commissioner of Schools, County Club Leader, Mrs. C. F. Smith, and County Agent Mr. C. F. Smith of Boyne City, she was introduced to several schools of the county where the teachers had expressed a desire for this kind of work. Hot noon lunch clubs were organized in Burgess, in Ironton, and in the Ranny school. A Handicraft Club for boys was organized in Bay Shore. This form of extension work was fully explained to the County Normal class and last year's clubs in East Jordan were interviewed regarding reports and stories of their work. The party left the commissioner on the second in Charlevoix while they proceeded to Boyne City for the evening to receive from the Canning Kids there the complete reports of their work.

Thursday and Friday the Commissioner enjoyed a splendid visit with the County Normal and Training class in Charlevoix. Miss Bates has a much larger class this year than in 1917 and they promise to be good prospective teachers when their training is completed.

The critic teacher, Miss Morrison, is living with her little folks in prose and poem. The sixth grade were dramatizing the story of Ulysses and his sailors in the giant's cave, and they surely appreciated the spirit of the play.

Several school boards have nearly arrived at the "standard Ideals" school house in their workmanship and have inquired if all is well.

The commissioner is looking up the state inspection of these buildings and will mail copies to them soon. It is very possible that several of these buildings may receive their plates before spring and it may be well to plan all for the same month, and declare a "Standard School" week in which we could procure the services of a state assistant to personally present to us the plates which will so much honor the districts that have earned them.

Four more changes in the teaching corps during the Xmas month.

Directories are under way and we hope to have them out by the last of this month.

Our county will be 100 per cent Junior Red Cross the last of this week. Those not able to earn money will be admitted on pledge of service.

Arithmetic charts are here in all three of our cities, ready for regular school work. Have you obtained yours?

This week's report in Thrift and W. S. S. shows rural school and Boyne Falls purchases to total $117.50. Total for past six weeks is $932.25.

ESSEX

Mr. Wieland went to Central Lake Saturday afternoon.

Nick Dekkenga went to Ironton Tuesday to look at a horse.

Jerry Ardama went to school again last week after being sick the week before.

Mrs. N. Dekkenga spent Monday last week visiting her sister, Mrs. Fielstra, of Pleasant Hill.

Mrs. D. Edson of near Central Lake, visited Mrs. Tillotson Wednesday afternoon while Mr. Edson went to Ellsworth.

Notable Men Epileptic.

John Bunyan's epileptic characteristics were well marked. Julius Cesar, Peter the Great, Wellington and Alexander the Great were sufferers, and the strong assertion is made that Napoleon was also subject to its mental control. Lord Byron was a notable epileptic, as was Balzac and the composers Mozart and Mendelssohn. Jean Jacques Rousseau was esteemed as one of the class, and even claim is lodged that Thackeray was a victim of the disease. These are, but few of hundreds of noteworthy instances in the annals of the human race.

Too Easy.

Two children were trying to decide on a game with which to amuse themselves, one summer afternoon. "Oh, no, let's not play that," said one in answer to a suggestion, "it's too easy." And the child who had suggested the game at once expressed agreement. "Yes, it's so easy that it isn't any fun." If even small children realize that a thing ceases to be interesting when it is too easy, older girls, surely, should not grumble if something a little difficult is asked of them. The fun of life comes from doing things that are not easy.—Pennsylvania Grit.

Never Give Up.

No matter how old you are you should never give up trying to better your best. The spirit to give up is by far a greater foe than years. When you think right and aim to materialize your thoughts it's wonderful what you can do. So root out the craven ideas of life and keep your eyes turned westward. Forget your years and tackle the young man's task. What you lack in freshness you will make up in good judgment. What you need is the attempt. Only when you make the effort will you really learn what's in you.—Pennsylvania Grit.

Honorary Army Promotion.

Brevet is a French word, meaning commission or warrant. In military usage it gives an officer higher nominal rank than the one for which he receives pay. It is an honorary promotion. The first time it was used in the United States army was in 1812 when Capt. Zachary Taylor, who afterward became president, was made major by brevet for his brave defense of Fort Harrison against the Indians, near Terre Haute.

Important News From Kentucky

Now that the greatest war in all history has been brought to a glorious close the question naturally arises as to what effect peace will have upon securities in general, and particularly what stocks will be favorably influenced by the rapidly changing conditions.

BOSTON KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY with its immense acreage in Kentucky, comprising 1350 acres in Rowan County, and 960 acres in Clay County—all bought and paid for—and all carefully selected and potentially productive territory presents

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR YOU to acquire an interest in proportion to your investment which should return you handsome profits and in a Company where your interest carries what we believe to be a safe investment as well as possessing remarkable speculative possibilities. Regarding the oil situation after the war, it should be understood that there is, at present per day and 3,000 barrels of gasoline per day, as oil and gasoline are being used in these amounts in excess of the present production and manufacture. It is true that the oil and gasoline now utilized in war machines will not be required for such purposes after the close of the war, although there is the necessity for motor transports from France in bringing the armies, supplies and equipment to points of shipment to home countries. Furthermore, the navy is likely to be continued at its full strength in ships and men for perhaps two years after peace is signed. The building of merchant ships, however, will not cease with the signing of peace. The present tonnage of merchant ships is less than it was in 1914. Where one ship is needed now,

A DEPLETION OF 100,000 BARRELS OF OIL

THREE WILL SOON BE NEEDED

to meet the needs of the world's commerce, in peace. Practically all of the new ships built since the beginning of the war are oil burning, and it is stated by the big, reliable business men engaged in the oil industry, that the requirements of the world's markets will mean the need of oil and its products in constantly increasing amounts. With reference to the developments in Kentucky, we are pleased to say that at the close of October, 580 wells were in process of drilling, as against 548 at the end of September. During the month of October, 218 new commercial oil wells and 14 new gas wells were successfully completed, making an additional daily average production of 5,653 barrels of crude petroleum. In order that you may take advantage of the present offer of BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY treasury shares at FIFTEEN CENTS per share, it will be necessary that your order or reservation be sent us promptly, as this allotment is moving rapidly and the next allotment will be offered at TWENTY CENTS per share. Bear in mind that our acreage is unusually large and our capitalization unusually small. Address all communications to

NEW SERIES OF THRIFT STAMPS

To Be Placed on Sale Sometime in January.

The following statement made by William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, has just been issued in Washington:

"The secretary of the treasury has determined upon the issuance of a new series of War-Savings Certificates and Stamps to be placed on sale early in 1919 and to be known as the Series of 1919. The new series will have a maturity date of January 1, 1924, and in practically all respects will be issued on the same terms and in the same manner as the present series of 1918.

"A new $5.00 War-Savings Stamp, blue in color, bearing the head of Benjamin Franklin, the apostle of saving, and former postmaster general is in preparation. The new stamps will be placed on sale early in 1919.

"The same Thrift Stamps and Thrift Cards now in use will be continued in 1919 and will be exchangeable into new series of 1919 War-Savings stamps payable January 1, 1924, in the same way as the exchange has been made during this year into the series of 1918 War-Savings stamps."

NEW NIGHT MESSAGE RATES ADOPTED

Western Union to Start on New Schedule January 1.

Manager Courter of the local Western Union office, announces a scale of greatly reduced rates for short over-night messages, effective Jan. 1st. The new rates are calculated to develop a new class of telegraphic correspondence consisting of short communications which should not suffer the delays inseparable from physical transportation in the mails, but which will not stand the higher rates necessarily charged for the longer night letters. The new service, known as night messages, is designed to supplement and round out the night letter service. The minimum night message rate is 20 cents, and for 25 cents ten word over-night messages can be sent a considerable distance, while the maximum rate is 50 cents as against a maximum of $1.00 heretofore charged.

The new rates should not only prove a boon to the business interests of this city, but lead to the same large use of the telegraph in social correspondence that prevails in European countries.

ISSUE NEW HANDY SIZE THRIFT CARDS

Government Sets Example of Conservation in New Card Issue

As the result of many complaints of the unwieldy size of the thrift cards, which prevented women from carrying it in their pocketbooks, the treasury department has just issued a new handy size thrift card. This is small enough to carry in the purse without trouble, and when carried in a man's pocket does not take up nearly so much room as the old one.

The new cards have just been printed, and distribution to the post offices have not yet become general. The old ones will have to be used up first, but whenever Michigan postmasters order new supplies the new cards will be sent. The government is setting an example of conservation in the new cards, as they are only about half the size of the old ones and cost only half as much.

SIMONDS—ROBINSON

Member Charlevoix Coast Guard Married November 30.

A very pretty wedding took place Saturday, November 30, 1918, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Simonds, of Momence, Indiana, when their daughter, Opal Lenore, became the bride of Charles N. Robinson, who is a member of the Coast Guard Station in this city.

An elegant three course turkey dinner was served immediately following the ceremony, after which the young couple left for a short honeymoon to Chicago. Mrs. Robinson will remain with her parents until the station is closed, at which time Mr. Robinson will join her.

The bride is well known in Charlevoix, having visited here the past few summers, and both have the best wishes of their many friends.

Enjoyable Surprise Party.

Last Saturday a number of ladies surprised Mrs. E. A Stewart, the occasion being her birthday. Everyone enjoyed the bountiful dinner that was served at noon. The afternoon was spent in visiting and music. The hostess was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, also a boquet of carnations was presented to her to remind her of the occasion.

U. S. HEALTH SERVICE ISSUES WARNING

Increase in All Respiratory Diseases After the Influenza Epidemic Probable.

Influenza Expected to Lurk for Months. How to Guard Against Pneomania. Common Colds Highly Catching—Importance of Suitable Clothing—Could Save 100,000 Lives.

Washington, D. C.—With the subsidence of the epidemic of influenza the attention of health officers is directed to pneumonia, bronchitis and other diseases of the respiratory system which regularly cause a large number of deaths, especially during the winter season. According to Rupert Blue, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, these diseases will be especially prevalent this winter unless the people are particularly careful to obey health instructions.

"The present epidemic," said Surgeon General Blue, "has taught by bitter experience how readily a condition beginning apparently as a slight cold may go on to pneumonia and death. Although the worst of the epidemic is over, there will continue to be a large number of scattered cases, many of them mild and unrecognized, which will be danger spots to be guarded against." The Surgeon General likened the present situation to that after a great fire, saying, "No fire chief who understands his business stops playing the hose on the charred debris as soon as the flames and visible fire have disappeared. On the contrary, he continues the water for hours and even days, for he knows that there is danger of the fire rekindling from smoldering embers."

"Then you fear another outbreak of influenza?" he was asked. "Not necessarily another large epidemic," said the Surgeon General, "but unless the people learn to realize the seriousness of the danger they will be compelled to pay a heavy death toll from pneumonia and other respiratory diseases.

Common Colds Highly Catching.

"It is encouraging to observe that people are beginning to learn that ordinary coughs and colds are highly catching and are spread from person to person by means of droplets of germ laden mucus. Such droplets are sprayed into the air when careless or ignorant people cough or sneeze without covering their mouth and nose. It is also good to know that people have learned something about the value of fresh air. In summer, when people are largely out of doors, the respiratory diseases (coughs, colds, pneumonia, etc.) are infrequent; in the fall, as people begin to remain indoors, the respiratory diseases increase; in the winter, when people are prone to stay in badly ventilated, overheated rooms, the respiratory diseases become very prevalent.

Suitable Clothing Important.

"Still another factor in the production of colds, pneumonia and other respiratory diseases is carelessness or ignorance of the people regarding suitable clothing during the seasons when the weather suddenly changes, sitting in warm rooms too heavily dressed or, what is even more common, especially among women, dressing so lightly that windows are kept closed in order to be comfortably warm. This is a very injurious practice.

Could Save 100,000 Lives.

"I believe we could easily save one hundred thousand lives annually in the United States if all the people would adopt the system of fresh air living followed, for example, in tuberculosis sanatoria. There is nothing mysterious about it—no specific medicine, no vaccine. The important thing is right living, good food and plenty of fresh air.

Droplet Infection Explained in Pictures.

"The Bureau of Public Health, Treasury Department, has just issued a striking poster drawn by Berryman, the well-known Washington cartoonist. The poster exemplifies the modern method of health education. A few years ago, under similar circumstances, the health authorities would have issued an official dry but scientifically accurate bulletin teaching the role of droplet infection in the spread of respiratory diseases. The only ones who would have understood the bulletin would have been those who already knew all about the subject. The man in the street, the plain citizen and the many millions who toil for their living would have had no time and no desire to wade through the technical phraseology."

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

CONSIDER THESE PRICES

Prices on goods that draw customers to my store. My sales during the month of November show an increase of almost 100 per cent over any other year that I have been in business. This is due largely on account of the high quality and low prices of my merchandise. For December I intend to make my business show more than one hundred per cent increase over previous years. I am going to sell a greater portion of my immense stock of Men's Fur Coats, Mackinaws, Pants, Overalls, Shirts, Socks, Gloves and Mittens. To make it an inducement for you to buy will make the following prices:

15 Men's Fur and Wind and Water-proof Coats. Deeember priees	$9.00 to $50.00
6 doz. Men's and Boy's Mackinaws. Deeember Prices	4.50 to 15.00

FLU TAKES BEST YEARS FROM MEN

MILLIONS OF YEARS ARE STOLEN

American Manhood Suffers Through Epidemic Which Is Still Sweeping Country.

The Spanish influenza epidemic which swept this country during the autumn "stole" millions of the best yenrs of life from American manhood and womnnhood, Henry Moir, an insurance nuthority of New York, declared Monday.

The average economic loss of active life in each ease of deuth from the mulady or its aftermath was at least twenty-five years, said Mr. Moir, emphasizing the peculiarity of the epidemic, which found most of its victims under thirty years of age, as compared with the average life of fifty-five and sixty yenrs of persons insured in well established compsanies.

Addressing the Associntion of Life Insurance Presidents, Mr. Moir, who is president of the Aeturial Society of America, described how the epidemic had dislocated the standnrd mortality experience of the insurance companies in the past fifteen years. With no pestilence taking toll of lives in the United States and Canade during that period, he said, the standards of henlth of persons under 50 were found to be mueh better than at any recorded time in the past. But the influenza epidemic, causing 86,828 deaths in 44 large cities in eight weeks, or an average of four of every 1,000 of population, he adiled, had brought a new element into the situation. Investigation of claims before several large insuranee compnnies, he declared, showed tbat 13 per cent of the deaths were due to influenza nnd 87 per cent to pneumnnia following influenza, while less than 2 per cent were of persons over fifty-five yesrs,as ageinst 80 per cent under forty and 60 per eent under thirty-live.

From these figures, the uctuary said, is was apparent that the age of maximum virulenee of the epidemic had heen unider thirty, taking the young and vigorous—"those whom we expected to undertake much of the world's work."

Mr. Moir warned the public that there is no assuranee that the danger is past. "We learn," he saiil, "that influenza is now revisiting Europe and this time there are indications that it, may be more objectionable than the milder form of midsummer. We should therefore take warning from this recurrence nnd observe watchful care to prevent further infeetion, since the diseas« has distinctly deereased and seems to be dying out in tbis country."

ANOTHER BAD FIRE AT BOYNE FALLS

JAFFE AND KOKIACK STORES BURN.

Boyne City Fire Department Called Upon When Boyne Falls Engine Refuses to Work.

Another bad fire oecurred at Boyne Falls Monday morning between 1 and 2 o'clock and before the flames were under control damage estimated between $25,000 and $45,000 was caused, two store buildings and one resident had gone up in smoke.

The fire originated in the Kokiack market and grocery and spread to the Jaffe general store and the Ed. Eddy residence, whicb were all consumed by the flames. The fire was first discovered shortly after 1 o'clock.

The fire engine at Boyne Falls refused to work and calls for assistance were sent to Boyne City. Tha Boyne City fire truck made the run in twenty minutes.

All of the burned buildings and stocks were at least partially covered with insurnnee.

CHANCE FOR ARMY TRAINING

Camp For Civilians to Open at Camp Taylor Soon.

The war department is sending out notices that a training camp for civilians will he established at Camp Taylor, near Louisville, Ky., January 6th to 18th. 1919. While two weeks may seem a short time, yet the success of similsr camps in the past has been phenomenal.

There is no age limitation, and you "old boys" who did not get into the war, now have a chance to get two weeks of intensive military training. Of course the physieal examination must be passed, hut it is not so rigid as for actual military service.

The attendance is limited to 500, and will be first to apply, first to get in." The Camp will be known as "Camp Perishing," and will be under command of Capt. F. L. Beals of the regular army. Attendance will pay their own railway fare and furnish own uniform, and pay the fee of $30 which covers all expenses.

The Courier has a circular giving fall information which will be at the disposal of any seeking further information.

STOCK SHIPPED TO GARDEN ISLAND

To Be Placed on 800 Acre Farm of Burleson Northcott.

A Harbor Springs news item says: "The steamer Schnoden of St. James, Beaver Island, loaded with cattle at the Northern Michigan Transportation company's dock to be taken to Garden Island to stock a farm recently purchased by Burleson Northcott, formerly one of the large cattle ranchmen in Texas. Northeott has purchased 800 acres of land on this island which is one of the Beaver Island group and owns nearly all of tbe island, there being only aboat a half dozen families living there."

Edgar Harvey Tells of Trip Overseas and When Wavea Come Aboard—Forreat Fowler Says No Branch of Service Is Equal to Balloon Division

From Edgar Harvey.
October 27, 1918.

Charlevoix Courier—

Gentlemen—"Receiving requests from several of my friends to write you a letter, am doing so, with apologies to everyone for not doing a more classieal job.

"I have ecrtainly donc some traveling since leaving the U. S. on August 5th. Traveled nearly 2,000 miles before leaving the U. S., not to say anything about the aumber of miles we have covered since then.

"I cannot say that I enjoyed my trip on the ocean. We had some pretty bnd weather, so bad in fact that the waves washed away sections of an iron railing and also washed life rafts overboard. In addition to this a huge wave entered the forward end of the ship and after causing a panic in general, it tried to wash cooks, pans and edibles down the galleyway. Guess it very nearly succeeded from the general appearance of things five minutes later. Sea sickness was the order of tho day the first five days out. I was very lucky in thnt respect, not being sick a minute while on board and neither did I loose my appetite.

"I hear it is not safe any more for slackers in Charlevoix county. Am glad I am not there or maybe my Tin Lizzie would be painted yellow and labeled, but if a fellow can stand striking a telephone pole while going about forty miles an hour with his lizzie, I guess he could stand a coat of yellow paint afterward—anyway his Lizzie could.

"I certainly admire the cute little trains they have in England. They would make nice toys for children, but when I boarded a real train in France, which was undoubtedly manufactured in the U. S., I felt more at ease.

"I was out of luck coming over, as I did not see a single "sub," and guess if one had shown up, the wind would have blown it clear out of the water and saved someone the trouble. Haven't met anyone that I know here yet, although there are a lot of fellows in my company from Michigan. Clarence Coblentz of Charlevoix is here with me. We left Petoskey together last August.

"I am hoping you people in the U. S. will hear from us soon through the regular newspaper channels. The quicker we get to hammering the Hun, the better pleased we will be, as most of our hard drilling will be over. We are only 'rookies' as yet, until real service comes. We can 'squad right' and 'squad left,' but that is only in the soldiers school.

"We are a long way from the front, but can hear the booming of the guns nt times. This land I am now on was part of a battle field, and souvenirs can readily be found.

The scenery in England was what I liked best. They have it all over the U. S. for rural scenery, but we seem to be far ahead in agricultnre. I saw a stretch of very pretty scenery on the border of Pennsylvania and Maryland, which is very much like England.

"We have a large Y. M. C. A. here and we certainly appreciate it. The 'Y' is a good thing for the boys over here. They have moving pictures, religious services, both Protestant and Catholic, and a 'Y' canteen where we can get something extra to eat in case we do not get our share. It takee some food to aupply these fellows over here end believe mo they all have good appetites.

"Well, I believa I had bettre close ar the censor will be tired out before he gets this read. Will try and drop a few lines occassionally to let my friends know how I sm getting along. Sincerely, Pvt. Edgar Harvey, Battery E. 73rd Art. Co., Amerlean E. F.

Dearest Mother and Dad—"This is Saturday night and I expect you think I have forgoten you. I received all your letters and Thursday, mother, I received your weekly box of 'eets', and even if they are a usual occurance, they are alwsys appreciated more than you enn know. Tho cookies were just as fresh and crisp as if they had juat come out of the pan and thoy alweys taste so good to me, although I now and then get a big feed down town It does not coma up to home cooking. It surs begins to seem a long time since we have sat down to the home table together, anil I will sure be glad when I can see you.

"I am real busy now as I have charge of Balloon Field No. 1 and 3, and they are a little over a quarter of a mile npart, and it sure keeps me humping to keep things running smoothly at hoth fiehls, end when night comes I am about psralyzed.

WAR SAVINGS PROCLAMATION

GOV. SLEEPER URGES PEOPLE TO BUY STAMPS.

Michigan Has Not Maiotained Her Record in This Part of War Financa.

Gov. Sleeper has issued the following proclamation:

"The war has been won but not paid for; it becomes neeessary to remind the people that Michigan has only partly kept her war savings pledge, with only a few days left in which to redeem ourselves.

"Figures are unneeessary, suffice it to state that Michigan, leaders in every other patriotic movement, has not maintained her record in this important brunch of government financing.

"The war has given us seeurity of freedom, war savings stamps provida security for our savings. This appeal is based in Michigan's integrity and the goverment's need for funds.

"Every war savings pledge is a debt to the government. The treasury department is depending upon this money—it is a vital part of the war program, a tremendous program not yet completely finaaced.

"Michigan must pay her share.

"Every pledge must he kept.

"We cannot break faith with our government. Therefore I, Albert E. Sleeper, governor of the state of Michigan, do proclaim and set aside the days between Dec. 9 anil Dec. 31 as war savings days.

"The War Savings Stsmp is a badge of partnership in vietory with the United States and ber allies. Let this campaign be carried on with increasing vigor during the days I have named. Let every war savings worker take up the task with renewed energy; every eitizen not only fulfill his pledge but when possible exeeed it in a voluntary generous purchase of these War Savings Stamps.

"Never in the history of our great state have we approached the Christmastido with such cause for joyfulness and thanksgiving. Let us give expression to these thankful rejoicings by giving Christmas gifts in Thrift and War Savings Stamps to young and old. Urge all to do likewise and in this way safeguard democracy and mingle the Christmas spirit with patriotism and tbrift.

"I earnestly commend this issue to all people in our loyal commonwealth."

SHOT HIMSELF WHILE HUNTING

SIXTEEN YEAR OLD BOY LOSES HIS ARM

Was Standing On a Stump Leaning on Muzzle of Gun When Accident Happened

Archie Belch, sixteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Belch, living near Phelps, met with an accident on Friday last that will cripple him the bulance of his life.

Young Baleh and two companions, Will Jr. and Nila Louiselle, were hunting rabbits in the swamp near the Feltenbarger home on the Ellsworth road. He was standing on a stump, leaning on the muzzle of the gun, when in some manner it slipped, the hammers striking the stump, discharging the gun, the contents passing through his right arm just above the wrist. The force of the charge wae such that practically the entira contents of the gun entered hia wrist and from there through hia heavy clothing, to his breast with force enough to just bruise the skin. The bone of the arm was cut and flesh and muscles badly mangled.

His young companions had the presence of mind to tie up the badly mangled arm in a manner that the loss of blood was greatly prevented, and he was brought to the office of Dr. R. B. Armstrong of this city, where it was found necessary to amputate it between the wrist and elbow.

PROCLAMATION.

By the Governor of Michigan

To the People of Michigan:

While the spirit of Christmas softens our hearts and permeetes the soul of our splendid commonwealth, a great eause pleads for a warm hand clasp, asks for manifestation of your approval and summons you to its eumradeship.

Never in the world's history have the words "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men" been fraught with more meaning to mankind than at this the nineteen hundred eighteenth anniversary of the birth of the Christ.

And never before have the nations of the earth been so nearly at one in all that makes for the world's future peace and mutual good-will.

The Red Cross has perhaps been the greatest single influence towards this end.

Its charity is as hroad as humantiy. It stands in judgment on neither friend nor enemy; where there is need its serviees go. It is indeed the "Greatest Mother in tha World."

Caald there be a more appropriate time to answer the call of the Red Cross thaa Christmas time? The Red Cross Roll Call should be all Humanity's Roll Call.

Let us make Michigan's observation of Red Cross week as universal as Michigan's observance of Christmas.

Therefore, I, A. E. Sleeper, governor of Michigan, hereby set aside tbe period of December 16th to December 23rd, inclusive, as the Red Cross Roll Call, and ask the entire citizenship of our state to respond voluntarily, quickly and generously to the summoas.

Given under my hand and seal this 14th day of December, nineteen hundred and eighteen.

A. E. SLEEPER,
Governor of Michigan.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Charlevoix Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy that the test of time. Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doans Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. R. M. McKeel, 214 Mason St., Charlevoix, says: "I suffered for several months with kindey trouble. I was bloated badly and had a weak and lame back. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Metcalf's Drug store, brought me relief."

FIVE YEARS LATER Mrs. McKeel said: "All I have said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills holds good today. Doan's completely cured me of kindney trouble and the cure has lasted."

Many Kinds of Courage.

The essential meaning of courage lies in the word itself. It comes into English by way of the French courage, which comes in turn, from the Latin, cor, meaning "heart." Courage is heritage, keeping the heart steady even in the presence of disturbing conditions. Sometimes it appears in the ability to keep the heart from fluttering when a sudden danger threatens; sometimes in the ability to keep going when life settles down into a grind and the heart would sink to despair but for persistent courage.

Throw Out Your Chest.

It gives you self-respect and courage.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER'S NOTES

Fall term examination questions sent out during the week. Each teacher this term will adapt them to her own needs as so much time has been lost that uniformity cannot be obtained even in the essentials. The outline may be of considerable help in assisting teachers to plan amount to be covered before conclusion of winter term.

The December Junior Redd Cross topic is the history and purpose of the Red Cross. Pamphlets were distributed for this work, and the following pledge sent to every district:

"We pledge allegiance to our flag, to our country, to the Red Cross, and to the Citizenry about us. We shall study under the guidance of our teacher, sanitation, salvage, the history and purpose of the Red Cross, and such other beneficial topics as the American Red Cross shall deem expedient in order that we may develop into better citizens for our native land."

"We agree to perform acts of neighborly kindness and civic welfare right in the corner where we are, in order that we may be better citizens, both now and in the years to come.

"To us the pledge to the flag shall be a living prayer and we shall live it day by day and hour by hour."

To be signed by teacher and officers of Junior Red Cross.

A few schools have not yet been heard from in the Junior Red Cross work, but it is to be expected that every one will complete organization this week, and make the county 100 per cent before the 19th. Christmas Roll call for adults begins the 16th. All should be ready to assist the workers to put our county over the top.

A summary of school enrollments for opening of school year shows that 1419 pupils are enrolled in the rural schools of this county, in St. James and Boyne Falls public schools. This is an average of about 20 pupils for every teacher included in these reports.

The Boyne Falls school has been doing some splendid war work and only a part of it is checked by the coming of peace. A big box of pits and nut shells had been collected under M. A. C. directions for making gas masks. The children are making a quilt for the local Red Cross branch, and Miss Richards says this will be completed of course. The grammar grade room has sold 12 dozen pencils for the American Novelty Company and had earned thereby a fine brown tone picture of Gen. Pershing.

The Lakeside school where Miss Ruth Malpass is teaching, had a very successful program on November 28. Miss Malpass was happy to report that they had sold 13 War Savings Stamps and had earned enough money to make the school 100 per cent Junior Red Cross.

The Knop school raised $12.95 in the Patriotic social. Miss Cook says they have plenty of busy work now and that they have a fine new flag which the pupils earned all by themselves.

Concerning the Handicraft Club organized in Bay Shore last week we received the following, joyous note from the teacher:

"I want to tell you how splendidly we are getting along with our Handicraft Club. We have now nine work benches ready for work. Every boy has been able to bring part of the tools needed. If every teacher knew the difference it makes in the order and work of the room, they would start a club right away. Each boy tries his best in school in order to gain the extra time in the work room." Ethel Brotherton, teacher.

May we turn aside for a moment from our rural school activities in order to thank the Charlevoix City schools for an hour of splendid entertainment on Friday afternoon a week ago. The commissioner had the good fortune to be present in the building when the regular Friday afternoon program was to be presented under the direction of the English department. "Hooverizing for Hoover" was a well chosen and well dramatized little playette, but then there were other good things, too, and it makes us look back over the past and realize that English is at last coming into its own, and the language resurrection is at hand

Also, since good luck never comes singly, the commissioner was on hand in East Jordan high school building for a committee meeting, and ran into, literally ran into the finest debate you ever heard on the value of attending moving picture shows. It was for sophomores against freshmen and the sophomores won, but had to fight pretty hard to get the extra vote for their victory. We wish that the theatre managers of the state could have been present for there is nothing like getting the other fellows' view point.

W. S. S. report for the past week is as follows:

Rural schools—

Total amount of sales for week $149.00.

Amount previously reported $932.75.

Total amount of sales to date $1,081.75.

First place during the past week goes to Lakeside school with sales amounting to maturity value $65. Ruth Malpass is teacher. Second place goes to Undine with Thrift sales amounting to $18.50. Miss Muriel Kerry is teacher.

Charlevoix City schools report a total ownership of Thrift and War Savings Stamps to amount of $2,111.75. No record was made of amount sold by pupils. We hope to publish East Jordan and Boyne City reports next week.

SEND A SENATE COMMITTEE TO EUROPE.

The Republican Publicity Association, through its president, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., Monday gave out the following statement from its Washington headquarters:

"It is frequently remarked, and is doubtless true, that country places upon congress an estimate very much the same as that which congress places upon itself. If congress takes its duties and responsihilities lightly, the country naturally acquires the same view. If congress abandons its own judgment to aequiesce in the judgment of some department or bureau head, the country is likely to assume that the judgment of the administrative branch is better, notwithstanding the more reusonable conclusion that the concensus of opinion of 531 men from all parts of the country is more likely to be right. It is a characteristic of humanity to have confidence in the man who has confidence in himself, until experience shows that his confidence is illfounded.

"Probably no man ever occupied the white house who seemingly had more confidence in himself than Woodrow Wilson, and seldom with less justification. It would be difficult to find an instance of any man prominent in public life who has been compelled so often to acknowledge the unsoundness of his views by radical changes of mind. Naturnlly, the people of the country took Mr. Wilson very lurgely at his own estimate of himself, hut experience hus created a wide-spread conviction that his judgment is an unsafe guide. Substantial citizens finally found themselves unable to accept at its face value language which its author at his convenience, twisted to mean something flatly contradictory to its plain intent. Having lost confidence in the soundness of judgment of the president, the people last November elected a congress entertaining different economic views, and elected them in direct opposition to the strongest plea ever made by an executive for endursement. There can be but one meaning to that act of the people—they desire that congress shall assume its proper place in the Americnn scheme of government.

"In spite of that expression direct from the people, the president has once more manifested his supreme confidence in himself and has gone to Europe to dictate the American viewpoint concerning the terms of what will undoubtedly be the most important treaty ever negotiated. Moreover, he went without consulting either the people of the country or their chosen representatives. He directly repudiated that section of the constitution which says thnt he shall make treaties with the 'advice' of the senate. Fortunately he cannot overthrow that provision which requires ratification by a two-thirds vote of the senate.

"Because of this situation, unparnlleled in our history, it becomes the duty of the senate to take every step which it can nid it in acting advisedly upon the treaty. Four things the senute should bear in mind—the president's judgment is not sound, he has repeatedly admitted that it is not sound, the country has agreed that it is not sound, and the country desires Congress to exercise to the full the power with which it invested.

"In order to inform its members fully, the senate should send to Europe nt once a carefully selected committee of its ablest members, chosen equally from each of the parties, with instructions to secure all information that will be of use in deciding the course the senate should pursue when it is confronted by the duty of ratifying or rejecting the treaty as formed. To assume that the senate will ratify the treaty proforma is to set at naught the plain provisions of the constitution and to ignore the plain meaning of the vote of the people at the November elections."

MUST WE FEED GERMANY?

This question is now agitating the minds of a good many people. Are we bound legally, politically, ethically or otherwise to contiue rigidly to stint ourselves in the matter of of food in order that our enemies may ent?

At this juncture, as at most others we may expect a lot of half-baked altruistic foolishness from well-intentioned people, who ought to know better, urging that we "extend mercy to the alien foe." More than that many would really founder our enemy with the best vietuals we have.

Germany, however, is still in a state of war with the United States. A tempornry truce or armistice exists, during which hostilities are suspended. Should the Huns prove intractable, or refuse to accept any of the requirements to be made of them the guns may again speak and hellicose business be resumed. This is not likely to occur, but any aid that will put the Teutons in better physical condition to fight us would be the height of folly. We are trying to take it out of the power of the central empires to resume the conflict—and we probably have done so—but but we should run no chances.

The Germans are poor losers. As long as everything favors them they are autocratic and overbearing, but when the tide turns they go to pieces. Since the allies' great victory of Nov. 11 they have presented a bewildering variety of complaints, whines, sobs and supplications. Prominent among them have been the prayers for food, and some of our amateur altruists who bleat first and think afterwards (if at all), have taken up the cry nnd urge that immediato help be extended. They forget the vast stores of food the Germans have sent to bottom of the ocean, and reckon not of the ravaged orchards, destroyed crops and poisoned ugricultural lands of Belgium and northern France.

Allied armies going into German territory find famine not at all imminent. The people seem to have enough to eat to keep them frnm starvution and even from any considerable deprivation. In fact, authorities now say that there is enough food in the central empires to last until next April. The store of necessities and delicacies revealed in a recent search of the kaiser's private larder showed that tho ruling classes have no definite intention of allowing themselves to be inconvenienced by any food shortage.

If Germany is hungry let her buy what is left after feeding the nations she has ravished. Let her think of the wheat now lying on the bed of the ocean, of the fruit not now growing in the destroyed orchards of Belguim, of the herds and flocks not now grazing on the flats of Flanders, and if a few Germans have to pull their belts tighter or diminished corporosities there should be no cause to shed tears.

POOR AMERICANS

Perhaps those persons who neglect to redeem the pledges they made in the W. S. S. campaign last June Imngine that the American soldiers left their native shore and went overseas to take part in sham buttles; at any rate, sham loan pledges at home can not be counted on to finance a real battle or the cost of the great war, a bill that will not be paid for many years. Those persons who, through forgetfulness or neglect, have not purchased the War Saving Stamps which they pledged themselves to buy are evidently persons who did not notice the daily casualty lists with roll of heroic dead who pledged their lives for America—and who kept their pledges.

The sales reports of W. S. S. show that in most Michigan counties the W. S. S. pledges are being faithfully taken care of; but the sales reports also show that not a few persons are failing to buy the stamps in accordance with the pledge made during the June campaign.

"There is no law to enforce the pledges made in June," states the Michigan War Savings Committee, "hut he is a poor American whose conscience and whose sense of patriotic duty are not sufficient law."

It used to be argued thnt a politicinn could run a business with better results for the people than a business man eould, but sinee the thing has been tried on, and the result has been higher cost and poorer and poerer service, the people are not sure about this.

The administration entertains two theories taken from the philosophy of the late P. T. Barnum. One is that you can make any old thing go if it is advertised well enough, and the oother that the American people like to be humbugged.

The New York socialists want it understood that they are in favor of direct action only when it is used on the other fellow. When is comes to protecting themselves from indignant soldiers they are strong for the majesty of the law.

The busy boys who raised campaign funds and held sympathy meetings for Heywood, Moyer and Pettibone, Harry Hillstrom, the McNnmarns nnd Tom Mooney will now have to dig up somo other martyr to cry nbout.

The southern Democratic politicians are acting as if they thought this were going to be their last crack at the U. S. treasury, and maybe they are right.

The election result of November 5th put the "sick" in syeophant.

HAVE YOU JOINED THE RED CROSS

Membership Badge Should Be In Every Home

The Red Cross badge of membership is a delight to the soul of the man in khaki, or navy blue. He knows its true significance in war as well as in peace. So do the thousands of American mothers and wives and sisters who have had their loved ones with the colors. We joined—have you? When you have the button pinned on your coat, you can look the whole world in the face—and feel proud. Remember you cannot give to the government; it won't accept it. There is a law against it. The only thing that the government will accept is a loan and duties performed, and your great channel for giving is the American Red Cross.

Charlevoix is coming, but not fast enough. Lets all see that a Service Flag is in our home.

There will be a dance at the Maple Grove grange hall, Friday December 27. Good music. Everybody welcome. 51t2

HOME BOYS ON CASUALTY LIST

Three Reported Seriously Wounded In Late Reports

The names of three Charlevoix county boys have appeared in the Michigan casualty list the past few days, and quite a number from neighboring towns.

The casualty list of December 14 contained the names of Harry A. Hammond, Charlevoix No. 3, seriously wounded, and that of Chas. S. Irwin of East Jordan, route 3, as wounded, degree undetermined.

Tuesday's list contained the name of John Wesley Ellis of East Jordan as seriously wounded.

Barrel the Only Rolling Container.

A barrel can be rolled. This is its greatest merit. Every other shape of container which weighs over 100 pounds when filled must be lifted bodily and carried on a hand truck or by hoisting machinery. One man can unload a carload of sugar—200 barrels of it—in less than an hour.

The Pope's Chair.

What is said to be the most expensive chair in the world belongs to the pope; it is of solid silver, and is said to have cost $80,000.

It is probable that if a federal rat administrator were appointed, the pests would be selling for a dollar apiece by spring, nd each barn would only be alloted so many.

USED ARSENIC IN COOKING

FIVE PEOPLE SUFFER FROM ITS EFFECT

Prompt Medical Assistance Undoubtedly Saved Lives at H. J. Walker Home.

The use of arsenic by mistake came nearly proving fatal to five people one day last week, when the poison was used in cooking at the home of H. J. Walker, east of town.

The Walker family had recently moved onto the Lewis Dufore farm and a baking powder can containing arsenic, which had been used at the barn, was taken with other things to their new home. This in the confusion of unpacking was placed in the pantry.

On Thursday of last week Mrs. Walker needed an empty can for some reason and noticing this one and thinking from the looks of the contents that it was flour, she emptied it into the flour bin and a little later used some of the flour for cooking.

The people partaking of the meal were Mrs. Walker and two children, Lewis Dufore and his son, Irving. All these people were taken very ill immediately after dinner, and prompt medical attendance was probably all that saved them from a trip into the unknown. As it is they are still quite sick but are out of danger.

The fact that Mrs. Walker was just recovering from influenza, from which she had suffered ever since coming to her new home, accounts for the mistake, as otherwise the place would have been put in order and the arsenic relegated to the barn where it would have been out of reach.

The entire party may congratulate themselves that nothing worse than a severe illness was the result of the mistake.

XMAS EXERCISES ARE CANCELLED

Offering to Be Taken Up for Serbian Relief.

The usual Christmas exercises with Santa Claus and a Christmas tree will be omitted at the M. E. church this year, and the following statement relative to this has been given out by the members of the church:

"Christmas exercises at the M. E. church will be in keeping with the times, with all unnecessary expenses curtailed that the money may be used for the relief of the 100,000 suffering Serbian and Armenian children. An offering will be taken for this purpose." "Inasmuch as ye have did it unto one of these, ye have did it unto Me."

FIRE ORIGIN THE LATEST MYSTERY

Denny Chicken Coop and Twelve "Clucks" Burned.

The fire department was called out early on Tuesday morning of this week for the first time this winter. The occasion was a fire in the chicken house of D. Denny.

The fire had such a start, however, that the coop was destroyed, the twelve chickens being cremeated. The origin of the fire is a mystery, but it is thought by some that the rooster was careless and dropped a cigarette stub. We have not learned whether or not the building was covered hy insurance.

Mrs. Ben Sneller's brother from southern Michigan, is now visiting at their home here.

Henry Near, from Montana, is visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. W. Hartwell.

H. Klooster returned from his trip to Detroit and Holland, Michigan last week Monday.

A few days yet to join the Red Cross. Let it be a family affair, rather than only one member.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klooster and two children from Raymond, Wash., are visiting at the H. Klooster home.

A letter from Corp. Samuel VanHouten states they are all satisfied with peace in his outfit, but they are busy as ever.

No very serious cases of influenza in the immediate vicinity of Atwood, although a great many have suffered slight attacks.

"Atwood has a correspondent for the Charlevoix Courier who imagines he is 'some pumpkins,' when in reality, he is only a pusillanimous little 'Jolly Fee' who reads his neighbors' Torch and then goes home with a grouch and proceeds to make a noise like a Thomas Cat on a back-yard fence. Cascarets taken by the dozen are a good remedy for such cases as yours, Mr. Correspondent. Just keep quiet, you'll get your feed with the other animals." The "personal" column of the last number of the "Central Lake Fire-brand" had a few scathing remarks, if taken literally. We are accustomed to your exaggerated statements, Mr. Editor. Wonder who pays you for my subscription to your paper? Am very sorry I had to decline your generous offer to feed with you and will look you up at your vivarium when I get real hungry. (Excuse us for "butting" in, Friend Correspondent, but allow us to give you a friendly tip. Keep away from close contact with the editor of the "Fire-brand, as we are quite positive he belongs to a specie of the prowling felidae family whose odor will announce his presence at some distance.)

WRIGHT DISTRICT

Threshing is supposed to be done, but Tom Sutherland expects to have threshers this week.

Clarence Hinton of Nicholl's camp spent Sunday with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Herrington.

Mrs. Harry Potter spent Thursday afternoon at the Herrington home and Eva Wrisley returned the visit Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Fultenbarger and son, Otto, spent Saturday evening at the Harm Sitzema home in this district.

The Misses Ethel Alward and Helen McElroy are taking part in the Christmas program which is to be given at the school house.

William Herrington called on Archie Balch Sunday, who had the misfortune to loose his right hand which was caused by an accident with a shot gun, while hunting rabbits.

ESSEX

George Dekkenga caught three skunk last Saturday.

John Wieland went to Charlevoix one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Best and family spent Sunday with the Wieland family.

Mr. Wieland bought four pigs from Mr. Carpenter of Bentley Hill last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dekkenga and Mr. Sarasen visited the Tillotson home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Dekkenga and Martha, went to Central Lake last Tuesday evening on a shopping trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Dekkenga and Mr. and Mrs. John Hennip spent Saturday evening at the Bowman home.

MILES DISTRICT

Dett Evans is making good this fall trapping.

Mike Addis was taking advantage of the good weather. He was plowing Saturday.

Harry VanGorder and Inez Slack are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Bess Horner, near Central Lake.

Albert Beckman, Joe LaLond and Albert Miles are helping Frank Boyd to buzz wood today, Monday.

About a week ago Frank LaLond suffered a stroke of paralysis and is in a very critical condition.

Little Gwendolin Isman has been visiting for some time at the home of her grand parents, Mr and Mrs. J. Guild near Charlevoix.

The Neighborhood Club held a social at the South Arm Grange hall last Friday evening and made $29.00. The proceeds was given to the Red Cross at East Jordan.

days and nights and have had ever since that bad spell, and that is one thing that I appreciate. It is hard to imagine snow on the ground at home, but I always did like the winter and variety of seasons we have up there, and do hope I am fortunate enough to get there before old winter is over, even though I do freeze to death at first.

"They are now giving every enlisted man a flight in a balloon and take them up to 1,000 feet, and as the flights are only 15 minutes, it is a job. I can consider myself lucky as I have spent more hours in the air than I have fingers and toes, and have been up to 3,400 feet, and have also had the pleasure of an early flight, from six to eight, and that is something I wouldn't (after I get back to civilian life) take a month's pay for.

"Because of the nature of the work I doubt if there is an enlisted man that has flew as much as I have, or been up as high.

"Thursday night the 40th Company gave a big dance and party at Armory Hall, a swell dance hall here at San Antonio, and it was sure a swell party. Good music and refreshments. All the young people from San Antonio were there. I never knew there were so many pretty girls in the south. I met a bunch of them and got along better than I thought I would, after being out of practice for so long. The girls were furnished by the Community house, St. Mark's church and Laurel Heights Methodist church, and a Mrs. Cunningham was chaperon. She is a fine woman and looked after us as though we were a personal charge.

"They are discharging men in all branches of the army but the air service, and in that there is no movement except that cadets training to be officers have been let go. Men are leaving Camp Travis, the big draft cantonment, by the train load. I have been told by the balloon officers that I would be transferred to the 97th Co., so be prepared for a change of address.

"There are possibilities that two companies will make a tour of the United States to sort of advertise the balloon division, which is comparatively a new branch in the U. S. army. After things get settled and everything down to a peace basis there will be balloon companies stationed at the Philippines, Hawaii Islands, Panama canal and all points of coast defense. This is not rumor, for it has been stated in a general bulletin from the war department. They are putting forth some heavy inducements for enlisted specialists to re-enlist, but believe me, I won't. The only time I will re-enlist is in case there is another war during the age at which I could enter the army, then I sure would join for I do not believe in the draft.

"Yesterday afternoon there was a movie taken down at Field No. 1, and the post balloon officer had me take command of the balloon during themovie, so keep your eyes open. My back was to the camera most of the time, but if you get a chance to see it, notice the bird at the head of it, and that will be yours truly. I hope some day when I get back to civilian life I will some night go to the theatre, and when I least expect it, see the picture. It would be pleasant for me to know every man in it by name or by sight. The movie you saw a few nights ago was the 35th Co., taken last July. This makes the second movie taken at this camp.

We will be a happy bunch when we board the train for home, and you know we are all slightly curious to know when that will take place. I can't help but think of going home and continually think how many more days I will have to spend in the army, and if I knew positively it would be six months, it would be better than the uncertainty. I know I won't be out for Chirstmas or New Years, but it cannot be helped, so no use saying anything about it.

"Well, my feet ache and I am generally tired out, so am going to bed. Good night. Your son, Forrest F. Fowler, 68 Balloon Co., Camp John Wise, San Antonio, Texas.

From Eugene Macey.

FORTUNES IN OIL ARE BEING MADE IN KENTUCKY

THERE ARE thousands of people who have won their way to fortune and life-long independence through a good investment in oil. Right now, the Government is urging the development of every acre of Oil Land in this country. Prices for oil were never higher, oil is here, Billions and Billions of gallons, and the BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY is going to do its share in supplying this great demand. Your opportunity to "Get Ahead" and share in the profits of this Company is here For quick fortunes, staggering profits and overwhelming wealth-creating possibilities, nothing like the Oil business has ever been known. Fortunes are frequently realized in the twinkling of an eye—millionaires made over night, and everyone from the wage-earner to the millionaire has an equal opportunity to participate according to the amount he can afford to invest.

THE BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY tells you how to invest to get the most from oil. It does not matter how small your means, how little surplus you may have available for investment purposes—the opportunity for you to secure an interest in the oil business is just as great in proportion as though you had a million dollars to invest. The judgment and advice of the directors of this company is to buy as many shares as you can of the BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY. That's friendly advice and should give you and your family a start on the "Road to Prosperity." Recent reports show the possibilities for you in the BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY; for instance, the Gipsy Pool recently produced more than 1,000,000 barrels of oil and made over $1,000,000 in 60 days; and the McMann Oil Company, since 1907 has made $50,000,000 in profits; sixty-five dollars invested in the Kern Oil Company has paid over $16,000 in dividends, and the Quaker City Oil Company paid a cash dividend of $2,800 on each $50 share of stock and the Houston Oil Company paid a stock dividend of 600 per cent. The investors in these Companies, some of whom have never seen the oil wells, started as you will start, perhaps with a modest investment, increasing it as your earnings double and treble.

THE PROPERTY. The BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY is incorporated under the laws of the State of Deleware, Capital Stock $250,000, full-paid and non-assessible. No preferred stock and no bonds. All shares will participate equally in each and every dividend. The properties of the BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY comprise 1,350 acres adjacent to the well-known Ragland Oil Field in Rowan County, Kentucky, and 960 acres in Clay County. The BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY owns all its land in fee and has no Leases, no Royalties and no Rentals to pay. Every indication points to the success of the BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY as in close proximity are the great oil wells of many dividend-paying companies.

THE PROSPECT. Every day the press of this country mentions the importance of producing more oil. 168,656,838 gallons of oil were shipped out of Kentucky in 1917, a remarkable increase over the previous year, and 1918 will be the biggest year in the history of Kentucky Oils, and 1919 should surpass all previous years. The BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY should be an important factor in adding materially to the constantly growing production. People everywhere are wildly enthusiastic over these new fields and in the course of a few months the good news will be spread to the investors who have chosen wisely and well.

AN UNUSUAL profit-taking opportunity. Without cost or obligation, the BOSTON-KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY will give each and every purchaser of BOSTON-KENTUCKY shares, an option on an equal number of shares at the price paid at the time of original purchase. This option may be taken up at any time within six months from December 1st, 1918, regardless of the ruling price at which the shares may then be selling for.

MAKE THE MOST of this wonderful opportunity—NOW—invest in oil—place yourself in the position where a little of your surplus money may bring you bigger results than you ever dreamed of. BOSTON-KENTUCKY is a conservative Company, managed by men who know how to produce oil. The acreage is unusually large and the capitalization unusually small. Buy your shares now at the present low price of 15c per share before drilling begins. The price will go up as the drill goes down. Make money by buying before the advance in price. This offering will not wait—act now—obey that impulse—fill out the attached application blank on either the cash or partial payment plan and mail it today.

MONEY MAKES MONEY

One hundred pennies is a dollar in disguise.

June 1st and December 1st of each year are interest days at the Charlevoix County Bank. On December 2nd we credited our many customers of the Savings Department nearly $2200.00 interest. If you were one of them bring in your Savings book and receive what is due you.

It pays to have something earning money for you, and that is what a Savings account does. It paves the way to success, and gives you something to fall back to when a rainy day comes along.

Start an account TODAY so June will find you with some interest due. No interest paid on accounts of less than one dollar.

more than pleased to hear from you, and hear that you were in good health.

"Well, this war is over and it left me in good health and without a scratch. As the kaiser says, 'God was with me.' We are still at the front in a town, or where a town used to be, that the Germans held for four years. They chased the Huns out in the morning and I came in here in the afternoon on an ambulance. Believe me it was some hot place, as the Germans had not forgotten the range, but they did not send anything over with my name on.

"I saw Leslie Shapton's name in the paper today as killed in action, but I do not believe that I knew him.

"We are expecting to move any day now, but do not know which way we will go. I think maybe we will go where these doughboys were headed for—the army of occupation.

"I sent Dad some souvenirs a few days ago. Hope he gets them. The weather is getting colder here now, but we have good clothes and will have overshoes in a few days. I also had rubber boots for the wet weather.

"There is nothing I need, as I can buy most everything I want. I have five pair of heavy socks, knit GAL 2—LETTERS .. ..O.. helmet, leather vest to go over my coat, rain coat and a good pair of lined mittens.

"Have you received any of the bonds, or any of the allotment yet?

"Well, there is not any more news to write about. Even in France news is scarce and the censor is still working, so will close with love and best wishes to all." Eugene J. Macey, 163 Amb. Co. A. E. F.

From Corp. John P. Campbell.

Somewhere in France.
November 24, 1918.

Dear Father—"I wrote you a letter a few days ago, but this will be your Christmas letter.

"Well Dad I can tell you some of my experiences now. I was an automatic gunner for over a year before they made me Corporal. I have been in almost every battle we have had had over here, and received two small wounds, and a little mustard gas on my face which left some scars, but I can tell you that I was lucky at that.

"I sure had a good feeling when we first went over the top. It was an awful sight at times, but its all over now. I was not afraid when we went over, but when I was in the trenches and the Boches bombarded us with those sixteen inch guns, it made my hair stand right on end.

"I am in camp now awaiting orders to join my outfit. Suppose you have heard of the fighting first division. We were almost the first ones to get over there. I am glad I did not wait to see if they would draft me, as I have seen a lot of the world.

"Have not learned a word of French yet,

"Do not know how long I will be here, but it will probably be four or five months at least. I am a little ways from Verdun, about fifty kilometers, that's about thirty miles. I must tell you the name of my first real fight. It is Soissions the first U. S. troops over the top. Was wounded in the Argonne battle, that was my last battle.

"Must close, do not know whether this will get by the censor or not. With love from your son, John P. Campbell, Co. C. 26th Inf. A. E. F., via N. Y."

RED CROSS IS LIKE A SHIP OF RESCUE

Always Travels in Troubled Waters and Answers Every Cry of Distress.

REST OF WORLD IS TOO BUSY

Christmas Roll Call Gives Every One a Chance to Take Part in Rebuilding Our Broken World

The American Red Cross is perhaps like nothing so much as a staunch and loyal ship in a storm. It goes its way with senses tuned to catch any cry for help. And when that cry comes, it drives instantly and without fear straight to the place of distress, in flood and fire and disaster, just as the ship braves the perils of tumbling seas and hazardous rescue work. And, again, like the ship, it STANDS BY till those endangered are helped to safety.

Meanwhile the rest of the world, busy with its own problems, hurries home during these times of storm and stress, and draws down the blinds.

At least that is the way it has been in the past. But now comes the Christmas Roll Call. And it is a privilege, not a pest. It has no preferences. It plays no favorites. It makes no exceptions. It summons every man, woman and child in the country. It holds out to each one the blessed opportunity to ride on every Red Cross ship of mercy, to speed with every Red Cross train of relief that encircles the earth on their errands of mercy.

The only way for anyone to escape the possibility of some time having to accept CHARITY from the Red Cross is to become ONE with the Red Cross. For terrible calamity may come to us all. The money wealth of the Belgians was as nothing when they were stripped of clothing and food. And that feeling of oneness with the organization that our men on the other side have had during the war was not merely a great, but was the GREATEST, factor in enabling the Red Cross to give the efficient aid that it did.

Let us remember what Mrs. Margaret Laing, canteen worker in France, told about our boys who came out of the hospitals without money:

"Sometimes they would be able to make up a few cents between them," she said, "and sometimes they did not have anything. They would hang behind those who could pay. And they would look at the food so wistfully that it made one fight back the tears. The only way we could get them to take what they needed and craved was by saying: 'You know, boys, this was all paid for by your own people at home.' Then immediately their attitude would change and they would say: 'Why, yes, my mother' or 'my sister gives to the Red Cross.' And then how they would pitch in."

We are proud, we Americans. We do not want something for nothing. And here is our glorious opportunity to take the rest of our nation by the hand, and with all pride and dignity be sure ourselves of our own help in time of adversity.

This Christmas Roll Call gives everyone a chance to be a "Dollar Man." And most of us can be one right at home. For by joining the Red Cross now and paying the dollar we became as actively engaged in the great work as if we were giving all of our time to it. We are merely making our dollar substitute for those of us who are too busy to give all of our time to the Red Cross.

Some of the great achievements of the Red Cross have been told over and over, until the facts may seem old to you. But on this occasion they are worth telling again. We should not forget, for instance, how the women of this nation, like our first Colonial mothers, turned suddenly into great manufacturers and made garments and supplies worth $50,000,000 last year. Nor let us forget how $111,000,000 was sent into the devastated countries during the time while men and women, giving their time for nothing, went with those dollars to see that they were used in the way they were most needed. And the American Red Cross sent medicines and anesthetics to the hospitals of France when they were almost unobtainable, so that our boys and their allies might have some relief from the torment of their wounds, and a chance at ultimate recovery.

There are so many things to tell that it is impossible to spread the whole story in this limited space. But each worker will know. For the letters that have come from the boys in the camps "over here" and from the fields "over there" have been full of the reasons. Ask the mother of any boy who was imprisoned behind the cruel lines where food was scarce even for the enemy army, but who got his 20 pounds of biscuits, pork and beans, cocoa and other good, wholesome things, every week.

The roofs are at hand everywhere. The reasons are manifest. Everyone should become a member of the widest, best and holiest crusade the world has ever known. Membership in the Red Cross should be more universal than taxes; as universal as the public school, public opinion, or our own public government.

WATCH FOR BLIGHT IN SEED BEANS

M. A. C. Pathologists Offer to Test Samples for Growers.

An amount of blight and anthracnose sufficient to make these diseases very dangerous to the crop of 1919 has been found in samples of seed beans which within the past several weeks have been submitted to the department of botany of M. A. C. for examination. Samples from Ingham, Kent, the "Thumb," and a number of other districts showed blight present in as much as 10 per cent of the seed. Anthracnose, while not so widespread, was discovered in 1.4 per cent of the seed. Word is accordingly being sent out to growers emphasizing the need for the careful selection of beans, with suggestion that particular efforts be made to see that seed is clean and free from disease.

In connection with its effort to assist the stamping out of anthracnose and blight in the state, the department of botany is offering to make free tests for these diseases if samples are submitted. These samples can be left with county agents for forwarding to the college, or can be mailed direct to the department of botany, Michigan Agricultural college, East Lansing. When the inspection of the samples has been made, a report is forwarded to farmers by the department, informing them as to whether the seed is safe for planting.

"There is plenty of good seed in Michigan," declares Dr. G. H. Coons of the college. "The problem before the farmer is simply to find this seed and conserve it for planting purposes."

CONSIDER THESE PRICES

Prices on goods that draw customers to my store. My sales during the month of November show an increase of almost 100 per cent over any other year that I have been in business. This is due largely on account of the high quality and low prices of my merchandise. For December I intend to make my business show more than one hundred per cent increase over previous years. I am going to sell a greater portion of my immense stock of Men's Fur Coats, Mackinaws, Pants, Overalls, Shirts, Socks, Gloves and Mittens. To make it an inducement for you to buy will make the following prices:

15 Men's Fur and Wind and Water-proof Coats. December prices	$9.00 to $50.00
6 doz. Men's and Boy's Mackinaws. December Prices	4.50 to 15.00
20 doz. Men's and Boy's Heavy Pants. December Prices, per pair	1.00 to 5.50
4 doz. Men's Sweaters. December Prices	1.50 to 8.00
20 doz. Men's Heavy Overalls. December Prices, per pair	1.00 to 2.00
40 doz. Heavy Wool Socks. December Prices, per pair	.50 to 1.00

EXCEPTIONAL OFFER IN WOOL SOCKS

Heavy Wool Socks that cannot be bought on the market today and like those I am selling for $1.00 per pair, I will sell to you after you buy one pair for 75c. You must buy one pair, paying $1.00, before I will give you the second pair for.....75 cents.

MEN'S GLOVES AND MITTENS

I have an unlimited quantity of Men's Gloves and Mittens that I am selling at a lower price than the manufacturers are asking today at wholesale. I bought this stock before the raise in price and will give the people of Charlevoix county the benefit of the big saving. I also have a complete line of Harness, Robes, Blankets, Horse Goods and Remedies such as Sal-Vet, Wool-Fat, Fleck's Powders, Dr. Daniel's Remedies, etc.

This sale will continue during the entire month of December, so your money will purchase the same amount any day you come to the store.

VOLUME 26. NUMBER 62. EIGHT PAGES CHARLEVOIX, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER, 25, 1918 PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

PHONE RATES GIVEN BOOST

FARM LINES GET INCREASE OF $6 PER MONTH

Two-Party Lines Eliminated—Business House Extensions Raised From $6 to $9 a Month

In announcing the proposed telephone rate adjustment at all exchanges in Michigan outside Detroit, G. M. Welch, General Manager of the Michigan State Telephone property, makes the following statement.

The present revenues are insufficient to meet the present expenses. In addition to the present losses some wages must be increased. Since August 1st, the property has been operated by the United States government through the Postmaster General.

The Act of Congress placing telephone properties under the Postmaster General's supervision required him to pay the owners of the property a just compensation but made no appropriation, so that telephone revenues must meet telephone expenses. The wage increases are imperative if we are to furnish satisfactory service. These increases must be met by increasing the rates. That revenues are insufficient is obvious to all. No other business has been able to exist in these times without increasing prices.

As a matter of fact, revenues have been insufficient since 1915. Dividends on $6,000,000 of common stock were paid in 1915, but not since. Since 1915 expenses outside Detroit have increased $400,000 per year more than the revenue has increased. On top of this loss wages must be still further increased.

The proposed rate schedule, it is estimated, will just make good this increase in expense since 1915. In other words, when the new rates are in effect, the property will not earn more than it did in 1915, and there has been $2,000,000 added investment in plant since 1915 outside Detroit.

The 189 exchanges in Michigan outside Detroit have been divided into six groups according to size and telephonic conditions. The lowest rates are to apply to the smallest exchanges, and the higher rates to the larger exchanges, with properly graded rates for intermediate sized exchanges. It is generally known that the expense per unit of service, that is, per telephone, increases as the size of the exchange increases. Likewise, the value of the service to the user increases as the number of telephones increases. The whole problem of telephone rates is much simplified for the public, and the regulatory bodies, by the proposed plan of rates.

The rates proposed are lower than is proper, but an immediate improvement in revenue is vitally necessary, and the rates are purposely made low so there need be no delay in meeting a critical situation.

FIRE STARTED FROM FURNACE

Carey House on Lincoln Avenue Badly Gutted by Fire

Between ten and ten thirty Thursday morning the fire department was called to the home of Bert Carey on Lincoln Avenue. The department made a quick run as several teams were on hand the minute the alarm sounded. It is thought that the fire started from the furnace, the shed was a mass of flames before it was discovered. By the time the department arrived the roof over the kitchen and back of the house was in flames.

The furniture was removed before the fire caught into the front part of the house.

Mrs. Carey was alone at the time of the fire, Mr. Carey is still in service at Camp Custer. Insurance was carried, but the amount of the damage has not yet been estimated.

HOME ON THIRTY DAY SICK LEAVE

Pvt. Harold Usher Suffering From Gas Poisoning

Pvt. Harold W. Usher of Co. I, 125th Infantry, 32nd Division, is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Usher, on his returning from duty overseas. He left St. Nazaire on the S. S. Siboney, November 12, returning to the U. S. by the way of Brest, France, landing in New York, November 22. At present he is a patient in U. S. General Hospital No. 3, Colonia, New Jersey, being sent there from Debarkation Hospital No. 2, Staten Island, N. Y.

The S. S. Siboney was the first boat to make the trip from France without escort after the peace armistice had been signed, and brought back about five hundred wounded and sick from the different hospitals in France, including a number from the Michigan National Guard division and the Thirty-second.

Pvt. Usher is suffering from gas poisoning which has seriously affected his stomach and caused a partial paralysis of the bowels. He will return to the hospital about the 14th of January where treatments will be continued with hopes of counteracting the terrible effects of the Huns pet Yankee exterminator.

WHAT "AMERICANIZATION" MEANS

GOVERNOR LOWDEN DEFINES ITS MOTIVES AND IDEALS

No Place for a Man Who Fails to Meet His Duties or Allegiance to Flag

"What in your judgment, are the motives and ideals that lie behind the Americanization movement?"

That was the question asked Governor Lowden by William A. Bond, chairman of the Committee on Americanization of the Chicago Association of Commerce. This is the Governor's answer:

"We have the best country in the world. Its varied resources make it more independent than any other country in the world We have a form of government under which more people have lived free and happy than any other in all history. The purpose of the Americanization movement is to make people understand these simple facts, which we have well-night forgotten. Internationalism ignores these facts, and would substitute a partnership with all the world for the indisputable advantages which Americans, as such, enjoy.

"The American believes that in preserving American institutions, and in holding America for Americans, native and naturalized, America can best discharge her obligations to the world. The internationalist would pool America with the other countries of the world for the benefit of humanity at large. He who meets his duties at home becomes thereby no poorer citizen of his community, and he who meets his duties as an American first becomes no poorer citizen of the world. Americanization means that it is America and not the world which protects her humblest citizen in the exercise of his rights. It, therefore, exacts from the citizen allegiance to America, and not to the world. It says to all, 'If America is not a large enough country for you, and if you want to consider yourself simply a citizen of the world, you had better move beyond our borders.' We of America shall have enough to do if we take care of our own. Our first duty is to our people, and their first allegiance is to the stars and stripes."

STORES CLOSED ALL NEW YEAR'S DAY

Charlevoix Merchants and Employees to Observe Holiday

Charlevoix merchants will observe New Years by the closing of their places of business for the entire day. On other holidays during the past year, many places of business have been kept open for a few hours in the forenoon, but on New Years it has been agreed to close for the entire day.

Orders by customers should be placed a day early that no inconvenience may be caused by the store being closed, thus allowing the owners and employes of the stores to enjoy a day of rest and recreation.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS NOW IN THE SERVICE

Allen Shapton Wounded by Explosion of German Shell and is Now Well on Road to Recovery—Says Michigan Is Good Enough for Him

From Allen Shapton

France, November 24, 1918.

"Dear Dad—This being the big day in France for the A. E. F. boys I will do my share with the greatest of plensure. I know that you are anxious to hear from me, and considering my uncomfortable position to write I will do my best for a merry Christmas letter to you. It was the last of September when I wrote you before. Just before we went up to the front we were quarantined in a big woods, and used to see Joe Powers and several of the other boys from home real often, but have not seen them since.

"We marched three nights from that place before we came under shell fire. On the first of October we went into battle, that memorable battle of Verdun, and were headed for the Meuse river, which I suppose you have read a good deal about. We encountered hard fighting, but that does not stop American fighting men. It was a long hard drive for which the A. E. F. is deriving a lot of credit from all nations except Germany. They found out what the contemptible little U. S. army could do. I was in fifteen days before I was wounded. In the middle of the night of the 14th I connected with the business end of a '77' that knocked me flat, inflicting a deep gash across my left hip, and a wound on my left shoulder blade about as big as my hand. Although it was a long time before I received first aid, I did not suffer much, but lost quite a lot of blood, which I suppose is keeping me weak now.

"Since coming to the hospital I have had good care, and my wounds are doing fine. I expect that in a week or ten days I can walk some It seems a long time for me to be flat on my back.

"All that the boys hope for is to get back home, and the trip across the ocean will not bother us at all. A look at the statue of Liberty will sure seem good to us.

"I have traveled over a good part of France, but it does not appeal to me, Michigan is good enough. I am now about two miles from Paris, and would like to see that famous city before I go back. A lot of the boys from the hospital go over there as soon as they are able to go without their crutches.

"All of we boys are on edge for the big Thanksgiving dinner, so hungry for sweet stuff. Why pumpkin pie will just melt in my mouth, and turkey too, oh, my. The Red Cross is putting up this meal, so we know it will be good for they give us lots of good things to eat, especially fried cakes. They gave us two packages of Camels today, we console our minds a lot by smoking.

"I have written home several times, but have received no mail, so don't know how any one is. We know that letters are written to us, but do not know why we do not receive them.

"I suppose you knew the news a long time before I did. Was looking through the casualty list the other day, and saw Leslie's name. It was a great shock to me, and it was a long time before I could make it seem possible, but many a boy gave his life in this world war for the freedom of his country, as well as other nations. Although hard on his parents and community, he died a very honorable death.

"You can feel proud that you will see your boy again although I am wounded. Under so many methods of warfare, a man is lucky that goes through battle without a scratch. You people back there cannot imagine what facing artillery fire and machine gun bullets is like, it sure is hell, but we didn't flinch and that is why the Kaiser fled shivering in his boots and his murderous army jumped their job.

"It was a gala day here in France on armistice day, people were so happy they cried, bells rang that had not rung since the war started, and streets were lighted for the first time. Improvised bands were made up and marched through our tent, the cheering was great. The Hun was whipped and the A. E. F. boys received their share of the praises.

"Well, I will be home some time in the winter, and can tell you better than I can write, so will close with a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all.

ALLEN.

From Maurice Newland

November 17, 1918.

"Dear Mother and Dad—I received your letter of October 20 and it found me well except for a cold, and that can be expected at this time of the year, otherwise I am feeling fine and getting into shape again.

"Well, it is beginning to get a little cold. The wind has been blowing for the last two days, so we have to wear our overcoats all the time except when drilling. We get the setting up exercises for a while every day, so that we keep in good trim all the while.

"I suppose you are wondering what I was doing when the war came to a close. I was right at the front expecting to go over the top that day. I was standing at my post as gas sentry and had been on most of the night, was watching the hands of my watch, as I knew that the guns were to cease at 11 o'clock. They fired right up to the last minute. It was hard to realize that peace was so close, as the big guns kept booming away and the shells went whizzing overhead, but suddenly as the hands struck the hour they ceased.

"We gave three rousing cheers, and every one along the line cheered, and we could hear the Germans cheering on their side. At night the Germans sent up star shells and other kinds of rockets to celebrate. They are still blowing up mines as we can still hear the explosions. I was im-

WILL DISCHARGE 900,000 SOON

3,210 PRISONERS BACK IN AMERICAN LINES

Demobilization Proceeding at Rate of 30,000 a Day, General March Says

With a total of 188,562 men discharged from the army during the week ending Dec. 14, Gen. March announces the war department has about reached the average of 30,000 discharged daily for which the demobilization plans call.

On a seven-day basis the average for that week was 27,000 men per day, but in many cases demobilization officers did not operate on Sunday.

Additional units in this country designated for early demobilization brings the total of men so selected to 900,000, Gen. March announces. Up to the date of the latest official reports 26,903 officers had been honorably discharged.

Gen. Pershing has reported that 3,210 American prisoners of war were repatriated up to Dec. 16. Of these 2,653 came through Switzerland; 324 passed through the American front lines; 120 went through Holland and 113 through Denmark. Those passing through Holland and Denmark are now all enroute for England, the dispatch said.

Gen. Pershing expressed the opinion, that very few American prisoners remain in Germany and believed these would be quickly evacuated. He said a continued search is being made for isolated prisoners. British and French officials in Switzerland Holland and Sweden and in Germany itself are aiding in this searc.

As an illustration of the heavy flow of troops returning from France on board the largest ships, Gen. March announced that the steamer Leviathan, making ten trips, had carried an average of 9,418 men to France on each trip. Seven other ships of unusual tonnage averaged better than 2,000 men per trip.

Gen. March disclosed the fact that the communication facilities with the American forces in Russia, particularly in the Archangel area, have been very unsatisfactory. The war department itself has had difficulty in communicating important military instructions to the commander and only meager dispatches have come through to this end. Gen. March said he felt sure that the authorities in England and France through whom these messages pass are doing everything possible to improve the situation.

In answer to a question Gen. March said that coast artillery units which were being used for army and corps artillery are all being returned to this country, but those which were serving as divisional artillery probably will stay abroad for some time.

ARRIVE HOME WITHOUT MONEY

SOLDIERS WITHOUT PAY FOR MANY MONTHS

Wounded Are Penniless and Hundreds at Hospitals Forced to Become Objects of Charity

With thousands of troops returning weekly to the United States since the signing of the armistice, it has been learned that in many instances soldiers are arriving on this side, financially stranded, due to the failure of the government to send them their pay. Some of the men have not been paid for several months and are literally penniless. Others have merely missed connections with their last pay, but are in nearly as bad shape.

This condition was severely criticised in Congress by Representative Mann, Republican minority leader, when he said:

"I think the department ought to pay the men who are in the army now up to date. I have a telegram here from West Baden, Ind., which reads as follows:

"'Several hundred wounded men arrived at West Baden Hospital. A large number are without any funds and say they have had no pay for many months. Cannot some plan be put in operation to give them money when they disembark?'

"It is a scandal to send wounded men clear from the point of disembarkation to Southern Indiana, with money due them for months, and not a cent paid to them. The War Department has informed me that if I would have telegraphed to them the names of the men they would endeavor to pay them. I cannot do that. It is their business. A wounded man in a hospital cannot be expected to run after the paymaster to get his pay. It is the duty of the military department of the government to look after him. I hope they will be brought to realize their duty in the matter."

Representative Sherley of Kentucky said he had made suggestions to the military authorities and to the Red Cross as to plans which would keep the soldiers in money who had not received the pay due them, but that these suggestions evidently had not been carried into effect.

"I agree," he said, "that there is no possible excuse for any large number of such cases happening. Here and there, of course, they are bound to occur, but the system ought to be such as to make numerous cases impossible."

EAST JORDAN MAN DECORATED

Repeatedly Crosses Valley of Death and Lives

Private Lionel Goodman, Headquarters Company, 125th Infantry (A. S. No. 264361), was awarded the American Distinguished Cross for extraordinary heroism in action near Verdun, France, October 11-13, 1918. Private Goodman, runner for the third battalion, 125th Infantry, during the taking and holding of the line near La Tuilerie Ferme, was engaged in carrying important messages, crossing and recrossing death valley between Hill 258 and La Cote Dame Marie, the foremost part of the line held by the Third Battalion. The valley was swept by machine gun fire, the terrain affording absolutely no protection, requiring a perilous dash of 500 yards across open ground before cover was reached. It was only by display of supreme courage that important messages reached the battalion. Private Goodman is a member of Headquarters Company of which the old members of Company "I" are a section and of which Captain H. L. Winters is commander.

Books As Mind Savers

Read this extract from a letter received by the American Library Association and then send the best books you own to the Public Library to go to the boys in the hospitals:

"There are two boys in wheeled chairs, one with both legs gone, the other but one, who sit most of the day beside the books, which are so arranged that they can sit and pull them out without keeping others away. One boy said to me the other day, 'I never knew until now what books could mean in a man's life. I would have lost my mind if I could not have had the use of these books.'"

Primitive Plow

Even at the present time modern plows are practically unknown in Egypt, and all that is used is a log with a wooden hook, the end of which is steel-pointed. Any animals available, from a donkey to a camel, constitute the team, and sometimes even a camel and a bullock are seen pulling together.

Culinary Camouflage.

Our first recollection of the art of camouflage is the way they used to put a nice brown meringue on top of the bread pudding, making it look like something good.—Ohio State Journal

THE RED CROSS

By HENRY VAN DYKE.

Sign of the Love Divine
That bends to bear the load
Of all who suffer, all who bleed,
Along life's thorny road.

Sign of the Heart Humane,
That through the darkest fight
Would bring to wounded friend and foe
A ministry of light.

Oh dear and holy sign,
Lead onward like a star!
The armies of the just are thine,
And all we have and are.

Some Red Cross Supplies.

The American Red Cross has supplied our men with more than 15,000,000 cigarettes; 50,000 packs of cards; 20,000,000 boxes of safety matches; 1,000,000 bars of chocolate sent to England; 25,000,000 cigarettes a month sent to France; 15,000 automobiles since August 1 to France; 90,000 saws for use in lumber camps in Italy; 1,500,000 packages of chewing gum a month to France; 3,000 tons of condensed milk for the children of prisoners in Archangel, Siberia.

There are approximately 70,000 women in Red Cross canteen work in this country. They serve our soldiers at 681 canteens, at all hours of the day and night. During the year 1918 sick persons to the number of 5,000 were aided or removed from trains and taken to hospitals. A total of 3,000,000 postal cards were distributed.

Suicides Among Japanese Students.

According to Rev. Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, who lived long in the far East, suicides among Japanese students are probably more prevalent than among any other students in the world. The causes he mentions are, first, the high-strung nerves and exceptional sensitiveness to anything that may be regarded as a personal humiliation; and second, the extraordinary competition among students to secure places in the government schools.

RESOLVED FURTHER, that notice of the filing of said assessment roll in the office of the said City Clerk and of the time and place of the meeting of the common council and Board of Special Assessors as herein provided, be given by publication of such notice in the Charlevoix Courier, a newspaper published and circulating in the City of Charlevoix, at least two weeks in succession.

Adopted at a regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix held in the council rooms in said city, on the 23rd day of December, A. D., 1918, by aye and nay vote as follows: Ayes—Geiken, Glassford, Hiller and Washburn. Nays—none.

S. M. ROSE,
Mayor.

Charles H. Emrey,
City Clerk.

There being no further business, the council adjourned.

CHARLES H. EMREY,
City Clerk.

Notice of Application to Railroad Commission

In accordance with the provisions of Act. No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1913, notice is hereby given that an application will be presented by the Michigan State Telephone Company to the Michigan Railroad Commission at the offices of the Commission in the Oakland Building, in the City of Lansing, Michigan, on the seventh day of January, 1919, at 10 A. M. of that day, for authority to alter, by standardizing and making more nearly adequate, the Schedule of Rates, Rentals and practices in effect in all the local exchanges of the Michigan State Telephone Company in the State of Michigan, other than the Detroit Exchange, by establishing a standard schedule throughout the State of Michigan, as set forth below, and said Commission will be then and there requested to fix a date of hearing of said application.

COMMISSIONER NOTES

Saturday office hours will remain the same during the Christmas interval and work will continue as usual except on the Christmas day itself. However in order to lighten work a little the commissioner will send in no notes for the next two weeks. A Merry Christmas to the many readers of our rural school notes. We have the Christmas spirit in our schools and we extend to all the utmost joy in earnest thought and wishes.

Beautiful Christmas announcements arrived from Burgess, McGeagh, Robinson, Springvale and Pleasant Valley schools. Good news also reached the office concerning the doings in the Ranney school and in the Knop district. Many of the schools are having very attractive little programs but the girls write that the plans are very simple in order to lighten all extras because so much time has to be made up now and lessons come first.

The Star school had to close the week before Christmas. Although they were not intending to have any vacation this year, the influenza again forestalled them. At one time in the western part of the county all rural schools were closed but two, and later most of the eastern county schools had to close but only two are now closed because of the influenza so far as is known at this time. Attendance reports indicate a little of the disease here and there but on the whole very little absence due to sickness.

Miss O'Donnell of Springvale, Miss Spees of Haston school and Mrs. Housten of Gill school report perfect attendance during the past two weeks.

The Robinson school is one of the most recent to report new sanitary appliances against spread of disease this winter in the school room.

Pleasant Valley school board has ordered a long list of new books working toward the complete list recommended for teachers helps in following the state course of study and report that the list is now almost complete. Fine for Miss Underhill.

Mrs. Crane reports that the Advance school donated liberally to the Boyne City Santa Claus club and sent a dollar to the Michigan Hospital for Crippled Children.

Pledges coming in rapidly for the Junior Red Cross. It makes the school 100 per cent. Has it been sent in from your school? Maybe you have cared for the Red Cross in another manner. Better find out.

Letters are now coming to the office indicating that firms everywhere are preparing to do business on a "peace basis." The State War Board has already lifted the ban on building and construction work. School boards that found it necessary to postpone repair work up to this time will now feel more like going ahead with the progress work of their district—a responsibility and a privilege.

The Annual School Directory for the teachers and officers of Charlevoix county is now in the hands of the printer. There is no one publication on which the commissioner spends so much time and thought as on this booklet. It is designed to anticipate the needs of teachers, to serve as a handbook for officers, and to meet the legal requirements of the state in all possible ways. This year some very valuable exchange material came to the office besides the year's war work being of extra value to the county. Special features of the book are lists of officers for nation and state for the year 1919, W. S. APPLES AND RICE.—Stew pared and cored apples over a slow fire with a little powdered ginger, cloves, a bit of lemon peel and some brown sugar. Boil one-fourth pound of rice with two cupfuls of milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter and four tablespoonfuls of sugar. Make it stiff enough to put round a dish. Put the apples in the center and pour over them a custard made with the yolks of two eggs. Beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, adding a pinch of salt; pile this over all, sprinkle lightly with sugar and bake a nice light brown.

Apple Pudding.—Peel, core and slice sufficient apples to fill a baking dish. Butter the dish thickly and put in the apples in layers, alternating them with stale cake crumbs and a little melted butter, using two tablespoonfuls of the latter to one pint of apples. Let the last layer be a thick one of cake crumbs and put in a moderately hot oven until the apples are tender. Then beat together two eggs and two tablespoonfuls of sugar (more should be added if the apples are very tart), add one cupful of cream and pour it over the apples. Return to the oven until a rich gold color. Serve with cream.

Apple Sherbet.—Boil four cupfuls of apples in two cupfuls of water until soft. Mash through a sieve. Add the juice of one orange and one lemon, one-half pound of sugar and four cupfuls more of water. Beat well and freeze. When of the consistency of snow add the beaten white of one egg and finish freezing.

Apple Pancakes.—Put four tablespoonfuls of flour into a bowl with a pinch of salt and a little sugar. Stir these well together and form them into a stiff batter with three well beaten eggs and a little milk. The batter must be stiffer than for ordinary pancakes. Peel four or five apples and chop very small. Mix with the batter and fry in the usual way.

POLITICS IS THE FIRST BUSINESS OF THE GOOD AMERICAN

Under our form of government the people are the arbiters of men and measures. The people at the ballot box determine the fate of leadera and of policies. Political parties are the agencies through which great national policies find their way into legislation and administration. The choice between parties and among leaders on election day is determinative in its effect upon the welfare of the nation.

Every citizen worthy of the name in this republic is "in politics." If he is not in politics he is delinquent in his duty to himself and to his country. Very often the citizen who is too virtuous or too anaemic to be in politics is the loudest declaimer against the train of evils which inevitably follows the failure of the so-called good citizen to participate in the caucus, the primary and the convention, although his failure to participate is proof that he isn't very much good.

The government is a great corporation, existing for the common good, in which each citizen is a stockholder. Upon the proper performanee of duty by stockholders in the election of directors and officers to represent him in the management of the company's affairs, upon the wisdom exercised by stockholder's in the direction of those in charge of the affairs of their company, upon the zeal they manifest in reaching an understanding of the company's affairs and their intelligence in applying that understanding, depends the success of its government. A company may pay dividends or it may levy assessments without conferring benefits. It is up to the citizen, the individual stockholder, to see to it that the most important corporation in which he holds stock, constantly creates assets and not liabilities for distribution among the shareholders.

Yes, politics matters. It matters mightily. It matters mightily in city and county, in state and nation. Political parties matter. Their policies are not identical. They differ radically. Results equally beneficial cannot result from the adoption of any of their varying philosophies of government.

It may be added that there are those, manifestly, who appreciate this fact. The conservative citizen, who takes his politics lazily, can learn a good deal from the socialist. The socialist realizes that only through the channels of politics will it be possible for him to realize in practice the theories for which he stands. In every city and town there is an active, aggressive socialist group. These men are frequently gathered in meetings, meetings for instruction and consultation. Their speakers are on the street corners and in the socialist halls nightly. Their pamphlets are everywhere, their periodicals are spread broadcast by the thousand. This accounts for the rapid growth of the socialist movement.

If the man who disagrees with you radically with reference to elemental principles of government is ready and willing to devote his thought and his energy to such propaganda, why are YOU not willing to manifest some activity in behalf of what you believe to be essential to the welfare of your country? Is it because the socialist is more genuinely interested in economic questions than yourself. Mr. Republican? What will be the ultimate result if the socialist agitates, and the opposition to socialism and every kindred form of radicalism stagnates? The answer is easy.

We repeat, politics is the first business of the citizen. The citizen who assumes an attitude of indifference toward these principles and these movements which are destined profoundly to affect the welfare of this and future generations for good or for ill, is unworthy of his heritage as an American citizen. Disdain of politics is not a distinction—it is a disgrace.

It is announeed that several tons of information on European affairs collected at government expense by a corps of one hundred and fifty (150-eount 'em) college professors, accompanied the American peace commission to Paris. As nobody else will have the time or inclination to read these few truck-loads of enlightenment, maybe one of the peace conditions will be that the Kaiser will have to study it in prison. Or, if the war breaks out again, why not drop it on Berlin from a bombing plane?

Once upon n time a rooster and a rat got into a fight, and when the rat was whipped the rooster proposed disarmament. Called upon for details the rooster suggested that all teeth should be pulled in order that there might be no more biting done. When asked what was going to be done about beaks and spurs he said it was necessary to retain them in order that the freedom of the barnyard might be preserved, whereupon there was loud cackling among the hen-heads.

After decreasing the rate on long distance night telegrams the Postmaster General points triumphantly to the beneficient results of political ownership. What about that fifty per cent inerease in letter postage, that fifty per cent hoist in passenger and freight rates on the railways, the new charge for installing a telephone and a few other features of political operation which are to this little price cut as a barrel of apples to a quart of cranberries?

The British government wants $150 apiece for ferrying our soldiers to Europe and Franee asks ground rent for the space oceupied by our troops abroad. If the fellows who have been weeping in public over the awful financial and industrial state of our allies will restrain their sobs until the bills are all in and settled they may be able to save 'em for somebody else.

Some of our most distinguished apostles of internationalism and altruism and human justice, etc., sre now passing resolutions demanding that no foreigners be permitted to come to the United States from less favored lands on the ground that immigration will cause a dividing up of American wages.

We believe the reason the coal administrator quit was because he couldn't bear to stay in Washington with McAdoo gone.

SCHOOL OPENS JANUARY SIXTH

Christmas Vacation Period Extended for One Week

On account of sickness and threatened influenza epidemic, it has been decided by local health authorities to keep the city's public schools closed for a week longer than was intended when they closed for the Christmas vacation. Under the new order, school will not open until Monday, January 6.

While there are no severe cases of grippe or influenza in the city, many are under care of physicians, and the closing of schools for another week may in a great measure, prevent what might result in a severe spread of the epidemic.

Echo From a Hunting Trip

When the hunting season opened,
And a lot of men said au revoir,
As they rode in autos to Petoskey
Bidding farewell to old Charlevoix.

There was two bold and fearless hunters,
Their aim was not very good,
They lived in one of Wheeler's camps,
At the edge of the hard wood.

Two loud and jolly men were they,
And this was plainly seen,
When they stopped for lunch one sunny day
On the banks of a rippling stream.

All day they had hunted through the woods
With no snow upon the ground,
Two hungry men sat side by side,
On a little grassy mound.

With a fire they toasted good war bread
At the foot of a big pine tree.
With a baking powder can for a pot
They steeped a kettle of tea.

As they sat on a log by the fire,
And gazed into the little river,
They heard a sound not far away
That made them tremble and quiver.

'Twas strange, and they stopped to listen,
When a aound came soft and low,
They looked at each other and smiled,
When they learned, 'twas only a rooster'a crow.

Just across on the other side,
Was a flock of hens and a banty,
And just around a bend in the stream
Stood a barn and an old log shanty.

They crossed the stream on an old pine log,
Heading straight for the little crower,
They will never forget the look on the face,
Of the woman who stood in the open door.

Hunting seasons come and hunting seasons go,
And pleasant memories last forever.
They will never forget as long as they live,
The day they dined on the river.

Now the hunting season ia over,
And the winter has begun,
For the snow will soon be falling,
And they have laid away their gun.

Do you want the names of these hunters bold
Who were scared at a rooster's crow?
If you'll promise not to give it away
I'll whisper them soft and low.

One was a doughty Colonel
But he never had army itch:
The other can sing like a peacock,
And that guy, you know, was Fitch!

OVERSEAS SERVICE IN RUSSIA

Former Charlevoix Teacher Visits Friends Here

Archie Maybee of Adrian and Miss Beulah Thompson of Harbor Springs drove from Harbor Springs Wednesday night to attend the Christmas danee, and were guests at the Parsons home until Friday.

Mr. Maybee was formerly a teacher of mathmetics in our high school, having taught here in 1914 and 15. He enlisted in the government service in December 1917, and was sent overseas, and spent most of his time in Russia while there. He was severely shell-shocked and received an honorable discharge and returned to this country November 8, 1918.

Mr. Maybee has many friends in Charlevoix who were glad of the chance to meet and talk with him once more.

Congregational Church

Next Sunday is the last Sunday of the year. The morning service is at 10:30 o'clock. Theme: "The Foregrounds and the Backgrounds of Life." In the evening at 6:30 a service for everybody, under the direction of the Y. P. S. C. E. Theme "A Happy New Year; How to Make It So." No Sunday school unless the ban is lifted. Midweek service each week at 7:00 o'clock. The church extends a cordial invitation and offers a sincere welcome to all. Services at the Ironton Community church Sunday school at 1:30, standard time, preaching at 2:30. The services are at the Grange hall during the winter months. Everybody in th evicinity of Ironton is cordially invited to come and share in these services.

Lost Finger in Buzz Saw

About ten days ago while Charles Gallagher of St. James was buzzing wood with a small gasoline engine, his left hand was caught tearing the first finger off, and cutting the cords of the other three. His thumb was also cut from the top down through the center to the second joint. McCann's tug brought him to Charlevoix where Dr. Armatrong gave him medical attention. It is feared that the three fingers will remain stiff.

Notice to Tax Payers

I will be at the Charlevoix State Savings Bank each Saturday from December 21 to January 11, to collect taxes for Marion township. James Cook, Township Treasurer.

The 2nd division was the second command of Americon troops to get to the front, going in neor Verdun the first of March, and Lt. Hampton was with them on that front nearly three months, up to the time they were shifted to a section on the Somme, and from there were rushed back in motor trucks to Chateau Thierry, where the Marines stopped the German advance and saved Poris. Lt. Hampton has been with regular army units during his entire service, both abroad and at Camp Fremont and Camp Kearney, and had not the war ended, would have gone back to France in January as a captain of infantry, having been recommended for promotion.

SURPRISE PARTY AT STALEY HOME

Help Father Celebrate His 76th Birthday

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Staley on Mason street wos the scene of o somewhat unusual event on Sunday last, when the children of Mortin J. Staley helped him celebrate his 76th birthday.

The offair wos in the form of a surprise on the senior member of the family, who, after his embarrassment had subsided, join in with the merry throng, and from what we hear, demonstrated thot although weighttd down somewhot by nge, he could when occasion demanded, "be os young" as the youngest member of the party.

In oll, twenty of his children (with their children, of course) made the event a most merry ont. At noon a turkey dinner was served, the chief table decoration being the pyromid birthdsy cake with its 76 candles. After congratulations were extended, Mr. Staley wos presented with an appropriate remembrance of the occasion.

ARE NOW ON RUSSIAN SOIL

RUSSEL DEAN FIGHTING THE BOLSHEVIKS

Have Been Issued Heavy Clothing for Winter Wear—Dreams of Home

Archangel, Russia,
November 2, 1918.

"My Dear Folks—Well here goes another letter. I have wrote about six letters but have never got a chance to send any of them. I would carry them around with me until they would be so no one would be able to read them. Then the next time we would stop I would do the same thing again and then we would move before I had a chance to mail them, so never had a chance to let you know where I was.

"I have received several of your letters. I received 10, 17 and 10 the laat time and believe me they sure look good. The people treat us fine over here. We are fighting the Bolsheviks up here. We are back from the front now. I and two other fellows are on the telephone.

"We have some fine feeds here. Had some Russian bread tonight. It is bitter but it is good for a change.

"Say, I had a dream the other night. I thought Roy and I were back and oh, we were having a wonderful time and believe me we will when we do get back. Believe me, I told it before breakfast too.

"I am feeling fine except for a light cold. We have our winter clothing and they are fine. Fur lined overcoats and leather coats to put under them, a big fur cap and we sure can keep warm.

"All the fellows are sitting around the stove singing now. A person would think they were a thousand miles from the front. The stoves are like a furnace mostly all brick or stone and when they get heated up they stay warm for 10 or 12 hours. They are great.

"I saw Postmus about a week ago he was feeling fine. We had snow here about a week ago. It lasted three or four days, but is all gone now. I had a nice big drink of milk tonight.

"I have received several letters from Lizzie and Mary also Wallie. I wish I could get a lot of mail to you folks, will try from now on. I must close for this time, with love to you all."

PVT. RUSSEL DEAN,
Co. L, 339th Inf., A. N. R. E. F., Archangel, Russia.

From Sgt. Glen Compton

Nov. 12, 1918.

"Dear Mother—I received your letter just now and was very glad to hear from you. I didn't get around to get any Christmas slips in time as I was busy doing signal work for an Algerian Bat. of 3 20's at Verdun. I don't know just how much the consorship has raised but from here, Camp Haussement (Osumo) but we can tell where we are located. Our regiment started this camp and went away and when we came back it was some camp.

"I distinctly remember the first time I landed here. We pitched our small shelter tents and I had my guy rope tied to one of the four cedar posts that marked a German grave, and this place was a regular rest camp, anyhow, that is the soldier term for a graveyard. This is the place where General Joffre said, 'we will retreat no farther,' and you would know by the looks of things that they didn't. We have been here once before for a rest from the front, or rather, from near the front where we were at work.

"The boys don't care about staying around here very well for there is too much drill and other military stuff connected with it. I would rather flop for Austrian whizzbangs than stay here myself.

"I was over a battlefield, or rather a swamp, the next day after the armistice was signed and it was a sorry sight. Americans and Germans alike were lying where they fell. The wounded had been picked up by the time I got there so I didn't get a chance to help as I started out to do. It was almost impossible to tell a German from an American they were so spattered up with mud and also disfigured. I counted eight Germans that would of been alive today if they could have had medical attention, but their comrades had to leave so suddenly that they bled to death. I guess it is better that everything is over, but I was just getting so I liked war all the better the hotter it got.

"I am in fond hopes of seeing the good old U. S. A. soon, where frog-legs are not in style and I can tell whether the people are referring to me or not when they start to jabber.

"Well I will close for this time, so goodbye to all, from your loving son."

Bat. D. 52nd Artillery, American E. F., C. A. C. France.

ONE WEAK SPOT

Many Charlevoix People Have Weak Part and Too Often It's the Back

Many people have a weak spot.
Too often it's a bad back.
Twinges follow every sudden twist.
Dull aching keeps up, day and night.
Backache is often from weak kidneys.
In such case a kidney medicine is needed.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.
For backache and urinary ills.
Charlevoix people recommend the remedy.

Mrs. R. S. Hammond, 207 Belvedere Ave., Charlevoix, says: "Several years ago my kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. At times my hands and feet were swollen and my face was bloated, also. I felt miserable all over. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills I began their use and three boxes removed all the trouble, making me feel like a different person."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Hammond had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

ANTRIM COUNTY FARM BUREAU

Held Annual Meeting at Bellaire Friday, December 20

The annual meeting of the Antrim County Farm Bureau was held in the court house at Bellaire, Friday December 20.

It was decided to put on a campaign for members to the Bureau in this county. The cost of becoming a member is fifty cents annual membership dues. Other counties have already begun this movement and Antrim County should be among the lead in numbers of members. One thousand members should be secured this winter and then Antrim County will be known as a leading county in this work as well as in the Russet rural potato and mnrketing associations.

The election of officers and committeemen resulted in the following men being elected for one year: President, A. B. Large. Bellaire; vice-pres. Frnnk Lesher, Mancelona; Secretary, R. E. Morrow, Central Lake; Treus. A. H. Thomas, Bellaire. The executive committeemen for each township are: Bnnks, E. R. Harris; Central Lake, Wm. Bowers; Chestonia, Geo. Tobias; Custer, Dan Kauffman; Echo, Edward Hebben; Elk Rapids, Henry Hannel; Forest Home, Geo. Gorham; Helena, Lewis Harris; Jordan, John Craig; Kearney, Leonard Bush; Mancelona, Frank Hopkins; Milton, Geo. Hockridge; Star, Ed. Olds; Torch Lake, Harry Hull; Warner, Jay Thumm.

R. E. Morrow, Secretary.

HIGHLY RESPECTED CITIZEN DEAD

Death Came After Extended Period of Ill Health

Joseph Huffman was born at Coshocton, Ohio, June 15, 1854, and died at his home at Ellsworth, December 21, 1918.

He was married to Malessie Harper in 1878, coming to Michigan shortly afterwards and settling on a farm near Elk Rapids, where they lived about nine years. They then moved to a farm near Eastport, remaining there until about six years ago when they sold out and came to Ellsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Huffman were the parents of four children all of whom have preceeded the father to the other shore. Mr. Huffman had been in poor health for some time but his death came as a shock to his many friends who scarcely realized his serious condition.

Deceased leaves a wife, three brothers, five sisters and four grand children. Mr. Huffman was well liked and deeply respected by all who knew him and will be greatly missed by his friends and neighbors.

Funeral services were held December 23 from the Holiness church and the body was laid at rest at Boss cemetery.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our thanks to the many friends and relatives for the sympathy shown us during the illness and denth of our beloved husband and father. Also for the beautiful floral offerings.

Accounts Must Be Settled By JANUARY 1, 1919

Present business conditions are such that we are compelled to insist that all accounts standing on our books be settled by January 1, 1919. Wholesalers demand in some instances cash, and other instances give us but 30 days. Many of our customers have allowed their accounts to run from six months to a year. How are we to continue in business under these conditions. As a special inducement for all to settle past due accounts we will allow you a

DISCOUNT OF TEN PER CENT

if you will settle your account in full by January 1. This ought to be a good inducement for you to settle at once. The U. S. FOUGHT CRACK HUN DIVISIONS

GALLANT 32ND. HAS GAINED ENVIOUS RECORD

It Has Fought on Five Fronts and Never Yielded a Yard of Ground

The following item clipped from a paper published in Fraace deals with the division in which a large number of the boys from this section of the country are associnted. It was sent home by one of the Ellsworth boys ia the 125th Inf., 32ad division

"When the Americna army of occupation started its march toward the Rhine on November 17, one of our crack divisions, the Thirty-Second, was celebrating an anniversary. Just six months before this division first planted the American flag on German soil ia Alsace. On May 10, Wisconsin and Michigan men eame under enemy shell fire, and from thnt date to November 11 the division has outranged Boche guns. Only ten dnys after its turn in the trenches the Thirty-Second chased the Boche from the Ourcq to the Vesle. Then it went to a sector north of Soissons and stormed Juvigay Plateau, fighting side by side with the heroic 'poilus' of General Mangin. After that victory with the French it had a rest for ten dnys before getting ready for the final drive. The American army's scrap north of Verdun was but three days old when the Thirty-Second went in, and for the next three weeks the Wisconsin and Michigan boys battled the Boche for Kreimhilde Stelluag. It was they who finally broke through the key position of 'La Dame Marie,' from which they then pushed on to Freya Stellung, pushing the Boche gunners out of Banthville Wood. They carried the line up to the point where the finaal attack, on November, was launched, and followed in support of the divisions which crossed the Meuse at Dun and captured Stenay. In the last few days of the war the Thirty-Second went into line in the Meuse bridgehead sector, and with the French were in the midst of na attack when the armistice stopped fighting. During the war the division has fought on five fronts—Alsace, the Vesle, Soissoas, Argonne and the Meuse—aad has fought twenty of Germany's best divisions, among them the Prussina Guards. It has never yieldtd a yard of ground to the enemy's counter attacks.

COMPLAIN OF UNFAIR TREATMENT

Radish Growers of Antrim County to Organize

On account of the many complaints made by growers of radish seed of the unfair dealing of the seed companies for whom they raised radish seed this year, it is the plan of the Farm Bureau of Antrim County to take this matter up with the growers.

The plan is to hold meetings in the differeat sections of the county where radish seed is grown and place an organized plan before the growers. This plan will constitute the organizing of the growers and their agreement not to raise radish seed for any company that will not receive, test and pay for the radish seed delivered at the growers station here in Antrim county.

Any seed company who are dealing fair with the farmers would not object to settling with the growers for their seed upon delivery at the railroad station. In this way, should there be any dispute as to test or weight, the grower would still have the seed under his control and would be able to make a satisfactory settlement at that time.

We believe that this is the only way whereby the farmer can get a square deal.

LENTEN DISHES.

NOODLES AND CHEESE.—Two eggs beaten very light, two tablespoonfuls of sweet milk, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, one teaspoonful salt, flour enough to make real stiff. Roll thin as possible. Let dry one hour, then cut very fine. Cook tender in boiling salted water with a little butter added.

Drain and save the broth. Put layer of noodles in baking dish. Then sprinkle with bits of cheese; another layer of noodles, then cheese with fine cracker crumbs for the top dressing; pour over broth till you can see it; brown in oven.

Creamed Salmon.—Make a rich cream sauce, add a can of salmon flaked. When thoroughly heated pour over hot slices of toasted bread and serve at once. Salt codfish well freshened and drained may be used in the same way.

Cheese Rolls.—Spread slices of fresh baked bread with a mixture made of grated cheese, butter and one large canned pimento. Sprinkle sparingly with crushed nut meats. Roll the slices, which must be cut thin, and fasten with toothpick. Place in a very hot oven until hot through. Serve with salad. This pimento butter and nuts also make an excellent filling for sandwiches for Sunday night tea.

Scalloped Cheese.—In a buttered baking dish alternate layers of bread crumbs with chopped celery and diced cheese, pepper and salt. Pour over half pint rich milk in which one well beaten egg has been added and dish with a layer of buttered breadcrumbs. Bake until brown.

Lenten Macaroni.—Cook one pound of macaroni in boiling salted water for twenty minutes. In another vessel cook one can of tomatoes, two onions cut in small pieces, one-half clove of garlic, one can of mushrooms; season with salt and paprika. Cut three large slices of bread into cubes; fry in butter until crisp. Place the macaroni on a platter, pour over it the tomato dressing, and on top of this spread the fried bread croutons.

Fish Croquettes.—One small can of tuna or salmon free from bones, one cupful fine breadcrumbs, salt and pepper, two eggs well beaten, one tablespoonful melted butter and a little chopped parsley. Mix thoroughly and shape. Dip into a beaten egg, roll in breadcrumbs made of stale bread and dried in oven and fry in wire basket in hot fat.

OPEN UP LANDS FOR SOLDIERS

FIRST PROJECT TO BE STARTED IN MICHIGAN

Survey of 30,000 Acres of Swamp Near Menominee to be Made at Once

Menominee county posseeses the first tract of land to be surveyed for development for settlement by returning soldiers, sailors and msrines, in five adjoining states, and in all probability lt is the first project actually started ia the elaborate plan of the United Statee government to provide farms for the men who have so nobly performed services for their country.

Ths tract to be developed contains about 30,000 acres and liee directly northeast of Menominee along the Bay Shore in Ingallston and Cedarville townships, and may lncludo the eoutheast corner of Stephenson township. This area is practically all swnmp and it is the purpose of the government to reclnim it nnd divide it into farms to be sold to soldiers, sailors and marines on easy, long time terms.

H. J. Cault, an engineer who has been employed by the United States Reclamation Service for 12 years, is chief engineer for the project, and is now in Menominee awaiting the arrival of instruments and an assistant engineer from Washington, D. C., to commence work. His crew will consist of seven or elght men selected locslly. Ile has slready leased a building at Arthur Boy for headquarters where the crew also will live for the next three months, and operotions will be carried on from that place.

Mr. Gault was assigned to make a preliminary survey of swamp lands in Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinoie, Indiana and Ohio, when a congressional appropriotion of $200,000 was made available last July to eonduet a general survey throughout the United States. Mr. Cault started in Michigan, and sent the data he was collecting from esch district to the Department of the Interior aa he finished the loesl aurvey.

When the war suddenly terminated closing hostilities long before the government had expected the end, the Department of the Interior found itself only fairly started in its great project for providing farms for returning soldiers, nnd soldiers were returning before any lands had been made available.

To hasten the development of the lands in order to permit ecttlement by soldiers discharged from service the department quickly picked out the smaller and most availahle tracts that could be the most quickly developed and at the least expense, which also included desirable location, proximity to mnrket and general suitability for farming. In other words those tracts that naturally provided least resistance to development and at the same time were advantageously situated so as to be attractive to returning soldiers, were selected as projects for immediate work and completion.

Arthur Bay, which Mr. Cault has selected as headquarters for his surveying party, is midwsy between the shore limits of the swamp to be drained.

While the droinage project in itself covers npproximately 30,000 acres, a vast area of possibly twice as much acreage will be indirectly benefitted through better drainage. Thia will open up a rich agricultural district close to Menominee, and will lead to a settlement of several thousand farmers, as the government farma will be in small, highly developed tracts that will demand intense cultivation.

To carry out the "Soldier Settlement" plans, Secretary Franklin K. Lane, of the Department of the Interior, has prepared "The Soldier Settlement Aet," which is a uniform bill to be presented to congress and the legislatures of those statcs having cut-over, swamp or arid lands to develop. Ile has asked the governors of these states to use tbeir good office to co-operste with this department and the national government in bringing about the co-operative legislation needed to carry out the gigantic project that has been undertaken.

The bill provides that the state shall provide tha lands and the United States the fonds for development with an alternative plan which permits the state to also share the financing of ths projects in addition to providing the lands. Large blocks of land are to be reclaimsd through drsinnge or irrigation, subdivided and made ready for farming. The plan also calls for the ereetion of buildings, purchase of farm machinery, implements and live atock, nnd making all improvements and providing fneilities and equipment, so that the returning soldier, sallor or marine may actually commence farming with occupancy of the land.

The farms will be sold by a soldier settlement board in each state, the board belng composed of a commissioner appointod by the governor, with the president of the Stato Agricultural college and the state engineer as ex-officio membars, and all derlings by the soldier will be with the boasrd. The applicant for a farm must satlsfy the board thst he has capital amounting to at lsast 10 per cent of the improved and equipped valus of tho farm or allotment, whlch in no case may sxceed $15,000 or of a farm laborer allotment not exceeding $1,500, and prove to the board thot he is capable of complying with the terms of payment and give such other assurances as the board may requiro.

No purchaser may hold more than one farm or allotment, and an spplicant must satisfy the board that he is not the holder of lands or possessory rights which, together with the land lmprovements, and equipment to be purchased from the government, will exceed a value of $15,000. This measure is to preclude the farms developed by the state ond government from being taken up by men of property, thus holding the land open for people who need it.

After all the land thus propared for soldier settlement has been duly advertised, nnd after a sufficient time has elapsed to give all soldiers, sailors and marines an opportunity to take up farms or allotments, and there are farms remaining unsold, they will be sold to the public on the same bosis as provided for soldiers.

AMERICANS FOR AMERICA ONLY

VANPELT AGAIN HITS NAIL SQUARE ON THE HEAD

United States No Place for a Man Who is Unwilling to Become a Citizen

"Uncle" George Vnn Pelt, the Michigan Good Concrete Road advocate, says in regard to new immigration laws, "any man who intends to make money and own property in the United States ought to give the United States his allegiance.

"If he is not willing to become a citizen he ought not to have a citizen'a privileges.

"No man who is unwilling to become a eitizen should be allowad to maintain his residence here.

"Every man who comes here to take up his residence should be required to make a deelaration of his intention to become a citizen within 30 days after he lands.

"If he refuses, he should be deported.

"Ile should be required to qualify and take out his final papers in two years after he makes his declaration.

"Ile should not be allowed to rest for ten, fifteen or twenty years as a declarant only but should renounce his allegiance to a foreign power or go back to the place he came from.

"Nor should we permit the proctise of men in coming here, staying just long enough to beeome citizens, then returning to their fatherland to take up a permanent residence there. Such a man is in no sense an American. Ile is seeking to hide from his own country's fawa under tbe Stars and Stripes without any intention of supporting the flag except as a convenient sereen.

"All men who seek the protection of our laws and institutions for their eonvcnience or profit should swear allegiance to those laws and institutions and be subject to them, or get out.

"Get me?

"I've had many strong letters from men who have strong ideas on what new immigration laws should be. I want more and want 'em quick."

Yours for Unadulterated Americanism, VanPelt.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR SOLOIER BOYS NOW IN THE SERVICE

Forrest Weed Says Whizz of German Shells Make Ones Hair Stand on End, No Matter How Far Away—Now at Rest Camp in Luxemberg

From Forrest Weed
Luxemberg, Nov. 24, 1918.

"Dear Folks—As you will notice by the heading I am now in the province of Luxemberg for a rest, ae we have hiked about one hundred miles so far, and I guess we have some distance yet to go, that is if we go to the place we are scheduled for. The name of this berg is Zittig, and it is only about ten miles from the German border, not even a day's hike for us, as we generally hike about twenty kilometers daily and sometimes more. I will promise you that we are sometimes tired, yet happy, as we know that every mile carries us nearer the end of our journey and nesrer home.

"We are very thankful that the last gun has been fired. The day before the armistice took effect. we were on the march, in fact coming up to the front, when a Boche plane eame over and fired into our regiment line. It did not take us long to climb into the ditches, and it was not many minutes before the rifles began to bark and the Boche began to start for home, as the rifle fire waa too hot for them.

"The next morning, November 11, we were at work on the road whep an nrtillery officer come through and told us the guns were to ceasa firing at eleven o'clock, 11th month, 11th day and the 11th hnur. Of course we did nnt know whether to believe it or not, and then as it was only ni o'clock we had two bours of anxious waiting.

"At ten o'clock the guns were rumbling along at a lively rate, nnd the Boche seemed to want to get in as many parting shots as possible. They landed a good many in our territory, but ns usual they got more than they sent. None landed at what I would call real elose to us, but you can always hear that little unfriendly whistle which makes ones hair stand on end. One can hear these shells for some distancc, but if they land real close about all one can hear is whizz or a little whistle and then bang, the explosion. I have heard them both ways, and neither is very pleasant. I have also seen a good many bombs dropped, both large and small.

"At one placa where we were building a plank railroad, a bunch of Boche planes came over and started bombing, or shaking their grates, as we call it. The first time I was between two stone foundations, which had been a bridge. but which had been blown up by the Boebe when retreating before the Americans, when the Boehe came over and I could easily see the aviator and see them drop their bombs (hard boiled eggs, as they ore called.) One flew directly over us, and I saw him release or throw a small bomb out and I thought my time had comc, but I erouched near the wall, and the wind which was rather strong, carried the light bomb considerable distance from us. This was at the Meuse river at Dun Sun Meuse, part of this town stands on a high crest and it is quite an important place.

"A little farther up the river at Sossy, we built a bridge in what at that time was considered No Man's Land. This bridge was 180 feet long and we cleared away wreekage and put up the bridge ln a day and a half.

"From there we moved to Ecuvay and it was here that the glad tidings came to us. That night bonfires lit up the skies, whistling and cheering rang tbrough the air and was passed from one outfit to another as they are always in touch with each other.

"We went first to the Alsace front, then to Chatean-Thierry, Juvigny, Argonne fnrest at Avocount, and then up to Dun Sun Meuse and really our divlsion hns seen its share of fighting and has alwaya proved that they are right on the job at nll times.

"Now we are bound for the Rhine or elose to it. Coblentz is the placo where the American army is scheduled to land.

"We passed out of France through Belgium and into Luxemberg on November 20th, and I will tell you that we were welcomed in both of the latter by the population. Belgium is a very pretty country and I eertainly would like to see more of It. It is not shot up as bad as France, as some places in Francc are just piles of stones. One placo we went to was a pile of ruins, in fact, it had been No Man's Land for four years. When we eame back from the front It was entirely gone as the engineers had used it for roads. By the way, this and bridgs building is our prineipal work, but as we aro Divisional Engineers we go with tho Division and when they are at the front, we are there.

"Our division which is composed mostly of Michigan and Wisconsin boys have done great work over here and certainly deserve a good deal of eredit in the victory we have achieved.

"We have been having some pretty good weather for hiking, only a little too eold and frosty nights. We have been in billets most of the time so it has not been so bad, only when we had to roll our packs and get ready for our march, especially when we were part of the advanced guard and had to get up at four o'clock. We are golag back with out battalion now, so I guess we won't have to get up so early.

"Was In hopes of belag home shortly after Chrlstmas, but the way things look now I guess that we will not bo there, anyway I esn wisb you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Of courss we have heard all kinds of rumors when wo are golng home, but do aot put any stock in them. Want to get home by next summer at any rate. Have heard that they want motor mechanics and chaeuffers, etc., to etay over hare, but I will not stay for sny money. Ilave seen enough of thls country to suit me.

"We were lacky at Longy, a good sized town on this hike, and could buy honey, butter and a few hot hune, and I will promise you we had some feed.

"At a good many places we met prisoners, all notlonalitles, eoming back from German prison esmps and somo had seme wonderful tales to tell. Also saw lots of Boche planes, guns, etc., left behind on their retreat.

"I will give you a brief outlino of where I have been. Landed at Brost, went to Choteuvillan, built barracke near by there. St. Cosme, Alsace front, worked on dugouts and barbed wire entanglements, Chateau-Thierry Sergy, bridge road work, Juvigny, road work, Dun Sun Meuse, bridge work, Ecuvay, roadwork and following up of Germans upon evacuation of territory.

"Guess this is nbout all, will close,

PVT. FORREST O. WEED,
Co. C, 107 U. S. Engs., American E. F., A. P. O. 734.

U. S. HAS BILLIONS IN GOODS LEFT

WILL BE SOLD TO PUBLIC SYSTEMATICALLY

Chicago Business Told af Great Quantity of Material to Be Disposed Of

Uncle Sam is the biggest merchant in the world today. Ho hae on hand stocks of goods that would appall any department store owner who had them to dispose of. They are valued at billions of dollars and lf throwa on the open market would bankrupt any competitors in the same line.

Cblcago businese men having received private information that the government hae on hand in its warehouees enormoue surpluses of materials that are not needed, now the war is over, have been worried for fear the goods would be dumped un tho open market, causing general demoralization in business conditions throughout the country. They were cheersd by a talk given by L. H. Hartman, chief of the surplue stoek division of the United States govsrnment.

Mr. Hartman dealt in startling figures today. Ile went into detail in telling of the millions of pairs nf ehoes, overcosts, hats, mittens, bedsacks and other articles that the government has on hand, much of which will not be needed. He outlined ths selling plans adopted by his department to prevent demoralization of the markets. The government, hs said, will not permit any unfair competition. All of tho present surplus would hnve been needed, he argued, had the war losted as long ae expected.

"The government has 1,500 warehouses and stations where stocks are held," said Mr. Hartman. "An Inventory will be taken Jan. 1 snd the total amount of stock figured up at Washington. The government plans to keep sn army of 2,000,000 in the field until July 1 next and 500,000 after that time. The needs of this army will be estimated and the rest of the material set aside for salo. We have erested a preferential msrket."

Mr. Hartman said that already inroads were being made into the surplus. The Russlan bureau of the war trode board has ordered 800,000 pairs of shoes, 140,000 pairs of drawers, 1,400,000 pairs of cotton socks and hundreds of thousands of eoats, shirts and nther clothing. Tbo millions of pounds of supplies that Food Administrator Hoover eetimates will be needed by Belgium will eome from the government surplus. Under the postoffico appropriation bill the postal department will take over all surplus automobiles and airplanes that are not needed by the war departmant.

It is expected that the department of agriculture will ask fnr enormous supplies, and a speeial representative is to be scnt to Europe to drum up trade with the foreign governments. Mr. Hartman etartled his hearers by reading rapidly a list of stocks that the government has on band at tbs present time, part of which will bava to be marketed. Among the items aro the following:

70,000,000 cans of tomatoes.
32,000,000 cans of corn.
43,000,000 cans of pork and beans.
26,000,000 yards of duck,
4,800,000 cotton coats.
1,500,000 woolen coats.
6,000,000 leggins.
16,000,000 pairs of shoes.
5,000,000 miscellaneous hats.
6,000,000 pairs of mittens.
6,000,000 bedsacks.
36,000,000 pairs of summer and winter underwear.
40,000,000 pairs of summer undersbirts.
50,000 automobile trucks.
10,000,000 pounds of horseshoes.
2,000,000 tooth brushes.
10,000,000 shovels.

The postoffice department bas ordered $45,000,000 worth of automobile trucks. Montenegro and Ecuador have representatives in Washington placing orders for goods, and ths Netherlands is expected to purchase thousands of yards of cloth for uniforms for its postal employes. The government is selling goods to enlisted men nt cost and to retiring civilian war employes at 10 per eent below cost.

The Ladies' Aid will meet next Wednesday, January 8, with Mrs. Wm. Burns. Every member is urged to be present as it is the day for election of officers.

The school children enjoyed a fine dinner in the church basement on Tuesday, December 24. They also had a tree which was enjoyed by all. In the evening they gave a nice entertainment which was also appreciated.

THREE BELLS

The people in Three Bells school district have shown their willingness to co-operate with the school and the Red Cross.

Saturday night, December twenty-first, in spite of the pouring rain, nearly every family was represented at the school house. After listening to the Christmas and Red Cross program they willingly gave to the Red Cross. Part of the families have one hundred per cent membership in their homes now. The few people who were not present Saturday night undoubtedly can be reached in some other way. We hope to have one hundred per cent membership in the Senior Red Cross in District No. 2.

"LIFE"

Resolutions

Oh, Man's a fragile vessel, and in need of much support,
To make his sinful habits disappear;
December finds him thoughtful as he hales himself to court,
To make new resolutions every year;
To swear off all his dissolution,
And to make full restitution—
That's the ultimate conclusion
On the first of every year.

Oh, Man is but a mortal and temptations do abound,
To lead him from the straight and narrow road,
And tons of good intentions are reduced to but a pound,
When irksome grows his resolution load.
His brain now in wild confusion,
Rises up in revolution,
Seeking every substitution
As he feels his conscience goad.

Yes, Man's a fragile vessel, yet he loves the punishment;
Though January finds him in arrear
He strings up resolutions on the thinnest filament—
And strange to say he always is sincere.
Habits bad get swift extrusion.
During several weeks effusion—
But at best it's all illusion—
RESOLUTIONS every year.

Now that Christmas is over with, we might as well make that resolution not to pay our Christmas bills when they come.

The Night Before

(Yesteryear)

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house,
No creature was stirring, not even a mouse.

(Last Year)

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house,
We couldn't find father—he was out on a souse.

(This Year)

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the shop,
The cleaners were busy applying the mop;
And in the dense silence pervading the club,
The bartender mixed us some intoxicant aub.

(Over There)

'Twas the night before Christmas and wise, Col. House, Conferred with the president, and also his spouse.

(Right Here)

'Twas the night before Christmas—ah, yes, we recall,
We still have our shopping to do—that's all.

Before Christmas we read in the papers—Do your Christmas shopping early. Now we get a touching letter—Pay your bills promptly.

Tight Wads!

A careful man is Daniel Dent.
As careful as you meet;
If he paid you a compliment,
He'd ask for a receipt.

Another man is Reuben Hay,
Of him a line we'll pen;
If he should pass the time of day,
He'd want it back again.

Another careful man that we Have met is Abner Grote;
If he lent you his attention he
Would want to take your note.

"When I Get to be a Man"

Right now I'm just a little kid,
But some day I'll be tall,
An' grow up like my papa did
When he was awful small;
An' I can hardly wait because I've got the bestest plan—
I'm gonna be a soldier when I get to be a man.

I wanna wear a soldier suit,
An' fight the en-e-mee,
An' learn to drill an' to salute,
An' set all people free;
An' when I'm told what I mus' I'll do the best I can,
Like every soldier ought to when he gets to be a man.

But mama says a soldier's days
Are terrible severe;
An' papa says he thinks it pays
To be a engineer;
But if a foreign foe should ever set foot on this lan',
I'll bet they'll change their ideas when I get to be a man.

And so am I.

An American Maid's Lament

The menace of the motto,
"Mode in Germany," is past;
A peril more appalling
Now confronts the nation vast—
A "Waterloo" awaits us girls,
We do not stand a chance;
Far worse than "Made in Germany,"
For us is "Maid in France."

FILBERT ALLEY ANTHOLOGY

It's the Men Who Pays—Alimony

We sat there.....you and I,
Amid the maze of varicolored lights
Subdued as if with subtle care
By some all-knowing hand;
Amid the glow of whitened arms,
And crimson lips, and gleaming teeth
Amid the clink of glasses slender stemmed;
Amid the music, laughter drenched with wine;
Mad violins and screaming clarinets;
Amid the whirl, the dance, the waiter's warning cough.....
And yet I saw but you.
And as your eyes were lifted from the blushing, fragile glass,
I read therein what I had wished to know,
We were, indeed, a cynosure,
Yet thought we were unseen....
Unknown in that pulsating revelry!
Ah, yes, I well recall.
The tender words, the promises I made
Were as the vaguest filaments of dreams,
Yet I recall.
I see your smile, your beauty languorous,
The witchful way you smoked your cigaret....
I kissed!....No, I can't forget;
Each burning moment comes to mind
And throbs as if a living thing.
Besides my memory is fresh....
It all came out in the divorce court!

A Parody

They run wild, simply wild over me,
They run wild, simply wild over me,
Every night at half past eight,
How they make my blankets shake,
They bite me, they scratch me,
Oh, how they make me ache.
They run races up and down my spine,
And for new underwear I do pine.
As we sit around the stove,
Then the cooties begin to rove.
They run wild, simply wild over me.

THE EFFECT OF GOOD ROADS

Increase the Value of Tillable Farm Lands.

RESULT OF ECONOMIC SURVEY

Office of Public Roads and Rural Engineering Has Made a Study of the Effect of Improved Highways Upon Farm Lands in Certain Counties of Different States.

To determine as far as possible the exact dollars and cents effect on a county of the improvement of bad roads, specialists of the office of public roads and rural engineering of the department of agriculture made economic surveys in eight counties in each of the years from 1910 to 1915, inclusive.

This study of the increase in the values of farm lands in the eight counties reveals the rather interesting fact that following the improvement of the main market roads the increase in the selling price of tillable farm lands served by the roads has amounted to from one to three times the total cost of the improvements. The increase in values in those instances which were recorded ranged from 63 per cent to 80 per cent in Spottsylvania county, Va.; from 68 to 194 in Dinwiddie county, Va.; 70 to 80 in Lee county, Va.; 25 to 100 in Wise county, Va.; 9 to 111 in Dallas county, Ala.; 25 to 50 in Lauderdale county, Miss., and from 50 to 100 in Manatee county, Fla. The estimates of increase were based for the most part upon the territory within a distance of one mile on each side of the roads improved.

In Spottsylvania county a careful record was made in 1910 of thirty-five farms located on the road selected for improvement. Of the seven farms sold in 1912 the prices actually paid show increases of from 37 to 116 per cent over the 1910 valuation. The average value after the roads were improved was $28.20 per acre as compared with $17.31 previous to the improvement. In 1913 four transfers of farm land were on the basis of $30.11 per acre, whereas the properties were listed in 1910 at only $13.89 per acre. It appears that the 1,451 acres sold in 1914 increased in value $28,500, or 80 per cent, or from $24.40 to $44.10 per acre.

In Dinwiddie county, Va., the actual price of forty-three farms sold or offered for sale from 1909 to 1914 ranged in price from $8.38 to $13.74 per acre before the roads were built and from $24.70 to $7.00 per acre after the roads were improved.

In Lee county, Va., a study of eight tracts along the roads before and after improvement indicated that these properties increased about 23 per acre, or about 70 per cent.

In Wise county, Va., a study of eight representative farms located on roads showed that they increased in value from an average of $49.06 per acre before improvement to $79.44 after the roads were improved. There were increases in valuation in other sections of from $60 to $90 or even $100 per acre.

In Franklin county, N. Y., the figures seem to indicate that the change from earth, sandy and loam roads to bituminous macadam was followed by increases averaging $12.50 per acre, or about 30.7 per cent.

In Dallas county, Ala., careful investigation seemed to indicate that road improvement has added at least $5 to each acre of land within one half mile of improved roads. Tracts sold at from $8 to $10 per acre were sold again after road improvement at from $20 to $25 per acre.

In Lauderdale county, Miss., the total assessed valuation of real property outside of the city was $2,757,546. This increased in 1914 after road improvement to $3,183,809, or 15.4 per cent.

In Manatee county, Fla., careful study of sales and real estate records indicated that the improvement of roads has added from 15 to 100 per cent, or at least $15 per acre, to the selling price of all lands within one-half mile of improved roads. This would give a total of $611,000, or more than twice the value of the bonds issued.

How to Bake Cookies Like Mother Used to Make.

The secret of making good cookies is to use just enough flour to roll them without sticking. To do this take several thicknesses of white muslin, or part of an old sheet folded to fit the board will do. Sprinkle with flour. Take part of the dough at a time and roll with light touch, never pressing hard on cooky or doughnut dough. The following recipe is fit for a king: A cupful of butter or mixed butter and lard, one-half cupful of sugar, three good tablespoonfuls of cold water, in which dissolve a level teaspoonful of soda; two eggs, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a teaspoonful of cinnamon, small teaspoonful of cloves, a cupful of dates and nuts (not chopped, but cut fine). Bake in quick oven not too hot.

How to Mend Broken China So It Won't Show Cracks.

The best means for mending china, porcelain or pottery of any description is white oil paint. Buy a tube of a good make and use it like tube paste. If you have a box of oil colors add enough of any tint to the white to match the broken article, but the white paint does not show and is astonishingly effective.

WARNED EVERY DAY

When the administration wakes up some morning to the discovery that "the world is on fire" with an industrial and commercial rivalry in which the United States is getting the worst of it, the defense cannot be put up that there was no warning. High ideals and unselfishness of purpose could not protect us from the military conflict begun by Germany in 1914; neither can high ideals and national magnanimity shield us from the contest for trade. There is no substitute for preparedness.

In 1913-14 the administration had a clear demonstration of the results of "removal of economic barriers." The Democratic tariff law went into effect October 3, 1913, except as to a few commodities upon which the Republican duty was temporarily retained. The Democratic tariff law was in force for a period of ten months before the war broke out in Europe, disarranging the usual course of trade. A study of the trade statistics during that peace period of ten months affords conclusive evidence of the effect of removal of the import duties.

During the corresponding ten months under Republican tariff duties from October, 1912 to July, 1913, inclusive, our imports amounted to $1,503,827,003 and our exports totaled $2,110,466,639, or a trade balance in our favor to the amount of $606,639,636. During the ten months under the Democratic tariff law, our imports increased to $1,605,804,782 and our exports decreased to $1,951,578,296, leaving a trade balance of only $345,773,514. It thus appears that we lost in ten months time a net merchandise trade balance of $261,000,000.

These figures do not tell the whole story, however, for an examination of the trade balances by months will show that before the war broke out the balance had turned against us, and that the balance in our favor for the ten months period under Democratic law was merely due to the fact that foreign producers had not been able in ten months to overcome all the advantage secured by a Republican tariff policy. This loss of $261,000,000 was a double loss—we not only deprived our own industries of that amount of money, but we added it to the resources of our commercial rivals across the sea. We took money away from our workmen and paid it to the workmen of other lands. We closed the doors of our own workshops and opened the doors of shops in Europe and Asia.

The fact that we are still enjoying an immense favorable trade balance built up under the influences of the war, because we are a nation of extensive and varied resources, should not deceive us. During the nine months of 1918 for which statistics are available, our merchandise trade balance has fallen $82,000,000 and now that the seas are free from the submarine and other nations are beginning to return to the activities of peace, we shall witness a decline as rapid as enterprising rivals in a practically free market can make it. The average rate of duty on imports at present is only 5 per cent, as compared with an average of 18 per cent under Republican law. Is there a nation with which we must compete in which there is a wage scale only 5 per cent under our own?

A considerable portion of our export trade has been in productive machinery shipped to Japan and China. We have supplied Japan with grist mills, textile machinery, paper making machinery and other equipment for manufacturing goods in competition with us. There is no complaint to be made of that, but there is a reason for apprehension as to the future when we give American workmen only a five per cent protection against the product of workmen whose wages are only a small fraction of the wages paid in America.

The commercial war is on, and the day for preparedness is passing.

AMERICAN MARKSMANSHIP

There is a widespread impression that the rifle as a war weapon is a thing of the past that nothing counts now but machine guns and artillery. The record of the American army shows that this is false. The rifle may be to the Frenchman merely a stick to hold a bayonet and to the German little more than a club to swing, but to the Yankee it is still and effective shooting-iron.

A correspondent of the St. Louis Post Dispatch gives a vivid account of the part played by the rifle in the battles where the Yankee troops first showed their mettle and turned the tide of war, at Belleau Wood and Chateau-Thierry:

"When the Yanks swung into action the French army observers witnessed what to them was an astounding sight. In the face of the un-rolling column of Hun shock troops, every American soldier deliberately adjusted about his left arm, a loop of leather formed by his rifle sling to steady the hard kicking weapon, took time to estimate the distance between him and the attacking Germans, and carefully adjusted his sights for the exact range before losing off the bullets that accurately singled out individual enemies, cutting great gaps in the advancing lines, and finally turning the tide of battle—the tide which grew in volume and culminated in the smash of the Hindenburg line.

"The shock troops of the Hun, expecting to advance to close quarters where bayonet butt and the invincible progress of their unswerving mass formations would win the day for them, were met more than 500 yards away from their objectives by a hail of accurately aimed bullets—projectiles which did not depend upon happen-chance or upon the mass of the targets for hits, but which were directed against individual marks by cool, deliberate, expert riflemen, who knew how to shoot, and who knew that they knew how to shoot."

Those troops carried only ordinary Springfield rifles, but the prisoners captured could not be convinced that every man of them was not armed with an automatic gun.

Such results prove the wisdom of the American army method of training a soldier first of all to shoot and to depend on his rifle. They prove, too, that the army instructors have unusual material to work on. The American, in some mysterious way, no matter what his origin or experience, seems to retain the natural talent for marksmanship of his hypothetical ancestor who won American independence with his long-barreled muzzle-loader and hunted bears and Indians with unerring aim long before that.

It is no accident that American boys still want to shoot, and that they take to guns so readily. It is a part of our national tradition and character. It is an expression of our individualism. It means keen senses, aggressiveness and a rare combination of alertness and coolness.

So let the boys shoot. It is their heritage and it is good for them.

HOOVERIZING FIGURES

Mr. Hoover is authority for the statement that under the Food Administration "farm prices steadily increased by 15 to 20 per cent on various computations, while wholesale prices decreased from 3 to 10 per cent according to the basis of calculation." We fear Mr. Hoover is to be taxed with disingenuousness with respect to this assertion. Almost anything can be proved "on various computations," or "according to the basis of calculation." Often such methods are what cause figures to lie. This truth we all know: that whether the farmer has received more for his produce or not, whether wholesale prices have gone up or down, the consumer has been everlastingly soaked for the food he ate, and we presume that one great object of the Food Administration has been to protect the consumer, even though he consumed somewhat less. If Mr. Hoover had stated frankly that the consumer had been obliged to pay far more for food, but that this was but the reasonable thing to expect from a world war, we could let it go at that, but to make the public believe food had been made cheaper to the consumer at the same time that the world was being adequately supplied is like drawing a large check on a small account. It will be returned, "N. S. F." The consumer sacrificed something in this war—not much, but something.

SOME KAISER!

The prize war profits story comes from Boston. There has been found a man in the employ of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company who received an average of $220 per day for a period of four months. The employee is a die cutter, and was paid by the piece. Some time ago he was given a new machine to operate that greatly increased his output. His method of payment, however, remained unchanged, and his fortune increased accordingly.

[illegible] Ford has put out an explanation [illegible] "The [illegible]"

It is officially announced that the administration has no intention of returning the railways to their owners before the end of the authorized period. In other words the statement that either Congress must act at once or the railroads would at once be returned was merely a bluff of the kind frequently handed to Congress.

Can't understand how a Secretary of the Treasury and Director General who has had to retire because he couldn't live in Washington on his salary can retire to a mansion in southern California for three months for a vacation. Looks like jumping out of the frying pan into the fire.

After we have avenged those Belgian atrocities we are thinking about starting in and making the United States unsafe for lynchers, who make a specialty of stake burnings, finger trimmings and eye gougings before large and appreciative audiences.

Sir Thomas Lipton will have to wait until 1920 for that yacht race. We can't afford to beat Sir Thomas for that cup again right while everybody is feeling so friendly over the result of the war.

A recent meeting of governors serves to remind us that after six years and a half of national administration by the erstwhile party of states' rights the states are still going through the motions.

The Republicans of this country are going to relegate to the ash heap the breed of Republican politician which is never too proud to fight provided it can find some other Republican to fight.

The cabarets in Berlin are crowded. After four and a half years of the horrors of war the Berliners are determined to keep some kind of atrocity going.

Why not put on a grand international raffle of the German fleet and raise enough money to re-build Belgium?

The bolsheviki seem to be the fellows who put the "cus" in Spartacus.

Visited Chicago Friends

The following item was received in the mail the first of the week which may interest friends of both parties mentioned: "Mr. and Mrs. Chester Blanchard of 4161 S Halsted street, Chicago, enjoyed a visit last week with Ethan Jolliffe of Atwood. Some 37 years ago Mr. Jolliffe was a teacher in a rural school of which Mrs. Blanchard was a student."

One More Joy is Added to the Holiday

Beginning this morning we return to the manufacture of our SPECIAL PATENT IRON DUKE FLOUR. The quality will be the same as before the war or perhaps a little better, due to the fact that we have a wheat crop of unusual quality from which to make our selections.

The housewife may again have white, fluffy, nutritious bread. This is made possible through the program of conservation, which has been carried out during the past months; the bountiful harvest of the year just closing, and the victory of democracy in which our own boys have played a very important part.

We are sure that every patriotic dealer and consumer will be glad to buy flour of the old-time quality, and also, to know that conditions no longer demand the restrictions which have for some time been in effect. We shall be glad to have your inquiries at any time and shall do our best to give you satisfactory service.

Thanking you for past favors and wishing you a Happy New Year.

Postmaster General Burleson says he is going to hand the cables back, —and he's right about it; but maybe not because he wants to.

Maybe when President Wilson returns he will require Vice President Marshall to listen to the cabinet meetings permanently, on the theory that he should share the burdens as well as enjoy the emoluments of the administration.

The soldiers are being mustered out at the rate of 150,000 a week, but it is going to be necessary to call out the militia to demobilize the deserving Democrats who decorate the federal payroll.

VOTE ON BEER AND WINES IN SPRING

HOTEL MEN FORCE ISSUE TO DECISION

Supreme Court Decides Against Parochial School Amendment Saturday.

Lansing, Dec. 30.—Two proposed constitutional amendments to be put before the electors at the April election have been acted upon by the supreme court.

The so-called 'light wine and beer' amendment, which would legalize the sale and possession of those liquids in the state, is to be voted on and the attempt of the Michigan Anti-Saloon league to prevent Secretary of State Vaughn from certifying the amendment to the election boards failed.

The courts also refused to compel the secretary of state to accept the amendment compelling all children to complete the common branches in public schools. The petition for this amendment which attacked parochial schools, has been turned down because they lacked the required signatures.

The Anti-Saloon league had attempted to show that the liquor amendment offered by the Michigan Hotel Men's association did not set forth its real purpose and alleged that the real intent, that of preventing any legislation on the liquor, was hidden. The court simply denied the writ asked for the league.

Preparations for a hot campaign against the "wet" amendment are under way by the officials of the Anti-Saloon league. Shortly after Jan. 1 a meeting of the executive committee of the league will be held at Lansing at which details of the campaign will be worked out.

ROADS AND CIVILIZATION.

Good country roads bring the farmer and his products much nearer the neighboring centers of population than had been imagined, increase the value of his possessions and give his children better educational opportunities than were possible before, says Thomas F. Logan in Leslie's Weekly. Investigations conducted in seven counties in the south indicate a rise in farm values on or near improved country roads of $10 to $50 per acre between 1901 and 1914. On an old country road in Alabama the average load that could be hauled before improvement was about 1,500 pounds. This increased to 2,500 pounds or more when the road was improved, and the difference in hauling cost represented a saving in a single year sufficient to meet the entire bonded indebtedness for the new road were it all applied to that purpose. In many instances the new roads resulted in the immediate conduct of commercial enterprise which before could not have been undertaken with profit The best feature of all is the increase in school attendance that followed the average attendance rising from sixty-six to seventy-six pupils out of every hundred enrolled.

ANXIOUS TO BE SENT HOME

DOUGHBOYS PROUD OF GREAT VICTORY WON

Leonard Herrington Writes Brief History of His Experiences in Fight With Boche

Tours, France,
November 24, 1918.

"Desr Futher—I will now take the pleasure of writing you a Christmas letter, as the military authorities now give us the privilege of writing a lot of things which we have previously had to keep secret. So to begin with will tell you how long we were crossing the ocean. We were fourteen days, end the three transports were convoyed by two cruisers and on the last lap, while in dangerous waters, by nine submarine destroyers. We lended at Brest, France, and were immediately moved to and statloned at a supply base in central France. There we worked about five weeks, building railroads and hondling all kinds of army supplies, and building material.

"Then we moved to a little town by the name of Champlette and drilled therc for about five weeks. I was left at the hospitnl when the outfit made this move, but followed them about three weeks later, but was not in fit condition for drilling. After we had been there three weeks we moved again to a little town by the name of Centime, in central eastern Frence, down in Alsace-Lorreine, near the front lines. We rested here a few days and then went to the firing line our first time. This was about the middle of May. At this time the sector we were placed on was a quiet one. On clear days we could see the church steeples in Mulhausen, Germany, from the front lines ond looking out neross No Men's Land. By this description you can locate on any map the location where we got our first baptism of fire.

"We put in three hitches on this front (30 days) then about July 30 moved to the Chateau-Thierry front, up by the Marne river. There we took over a sector and begsn to learn what real warfare was. I guess the Boche did, too, for we drove them over 18 kilometers in four days. After this we got about two weeks of so-called rest back of the lines out of artillery renge, or practically so, but not out of hearing. The Boche planes would come over in the day time and fire on us with machine guns and at night the big, slow-speed bombing planes would make their appearance and drop bombs. But they did not get any of us. Of course we had casualties while at the front, but at present we nre not permitted to stute any details concerning them.

"Before returning to the front lines our outfit was filled to war strength and we were moved to the Soissons front in motor trucks. There we remained in reserve for several days and then moved up as a supporting division for a while. Then we went over the top. I won't say anything about out easualties, but will say we met a very strong resistance, such as heavy artillery and machine gun barrages, leaving it to you to imagine what they were to advance against. But nevertheless we advanced and reached uur objective point and held our position for a short time until we were relieved by another division, who carried on the advance.

"I suppose you know that the Yankees never made a retreat worthy of mentioning. Then after we made a little hike back away from the front and rested two days, we started out on another long hiko and spent the night in the woods. From there went te a railrood head and were loaded on trains and traveled and stalled along the line for a couple of days and nights, finally reaching a town by the name of Juinville, where we were biletted for two weeks.

"Here we rested a little and drilled a plenty. This town wus several miles from the front, but not out of hearing of the heavy artillery. Then we got our replacements again and made a 24 hour move in motor trucks to or near the Verdun front, where we were held in reserve and support positions for several days, near a small and completely wrecked town by the name of Sergies.

"Then we went forwurd and over the top again, and that is where I wus wounded, and went back to the hospital as I havo explained in a previous letter. Have not been back with my company yet, and do not know what they have gone through with since I left them, but I understand that they are in Germany now.

"I am well at present and waiting for transportation to a replacement or casualty camp, neor a little town by the name of St. Agona, and whethtr I will ever be with my company again or not I do not know.

"If they would only send me beck to the states with any kind of en outfit it would suit me as good as anything they could do for me. I would prefer to be home for Christmas dinner, but expect to get home between now and the first of March. There are several outfits thst have been over here only a short time and have practically not seen any foreign service, and it seems to me no more than right that they should stey over here and do the work that remains for the Americans to do.

"I have seen many hardships and other things which I have not mentioned in letters, such as hunger, thirst, sleeping in the rain and mud, which all soldiers in action ore all subject to. But we are very thankful and proud thst we have won the victory and saved France, and possibly the world from Hun destruction by getting in just in time.

"I have not received any mail since ahout September 20th, and you can bet I am getting anxious to hear from home, but no one is to blame, so I am just wsiting patiently and hoping to get a letter of good news soon.

"Well us I cannot think of anything more to write will close, with best regards to all."

TO AILING WOMEN

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Charlevoix

No woman should consider herself healthy and well if the kidneys are weak. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well, are retained in the body when the kidneys are disordered. If the kidneys and bladder become inflsmed and swollen worse troubles may quickly follow. This is often the cause of hearing-down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Uric poisoning is also frequent cause of headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that has proven effective in thousands of such cases. Let a Charlevoix woman tell of her experienee.

Mrs. Wesley Staley, 211 Mason St., says: "I can conscientiously recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a fine kidney medicine. My back was lame and I felt tired and languid. My kidneys troubled me. Doan's Kidney Pills procured from Hines & Co.'s Drug Store, completely removed the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Staley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

THE SALAD BOWL.

CROWN SALAD.—Select perfect apples, one for each person to be served. Pare, core and cut lato perfect eighths. Cut off each end so they'll stand and arrange crown fashion on individual plate. Fill the ceater with some preferred salad mixtures, apples, celery and auts, pears and English walnuts or celery, uuts and green peppers. Serve with mayonnaise to which a little whipped cream has been added.

Celery Salad.—A new celery salad can be made from the green portions of the celery. Wash the leaves thoroughly and boil them for an hour. Allow them to get cold ood serve with plenty of oil. The "neck" or root crown should be chopped up lato small cubes and sprinkled over the leaves of the salad. This is almost a specific against rheumatism.

Beet Salad.—Cut beets into small pieces, heap ou crisp lettuce leaves, which have been placed on two plates in the shape of a mound. Slice hard boiled eggs, arranging them aroand the little pile of beets, pour over salad dressing and serve.

Peach Salad.—Arrange crisp lettuce on two pistes. Place one-half of a canned peach on lettuce on each portion. Fill the center with chopped nuts or nuts and raisins mixed. Pour over any preferred dressing.

Cabbage Salad.—One quart of chopped cabbage, one dessertspoonful of salt, one and one-half dessertspoonfuls of sugar, one dessertspoonful of dry mustard. Mix these with the cabbage, then take two-thirds of a cupful of vinegar, two eggs, a piece of butter the size of an egg. Put in a bowl over the teakettle till boiling hot; cool and pour over the cabbage mixture. Put in a jar and use as wanted.

Bean Salad.—A scant cupful of leftover beans, one-third cupful of finely chopped celery, one chopped pickled onion or pickled beets. Cover two dishes with crisp lettuce. Heap on the above after mixing. Garnish with sliced hard boiled eggs. Cover with horseradish dressing.

ORGANIZATION IS ONLY PROTECTION

RADISH SEED GROWERS, NOW UP AGAINST IT

High Time That Farmers Take Definite Action to Protect Themselves

After hearing the many complaints of the Radish Seed Growers of this part of the state, the writer is thoroughly convinced that the growers only protection is in organizing and refusing to raise the seed, unless the seed companies agree to test, weigh and pay for the seed when it is delivered at the shipping station.

We anticipate all manner of excuses from the seed companies, why they cannot do this, but we have always found, where there is a will there's a way, and if the seed companies have to do this in order to get the seed, they will find the way.

Some men will say that they have raised seed for this company or that company and they have always found them to be square and they are willing to trust them again, but let us see what some of these square companies will do, if by some mistake of theirs they stand to lose money where there is a chance to shift the blame onto the grower. Example: A grower shipped 30 bags of seed to a company, on instructions given by them. It was received and stored with a lot of seed piled on top of it until it spoiled and the farmer is still looking for his pay. We have heard others say that this was a good company to deal with.

Another grower had the same deal tried on him and after an investigation found his seed and compelled the company to pay for it. Others have been waiting eight and ten weeks for their money and some find when the check is returned for the seed, they have been docked 35 per cent.

When the seed is paid for, at the shipping station, and is the property of the seed companies, they will see that it receives the proper care if it does cost them a little extra money, but if it belongs to the farmer they will take a chance, if it does go wrong the judgment is against the farmer.

Space forbids an account of all the troubles, but we find when the parties can meet face to face and deal before the property has left the hands of the grower, there is always better feeling and we believe that the companies will find that they can get more and better seed, by meeting the grower half way and giving him a square deal.

The farmer has the habit of changing from one company to another, when he is dissatisfied, but we find that this is poor conciliation when they are all dealing on the same plan.

There is no other body of men in this country, except the farmer, who would ever think of doing the large amount of work which radish seed growing requires, take the chances on the weather, and all the other hinderances that sometime develop and then turn the goods over to another, to do with as he saw fit, and then abide by their judgment as to what he should have.

It is time the farmers take some definite action to let the business world know, that they propose to look after every detail of their business and if others wish to deal with them, they must do business as they do with other business men.

FORD KEEPS UP SENATE FIGHT

TAKES FIRST STEP TO ASK A RECOUNT

City Clerks Directed to Show Cause Why Injunction Should Not Issue

Henry Ford, of Detroit, believes he was elected United States senator over Truman H. Newberry last November and will ask the senate to recount the ballots. This was indicated by the issuance by Judge C. W. Sessions of the United States district court on petition of Ford of an order to City Clerk Shinkman as custodian of the ballot boxes of Grand Rapids to appear on Jan. 7 and show cause why a temporary injunction forbidding the destruction of the ballots cast at the election Nov. 5 should not be issued.

Similar orders were issued to the city clerks of Kalamazoo and Marquette. Copies of the order will be served on all custodians of ballot boxes in the western judicial district of Michigan, some 700 or 800 in number. These custodians are the township clerks. Any of them can intervene and come in on the case if he so desires.

The order is a purely formal step and it is not believed there will be any contest. An injunction simply will decree that the ballots be preserved until the injunction is dissolved. The only effect it can have upon the townships and municipalities affected is to compel them to use different ballot boxes in case another election is necessary before the injunction is dissolved.

It is understood a similar order was filed in the eastern judicial district of Michigan at the same time Judge Sessions' order was issued.

The action is taken in federal court because the United States senate is the only body which can order a recount of the ballots.

Ford's petition sets forth that in his belief many ballots that were cast for him were not so counted, being thrown out through errors on the part of the election boards as marked ballots or for other reasons classed as illegal and rightfully they were legal and should have been counted for him. The petition also makes other charges similar to those which usually are made in petitions for recounts of election ballots.

CLASS OF 1918 ENTERTAINS MEMBERS

Miss Hazel Allen Hostess to Many Young Friends

Last Thursday the members of the class of 1918 were entertained by Miss Hazel Allen at her home on Clinton Street. Many of the class have been attending various colleges and universities during the past fall quarter, so that the reunion was the occasion of unusual pleasure.

The evening was spent in dancing. All were captivated by an exceedingly rare and fascinating Egyptian dance by Miss Katherine Harsha.

JAMES GASKIN WOUNDED AUG. 5TH

Official Word Received But No Details Are Given

Mr. and Mrs. James Gaskin, Sr., received official word from Washington on December 19, that their son, James, had been severely wounded on August 5th. They had a letter from him in August stating that he was suffering from shell shock, but have not had any word from him since that time, and do not know whether this late telegram referred to the time of the shell shock or whether he has been wounded since.

CARAWAY COOKIES.—One cupful of sugar, two-thirds cupful of butter and lard, two eggs, one-half cupful of milk (sour or sweet), one teaspoonful of soda and one teaspoonful of baking powder, one tablespoonful of caraway seeds (crushed), flour to roll. By omitting the caraway seeds and using vanilla a nice vanilla cooky is the result.

Sugar Cookies.—One cupful of milk, one cupful (scant) shortening, lard and butter, mixed; two cupfuls of sugar, four to five teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two eggs, one-half teaspoonful of vanilla, flour to make a stiff dough, about four cupfuls. Cream shortening; add sugar, milk, eggs, dry things and vanilla. Roll the dough, cut in circles and bake in a moderate oven. Sprinkle one-half with sugar and cinnamon, the other with caraway seeds when ready for the oven.

Soft Molasses Cookies.—One cupful of molasses, one cupful of sugar, two-thirds cupful of shortening, one cupful of sour milk, two rounding teaspoonfuls of soda dissolved in a little water, one-half teaspoonful of ginger, one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon and a little cutone. Mix in order given, softening the shortening a little; add flour until not too stiff, but able to handle easily. Roll one inch thick, cut in circles, sprinkle with sugar and bake in a moderate oven.

English Caraway Cookies.—One cupful of sugar, two-thirds cupful of butter and lard, two eggs, one-half cupful of milk (sour or sweet) and one teaspoonful of soda or one teaspoonful of baking powder, according to sweet or sour milk being used; one tablespoonful of caraway seeds (crushed), flour to roll. By omitting the caraway seeds and using vanilla a nice vanilla cookie is the result.

Molasses Drop Cakes.—One cupful of sugar, two-thirds cupful of molasses, one-half cupful of nice shortening and one-half cupful of sour milk, two eggs, one cupful of seeded raisins one-half cupful of currants, one rounded teaspoonful of soda; one teaspoonful each of ginger and cinnamon and one-half teaspoonful of cloves, about three and one half cupfuls of flour. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased pan. These are fine and go well in lunch baskets.

WOULD USE OREGON SYSTEM

BAKER TO INTRODUCE BILL IN STATE SENATE

Substitute for Corrupt Practices Act —Loopholes Found in Old Law

State Senator-elect Herbert Baker of Cheboygan, the same Herb who was speaker of the house of representatives during the stormy special sessions in 1011, promises to start something as soon as the legislature meets in Lansing the first day of January.

In the old days Baker was a leader in the state grange and a strong exponent of the tonnage tax. However, Senator Baker is off the tonnage tax business. He says that is a dead issue and he does not propose to ride any dead horses.

However, as a result of the charges made by Lieut. Gov. Luren D. Dickinson concerning alleged reckless expenditure of money to bring about the nomination of Truman H. Newberry for United States senator Baker believes the election code will stand a decided change and he proposes to substitute the Oregon law in place of the present corrupt practices act, which lawyers say is so full of holes it practically is worthless. Baker will have the Oregon law revamped to meet Michigan conditions and introduce it the opening day of the next session.

The Oregon law provides that no candidate for public office shall spend more than 15 per cent of one year's salary in his campaign for the nomination. Any contribution made by the candidate's friends, relatives or business associates are considered as coming from the candidate himself. This was the loophole in the Michigan law whereby relatives and business friends of Newberry spent $176,000, while the candidate himself swore he did not know it was being used.

Under the terms of the Oregon law candidates are not permitted to buy whole pages of newspaper space to promote their candidacy and high priced publicity agents are not employed. All literature is put out by the secretary of state in pamphlet form and is paid for at certain rates. For instance, the price to be paid for a page in the state campaign book by a candidate for United States senator is $100. Members of congress and most all state officers pay the same rate. Not more than four pages are given to any one candidate.

Thirty days before the primary the candidate or his friends may send his cut and typewritten statement to the secretary of state setting forth his reasons for seeking the office to which he aspires. Any person or persons opposing the candidate may within the same time file for printing in the state campaign book a statement over their signatures setting forth their reasons why the candidate should not be nominated.

Thirteen days prior to the primary the books are printed by the state printer and distributed to the registered voters according to party affiliation by the county clerks. In the general election each political party is allowed 24 pages and independent candidate two pages. The rate for the general election is $50 a page.

Senator-elect Baker says this method of campaigning gives the candidate of limited means an equal chance with the millionaire and he will make a strenuous fight to have the Oregon system adopted by the Michigan legislature.

INFLUENZA FATAL TO HAZEL LINN

Died at Her Home in Chicago, Thursday, December 12

Word has reached this city of the death of Miss Hazel Linn at 3848 N. Tripp avenue, Chicago, on Thursday afternoon, December 12, after an illness of twelve days from pneumonia following an attack of influenza.

Deceased was twenty-nine years of age and the only daughter of the late Robert A. Linn, formerly of this city, and niece of Mrs. Wm. Poole, George, James and Thomas Linn of Charlevoix, and John Linn of Glenview, Illinois.

Miss Linn was very active in the Methodist church circles in Chicago. Her numerous friends extend their sympathy to the bereaved family.

VERNICE BLACK VICTIM OF "FLU"

Died In Detroit Following a Few Days Illness

Vernice Black, twenty-one-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Black of Marion, passed away last Friday, December 27 in Detroit, following a few days illness, caused from influenza.

Vernice was born September 10, 1897 in Marion township, and has lived at home with her parents all of her life. She attended high school here in 1917 and 1918. She left for Detroit about the first of December to look for a position which she secured within a few days, and wrote home that she liked her work, and intended to stay. She was taken ill on Monday and was removed to the hospital on Christmas day and passed away on Friday at eight o'clock in the evening.

Deceased was a member of the Gleaners and also of the Baptist church. The remains were brought here Tuesday afternoon and taken to the home of her parents in Marion.

Funeral services were held Wednesday from the residence, Rev. Rice officiating.

The Dawn of a New Era

¶ The Close of 1918 has brought to an end a war that for four years disrupted the contentment and the habits of a world. We are now at the dawn of a new era—Peace and Happiness will encompass the earth.

¶ Let us now turn our thoughts from carnage and turmoil and once more face our individual futures that we may plan with a clear mind for the business and prosperity that is certain to be ours in the coming years.

¶ We have had the lesson of conservation brought forcibly to our minds. Let us now forget what it has meant to our Country's economic prestige, but conduct our business on the same principles of good merchandising that the war days proved were fundamentally sound.

¶ At this time we extend our sincere thanks to those who have patronized our store during the past year, making possible our continuation in business and future prosperity. We urge you to continue your friendly relations, and on our part we will endeavor to serve you in a manner that will be most satisfactory. We also wish you a most prosperous New Year and that success will meet your every undertaking.

MAKE PLANS FOR COUNTY FAIR

DATES SET FOR SEPTEMBER 16TH TO 19TH, 1919

Officers and Superintendents of Divisions Appointed—Victory Celebration and Night Fair

One of the best attended officers and directors meetings of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Association was held at the Russell House, East Jordan, Friday, December 27.

Among those present were: Pres. S. E. Rogers of East Jorden; Treas. Kit Carson; retiring Treas. Martin Ruhling; Secretary D. L. Wilcon, and the following directors: E. B. Ward of Charlevoix, Fred Bird of Charlevoix, F. H. Wangerman of East Jordan, Richard Lewis of Charlevoix, Henry Nowland of Ironton, Horace B. Hipp of East Jordan, Terry Berber of Boyne City, Net Burns of Charlevoix.

Matters pertaining to the welfare of the society were thoroughly gone over and the session lasted throughout the day.

It was decided to have a revision of the premium list and this was left in the hands of the executive committee. The revision will be upward in many of the divisions, particularly cattle and other live stock.

Plans were made for the 1919 fair to be a Victory Celebration and this will be one of the big features. Owing to inclement weather the night fair of last year was somewhat of a failure, but night fair for 1919 will again be one of the big attractions and it is hoped the weather man will be more considerate.

Among the improvements contemplated on their grounds near East Jordan will be installing two separate entrances to the grounds, one for persons walking in and another for the driveway. The ticket office will also be rearranged to facilitate the accommodation of the crowds.

Officers and Superintendents appointed for the year are as follows:

Vice Pres.—Horace B. Hipp.

Secretary—Dwight L. Wilcon.

Marshal—F. H. Wangerman.

Executive Com.—H. B. Hipp, E. B. Ward, Frank Bird.

Finance Com.—Richard Lewis, F. H. Wangerman, Nat Burns.

Superintendents

A—Horses—Henry Nowland, East Jordan.

B—Cattle—Terry Barber, Boyne City.

C—D—Swine, Sheep—Ira S. Olney, East Jordan.

E—F—Poultry, Farm Implements—Richard Shapton, Charlevoix.

G—Grain and Vegetables—James Meggison, Charlevoix.

H—Fruits—John Newville, Boyne City.

I—K—Dairy Products, Flowers, Plants, etc—Mrs. Nat Burns, Charlevoix.

J—Fancy Work—Mrs. W. F. Empey, East Jordan.

L—Miscellaneous—E. B. Ward, Charlevoix.

M—School Work—May L. Stewart, East Jordan.

N—Speed—Nat Burns, Charlavoix. chairman, with power to appoint four additional members.

Dates for the 1919 event were set for Sept. 16, 17, 18, 19, the third week in September. Dwight L. Wilson, who has made a success of the past two annual events, will be at the helm again this year as secretary, and with the hearty co-operation of everyone interested in our county fair's development, the 1919 event promises to surpass any meet ever held in the past 35 years.

STOCK BRINGS TOP NOTCH PRICE

Paddock Farm Ship Excellent Bunch of Cattle

One of the best bunch of cattle ever shipped from Charlevoix county were loaded on Friday last, consigned to Vannorman, Lawler & Co., Chicago, Illinois.

The stock, a bunch of 24 Angus heifers, were brought here just 13 months ago by R. W. Paddock, and fitted for market at his farm south of Charlevoix. Ten of the herd netted Mr. Paddock $1,775, and the balance of the bunch of 24 brought top notch prices.

Mr. Paddock expects to bring in another bunch early in the present year and fit them for market.

AMERICA FOR AMERICANS ONLY

VanPelt Fighting for Elimination of Hyphenated Citizens

A letter has been received from George H. VanPelt, now at Seabreeze, Fla., and he writes that he is receiving much encouragement in the fight for a more emphatic Americanism among foreign born and alien citizens. We have had enough experience with this class during the war, and now that the fighting is over, we should take good care that the country is never again pleced in a position such as developed when war broke out.

As Van says, "no man is truly loyal to this country who has lived here, enjoyed all its blessings and advantages, and is not naturalized." Our doors have been too open in the past. In future we should permit only those to come to our shores who have an appreciation of what real liberty means, and who are ready, and anxious to become genuine Americans as quickly as possible—ready to obey our laws, speak our language, adopt our customs, and honor our flag.

U. S. STRONGER SAYS J. B. FORGAN

HARBOR POINT RESIDENT TALKS ON CONDITIONS

Says Government Should Co-operate in Every Way Possible to Settle at Once Various War Claims

James B. Forgan, who in summer resides at Harbor Point, and who is known the country over as one of the most influential bankers of Chicago, contributes the following in the Chicago Tribune regarding present-day conditions:

"The war is over, peace through victory has been achieved, the nightmare has been dispelled, and now we can return to our ordinary pre-war avocations. We are now in the period of transition from a state of war to conditions of peace, with the problems of industrial, commercial and financial readjustment confronting us.

"Victory came sooner than was expected. It came just when war activities in this country were assuring their greatest momentum and when our industrial organization was just beginning to turn our war materials on a really large scale. For this reason, although the signing of the armistice was hailed by all with unbounded satisfaction and rejoicing, it brought with it somewhat of a jolt to business. Government contracts involving enormous sums have been suddenly canceled, necessitating radical changes in the business plans and calculations of the contractors, many of whom have used their credit freely and have tied up large sums of money in their contracts. What these contractors have most to fear is long drawn out negotiations with the government for settlement of their claims. Prmpt and equitable settlement of such claims is a prime essential in the readjustment of business dislocated by war necessities.

"The government cannot do anything that will be more helpful in bringing the business of the country back to normal conditions than by co-operating in every way possible to bring about early, equitable and liberal settlements of claims based on canceled contracts. Moreover, the government should as rapidly as possible release business from all restrictions, embargoes and regulations which were necessarily placed upon it during the war. These done, there remains little else for the government to do in connection with the readjustment of business.

"While the war has cost this country a very large sum of money and has increased the national debt enormously, yet owing to our wealth and virility and to our federal reserve banking system, which was inaugurated just at the opportune time, we have come out of the ordeal considerably expanded but not broken. Our banking facilities have been tested, but by no means to their limit. We are stronger financially than we were when we entered the war, with the prospect ahead of unprecedented business activity and development."

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS NOW IN THE SERVICE

French Family Weeps When Doughboy Leaves for Front Line Positions—Caught Between German and American Barrage—Boys Long to Get Back to U. S.

From Harry G. Alcock
Stenay, France
Nov. 24th, 1918.

"My dear Dad—As this day has been set aside as Father's day for the boys in the A. E. F. I will endeavor to relate a few of my experiencee. By this time you will be familiar with the events that took place up to the time we moved from the southern part of France. I will try to put the events in their proper sequence.

"If my memory serves me right we left Camp Hunt, south of Bordeaux, on the 8th of Oct., and after two days traveling in the 4th class box cars wa arrived at Andelot, a small village in the state of Marne. From there we hiked about seven miles to the little town of Roches sur Rognon. (I have a few views of the place so will tell you more about the conditions there when I get home.)

"We were scheduled to go up to the front two weeks later, but orders kept coming in to wait awhile, tha last one stating we were to move up on the 11th of November. You are well aware of what took place on that date, so again wo were forced to remain at the said village.

"Will get away from the subject for a few minutes and tell you what kind of treatment we received from the inhabitants. At one place where my pal and I visited quite frequently, the madame and her husband were very kind to us. A number of evenings they fixed lunches for us and twice we had some real waffles and they would never take any money for their trouble. Our last evening in the village we bought a rabbit and took it to my pal's hangout, and had a real feed. Fried rabbit, salad, cheese, chocolate, bread and butter. As we had packed everything that afternoon, mama, as we called her, fixed our bed in front of the fireplace and we spent a very comfortable night. She got up at four o'clock and prepared our breakfast and when we left both she and her daughter cried and told us to be sure and write to them.

"Will Mitchell visited me the day before we left and tried to kid me about having to stay over here four or five months, but I doubt if he gets home before I do, for I figure that the latter part of February will find us on our way home but of course I may be all wrong.

"At five o'clock on the morning of November 20 we boarded trucks and proceeded to Andelot. The band was the last ones to leave the village, and I imagine that the little village has seen its last American troops. We loaded our supplies and equipment and about 10:30 we began our journey north, (our destination unknown.) Spent a very uncomfortable night in a side door pullman and upon awakening found ourselves in Verdun. We laid over there until 11 o'clock, spent the morning exploring shell-holes, gun emplacements, etc. Talked to a number of Russian prisoners, (with the aid of an interpreter) that were being taken care of by the French government. They certainly had been through hell at the hands of the Germans all on account of the treason of their officers who played into the hands of the German government.

"From Verdun we proceeded on through No. Man's Land, and Dad, I wish you could have witnessed the sights. Both sides of the track lined with dugouts and I saw enough wire entanglements to encompass the state of Michigan a dozen times. On one sector that was comparatively quiet, the German dugouts were real homes. Had their flower boxes on window sills, pens for rabbits and many of the dugouts had large mirrors in them, and they must have been very comfortable until the Yanks started them on their hurried retreat. Had a chance to get lots of souvenirs, but had no place to carry them so left them behind.

"The evening of the 21st found us at Dun, a ruined city on the Meuse and where the fighting was the hardest on the day before the armistice was signed. By the looks of the city and the surrounding country, it must have been hell. Have talked to a number of American boys who were in on the excitement and they related many wierd tales. In a way I am glad we are fortunate enough not to get into the fight, as we would have been if we had moved on our old schedule. As it was our infantry thought they were being backed by their own artillery, when in reality we were miles from the front. We spent the night in our pup tents and six o'clock started on our hike to this place where we arrived at noon. Stenay has been held by the Germans for four years and is certainly a wreck. Our quarters are in an old French garrison which up to two weeks ago were occupied by the Germens. Oh, yes, while I think of it We have beaucoup-sauerkraut, the Germans having left behind about 100 barrels of it, and suppose we will have plenty of it from now on. We are to get new equipment and then will proceed on our march to the Rhine as we are part of the army of occupation, but am in hopes that we will not have to remain here very long.

"Will send you a Stars and Stripes today in which you will find lot of news. No doubt I will be on the move from now on so if you don't hear from me don't worry, for I will be o. k. May your Christmas, as well as mother's and sister's be a most pleasant one, and if not present in body I will be in spirit. Love to all from your loving son, Harry. Mus., H. G. Alcox, Hdq. Co., 343rd Field Artillery, A. E. F., France.

From Alfred Bergmann
Pont-a-Mousson, France,
December 14, 1918.

"Dear Brother and Sister—Received your letter last Thursday and was glad to hear that you are all well. I have had a little touch of bronchitis and am just getting nicely over it.

"The weather here is much different than the northern Michigan blizzards that I am used to. We have very little cold weather here, but plenty of rain. Today the sun is shining and it seems more like April than December.

"I was confined to quarters for about ten days and most of this time was flat on my back. Had a bad cold and a little stomach trouble, but it will only be a few days now before I am as good as ever.

"We had expected to be on our way home before this, but have given up hopes now of leaving very soon, although I hope to be back in the states before spring, probably early in March or the last of February. That would give me a chance to rest up during cold weather, and then would be ready to start work in June. I had a letter from the office yesterday saying that my job is waiting for me when I get home, so I do not have that to worry about.

"I saw Bill Mitchell a couple of weeks ago. He is located about twenty miles from here. We are located about twelve miles directly south of Metz and about fifteen miles north of Nancy. Pont-a-Mousson must have been a city of about twenty thousand inhabitants at one time, but there are few French people here now.

"We were located during the fighting in the St. Mihiel sector. We came through Fleury, Remicourt, and our guns were in position near Thiancourt. I was on the ammunition detail while there and saw shells burst as near me as I ever want. It sure is a peculiar sensation to hear them whizz—and come closer, whistle bang and break just a few feet from you. I will never forget the first night I was out. We were just returning from our guns about two p. m., when we were caught upon a hill between our own and a German barrage. The excitement was high for a while, and I never expected to live to tell about it. The Germans shelled the roads back of us continually, especially a bridge we had to cross. We made this trip several times, but we were lucky, as we were hit only once, and that was a minor casualty. Later on I went up to the guns as gas guard. We sure had a shaky position on cross roads, and were shelled continually.

"I was in several gas attacks, but only one affected me, that was sneezing gas, which only lasted a short time. Thiancourt was shelled all to pieces, not one house with a roof left on it.

"Next day after the armistice was signed I went over to the German trenches. Our boys had been making such gains that our trenches were only temporary, about two feet deep with shallow dugouts big enough for two. The dey the armistice was signed our boys went over the top at this point, so the trenches looked pretty bad, debris, clothing, guns and ammunition lying about, also the dead soldiers and horses.

"The soldiers are buried in separate cemeteries which are set aside, if a greet number have been killed, and if only a few, they are taken to a nearby cemetery or buried along the roadside and their graves marked by a cross.

"This is a very interesting country around here, but we are not able to get any passes, so we are not able to see very much. Some of the boys have been over to Metz and I want to go if I can make it sometime.

"Fritz, I would like to bring you back one of those German rifles for they would be just the thing for deer hunting, but I am afraid that I will not be able to do so.

"I thought some about staying here for awhile after the war, as there will be some fine opportunities for an architect or builder, but I think too much of the U. S. to spend

1918 HAS BEEN PROSPEROUS YEAR

WITH EXCEPTION OF A FEW LINES OF BUSINESS

Outlook for 1919 Gives Promise of Excellent Business in All Lines—All Should Boost

Although this country was at war with the Central Powers of Europe for more than ten months during 1918 and a policy of retrenchment has been noted along all lines of business throughout the entire country that are engaged in activities not closely related to war, Charlevoix county ended a most prosperous year with the closing of 1918. In only a few lines a slight decrease is noted as compared to the volume of business done in 1917 and previous years.

This happy condition of affairs is largely due to the production of farm products, whether in "war gardens" or in the broad fields and the intense and successful conservation campaigns which were carried out during the past year.

The tremendous increase in the home grown products for food supplies and the canning and storing of these products for the winter, greatly relieved the family purse to such an extent that business was undisturbed and continued successfully without showing any great diminishing volume.

The country has shown itself to be gradually returning to normal life, since the armistice in the world war, and this has favorably affected business, which is always first to suffer when any great calamity is faced.

In patriotic activities few counties in the nation have excelled Charlevoix, taking its population and resources into consideration. Large numbers of men have been sent to all branches of the army, navy and marines, all of whom have adorned themselves with glory in their participation in the mighty world struggle. No call on our county for funds to promote war activities were lacking in response. The county has been generous in its response to these campaigns and a very enviable record has been made.

A bright and prosperous year is in store for Charlevoix county in 1919. Indications point toward a renewal of activities at the former plant of the Rock Product Company, now owned and controlled by the Newaygo Portland Cement Co. With a little hustling the re-establishment of a sugar factory might be brought about, with factories for by-products in connection with it. Local building will be resumed and new cottages are now under consideration. Industries in our neighboring cities will resume activities with renewed vigor, business will improve with the lesson obtained during the months of war, and all indications at present are that 1919 will be a banner year for Charlevoix county.

SLEEPER BACKS BUDGET SYSTEM

RECOMMENDS PLAN IN INAUGURAL MESSAGE

Many Other Things Also Asked by Governor of Present Legislature

Outlining in his inaugural message which he read at a joint session of the house and senate a program of constructive legislation, January 3, Gov. Albert E. Sleeper paved the way for some radical changes in the present system of conducting the state government.

Strictest economy consistent with best interests of state.

Enactment of a workable budget law.

Law making uniform accounting compulsory.

Centralized control of all state printing.

Central purchasing board.

Strengthening of present prohibition laws.

Immediate ratification of federal prohibition amendment.

Permanent state police force.

Require all courses of instruction in first eight grades to be in English language.

Amend primary law to make it illegal for a person to be a candidate of more than one party for a nomination.

Explains how state spent war funds to help nation.

Make physical training mandatory in schools.

Enlarged program of highway construction.

Place road building operations under control of commission of three road experts.

Make appropriation for continuance of campaign against venereal diseases.

Enlarge state board of health by appointment of full time health officer in every county.

Make state prisons self sustaining and provide methods whereby prisoner's wage may go to his family.

Require fireproof construction of all buildings used to house wards of the state.

Re-enact law authorizing sale of present site of industry school for boys.

Repeal law creating Central Michigan sanatorium.

Abolish institutional farms operated at a loss.

Give counties authority to place sheriff on salary.

Prohibit sale of fish outside of Michigan until state's needs are supplied.

Amend workingmen's compensation law by reduction of so-called waiting period and period of suspended payment; increase maximum and minimum amounts of compensation and increase the percentage of wage to be paid as compensation.

Commends Michigan soldiers and urges citizens to assist them in obtaining employment.

Praises citizens of the state for their patriotism and loyalty and reviews activities of Michigan war preparedness board.

The governor unequivocally indorsed all of the principal recommendations embodied in the special report of the budget commission of inquiry. Enemies of the budget scheme who figured on the support of the chief executive to throttle these measures were doomed to disappointment, as he left no room for doubt as to where he stood on these propositions.

Backed by the support of the executive office, which is always and important factor in moulding sentiment, it is generally predicted that the present lawmaking body will give the people of the state the reform measure that has received the indorsement of both political parties for several years back.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you—Drink more water.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three time during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

MOUNTAIN NOTES

School has been postponed again for a week.

Mr. Bearss intends going to the woods with his team to work for the winter.

Mr. Sanderson ventured across the ice on Sunday to attend Sunday school.

Beryl and Dorothy McDonald returned to school in Charlevoix on Saturday.

Jim Wilson is riding around in his brand new spring cutter, bought of Mr. Cooper.

Mr. Hosegood and family ate their New Year's dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnston.

Edward Dunlop, who is our Sunday school secretary, read the report ending December, 1918 and our receipts amounted to $229.77. After paying all bills we still have on hand $22.26 to start the New Year on. Who says our little Star of Hope is not flourishing.

MAPLE GROVE SCHOOL NOTES

Sorry we haven't had visitors this week.

Elsie and Katherine Sneathen were absent from school Friday.

Floris Minier has been absent from school for two days on account of a bad cold.

Harriet Burke was absent from school Friday on account of bad weather.

Our pupils are having baked potatoes for their dinner each day which all enjoy very much this cold weather.

An enjoyable time was spent at the grange hall Tuesday evening watching the old year out and the New Year in. Games and a line supper were enjoyed by all.

Roll of Honor for week ending January 3, 1919: Ruby Webster, Lottie Webster, Willie Ferris, Custer Howe, Ruth Pant, Ella May Pant, Hilda Wightman, Cora Howe, Ethel Monty.

HAYES

Plenty of snow in places.

Fay Kane's family are all on the gain.

Wade and Aaron Howe are skidding logs this week.

Mrs. Yeamans is visiting Mrs. Franke Kane for a few weeks.

Lee Sneathen is working in the woods on the Dee Sneathen Farm.

Frank Kane accidentally cut his hand last Friday while cutting meat.

Seemed good to see the Maple Grove school notes in our paper last week.

Vollie Fox was in the neighborhood, Monday, buying cattle for shipping.

C. Pant read in a daily paper of another nephew who has been killed. This makes the fourth nephew who he has learned has died in the service.

HOPYARD SCHOOL

Miss Alice Burns visited our school Friday afternoon.

Blanche and Edith Hamlin are now enrolled at our school.

Katherine Smith is again able to attend school after her long illness.

We wish to thank the school board for the sweeping compound. No more diseases caused by flying dust.

The Peace Table and After

NO. 3

A Ring of Iron or a Ring of Putty?

By CLARENCE L. SPEED
(Written for and Approved by the War Committee of the Union League Club of Chicago.)

The same Germany which, only a few months ago, seemed near to success in an effort to dominate the world by force of arms, will be in existence when the peace treaty is signed. It may not have the same rulers, but it will be inhabited by the same people—people who long have believed that military and political expansion should be coupled with commercial expansion.

This Germany will be surrounded by a ring of nations not one of which, alone, can compare even with a defeated Germany in wealth and industrial power.

Whether this ring of nations shall be a ring of iron to resist German aggression in the future or a ring of putty in German hands rests partly on the action to be taken at the peace conference, but more upon the future policy of the United States and the great nations which have been associated with her in war in reference to continued support of the states now about to emerge from centuries of oppression as a result of the great war.

Greatest Peril on the East.

Of Belgium, of France, of Italy, there is no doubt. Come what may they may be depended upon to make the western part of the circle strong as iron to resist German expansion.

It is on the eastern side of the circle that the greatest peril remains—peril that the nations which are to be set up may in time become not barriers to German expansion, but mere tools in her hands.

Among these will be Poland, which has suffered deeply under the iron heel of German despotism; Czecho-Slovakia, which, for centuries, has groaned beneath the Hapsburg yoke; Ukrainia, which, during the war, escaped from the power of the czar only to be subjected to worse oppression; Roumania, which was driven perilously close to destruction in an effort to rescue the Roumanians outside her border from Magyar tyranny; Jugo-Slavia and finally there will be independent Hungary, composed of a headstrong and warlike people who have been in close alliance with the Tentons.

Grab Planned by Germany.

Germany herself, even while seemingly victorious, planned nominal independence for at least two of these states—Poland and Ukrainia, but they were to be thoroughly dominated by German rulers until such time as it might be convenient to absorb them outright. Defeated Germany will seek at the peace table to bring about conditions which will prevent them from obtaining full economic independence, and reconstructed Germany, whether it be republic or empire, will seek commercial dominance in all these lands.

It remains for the United States and the entente allies to see that these nations not only are set up, but that their governments are firmly established and their peoples given an opportunity to take their place in the industrial life of the world. This means that money must be provided in the shape of national loans to the new governments and in the form of private capital for the development of natural resources.

Ships must be provided for the development of commerce to and from their ports, and ports must be provided to harbor the ships. This latter necessity is one which offers the first prospect not only of difficulty with Germany but, perhaps, between some of the allies themselves. No German government, whether it be imperial or industrial-socialist, will consent, unless it is forced, to grant Poland a port on the Baltic, yet Poland must have such a port if it is to be really independent of Germany. This means that East Prussia must be cut off from the remainder of Germany by a neck of land reaching up to the Baltic, or Poland will be economically strangled.

Most Aid Czecho-Slovakia.

Ukrainia will have its commercial outlet through the Black Sea. There can be no possibility of a port for Czecho-Slovakia. This country is essentially inland, but, if the allies give proper support, its commercial outlets may be through lands hostile to German expansion.

As regards Jugo-Slavia it remains for the peace conference to decide whether this rejuvenated land shall have suitable access to the Adriatic or be driven back to dependence on Germany by Italy depriving it of its logical outlets to the sea.

There are a hundred million or more people in these border states to the east. If all can be welded into a harmonious chain, every link tempered to resist German aggression, the barrier to German expansion to the east will hold. This is a gigantic task—one which only a league of nations can perform—because Germany is the nearest neighbor of these lands.

German political ideas have not perished in the war even if the German government has been overturned. German industry and thrift remain, and with them there is still the old Prussian idea of superiority over others and the belief that might always makes right. It will be necessary for the league to protect the new nations to the eastward until the new Germany has proved itself a worthy member of the family of nations by many years of peaceful action.

The Courier carries all the news.

"LIFE"

The Unwelcome Guest

The Kaiser's in Holland,
An unwelcome guest;
The heart pounding wildly
Down under his vest.

His throne's toppled over,
It crumbled and fell,
And Bill is enjoying
His own little Hell.

Yes, "Bill" is in Holland,
Though 'tis well understood,
They'd gladly be rid of
The Beast—if they could.

His presence annoys them,
They're sore to the touch;
But how to dispose of him
Puzzles the Dutch.

Now, "Bill" is in Holland,
For just a brief stay;
Each king has his reign;
Each dog has his day.

We're proud of the fact
That our Yanks had a share
In busting his army
And sending him there.

Our allies are busily
Fixing his dope,
'Twill be a good noose
At the end of the rope.

One Yank at the string,
And He'll be at rest,
And Holland be free
From her unwelcome guest.

Sally's Salmon Salad

Sam, Sally Sander's stolid spouse, spurns supper. Sally sobs, Sam soothes, still sups sparely.

"Sweet stuff soon sickens," says Sam succinctly.

Sally sighs, secretely sorry Sam spoke so. Still, she sympathizes. "Sam's starving stomach!" she shudders, sadly. Seeking something salutary, savory, substaining, she summons Sam's several sisters, supplicating suggestions.

"Sam seems sick," she says. "Sam spurns supper, says sweet stuff sickens."

"Sam seems squeamish?" snaps sharp sister Sarah. "Since sweet stuff sickens, serve Sam sour stuff."

"Soup," says Stasia. "Some special soup, Sally."

"Snusage," says Susan. "Something substantial. Sally, sausage, surely."

"Succotash," substitutes shy Stella.

Sam's sisters several suggestions scarcely suit Sally. Solitarily searching solution, she selects simulated salmon salad, smiling surreptitiously.

"Simulated salmon salad shall satisfy Sam," says she. "Such salad Sam Sanders seldom sees—succulent, suety, spicy—sugarless!"

Securing soaps, sal soda, she sedulously scours skillets. Sharpening scissors, she slices some superb salisfy, scalps, shaves small squashes, scooping seeds, shreds suet. She supplies sassafras, scatters sage, sprinkles spices, salt. She simmers, stirs smoothly, skims scum. Salad settles, Sally sits sewing, suffering some sensations, since six strikes soon Should Sam spurn salad—

Sam shaves speedily, spending seventy seconds. Sally serves supper. She sets shallow satusma salad saucers semicircular-shape. Sally shakes, shivers, seeing Sam seated. Sam, surprised, suggests shawls. Sally smiles strangely.

"Start supper, Sam," says she.

"Salad?" says Sam.

"Salmon salad," says Sally.

"Salmon?" says Sam, suspiciously.

Sharp-sighted Sam seizes silver spoons, searches several salad saucers seeking salmon signs.

"Show salmon, Sally!" says Sam.

"Salmon softens, sinks," she says.

"Salmon smells!" says Sam sternly, snifing salad.

"Sage smothers salmon smell," Sally suggests. "Sip salad, Sam."

Sam sips skeptically.

"Singular salmon salad!" sneers sarcastic Sam.

"Spice stifles salmon," sighs sorrowful Sally.

"Shucks!" says Sam.

Secondly Sam Sanders smashes Sally's Satsuma saucers, spilling Sally's salmon salad. Sally sobbing, staggers sidewise. Suddenly she spies salmon sitting safely shelved. She seizes salmon, shows Sam, smiling.

Sam snatches salmon, spread sandwitches, sans salad, sups spuritively.

"Splendid!" shouts Sam. "Salmon suits, somehow."

Sam, sufficiently sated, seeks Sally's softest sofa, soon slumbers soundly, snoring. Sunny Sally, seeing Sam's sweet sleep, seems satisfied. Seldom spiteful, scarcely supersensitive, she steps softly, singing, sweeping saucers Sam smashed, scraping salad Sam spilled, scrubbing subsequent spots, simply sorry she squandered such superb salsify.

ONE GOOD thing about making
THESE NEW YEAR resolutions
IS THAT a fellow can MAKE HIS own terms
AND EVEN if he BREAKS one or all of
THEM he has the satisfaction
OF KNOWING that he alone
IS TO blame and
THERE IS hopes of another
NEW YEAR.

THE WAR SAVINGS MOVEMENT AND ITS MANIFOLD BENEFITS

By Elijah G. Poxson, Vice Diractor, Michigan War Savings Committaa

In the year 1017 the United States government appropriated $21,000,000,000 to be used for goods and services necessary to support our army at the front. It is very difficult to visualize what $21,000,000,000 means. It has been said it is equul in amount to three times all of the money in the United States. In 126 years in which our government haa been in operation it has cost only $26,000,000,000 for all the axpensas of conducting our government. This includes all of our wars, pensions, Panama cunal, nnd nll expenses of any nature in the running of affairs.

The value of the manufactured products of this nation during the year 1915, when tha nation was speeded up in production of materials for England and France, amounted to $24,000,000,000. It ean be readily scen from this fact that it was a physical impossibility to produce the $21,000,000,000 worth of goods and service plus the $24,000,000,000 of products normally used in peace times. It, therefore, became imperative that we eliminate every possible non-essential in order to release three essential commodities, namely, capital, labor and material for the use of the government, and only in ao far aa we did eliminate the purchase of non-essentials dld we refrain from competing directly witb the government. This is the fundamental principle which underlies the War Savinga Stamp plan.

The government took two means of obtaining these results. In the first place the government requested the manufacturer to curtail his output of non-essentials and convert that part of his plant which was aet free to the production of war supplies. In the second place, and the part which has to do with the War Savings Stamp plan, was an appeal to the people of every class to refrain from the use of non-easentials and thus to further liberate capital, labor, and material for the use of the government in the prosecution of the great war. On the face of it, it might appear this plan would hurt business, but aa a matter of actual fact, based upon the experience of France and England, business during tbe war was increased. The extra demand for war materials caused a fuller employment of labor and a more active distribution of capital.

H. Gordon Selfridge, formerly a Chicago merchant, is now the proprietor of the largest store in London. Of his 3,500 employes, a thousand were called to colors. The others have bought $1,000,000 worth of Wnr Savings certificates. In spite of the fact that Mr. Selfridge has been a leader in promoting the thrift campaign in England and has persistently ndvocated the elimination of non-essentials, he increased his business in the year 1917 two and one-half million dollars.

With the war over, but the bill not paid, we have set out to organize a War Savings Stamp society in every institution in this state. The schools were partly organized a year ago. The factories are being appealed to, and are very largely organized. The office building and retail stores are next, and the organization work among the stores and office buildings is well under way, and will continue during 1919. The idea of the Thrift club is simply this: A person joining that club pledges himself to refrain from the purchaae of non-essentials and divert that capital into War Savings Stamps and encourage others to do the same.

In each club organized there is one member appointed, generally known as the secretary, who makes a weekly canvass of each person in that club, for tbe purpose of selling War Savings and Thrift Stamps. It is well known that the people of Michigan are the most responsive people in the land on all war activities, and the Thrift club is serving the purpose of making known to the people the War Savings Stamp plan. As soon as the details of the War Savings Stamp plan are known there ia the most active interest displayed in them, and the buying of atamps begins.

It is interesting to know that the Thrift club originated in England and that today more than 50,000 of these thrift clubs are operating with clock-like precisIon in the Britisb Isles.

In the early part of the War Savings Stamp campaign, because of the fact that the schools and children were the first to be organized, the general impression prevailed that they were designed for the children, but when we stop to realize the state's quota for these stamps, it is quite clear that they are not only for the children, but are for everyone. War Savings Stamps in 1919 accordand unless every person purchases ing to his or her abillty to do so, this stamp plan must necassarily fall.

The War Savings Stamp method of financing our war is tha moat democratic and efficient method yet devised. When Germany defeatad France in the year of 1870, she imposed so severe an indemnity upon her that the nations of the world falt that it would be impossible for France to ever recover from the burden, and Germany heraelf declared she had tied a millstone about the neck of France from which she could not free herself. It was this incident which brought to light the War Saving Stamp plan worked out by the French financiers to meet tha emergency of the hour. By means of this system France paid off her indemnity in an unprecedented short length of time, and at once the other nations of the world recognized her great capacity as a thrifty nation.

Early in this war, President Poincare said that it was by virture of the War Savings Stamp plan that France was able to carry on thia war from a dollar and cents point of view. She was the richest nation in the world at that time in per capita savings, and when her first great loans were offered to the people they were absorbed with no undue interruptions in business. It is hoped by our government when the people of this nation are acquainted with the Wnr Savings Stamp plan to evantually finance our war on this same basis and eliminate the bond. Of course, this does not mean that we will not have another bond issue, and it may not mean that we will ever be free from bond iasues. Only in so far as the War Savings Stamp plan meets with success will it be used for its great purpose. The present outlook is that it will succeed and that it will eventuslly supplant bonds.

It is very startling evidence to compare the per capita per annum savings of the people of the various nations of Europe with those of the people of the United States. We, as a nation, have not stood up under the hardest test of all, namely, the test of prosperity. Instead of being a thrift nation we are a spendthrift nation. Poor little Sweden with her thin soil and rigorous winters has a per capita per annum aavings of $250, New Zealand, a per capita per annum savings of $28. The U. S. has a per capita per annum savings of $50. This ls true in spite of the fact that we are the richest nation in the world in man power and raw materials. President Wilson has said: "I suppose not many fortunate by-products can come out of this war, but if this country can learn something about saving it will be worth the cost of the war—I mean the literal cost of it in money and resources."

Do you know that the Wnr Saving Stamp ls the most desirable United Stntes security obtainable today?

1. Because it may be redeemed for cash at any time necessary with interest to date.
2. Because it cannot fluctuate in value except as it increases in value.
3. Because it may be purchased at any time and in amount from 25c to $1000.
4. Because it is not taxable.
5. Because it is so desirable the law limits an individual or corporation to one thousand dollars' worth of stamps at maturity value.

There is one feature of the War Savings Stamp plan which it ia imperative that all understand. The government has placed a limit of one thousand dollars at maturity value as being the maximum amount of War Savings Stamps that any one person can lawfully own. This is due to the fact that the War Savings Stamp is so desirable, the big money centers would immediately absorb it and defeat the purpose for which it was designed, namely, for ALL the people.

AFTER THE CLARK-DENT-KITCHEN TYPE

What is going to take place in American politics in the next two years is hinted at in the cogent remarks of a patient at Debarkation Hospital No. 3 in New York. This soldier has just returned on one of the hospital ships and his views may be taken as representative of the sentiments of the other 2,000,000 men who were with him in France.

"Organization or no organization, I'll tell you one thing," declares this Pershing crusader, "there are some birds on the top of the heap now that are goin' to be treated awful rough when we get back into civilian clothes. There'a a lot of Representatives in Congress that are goin' to represent somebody besides the national association of old ladies, male and female, or else they're going to work at some other job."

The country may rest assured that this soldier does not include in the "national association of old ladies" the party that contributed six of its Members in Congress to the fighting force of the nation, nnd that was insistent in season and out of season for adequate equipment in cannon, aircraft, tanks, poison gas, etc., for the men at the front. When he spoke however, he did have in mind the officials at the Capitnl who have been responsible for providing soft berths in Washington for men physically fit to fight, and whose plnces could have been filled as well by men with slight disqualifications for military service. He and his comrades know what political party is responsible for the "important deficiencies in material" referred to so pointedly in the report of Gen. Pershing. He is aware that "our entry into the war found us with few of the auxiliaries necessary for its conduct in the modern sense," and he and his 2,000,000 fellows know that, nlthough war had been conducted "in the modern aense" for over two years before our entry into it, nothing had been done in this country because it was necessary to elect a President on the slogan "He kept us out of war." The fact that that very President is aow posing before the world as the savior of humanity, and choking up with sentiment and crocodile tears as he assures the French and English of the sympathy he has always felt for their sufferings, does not serve to allay the righteous indigaatioa expressed by this sufferer in Hospital No. 3, and shared by the thousands who will come after.

It will not be many days before he and hia comrades will have formed an organization in this country, analagous to the Grand Army. It will be the nucleus which every officer and soldier will join when he gets back home, and within a year the most powerful influence on the political life of the United States in existence will have become an actuality . A new broom sweeps clean. This veterans' organization will be not only new but strong, and filled with a virility that will brook no opposition to its program. It's first duty will be to conduct a government housecleaning, the like of which for thoroughness and despatch has not been seen before. The bumptious officials at Washigton who have managed the war according to the political expediency of the moment, secure in the knowledge that they were 3,000 miles removed from the men who were made to suffer the results of their incompetency will be made to walk the plank and disappear into the oblivion from which they emerged.

The 2,000,000 voters who will be restored to the country in the next year will come surcharged with emotions that military discipline has compelled them to surpress. But a discharge from the service carries with it the privilege to veat their feelings as they please. The result will be such an overturning of the party responsible for the conduct of the war, that its return to power again in this country will not he possible while the veterans of the Great War or their children nre alive to prevent it.

SCANDALOUS DELAY

Congressman Mann of Illinois was right when he declared tho other day the delay in paying soldiers a "scandal to the nation." On every hand we hear of families without their dependent allowances and of soldiers forced to go without ordinary comforts because they cannot get their pay.

It is of no large concern that the government is exceedingly slow in registering bonds and that interest payments on them are in many cases long overdue. That does not matter. Bondholders, even the little ones, can wait. Not so easy is the lot of the soldier and his dependents.

Of course the government has had a mountain of extra work to do. But it has added 200,000 to the population of Washington and has covered the city with office quarters for the transaction of public business. Is it not possible, with such an army of officials to attend to so elemental a need as the paying of the soldiers?

CITY CLERK MUST PRESERVE RECORDS

Receives Order to Hold Ballots From U. S. District Judge

City Clerk Chas. H. Emrey last Friday wns served with a restraining order issued by United States District Judge Sessions in reference to the Ford-Newberry senatorial contest.

The order directs Clerk Emrey to carefully preserve and safeguard the ballots in the original boxes in which they were deposited on Nov. 5 under lock and seal, together with all poll books and tally sheets relating to said election until further order of the court.

The court states that there is a danger that the ballots, ballot boxes, poll books, tally sheets and election records relating to the election on Nov. 5, will be destroyed, removed injured or tampered with. if no restraining order is issued.

Any custodian of the boxes who objected to the order was given an opportunity on Jan. 7 at 10 o'clock, to show cause why the order should not be made standing until after the contest is disposed of.

Orders of the same charncter have been issued to every city, village or township clerk in the state.

COL. ROOSEVELT DIES SUDDENLY

NATION SHOCKED OVER DEATH OF GREAT AMERICAN

Passes Peacefully Away at His Homo At Oyster Bay, From Blood Clot on Heart

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt died at his home at Sagamore Hill, Oyster Bay, N. Y., at 4:15 Monday morning. Death was caused by a clot of blood on the heart, it was stated at the house.

The colonel went to bed Sunday night feeling well, showing no indications of the approaching end. Several members of the family were hastily summoned to his bedside as the former president passed peacefully beyond.

Colonel Roosevelt returned home Christmas day from Roosevelt hospital where he had been ill for some time with sciatica.

The house at Sagamore Hill was closed immediately following the death of the former president, and no one waa permitted to enter the grounds.

Colonel Roosevelt died in his sleep with none but his valet in the room. Dr. G. W. Fuller, the physician who last saw Roosevelt, said the patient was feeling much better when he retired at midnight. He said at 4:15 he "simply ceased to breathe." The death of Quentin, his son, was believed to hnve hastened his end .He was planning a trip to Europe to visit the boy's grave. The flag on the White House was ordered to half mast when news of the death was received.

Colonel Roosevelt wns made assistant secretary of the navy in 1897 under McKinley's administration. At the outbrenk of the Spanish war he resigned his position and was sworn in a lieutenant colonel of the United States Volunteers, serving until hostilities ceased.

New York state then nominated and elected him as governor and in 1900 he was elected vice-president. The hand of an assasin murdered the lamented President McKinley and Roosevelt became President on September 14, 1901.

Colonel Roosevelt waa sixty years old and was born in New York. He was the twenty-sixth president of the United States. His administrations from 1901 to 1909 were marked by advanced and progressive legislation.

As president, he was aggressive, outspoken and fearless.

He advocated an enlarged military and naval program and was a fighting and outspoken advocate of preparedness for war.

In Republican circles it was practically conceded that he would have been their nominee for president in 1920, one westera state having endorsed him two years before the convention will be held.

He was the most prominent private citizen of the United States or the world. His trip abroad after he retired as president made world history. He was received as the leading citizen of the western hemisphere and entertained by royalty in all the countries of the world ia which he visited.

The funeral was held today (Wednesday) from the house. It was semi-private. Burial in spot not far from house selected by Colonel Roosevelt many years ago.

In his death America loses a great citizen, the Allies n good friend and the world a vivid, interesting and virile personality that can ill be spared. The keenest regret was expressed in o..cial circles,

Charlevoix business houses were closed from 1:00 to 2:00 p. m. and flags were lowered to half mast as a last tribute to the deceased ex-president.

REMAINS BROUGHT FROM DETROIT

Funral of Tom Nowland Held Thursday Forenoon

Word was received Tuesday morning of the death of Thomas Nowland, a former resident of this city, which took place on Monday, January 6. No details were given other than that the body would arrive Thursday morning for burial.

Deceased was well known in Charlevoix, having came here about 23 years ago. Some years later he went to Canada and took up a homestead, proved up his claim, and returned to this city about eight years ago. About five years ago he suffered a partial stroke of paralysis, from which he suffered continually until the time af his death.

Early in the fall af 1918 he moved to Detroit where death took place. He leaves a wife and numerous friends to mourn their lass.

OFFICIAL BOARD MEETS WITH PASTOR

Plans Formulated for Work During Coming Year

The members of the official board of the Methodist Episcopal church and their wives met at the home af Rev. and Mrs. Candler Monday evening. Following the business session, at which time plans were formulated for the introduction of several new features in connection with the work of the society in Charlevoix, a delightful program consisting of vocal and instrumental music and recitations was enjoyed by the large company present.

Refreshments were served and an hour of social fellowship closed a very happy evening.

He will visit en route at Alma, Ithaca, Ann Arbor and Detroit.

The ladies of St. Mary's will give a pedro party Friday evening, January 10, at the school. All are invited. 2t1.

WORK MUST BE CONTINUED

MUCH MISERY IN WAR STRICKEN COUNTRIES

Lives of Thousands Depend on Help Given—Red Cross Urged to do Utmost

Every paper we read tells us that the clothing and food situation in many of the war stricken countries is causing great misery. That many will die this winter if relief does not come. Will we allow this appealing cry to go unanswered? General Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American expeditionary forces has said: "I want every man, woman and child who has contributed even a dime in money, or an hour of work to the Red Cross to understand that such contribution has helped to meet the needs of the present hour."

We all fully appreciate the fact that the war has ended—but we must not lose sight of the fact that the work of the Red Cross must continue.

This work we are called upon to do now is of quite a different nature than that which was done a year ago, but surely just as important, because we are still asked to work to relieve suffering humanity.

Our rooms are apen six afternoons each week, and there is plenty of work to be done to keep every loyal and patriotic woman of Charlevoix busy. If you feel you cannot give a whole afternoon to this work, come for at least one hour some afternoon each week.

Among our recent contributions is a beautiful picture of "Old Glory" in a very attractive frame, presented to our local chapter by Dr. and Mrs. B. Dunham. It not only helps to make our rooms more pleasant, but is a splendid reminder to each faithful worker who assembles there, that she in her way is helping to do her bit for the glory of the flag as well as the nation for which it stands.

Mrs. C. G. Cooper, Sec.

PROBATE WORK FOR YEAR 1918

JUDGE HARRIS MAKES HIS ANNUAL REPORT

Summary of Business Transacted in Probate Office and Estates Probated

I am sure the good people of Bonks Townahip are interested in the work done by their hired men in the county building at Bellaire, therefore I herewith present an annuol account showing in summary form a little of the work done in the probate o..ce the past year:

There were 160 hearings in open court on the regular Monday sittinga and covered as followa:

Appointment of administrators, 20.
Appointment of executors, 15.
Special administrators, 5
Guardianship matters, 10.
Finul accounts, 20.
Widows allowances, 5.
Confirm sale of real estate, 12.
Assign residue, 5.
Discharges, 10.
Adoption eases, 4.
Sale of personal, 5
Sale of real estate, 15.

Sixteen juvenile eases were fully investigated and cared for, one boy being sent to the Industrial school at Lansing and two boys were asked to enlist in Uncle Sam'a army, nnd did so and further gnvo very good accounts of thomsslves. Ths balance were placsd on probation and are now trying to make good.

There were 13 mother's pension cases on the books January 1, 1918, four were revoked during the year, three by re-marrying and one moving from the county. Forty children with the mothers were cared for in this woy, the county paying from $1 per week to $10.00 per week per family, averaging about $1.60 per week per child.

Five insanse cases were heard, four being sent to the Traverse City State Hospital and one being discharged as not insanse.

Two each afflicted children and adults were sent to Ann Arbor for operations, two were sent to the home at Lapeer and one to Wahjamega, the epileptic school.

No dependent children were sent to Coldwater, as for the last four years we have placed such children in homes in our own county.

Five estates paid inheritance taxes. Twenty-two others were drawn by this office and $167.54 paid out. Six hundred letters were written and copies filed of snme. Pleuse remember the regular hearings of this court are every Monday in the yenr. With a Happy Ney Year to you nnd yours, I nm, respectfully,

Ernest R. Harris.

ENDORSED AT HOME

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Charlevoix Citizen

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced: None better, nona stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses hie friends and neighhors, you mny be aure he is thoroughly convinced or he woul l not to do so. Telling one's experienee when it le for the public good is an oct of kindness that should be appreciated. The following atatement given by a resident of Charlevoix adde one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

Charlee Hebert, 405 May St., says: "My back and kidneys gave out on me, causing me much suffering. My back was so eore and lame I could hardly go about my work. My kidneys were out of order and this caused ma a lot of annoyance. Dizzy spells bothered me when specks floated before my eyes, blurring my sight. I was in bad shape before I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, but they soon had me feeling fine. Three boxee of Doan's cured me."

CHICKEN CHATTER.

It is poor economy tu waste good feed ou scrub stock.

White middlings contain more nutrition than the brown kind.

It is not all in what you feed —there is much in how you feed it.

Red beets are excellent for poultry and can be fed either cooked or raw.

A direct substitute for high priced whole wheat, and a good one, is barley.

Do not try to feed a large flock at a small trough. Let there be plenty of room or the weaker or more timid fowls will he crowded out.

It is a good plan to soak oats in water for an hour and then feed in troughs. This soaking not only softens the hulls, but makes the oats more appetizing.

CARE OF YOUNG CHICKS.

Mathod of Handling and Feeding the Newly Hatchad Birds.

When the chickens are hatched they are left in the incubator or under the hen for twenty-four to forty-eight hours to harden off, writes a correspondent of the Americno Agriculturist. They are not fed anything during this period. I then remove them to a clean, dry coop or brooder with a dry, grassy run and begin feeding. First scatter before them some chick grit, a pinch for each chickeo. For the first feed I prefer dry breadcrumbs or oatmeal. Infertile eggs boiled and put through a meat cutter, shells and all, with bread crusts make a good starter. I prefcraply do not uss these until the second or third feeding day, at which time I generally begin feeding some commercial chick grain.

I used cracked corn and cracked wheat after the first week. There is too much waste to all commercial chicken grains I have ever seen. After the first few days I begin feeding a dry mash in hoppers or a pan. I have fastened to a wire hoop some inch mesh chicken wire, which I place on top of the dry mash so the fowls will not scratch it out of the pen and waste it. This mash, generally the Maine station ration, is always before them.

Cracked grains are fed in the litter, making the fowls work all I can. I feed the eggs tested out of the incubator, boiling only what I will use in a day or two at the most, as they will not keep sweet for over four days and sometimes not that long. I am careful the first two weeks not to overfeed, as by so doing bowel trouble is pretty sure to develop. While it is easily checked by giving scalded sweet milk or rice with cinnamon sprinkled over it, the best way is to prevent any form of diarrhea setting in.

For chickens under hens the method is varied somewhat. The hen having a run will exercise the chickens. The principal difference in feeding is the elimination as a rule of the boiled eggs, except when I have an oversupply. I feed for a shorter period the higher priced foods. Whether kept under hens or in brooders the chickens must have plenty of fresh water. I would strongly advise the using of some stoneware fountain, not only because it will keep the water cleaner, but it keeps the chicken dry. Early in the season a wet chicken is apt to get chilled and develop bowel trouble. These methods, accompanied by plenty of sunshine and fresh air, will not fail to start cockerels and pullets on the right road to make good winter layers of the fill the winter egg basket kind.

Disinfect Incubators.

Disinfect the incubator after each hatch. This is not difficult to do, and the little extra work is well warranted by the feeling of security. Use a mild disinfectant, one that will evaporate quickly, and apply it with a brush or spray pump. Carbolic acid or one of the other coal tar products will do nicely for this purpose. Be sure to air the interior of the machines thoroughly before starting another batch. The fumes of the disinfectant may injure the eggs if you do not.

The Easy Way.

Few that wander in the wrong way mistake it for the right; they only find it more smooth and flowery, and indulge in their own choice rather than approve it.—Samuel Johnson.

ELLSWORTH LOCALS

Miss Mae Skow left last week on her return to school at Mt. Pleasant.

James Wilson threshed radishes for several farmers near here the past week.

Mat Routley is plastering a part of the W. A. Boss residence this week.

D. E. Clow and his clerks have been busy the past few days taking inventory.

Henry Boes has sold his farm and will hold an auction sale on Monday of next week.

DeWitt Patterson went to Detroit last week. He expects to work there until next spring.

Mrs. J. H. Elzinga has been on the sick list the past few days but is better at present.

Several from this place attended the road meeting at Charlevoix on Thursday of last week.

Miss Blanche Boss entertained three girl friends from Petoskey the latter part of last week.

Mrs. Reno Hamilton of Knoxville, Tennessee, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pearl, the past week.

Will Yettaw of near Atwood, is making plans to purchase property and go into business here in the near future.

Wm. Hoffman of Levering, who has been visiting relatives here the past month returned to his home the first of the week.

The first dancing party of the season was held last Friday night at the Blue hall and a good time is reported by all who attended.

Several fish houses have been placed on the lake during the past week and spearing through the ice is now the principal pastime.

Mrs. L. Ardema and children, who have been visiting friends here the past two weeks, have left to join Mr. Ardema, who is working at Jackson, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. VanSkiver write from Hnyward, Calif., giving their best regards to all their friends. They enjoyed their trip and the country and are both in the best of health.

Mr. Eccleston, the bookkeeper for the Ellsworth Produce Co. has been very ill at Charlevoix for the past week. He is much better at present but is still unable to return to work.

A meeting has been called at Klooster's store for Tuesday, January 14, to make some arrangements for a saw mill for Ellsworth. There are quite a few logs to be cut this winter and if a mill was put in at this place there would probably be more to cut.

About thirty of the communities young folks met at the Blue Hall last Wednesday evening and enjoyed themselves in honor of John Beuker's 16th birthday. The evening was spent in games and music, and light refreshments were served before the party broke up. All present enjoyed the time of their lives.

WILDWOOD

Mr. Gould is hauling wood to Ellsworth these days.

Hazel Irvy spent the week end at the Crawford home.

E. R. Wilson bought a horse from Will Patterson recently.

Jayne Crawford returned to her school duties in Traverse City on Saturday afternoon.

Will Patterson drove the mail on the rural route on Saturday, his father being slightly indisposed.

Mrs. Emrey has rented her farm to Walter Wilson for next season and will give possession about March first.

The sick at the Clarence Falee home are reported better at this writing. Mrs. White returned home after several days with them.

E. R. Wilson has his engine and buzz saw outfit set up and there is no limit to the amount of wood his stoves are allowed to burn these cold days.

Word has been received from Traverse City that Jayne Crawford left on Monday of this week for Washington, D. C., in answer to an official telegram to report at once for duty for Uncle Samuel. Miss Ellen has a permanent appointment in the government employ in the same city.

Farmers!

There will be a meeting called at Klooster's store, Ellsworth, Tuesday, January 14. at two p. m., for the purpose of securing a saw mill for Ellsworth. All persons having logs or who are otherwise intercsted are urged to attend.—Committee. 2t1 Pd

MOTHER AND CHILD BOTH DIE

Death of Mrs. Liberty Causes Profoud Sorrow Among Friends

The entire village was once more plunged into mourning on Tuesday uf last week when the news was received of the death at Detroit of Mrs. George Liberty, one of Ellsworth's most highly respected women. Mr. and Mrs. Liberty and family had but recently left Ellsworth, going to Detroit for the winter, and the news of her death came both as a surprise and a shock.

Deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Williams of Ellsworth. She was born at Chestonia, Michigan, October 15, 1888, and came to Ellsworth with her parents in 1910 and has lived here practically all of the time since until her death which occurred December 30.

She was married to George Liberty of Chicago, Illinois, July 12, 1911, and to these this union there came three little ones, Josie aged six, Arthur aged three and a baby who died at birth and for whom the mother gave up her own life.

Mrs. Liberty united with the Methodist church while but a girl and always lived a true Christian life, caring little for social activities but being devoted to her home and family.

Beside her husband and children she leaves a father and mother, three sisters and two brothers.

The body reached Ellsworth on New Year's day and was placed at rest at Boss cemetery the day following, the services in charge of Rev. Clark being conducted at the M. E. church. The family are extended the deepest sympathy of the entire neighborhood.

ROAD BUILDING IN FRANCE

SIMON BOS TELLS OF HIS EVERYDAY WORK

Ellsworth Doughboy in Russia Enduring Untold Hardships—No Cold Weather on Date of Writing

The following is a copy of a letter from Simon Bos, received by his parents, January 6, 1919:

Nov. 28, 1918, Montigny, Frunce.

"Doar Home Folks—It is the day after Thanksgiving and although I intended to write yesterday, it was neglected, so I'm going to write today and sort of make up for my neglect in the past month.

"We sure had some day yesterday—nice and rainy all day long and everybody worked. I got up early, as we have to have all the engines gassed up, so the morning crews can get out at 7 o'clock. Then breakfast which consisted of pancakes, syrup and black coffee. Then went back and finished up our work of the morning, later sitting by the fire until dinner time. Then we had potatoes, meat, turnips, bread and some more black coffee. We sat around the stove again in the afternoon and one of the fellows who helps me gas the engines, has a mandolin with him and he played and we sang and enjoyed ourselves as much as is possible 5,000 miles away from home. Had our supper about four o'clock and had steak, potatoes, tomatoes, bread and black coffee. Then as soon as we had finisbed, we had to gas the engines, which began to come in and it was as dark as it could possibly be and a nasty, driving rain falling and to make matters worse one of the engines hnd jumped the track, thus making several very lnte, but they finally all got in nnd then we toasted our shins by a wurm little fire und played and sang some more and then went to bed. So there you have how I spent my Thanksgiving in France. I couldn't help but think of the lnst one I spent at home, when we all had dinner together.

"I supposed you noticed my location at Montigny and that won't give you very much information unless I tell you where it is. If you find Verdun on the map, follow up the Meuse river to Loulmoeya, a little town between Dun and Stenoy, you will have my approximate location, ns we are about a mile from Stenoy.

"As the censorship is less strict since the armistice hns been signed, I'll give you a ltitle idea of what we have been doing, etc.

"We lnnded nt Brest, in northwestern France, January 10, 1918, and from there went to a cnmp about 125 miles south of Paris, where we were for two months. From there we went to the Toul sector and were stationed at n place by the nsme of Lacy, about 15 miles west from Toul. Arrived there the 13th of March and remained until October 8. We built a lnrge railhead at Lacy and the standard gauge carried stuff up there and we carried it on to the frônt on narrow gauge railways. We hauled rock and shells and rations galore. The rock was for making roads, gun emplacements, etc., in the woods at the front and some job it was too, as practically the whole area in which we worked was under direct observation of the Germans.

"The congestion before the St. Mihiel drive was sometbing fierce. On all the roads up at the front were lines and lines of doughboys waiting for the barragé to stop. Behind them artillery wagons and trucks for miles back and it would seem as if it was such a confused mass that it never would straighten itself out again. Little engines pulling cars in and out of the woods all over. Our construction company's waitiag for the barrage to stop, to start building roads and laying track to coanect up with the German steel. One of our company's laid 14 kilometers during the barrage. A kilometer is 5-8 of a mile.

"The barrage lasted I.thiak six hours and as for the results you know them as well as I do, but I have a lot to tell you sometime about it.

"After that drive was over, we took our equipment nnd left for the Argonne front. At one place we passed between the nrtillery and infantry with our steam engines nnd had some time. The engines had to go up a hill and one of them started slipping and throwing sparks to beat the bnnd und Fritzy started shelling them and then one jumped the rail nnd we had a merry (?) time which I hope to tell you nbout later.

"We went as far as Dumbosle, about 17 kilometers from Verdun and our company operated from that place. Our regiment supplied six divisions with rntions, etc., so you can imagine we did some work. We supplied the division of the Beuker boys, also the one in which friend Edd is. We had a long wnys to haul and in the final drive of November 1, the advance was so rnpid and the track laid and so hurriedly ballasted, that the haul became longer all the time, the track poorer, wrecks more frequent, etc., but we managed to get through nnd our colonel has been promoted to Brigadier General, so I guess we did pretty good after all. As the drive advanced our company did nnd now we are at the extremo end of the Germnn steel and they are salvaging nll the ammunition and bringing it up here on the narrow gauge,so that in case it is necessary the trucks can get it quickly and if the artillery doesn't need it, it can be loaded onto the standard gauge road.

"It has been rumored thut as soon as we are finished here we will go to Auflans, between Verdun and Metz, and operate on the S. G. R. R. The rest of our outfit is up there and I haven't heard whether they are operating yet or not. And then again, they say we will be here for several weeks yet. I think we'll be here a while, as there is still a bunch of work to be done.

"Well. I guess this is quite a letter for me, so tbink I'll stop. You better call this your Christmas letter, as I suppose you will get it about then. We are very slack on news, as I haven't seen a paper for weeks.

"I'm sending this in my last envelope, don't know when, or where I'll get any more. As ever, Simon."

From August Postmus

Archangel, Russia, Nov. 1, 1918.

"Dear Folks—I can imagine you are looking for a letter from me, as it is so long ngo thnt I wrote. Did not have much chance to write as I had no paper nor envelopes and could not get any. That is about a month ago. The last letter I wrote was August 31st on the boat from England over here.

"I have been in several battles, but bave been with the company right along. I earnestly hope that I may pull throagh and that we may see each other again soon. I guess you have been better off than I have in getting mail, and you probably will be surprised when I write thst I got my first two letters since I left New York, written the 20th of July. Also got a Red Cross bag from the company which came in pretty handy, as this paper is part of it, nlso six envelopes, one muffler, two pair of socks, one towel, two handkerchiefs, washing and shaving sonp, shavlng brush, tooth brush, and tooth paste. We also get ciragettes, so we cnn smoke.

"I certainly will be glad when we can return, I think we will almost be uncivilized. No reading or writing for a long time, sleeping outside most of the time. in swamps, water, log houses, dugouts, etc. Staying in the last named now, enduring a lot of hnrdships, but none the worse for it yet. Am writing this letter on my knee now, which makes it rather difficult.

"We don't mind the fighting so much as long as we nre winning, but as long as we are at it we only hope that it may soon end. The weather has been extraordinarily good so far, for this part of the world. Just as good as the states. Other years they had lots of snow by this time. Talked with R. Dean nhout a week ago, he was alright yet. Am longing for a home meal ngain. Was fed on corn beef and hardtack.

November 20, 1918

"Had a letter started, but wns not able to finish it, so will try again now. We are back from the front now, for a 10 day rest. Have been living in the mnrsh for 11 weeks. Am feeling alright yet. Never expected I could stand as much us I have.

"It is pretty wintry nnd it started hard and heavy. We are in Archangel now, maybe you can find it on the map. I think I may tell you that we are in Russia, quite a ways from home. Hope we will go there soon but hard telling when. I got somo moro letters yesterday dated 16th and 17th of September. Glad ta know that everything is o. k. yet at that time. Had some good white bread the last couple of days which was quito a treat. I think we will get it right along now. As much as I have seen of Russia, it is pretty wild. Plenty of Christmas trees, but nothing to put on them. Maybe we will put on some corn beef and hard tack. Well will close this letter now, and see that it gets mailed. Hope thnt you may get it soon and in as good health as it leaves me. I may get a better chance to write and will do so then. I am standing up now with my paper on my bunk which is made of boards, but we don't mind such things.

"Received several letters and although old they are new to me, and expect more coming. Am not worrying much as I would only be hurting myself. I am going to read the Grand Rapids Press now, dated August 26th, which I got hold of here. Goodby, from your son and brother, August Postmus, American N. R. E. F., Archangel, Russia.

How to Wash Crepa de Chine So It Won't Cockle or Shrink.

The delicate colored crepe de chine blouse requires great care in laundering. It may be laundered, however, to look nearly as well as when bought. Use tepid water and a pure white soap which should be made into a suds and garment washed between the hands. To keep the beautiful shade a small piece of crape paper of the same color as the blouse must be put into the rinsing water. Use the paper just as you would bluing. If garment is faded make a dye for it by boiling a little of the crnpe paper in water and then dip the blouse in it. Hang in shade till partly dry—tbnt is, just damp enough to press well—then iron it on the wrong side.

How to Iron Collars and Cuffs Like a Chinaman.

When doing up collars and cuffs put the articles in cold starch made by mixing a tablespoonful of starch with a pint of cold water. Just before ironing rub on a little white soap, hard; then with a clean white, damp cloth rub lightly on the right side a little prepared French chalk; 5 cents' worth will last a long time. The iron will glide along and will give a beautiful gloss.

How to Remove Grease Spots From Fabrics.

Spread one teaspoonful of butter evenly on the spot and let it remain there until the grease has become thoroughly soft. Then wash out in soft soapy water, and the stain will come out. This will be found valuable, especially for children's delicate dresses.

FORD CONTEST SLURS G. O. P.

DEFEATED FLIVVER KING SAYS HE WAS CHEATED

Everyone After His Scalp From Indiana-Ohio Border Lice to Shores of Lake Superior

Petitions asking the United States Federal court in the western district of Michigan to order the city clerks of Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Cadillac and other towns to preserve the ballots east at the last election have been filed in Grand Rapids by attorneys for Henry Ford.

The attorneys for Ford took this step because Ford intends to contest the seat of Truman H. Newberry in the United States senate, and there is now no state law compelling election officials to save ballots after a specified time—and that time has passed.

Charges of gentral fraud are made in the petition—apparently. according to the claims set up, most all of western Michigan and Upper Peninsula election officials were derelict, incompetent or fraudulent. Thousands of votes cast for Ford were not counted for him, it is charged, or else were counted for Newberry instead of for Ford. So general are these charges that prominent Republicans in Grand Rapids are openly expressing their wrath at the charges which, they declare, are preposterous on their face.

United States Senator-eleet Newberry is named as a co-respondent with the city snd county clerks. It was said that similar petitions would be filed in the United Statts court in the eastern district soon.

It is noticeable, however, that most of the fraud charges and most of the county and eity o..cials affected are in counties and cities that were expected to go for Ford, but did not do so, notably Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo. Apparently in counties and cities carried by Ford there was no fraud or irregularity.

Newberry Wants Proba

Commander Truman H. Newberry says that he had received a copy of the petition and would turn it over to his attorneys. Upon its receipt he conferred with advisors, but a course of action has not yet been determined. The senator-elect would make no statement, saying that one would be forthcoming later. It is known, however, that he and his advisors are considering two courses— the commander's personal choiee of saying or doing nothing that would in any way operate to hinder a complete investigation; the other thnt of defending the Republicans of Western Michlgan against the widespread charges of crookedness and neglect. Commander Newberry, according to one of his advisors, is eager to have the whole question of the senatorial election brought out into the limelight. Whether this can be best done by permitting the Ford forces to have their way unopposed or whether the facts can be best developed by a vigorous defense that will bring everything into court is the question to be decided.

DOLLAR BILL IS CHANGED TO TEN

Public Warned to be on Lookout for Phooy $10 Bank Note

Keep close watch for one dollar bills raised to ten dollars, is the warning issued by the treasury department in a circular received by local authorities. The circular reads:

"Please be on the lookout for $1 Federal Reserve bnnk notes which are alterated to represent $10, the work being quite skillfully done by a good penman. The background is first made by removing the original ink by scratch work. This leaves a white background. The original numeral '1' is utilized by this note raiser. He narrows same by drawing a vertical line through the back portion with pen and ink. The figure '0' is then added by pen and ink on the white scratched surface.

"On some of the raised notes that have come under observation the counterfeiter has obliterated the words 'one' in the border work. He also has filled in the letter 'O' in the phase 'one dollar' on the face of the note. He used black in this instance.

"Scrutinize carefully every Federal Reserve note. Do not depend on the large figures, but be guided by the portraits. Genuine Federal Reserve notes or Federal Reserve bank notes of all issues bear the following portraits:

"$1, Washington; $2, Jefferson; $5 Lincoln; $10, Jackson; $20, Cleveland; $50, Grant; $100, Lincoln."

$50 WOLF BOUNTY IS SUGGESTED

Increased Bounty Would be Big Incentive for Killing of Animals

If present plans carry, trapping and hunting of wolves in the state will be much more worth while than it has been in past years, and as a result of the increased incentive for killing off these pesky animals by bullet and poison their ravages among the deer will soon be greatly decreased. All of which will be learned of with particular interest by lower peninsula hunters.

Increase of the bounty will be recommended as part of the game law legislation. According to the officials of the game commission's department, the bounty on wolves, in the light of high prices being paid for other furs, is not attractive enough to encourage the capture of wolves by trappers and homesteaders in the upper peninsula. Of late many reports have been received at Commissioner Baird's offiee that wolves are multiplying rapidly in the north woods. Particularly is this reported in the sections bordering on Wisconsin, where it is said wolves have mado large inroads on herds of deer.

The state bounty on wolves (over six months of age) is $25. Of this amount the state pays one-half and the other half comes from the county. Some of the counties, particularly in the upper peninsula, have added to this sum so that the full bounty north of the straits varies from $30 to $35. It is suggested that this be increased by the state so that captor of a wolf would get $50.

Fur pelts this winter are higher than ever in the history of the state. Ordinary prime rat hides are aelling at $1.25 to $1.50 raw; mink hides, $7 to $10 while a fox hide, prime, is worth anywhere from $20 to $30. Other small animal furs are in proportion and with the wolf bounty as low as $30 or $35, it does not pay the trapper to fool much trying to ensnare the wolf. Small fortunes are being made by some trappers even in the southern peninsula where fur-bearing animals are almost extinct.

While it is doubtful if any recommendation to the legislature to raise the bounty will be made by Commissioner Baird and his men, there would be no objection from the department if the bounty were raised. and ordinarily at every session there is some sort of bill to boost the bounty. Ordinarily, too. it meets opposition, but it is thought this time that it will have such easy sailing that it can be passed.

From Walter Hull

Somewhere in France,
Deeember 3, 1918.

"Dear Folks at home—I received your letter last night and was glad to hear from you, as it was the first letter that I had received in a long time. Received eight altogether. but was on guard at the time so could not answer.

"I was up to the front eleven days when the war was going on, and for a week after it was over. It sure did get noisy when those big shells came over our head, but we sure gave it back to them.

"We were talking with some of the infantry and they said that we did good work. They would give us the sign to send a barrage, then they would go over the top.

"The last morning of the war we fired one hundred fifteen rounds in an hour, and at eleven o'elock we reeeived word that they had given up. At night the American boys sent up roekets and it sure was pretty. It looked like new life again, for at night we were not allowed to have lights.

"We have been sleeping in dugouts which the Germans made. Some have fireplaces, bunks and also rats to fight with at night.

"The town that we are in now is Pont-a-Mousson, and I guess it was a nice place before the war, but now most all of the buildings are shell torn. They have nice roads over here.

"I have sent my helmet home, and hope it reaches there alright. This is all I can think of tonight, so will close with best regards to all. Pvt. Walter G. Hull, Battery D. 328 Field Artillery, American E. F."

From Clarence Coblentz

Camp Devens, Mass.,
December 28, 1018.

"Dear Friend—I just received your letter, so will write a line to let you know that I am still alive. We arrived in the states on Sunday, and went to Camp Mills where we stayed for two days, then eame to Camp Devens on Christmas day.

"I expect to he home soon, as most all the men except the Michigan men have their discharge, and I think that we leave Monday for Camp Custer to receive ours.

"I suppose that there is a lot of snow in Charlevoix by this time. There is no snow here and the sun shines every day and is also warm through the day.

"France sure is some country. It rains nearly every day, mud ankle deep and in some places knee deep. We left for the United States November 22. Stayed at Brest two weeks, and slept in the mud or any place that was dry, and had corrugated iron for a bunk, and not half enough to eat.

"Thanksgiving day we had slum, two pieces of bread, some beef and a cup of coffee. A person that could live over there is pretty hard, and I could tell a lot more, but haven't the time. We are turning in our equipment today, so will close, hoping that I am home soon."

WINDING UP OF THE DRAFT BOARD

Records to be Sealed and Sent to War Department

The final psges in the history of the Charlevoix county draft board are being written. Since the armistice was signed, and orders followed that no more men were to be sent into America's giant draft army, the members of the board and assistants have been busy closing up the records, according to detailed instructions from the provost marshal, head of the draft system.

With each registered man goes a volume of information which is needed by the draft officials in order to carry out their work. After all information is gathered, including the questionnaires and other data, it is placed in a booklet and filed according to the alphabeticnl order of the registrant. The registrant's nsme is also filed according to serial and order number so that one filing may act as a check on the other.

Completed records show thnt Chnrlevoix county had 3,339 drafted men. These records will be sealed and sent to Washington, where they will be kept in the vaults of the war department to be used later for historical reference.

Few can imagine how efficiently and quickly the work of the draft system was handled, and to the members of the local district, state and national boards goes the credit of enabling the United States to put an army of almost three million men, into the field, within such a comparatively short time.

REVIEW OF ELECTION LAWS

BRIEF OUTLINE OF REQUIREMENTS OF VOTERS

Women as Well as Men Must be Registered if They Vote—What to Do If You Want to Vote

There seems to be a demand for information as to the registration of electors, particularly from women electors. It is impracticable to give a complete review of the laws on the subject but the following is intended as a brief outline af the requirements both as to registration and elections generally.

All electors should bear in mind tha distinction between regular and special elections and primary elections. A regular election is an election required by law to be held an a certain fixed date. A special election is an election called for a special purpose an a special date. A primary election is an election held for the purpase of nominating candidates for office of the several political parties. The candidates so nominated are to be voted for at the following election. The primary merely takes the place of the old time caucuses or conventions.

It will be understood that all elections in the City of Charlevoix are held at a central polling place. The ballots are cast separately for each ward and separate registration books are kept. One board of elections inspectors receives and counts the ballots for all wards, thus saving the cost of extra election machinery.

The law requires the giving of public notics of the holding of all elections. These are posted in public places and are intended to give the public all necessary information. They should be read carefully by every elector.

On or before a fixed date prior to the holding of a primary election, candidates for office on his or her party ticket must file what is known as a nominating petition signed by a required number of electors asking that the name of the particular candidate be printed on the official primary ballot. Without this petition the candidates name cannot be printed on such ballot, and to be nominated without such name being printed on the ballot, the candidate's name must be written in the ballot by the electors or pasted on it in the form of a printed or written slip. An elector must not sign two nominating petitions for the same office. A woman elector cannot lawfully sign a nominating petition until she has registered as required by law.

Registration

No person may vote until registered, except in some special cases mentioned later. We have in this state what is known as the Registration Code, which is found in Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of Michigan for the year 1917. This act governs all registrations. All other acts which conflict with it are superceded by it. Certain other acts which do not conflict with it are still in force so that it is sometimes necessary to refer to other acts in certain cases, but in most cases the Code governs.

Who May Register

Any qualified elector twenty-one years of age, or who will become twenty-one years of age on or before the date of the next election or primary election, and who has resided in this state six months and in his or her voting precinct twenty days next perceeding the day of the next ensuing election or will have so resided on the day of such election.

Where to Register

At the office of the City Clerk or Township Clerk, as the case may be. Or, with a Board of Registration in cases where such board is appointed for such purpose. The clerk is not required to receive applications for registration on the street, at his home or in any other place than his office, but he may do so if he sees fit.

How to Register

By appearing in person in requesting registration. The Clerk is not authorized to take applications over the phone or in any other manner than by personal request. The law requires the applicant to answer such questions as the Clerk may ask touching the qualifications of the applicant and false answers to such questions, or any other misrepresentation of facts is made a felony.

When You May Register

On any day, other than Sunday or a legal holiday, preceding the Third Saturday before any election or primary election. EXCEPT, that in Townships or cities having less than 10,000 population the clerk may receive applications up to and including the Second Saturday preceding the election or primary election.

The clerk is required to be in his office, or other convenient place, on the 4th and 3rd Saturdays preceding all elections and also on such other days not exceeding five in all, as shall be designated by the Township Board or legislative body of a city, for the purpose af reviewing the registration and registering electors. On these special days the clerks office must be open 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. The clerk is required to give one week's notice of the time and place by posted notices and same shall be printed in a newspaper if required by the Township Board or legislative body of a city.

Men now registered do not nead to re-register. Women electors to be entitled to vote must register even though previously registered for other purposes.

To illustrate the above in the case of the ensuing March primary and April election. The primary election must be held on the First Wednesday in March which this year is March 5th. The election must be held on the First Monday in April, which is April 7th. The last day for registration—namely the Second Saturday preceding the primary—is February 22nd. (Note that this is a legal holiday, so that February 21st is the last day.) The Clerk must be in his office on February 8th (the fourth Saturday) and February 15th (the third Saturday preceeding the primary election) from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. The city council will also designate certain days, not more than five in all, as special days during which the clerk must be in his office during such hours. Notice of the time will be given out by posted notices. These five days must be prior to February 15th.

In case of the election, March 29th is the last day for registration; Mar. 22nd is the 3rd Saturday; March 15 is the 4th Saturday.

LOCAL BANKS HELP WIN THE WAR

Without These Financial Agencies of Credit Success Impossible

Never before has the American people had the necessity of banks so fully demonstrated as within the last year. Loans aggregating about sixteen billion dollars have been negotiated with the people of America themselves, without any financial disturbance whatever and money today is as plentiful and as easily obtained as it was before these enormous loans, three greatest aver negotiated in any country in the world, were made.

Though most of these funds have been drawn directly out of the banks yet in most instances the deposits have soon returned to normal or actually increased.

We helped to win the war because of the success of these loans. In fact, without them success would have been absolutely impossible. President Wilson and Secretary McAdoo both have said that the banks alone made these loans possible. They are an absolute necessity to organized business of all kinds. Now all classes of citizens, rich and poor, deposit their money in banks, issue checks and almost all the business of the country is done on credit.

Hence it is a pleasure that the Courier takes this opportunity to say that it is to the banks of Charlevoix county that the main credit for the success of the sale of liberty bonds and payment for the same is due. All of which additional work has been done absolutely free.

In no county in Michigan are the banks more absolutely solid and reliable than in Charlevoix. All are solid. One of the banks of our city which took an active part in the sale and distribution of liberty bonds is the Charlevoix State Savings Bank. This bank held its annual meeting of stockholders on January 14. No change in the directorate was made for the easuing year, J. L. Crane, H. S. Harsha, A. A. Swinton, John Burns and A. D. Crimmins being elected to succeed themselves.

At a meeting of the directors held on the same date the following officers were elected: President, J. L. Crane; vice president, H. S. Harsha; vice president, A. A. Swinton; cashier, A. D. Crimmins; assistant cashier, Archie Livingston.

The bank's business has been most satisfactory. A recent statement shows an increase in savings deposits of $40,000.00 for the year.

O'LEARY PROPERTY PURCHASED BY CITY

Will be Utilized for City Memorial Park

The council made possible the establishment of a beautiful city memorial park Monday evening by the action taken toward the purchase of the O'Leary property, opposite the Hotel Michigan.

The movement has been in progress for some time, the delay being attributed chiefly on account of the parties owning the land in question not being able to agree in the purchase price.

The old barn, which has been an eye-sore for years will be torn down and done away with. The corner lot, in connection with the lot to the north and that at present owned by the city to the east, will give ample room for the purpose intended, and with a judicious expenditure of money can be converted into one of the most beautiful parks of this nature in northern Michigan.

We can supply you with fresh cut flowers or plants. Leave your orders with me at the shop on Bridge St., or at my residence. Mrs. R. Bonthron. 4t1

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR SOLOIER BOYS NOW IN THE SERVICE

Douglas Nettleton Writes Interestingly from Jaulny, and of Meeting His Brother at Toul—George Allison Now on Way to Germany—Describes German "Kellars"

From Musicien D. C. Nettleton
Jauiny, France,
December 18, 1918.
Hdq. Co., 64th Inf., Am. E. F.

"Dear Mother—This is the 18th of December and the first day that has suggested the possible approach of a winter in this country. The wind is whistling around the corners and there has been a drizzling rain all day but as yet no signs of snow.

"You will see we are still in this Jaulny place. It is a little no-account burg out in front of Metz. The Germans occupied this town twenty-four hours after the war started and it was only retaken in the last days of the fighting. There is one old Frenchman here now who was taken prisoner and held for four years and just got back about ten days ago. He is sixty-three years old and was in the French army. Most of the towns in this section were held so long by the Germans that the French markings have been crossed out and the directions and streets are posted up in German. They are all small towns around where we are stationed, and the French must have anticipated this being more or less a war district as each town is built down in a valley or behind a hill (a fact which I have been thankful for on different occasions.) If you get aut your Literary Digest of September 8th you will find a map that shows this town and the section around here pretty well also the others towns in this sector—Domevre, Dieulard, Gersonville, Griscourt, Martincourt, Boullonville, etc.

"We have cleaned up this town until it looks pretty respectable. The rooms we are billeted in right now were piled half full of boards and plaster and junk until we cleaned it out. There were also some dead Dutchmen lying around.

"When we first came here things were in pretty bad shape to say the least, but conditions have been gradually improving until now we can get just about anything we want. The supply Sergt. has got a good supply of clothes and a Y. M. C. A. has opened up here in town and they carry a pretty good line of stuff. As expressed in army phaseology we are 'sitting on the world' in this town now.

"We have explored all the territory in the immediate neighborhood and the gang have taken to making much longer trips. Yesterday morning five of us fellows got excused from duty and started for Pont-a-Mousson. It is about twenty kilometers or twelve miles from our billet, and we got there just at noon. Pont-a-Mousson is the largest town in the section except Toul. The Moselle river which has been the boundary of France since the war of 1870, flows through the center of the town. We went through a church and it sure was a monstrous outfit. The ceiling varies from sixty to eighty feet in height and is supported by big cement pillars about three feet through. I didn't have time to get the history of the church but I saw a few panels dated 1600 and as a rule these churches over here have been standing a long time. We found an old Frenchman running a little store in a barn and we bought some sardines and walnuts and that was about all we had to eat all day. After this we crossed the Moselle on a more or less shot up bridge and looked around on the other side. The town originally was all on the French side of the bridge and was called Mousson and when it expanded across the river it was called Pont-a-Mousson, Pont meaning bridge in French.

"In the war of 1870 between France and Germany when Germany secured control of Alsace-Lorraine and the part of the town of Pont-a-Mousson that lies across the Moselle in Lorraine. In the back of this part is a great high hill on the top of which is the famous statue of Joan of Arc. This is about the highest point in this locality and was used by the Germans as an observation post, and here they were perfectly safe as they knew the French would not fire on the statue. The Germans also had a battery of guns on the hill and I think they were the battery that was bombarding Dieulard when we were there. About two weeks after we left Dieulard one of the fellows went back there and found the billet where the band had been quartered all shot to pieces, one af the shells had landed exactly on the place where the ass't. band leader had his bunk. Dieulard is about ten miles from Pont-a-Mousson and the statue, so you can see the Germans had the advantage in using this location for a battory of artillery. I think that before the war, Pont-a-Mousson was a town af about 15,000 population. It is a historical town both in former wars and in this one and if you read the history of the St. Mihiel drive and the campaign in this section you will no doubt read af this town as this whole section has been the battle ground in all the French wars which probably accounts for the fact that the towns are all well fortified and situated in vallays or behind hills.

"The hike I took down to Toul to see Arthur was very interesting. You know during the last four or five months of the war is developed into a semi-open warfare and the line was held in old shacks or on hills by machine gun nests, and there were not nearly so many trenches used. When the Americans first came over and were sent to the first American sector (Toul sector) it was nearly all trench warfare and I passed one field about ten miles from Toul that sure wouldn't be much good for farming right now. It is covered with trenches, communication trenches, and barbed wire entanglements, and there is not a square foot of it that is not part of some big shell hole. Arthur says the Germans were within four kilos of Toul.

"When I found that Arthur was stationed just outside of Toul and likely to be moved at any time, I decided that I had got to see him in some way, so as I was lucky enough to get a pass and managed to get hold of an old French bicycle with no wind in the tires. I started out. This old bike sure did run hard and there is about three inches of fresh mud on the ground, but I rode it and pushed it and cursed it for about twelve miles, and then left it at an engineers camp and hiked about five miles, and then caught a truck for about five miles. By this time I was about eight miles from Toul and the truck was going slow so I thought I had better ask some one how far it was so I'd know when to get off. We were passing a lot of soldiers and I leaned out of the back of the truck, and one of the fellows coming along was Arthur. I got out and we hiked back about twenty-two miles and Arthur spent the night with me. If I had not looked out of the truck at that time we might have missed connections altogether as Arthur expects to start home soon.

"There is a rumor that our regiment is to be sent into Luxemburg and be a part of the army of occupation but I don't pay any attention to rumors any more. Well I am pretty atiff from my forty-four mile hike so will say good night. Love. D. C. Nettleton, Headquarters Co., 64th Inf., Am. E. F.

From George W. Allison

November 27, 1918.

"Dear Father and all—Your welcome letter of November 4th reached here today and as you guessed found the war over and the victorious 22nd on their way to Germany.

"We are doing from ten to twenty miles per day, sometimes a good long march one day and a rest of two. Then again we go for two days steady and rest for two or three. Its all according to how fast Fritz gets along ahead of us. I expect that be is out of Belgium by this time, so we will no doubt get along faster. We are seeing some of the country allright and I enjoy it most of the time now, only a few days ago I had to get new boots and they are a little too large and so stiff that they almost kill me.

"The roads are mostly of stone block and of course the surface corners are worn away leaving them rounding from the center and it is some hard stuff to march on for so long a time. We have our big packs carried by the transports so we have to play most of the time.

"The towns are very close together in the section we just left (the coal mine country) the villages just run right together. Fritz, or the Boche as they call him, had just left a few days before us and the people were not long in getting the place decorated with aches of evergreen and flags, etc. It was a great sight to witness and also very impressive. One will see aged people in windows and doorways crying for all they are worth and the streets will be crowded so we can hardly pass through, especially if we strike up the Marsellaise or the Belgium National. Sometimes a bunch will join hands in a circle and dance around like a big crowd of school children at a picnic. Old and young are the same and continually shouting 'Vive la Canada,' 'Vive la Allies,' Bravo! Bravo! Welcome our liberators, etc. Sometimes they will run ahead of the band and sprinkle the street with flour and meal that Heine has left behind. We get half smothered when the wind is right.

"The day the armistice was signed we were in a place of about 25,000 inhabitants and af all the mobs I ever saw they took the prize. We played a few pieces in the city square and then had to parade the streets. The police had to keep ahead of us in order to make a road through the crowd, but then they would all fall in behind. When we got through there were no badges on any of us and some even lost part of their tunic buttons.

WORKERS NEEDED AT RED CROSS

Plenty of Material Now on Hand for Knitters

The officers of the Charlevoix auxiliary of the American Red Cross, held their regular meeting at the Red Cross rooms, Tuesday, January 14. It is the wish of the chairman, Mrs. E. E. Cross, that the chairman of each committee which has been appointed by her, be present at these board meetings held the first Tuesday of each month.

Mrs. Saltonsall and Mrs. Croshaw will be in charge of the rooms each Monday afternoon during the absence of Mrs. Sloan, and on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Weaver will be in charge.

We have recently received from Beaver Island a shipment of 75 pinafores, another sample of the splendid good work done by that chapter.

A large shipment of sock and sweater yarn has arrived. Our quota for these knitted garments is no small one, so please see Mrs. Maude Eagleton, chairman of the knitting committee. She will supply you with yarn, needles and directions.

Will those who have sweater needles belonging to the Red Cross, and not in use for Red Cross work, please return them.

Work at the rooms is progressing nicely, but we still need more workers. You can come some afternoon this week, but do not come alone. Your friends are welcome. Bring them with you. Mrs. C. G. Cooper, Secretary.

CHARTER MEMBERS GUESTS OF HONOR

White Rose Hive No. 443 Celebrate Anniversary

White Rose Hive, No. 443 celebrated their 25th anniversary, Tuesday, January 21, seven charter members being guests of honor. The officers for the coming year were installed by Deputy Great Commander Watson, who is one of the charter members of this hive, after which the program for the evening was turned over to Mrs. L. B. Bartlett, first commander of White Rose Hive.

The splendid program that is given below was thoroughly enjoyed by the members and guests. Address of Welcome, Mrs. L. B. Bartlett; Musical selection, Mrs. Anna Gilbert; Reading, Wahnita Herrington; Vocal solo, Mrs. Phoebe Ross; Recitation, Mrs. Ada Dutcher; Reading, Mallda Volter; Vocal Solo, Benona Bartlett; Character Dance, Hilda Ilyers; Reading, Mrs. P. E. Vandermade; Remarks, Mrs. Jennie Watson.

After the program the guests were invited to the dining room which was prettily decorated for the occasion in white and silver and ferns. About 160 members and guests partook of the bountiful supper. It was an evening that will long be remembered by the guests and also by the members who have watched with great interest the wonderful growth of the hive.

HOME TEAM DID WONDERFUL WORK

LACK OF PRACTICE MAIN REASON FOR DEFEAT

Five Minutes of Overtime Necessary to Decide Result—Score 40 to 36 in Favor of Visitors

One of the most intsresting games of basketball aver seen in Charlevoix took place at the skating rink last Friday evening. The local team proved a surprise to everyone, as they had only had seven days practice, with no previous games, and were up against Petoskey, who had several games before Christmas, and were reputed to be a crack team. They did have a crack team, but so did we.

The first five minutes were heart breaking. Charlevoix kept the ball at their end of the floor practically all the while, and the ball was kept rolling around the rim, but refused to go in. During all this time, Petoskey had only one or two chances, as the ball was far away from their basket all the time. Finally Cartier put the ball in for the first count, and the game was on. After that we were never headed during the time usually allotted for a game. And neither were we ever far ahead.

During the first half, Wexstaff made most of the points, being a sure shot coming in from center. This half ended with the score 17-15 in Charlevoix's favor. The second half started off the same way, and we were never tied until two minutes before the whistle blew, when the score was evened at 34 all. An opportunity to win the game by a free throw was a failure, and so the time ended with the score still a tie.

Then came the catastrophe. In the five minute period required to be played in case of a tie, our machine was not running as smoothly and our opponents got 6 points to our 2, making the final score 40-36.

It was undoubtedly the lack of practice which caused our team to slow up in the last five minutes. With another week's practice and a practice game, they would have won. As it was, they did wonderful work, especially for new men. Hampton being the only man who had been on the varsity the previous year. Smith, good at either forward or guard, played guard and was as steady and consistent a worker as has ever been seen the first year. Halverson and Cartier filled the forward positions and did what they were put in for, Halverson being a sure shot under the basket, and Cartier making some beautiful long shots which put the score up to the mark it reached. Wexstaff proved himself to be a good jumped and shooter, as the individual score shows.

Of the other side, Stocking and Benyas made most of the points. Benyas is especially good at throwing them in from the foul line.

Charlevoix—
Halverson—5 field baskets.
Cartier—4 field baskets.
Wexstaff—5 field baskets and 8 points from free throws.

Petoskey—
Hammill—1 field basket.
Ruggles—1 field basket.
Stocking—8 field baskets.
Benyas—6 field baskets and 8 points from free throws.

COUNTY RED CROSS OFFICIALS MEET

Annual Meeting Held in Rooms of Local Chapter Monday Evening

Considerable business of importance was transacted at the annual meeting of the Charlevoix County Red Cross officials held in the rooms of the local chapter Monday evening.

The resignation of Miss May L. Stewart as vice chairman was accepted and Rev. Sidebotham of East Jordan was named as his successor.

Hereafter all material for Red Cross work will be furnished to all branches gratis.

Acting on instructions from national headquarters, all surplus funds are to be turned over to the National Red Cross. In a financial way the county chapter was found to be well supplied with funds, and it was the decision of the officials to turn over $2,000 to the National Red Cross.

Other matter of importance were transacted and from all reports the past year has been a most active and successful one.

Report of J. A. Dresser, Accountant

Charlevoix, Michigan,
January 7, 1919.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors,
Charlevoix County, Michigan.

Gentlemen:

I have audited the books, and annual statements of the County Treasurer, County Clerk, Superintendents of the Poor, from January 1, 1915, to December 31, 1918, and the County Road Commissioners accounts from October 1, 1917, to December 31, 1918, and the criminal dackets of the Justices of the Peace in the cities of Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan, from January 1, 1915, to December 22, 1918, and harewith submit my report.

The Receipts and Disbursements and balaace on hand as shown by the treasurer's annual statements are correct and agree with the books and records in the offices of the County Treasurer and County Clerk and with the quarterly statements of tbe Auditor General.

As the Treasurer's detailed statements of receipts and disbarsements have bean submitted to the Board of Supervisors each year they are omitted from this report.

The receipts and disbursements of George W. Weaver, County Treasurer from October 1, to Dec. 31, 1918, are as follows:

Receipts

Bal. on hand Oct. 1, 1918	$44,248.51
Del. Tax Colls.	6,230.95
Redpt. Certificates	553.21
General Fund	40.49
Poor Fund	415.76
Interest on Deposits	388.22
Library Fund	65.25
Teacher's Institute	90.50
Good Road Rewards and Miscellaneous	12,943.05
Mortgage Taxes	116.50
Inheritance Taxes	81.52
Circuit Court Costs	20.00
Deer Licenses	143.75
Bal. May Tax Sale	61.01
City of Charlevoix	107.31
State	142.38
Total	$65,738.41

Disbursements

General Fund Orders	$21,424.67
Poor Fund Orders	3,684.56
Probate Court Orders	145.86
Juror and Witness Ctfs. Circuit Court	427.80
Soldier's relief fund orders	35.69
County Road orders	17,152.12
Aud. Gen. Mortgage taxes	78.50
Auditor General quarterly settlement	990.02
Teacher's Inst. fees	83.50
Mothers Pensions	36.00
Aud. Gen. Inheritance Taxes	82.27
Criminal fee orders	2.00
Cities and Townships tax colls.	5,523.09
Survey taxes	18.37
Auditor General, Deer Licenses	115.00
Total	$49,799.45

Balance Cash on hand December 31, 1918 .... $15,938.96

I have counted the cash in the Treasurer's office and checked the bank accounts and find the above balance of $15,938.96 on band in the Treasurer's office and in the several banks to the credit of the County Treasurer at close of business December 31, 1918.

I find vouchers for all of the Treasurer's disbursements for October, November and December, 1918, and have checked them with the Treasurer's books.

I have checked the Treasurer's account with the State, with the monthly statements and quarterly reports of the Auditor General and find the same to be correct, with a few exceptions, which exceptions have been corrected and the account is now correct.

The accounts with the Townships, Cities and Villages have been correctly kept, and they have received credit for all tax collections of the County Treasurer to December 31, 1918, and those of the Auditor General to September 30, 1918, and they have been properly dabited with the Auditor General's Refunds and Rejected and Charged Back Taxes, with some exceptions, these exceptions have now bean adjusted and the accounts are correct. They have also been paid their respective portions of Primary School Funds and Library Funds.

The Liabilities of the County, December 31, 1918, appear approximately as follows:

County Road Bonds outstandiag	$10,000.00
Due Township, Cities and Villages	3,939.25
Due Auditor General	727.52
Library Fund	652.80
Teacher's Inst. Fees	21.00
Total	$15,340.57
Cash on hand December 31, 1918	15,938.90
Cash in excess of above liabilities	$ 598.39

Thare are outsanding County Road Orders amounting to $402.30, but orders on other funds have, with a few exceptions been paid by the Treasurer.

I have examined tba County Clerk's Calenders and Court Journal, and find the amount of costs collected in Criminal cases to be $55.05, and same bas been paid over to ths Treasurer.

The records of ths Superintendents of the Poor havs been correctly kept and the books agree with the annual reports submitted. I have checked the records of sales and receipts kept by the manager of the County Farm with tbe books of the Superintendents of the Poor and find them to agree, and the amounts received by the Superintendents of the Poor from various sources as shown by their books have all been paid over to tbe Traasurer.

In a previous report I suggested that the records of the Superintendents of the Poor sbow that all orders drawn were authorized by them. They hava adopted the suggestion and the records during the past four years are complete.

I have compared the accounts of the County Road Commissioners with the Treasurer's accounts and find tbe disbursements to agree, the difference representing the orders outstanding.

The credits or receipts on the Road Commissioners ledger ars ona hundred and some odd dollars less than tba Treasurer's books show. The Clerk will check bis credits witb the Treasurer's books and adjust the difference.

Commissioner House is using the material sheets in tbe manner suggested when same was introduced. The other commissioners make little use of the material sheets and continue very largsly the use of tima cheeks. I am informed by the elerk that all of the commissioners submit bills for purchases or repairs made.

The material sheets should contain all purchases and should show the time cheeks used.

In expending public funds, great care should be used that proper vouchers or bills are on file for all disbursements not only for the satisfaction of the Commissioners, but the public as well.

The dockets of the Justices of the Peace in the Cities of Charlevoix, Boyne City und East Jordan and Village of Boyne Falls, show penal fines collected from January 1, 1915, to Decemher 22, 1918, as follows:—

Justice Cooper, Charlevoix	$509.50
Justice Felts, Charlevoix	276.90
Justice Hammoud, Boyne Cy	133.90
Justice Nurko, Boyne City.	287.10
Justice Blount, East Jordan	289.50
Justice Davoll, Village Boyne Falls	156.40

The above fines have all been paid over to the County Treasurer. Justice Davoll is not residing in the Village of Boyne Falls, and I was unable to locate his docket." Justice Wugner of Boyne Valley Townsbip has an old docket but it contains none of Justice Davoll's cases for 1915 to 1918 inclusive. Justice Wagner has had no criminal cases.

Justice Blount of East Jordan has an old docket and his cases for the past four yenrs are scattered in different parts of the books and it was extremely difficult to locate them. He should by all means have a proper docket.

The Justices' dockets generally speaking are kept in a proper manner.

In conclusion I desire to say that the different county officers have rendered me any assistance required.

Reapectfully submitted,
J. A. DRESSER,
Accountant.

A TRIBUTE TO THE SINGING "YANK"

He'a great, he'a simply great—the American soldier. He is a curious combination of boy and man, haro and ehild, and he'a always hungry. He is all over tha lot in his liveliness. He can find his way through a strange country without knowledge of tha language or the roads and leave nothing but friendship in his wake. He is self-reliant, thinks for himself and always falls on his feet. He showed the qualities of a veteran from the first. In battle the only trouble is holding him back.

The American soldier bas repeated all the heroisms we have idealized. He has literally left the print of his bleeding feet on the frozen roads of France as Washington'a men did at Valley Forge. He has withstood cold and hunger; he has been gassed, bombed, bombarded, sprayed with machine gun bullets and he has sung and smiled through it all; never yielded a foot to the foe and gained every objective set before him.

Day and night for a week was heard the ceasless, splash, splash, of American soldiers marching down a French road that was a river of mud. There was not even an hour's break—splash, splash, splash to the front. And day and night they sang.

We welcome him home as we sent him away, with cheers and tears. We must not make him self-conscious, nor weaken his splendid manhood by political indulgenec, nor dishearten him by indifference. We must utilize his new-gained discipline in the service we ask of him, and perfect his sacrifice in the America for which he was ready to die, and for which he is spared to live.

AMERICA FIRST

No public or private school in the United States should be permitted to teach a foreign language to any child who has not already mastered the English languagc. No loyal American can consistently vote against a legislative act placing this limitation upon the teaching of foreign languages.

MUST ALL BE CITIZENS

One of the most serious problems which confronted us during the war was the presence among us of men and women who were "with us but not of us." They lived among us, enjoyed every advantage, natural, social, financial, in some instances political which this country afforded, yet they were essentially foreign in all their hopes, ideals and methods of thought.

They may have called themselves I. W. W.'s, Radicals, Socialists, or had no name at all for their anti-American notions, but essentially tbey were the same as the Bolsheviki of Russia and Germany. They are anarchists. They are dangerous extremeists. They are even more dangerous than the beaurocrats and militarists. They would substitute the terrorism of the mob, for the eruelty of the Kaiser. We want neither.

We have enough Bolsheviki here already. Congress should at once so revise our immigration laws that no person should ba permitted to come to this country to stay unless he or she declared his purposa of beeoming a full American citizen.

A. HORSE ON SOMEBODY

The law of supply and demand is a wonderful thing. Its tricks are clearly and carefully explained in text books. And it is a handy snuffer for public indignation when the price of neeessities runs amuck. Sometimes we suspect, howaver, that the text books held something out on us.

Example: Army horses that cost the government $177.50 are being sold at auction for $75.

Until the clock struck 11 in France on November 11 these animals—snug, sleek, fat and sound right here in the United States were $177.50 horses.

In an instant they became $75 horses.

They haven't been in war. They were passed as perfect when the government bought tbem. They have had the best of expert care since. The army saw to it that our Liberty bond money went into good stock.

But a man with a cheek for $177.50 in his pocket for a horse he sold the government three months ago now can buy the same horse back, pay for it with the government's check and get $102.50 change.

We can't call it profiteering. Everything goes at an auction. But perhaps that's just the trouble—everything goes.

SEND SOLDIERS HOME

There is one thing the government should do without fail—take the soldiers and sailors back to their home communities before it discharges them. In that manner only can an even and equitable distribution be assured. Those men who have homes will return there, in most instances, regardless of the place of demobilization. But there are thousands of men in the army who were wage earners away from home and not attached to any particular community. If tbey shall be discharged from the army at training camps near large cities, the tendency will be for them to remain in the communities where they are released. Giving them money with which to pay their railroad fares back home will not result in their going home. The War Department should provide them transportation home and should require the signature of a local draft board official upon their final discharge papers. Thus only can industrial America be placed back on the peace footing as it existed before we entered the war.

SCHOOL NOTES

A number of pupils have been coming in from one to three minutes after the bell stops. This causes confusion, delay in starting classes, and a bad record in tardiness for the school. It is urged that all parents endeavor to help us cut down this number, by seeing that the students start in time.

The Junior English class had some very good toasts Monday. They are already preparing for the after dinner speeches they will have to make after they have acquired fame and fortune.

Bob Miles thinks you plow with a light carriage harness.

Mr. Aseltine has started a second hand clothing store with the articles brought to him which were left at the hall after the Friday night dance. He is going to have a fire sale soon.

The Senior English class in Macbeth would be very interesting if all the class were present every day. Absentees are too frequent, however.

Art Wexstaff is out of school for a few days. The game must have had a bad effect on him.

It has been found that we have to pay a war tax on all admissions to athletic contests since n year ago last November. It was thought that they were exempt, but the internal revenue o..cer informs us otherwise. This means 2c and 3c on each admission since that time and for our future games. For this reason it is thought that in the future the admissions will he 20c and 30c.

There was a good crowd at the game the other evening, and the team and the whole high school appreciated it. The boys certainly showed that they deserve as large or larger an attendance at every home game.

REVIEW OF ELECTION LAWS

It is not necessary to register for the election if you have registered for the primary. If you have neglected to register for the primary, you may still register for the election.

How You May Vota Though Not Registered

Owing to sickness or bodily infirmity of himself, or of some member of his or her family or owing to his or her absence from the township or city on public business or his or her own business, and without intent to delay or avoid registration, he or she was unable to make application for registration on the last day provided by law for registration preceding such election.

If you possess the other qualifications of an elector, but owing to the sickness or bodily infirmity of yourself or of some member of your family, or owing to your absence from the township or city on public business, or your own business, and without intent to avoid or delay registration, you were unable to make application for registration on the LAST DAY PROVIDED BY LAW FOR REGISTRATION preceding such election, you may appear on the day of election and claim the right to vote. Upon taking an oath as to your qualifications and as to the facts above stated, you may legally vote at such election and you will be registered by the Election Inspectors if you request it.

Women Electors

1. Any unmarried woman twenty-one years of age or over, born in the United States.

2. Any unmarried woman, foreign born, twenty-one years of age or over whose father was naturalized before she became twenty-one years of age.

3. Any married woman, twenty-one years of age or over, regardless of place of birth, whose husband is an American citizen.

4. A woman, even though born in this country, is not a citizen if married to an alien.

5. A woman, foreign born, whose father became a citizen after she became twenty-one is not a citizen, and to become one must make application for citizenship.

In making application for registration, it will save time and inconvenience if you will post yourself in advanec. You should know your street number and the number of the ward in which you live. Satisfy yourself that you are a qualified elector.

The wards of the City of Charlevoix are bounded as follows: 1st Ward, all north of Pine River and Round Lake. 2nd. Ward, all West of the center line of State Street and all north of the center line of Clinton Street to Pine River. 3rd. Ward, all East of the center line of State Street and South of the center line of Clinton Street. In other words, the division line between the second and third wards begin at the East end of Clinton Street; thence West to center line of State St.; thence south to the corporation line.

All persons not now registered should do so at once and not wait until the special days mentioned. February 11th is the last day on which you may register to entitle you to sign nominating petitions.

There is a law in this state to enable absent voters to vote by mail. This law covers certain classes of voters. If interested, you should consult the clerk as to the procedure.

In determining the question as to the ward or township in which you should register or are entitled to register, actual residence is not the deciding factor. Your intention largely governs. You may reside a portion of the year, or even the whole year, outside of your voting precinct and still legally exercise the right to vite therein. Once having registered or voted in one voting precinct, you cannot vote in another until you have gained an actual residence there had been registered. You cannot arbitrarily change your voting precinct. Otherwise defined, your domicile is your place of legal residence. The place to which, upon leaving, you intend to return.

In registering, women electors must give their legal name. That is, your legal name is Mary A. Jones, not Mrs. John G. Jones.

M. E. Church

Henry Candler, minister. Large congregations attended services at this church last Sunday. The special musical program of both morning and evening was highly appreciated by all. Next Sunday the preacher will speak on "Individuality." This will be a plea for greater toleration on the part of all who find others differing with them regarding religious truth and method.

Sunday school at 12 o'clock with a class for men. The splendid attendance last Sunday shows that intrest in this department of church work is increasing. Epworth League devotional service at 6 o'clock. Both young and old cordially invited. The seven o'clock service will be evangelistic. Come and sing the songs your mother used to sing and listen to an interesting discussion on "Future Retribution." Special music at all Sunday services.

Prayer and praise service Thursday evening at 7:30. All always welcome.

Notice to Women

Women, be sure and register in time to cast your vote at the primaries, March 5. We have been very ready to call the men who neglected to register or vote—slackers. Let us see to it that not a single woman in our beautiful little city be a slacker. Let us each be ready to show by our readiness to accept and sharc the ballot that we feel the honor and responsibility of our citizenship. Let us be citizens not slackers. Women, register at the City Clerk's office on or before February 11.—Contributed.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER'S NOTES

Supt. Pearson of Columbus, Ohio, has edited two splendid new circulars on education entitled: "Quo Vadis" and "Physical Education in our Schools." The Ohio State Department of Public Instruction would no doubt be glad to furnish these free to teachers requesting them.

Bulletin No. 25 just from the press is published in Lansing by Mr. Keeler. It is the report of the committee on "Backward and Delinquent Children in Rural Schools—What Shall we do with Them?" This committee was appointed by the Commissioner and county normal section of M. S. T. A. in October, 1917. They have made a thorough study of causea contributing to delinqueney and defective children and report interesting discoveries. Our state department will furnish this bulletin in limited numbers to the commissioner of schools if there is a demand for the same in the county office.

A new county normal page has been added to the directory since its general distribution. This editorial tells the location of our normal, its foundation, ita success, the great number of teachers it has graduated to enter trained into our rural schools and tells us that the normal is still on the job and making good. The faculty thia year is Miss Helena Bates, principal, and Miss Ethyl Morrison, critic. At the present time the class enrollment is as follows: Hazel Allen. Aliee Burns, Hilda Carlisle, Mary Groenink, Josie Hammond, Bertha Hodgkins, Mra. Alida Hutton, Olive Nixon, Pearl Snyder and Signa Thorsen.

The schools at Rock Elm, Walloon Lake, Wildwood and Undine have applied for Standard school plates, their buildings to be dedicated during the last week of March. None of these schools has very much to do in order to get ready and they would probably have been ready last year had it not been for the war. However now that victory is won, they are the first to fix a date when they wish the state to register them among the good schools. Plates have already been ordered and one of the assistant state superintendents has consented to present them in person.

Iosco county publishes an enthusiastic article in the Moderator Topics stating that before the war they had a fine movement on foot to make one third of their schools standard. Well, so did we—and one third is already two thirds standard and one third more has started (and the third third does not like to be talked about.) And Iosco county normal has a fine record and so has ours. Moreover they tell us that they have a library in nearly every school district. In Charlevoix county we have only one school on the mainland that has not established a library and carefully seleeted books for the same, and among the five districts on the Beavers, we have two very good libraries. Why shouldn't we become enthusiastic, too? We surely have a right to be.

Senate Bill 4987 asks for federal backing for education for a place on the cabinet for a secretary of education, and for an appropriation for educational reforms to remove illiteracy, to Americanize foreigners, to equalize educational opportunities to improve physical and health education, and for teacher training. The commissioner is back of this bill, are you? If so, write your congressman today and tell him so.

The National School Service has a splendid little editorial on "Peace Conference Geography." We wonder just what use our geography teachers are making of the peace conference.

Outlines of arithmetic contests and spring exhibits are in proeess of formation—will he sent out soon.

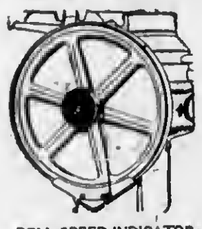
My reputation for fair dealing and reliable goods, coupled with the De Laval record of service and durability, has made the De Laval Cream Separator the leader in this community.

NO matter what anyone may tell you, there is only one speed at which you can turn a separator crank and get all the cream and cream of uniform thickness

That's the speed plainly indicated on the crank of every separator, of whatever make.

Full speed is the only assurance of full capacity and full efficiency.



BELL SPEED-INDICATOR
The "warning signal" that insures operation at the proper speed.

Every De Laval now has a Bell Speed-Indicator. The bell warns you if the handle is going round too slowly. You can't be mistaken about it.

The Bell Speed-Indicator adds nothing to the price but much to the value of the De Laval Separator.

It Has Been Said

That with all our greatness as a nation, we are a wasteful, extravagant people; that we do not take advantage of our opportunities as we should, or as we would, if we lived in a different country where there were not so many of them. This is not altogether true of our community, although there are people even in our community who could get ahead faster, increase their accumulations by using a systematic plan for laying by a part of their income.

Simeo Bos Makes Trip to Stenay, Sedan and Other Ruined French Tows—Plenty Little Huns

Montigny, France,
December 12, 1918.

"Dear Home Folks—Finally got around to writing once again and I think its about time, too. It has been raining for several days now and is very sloppy and wet out, but I guess that's all we can expect now, as it's getting pretty late in the season. Received your lettera of November 10, but believe I wrote that before. That surely is too bad about cousin Neil (a cousin reported missing in action July 31, 1918) I sincerely hope he shows up, but am very doubtful, as to whether he will, because there are many places here where fellows are buried and no one knows about it.

"Was busy as a bee for a while this morning cutting wood for our little stove, cut about 1-3 of a cord and I told my buddy it would be just about our luck to have to move tomorrow. Well if we do I'm going to sit up nll night and burn wood. I took a day off Monday and went some. We went to Stenay and looked over the town and also went through the chateau which were the headquarters of the Crown Prince for 30 months. He surely has good taste believe me. The woman in charge took us all through the place and told us all about it, how it was in peace times, etc. It certainly must have been a swell place, as she showed us a tapestry which cost them 500,000 francs and it was a beautiful piece of work. From there we went to Sedan and enjoyed the sights at that town which you know has had quite a place in the history of France. Returned that same night and surely were tired as we walked about 60 kilometers besides the distance we rode. But you cant' depend on trucks any more as there aren't many running, so all you can get is a 'stray' now and then.

"We would go into a store and the civilians couldn't figure out what we were, as the French soldiers occupied the place when the Germans evacuated and so they would ask: 'Americaine or Anglais,' and when we'd tell them 'Americaine' they were all smiles right away. They had a hard time of it, as one old lady had a little store and she said the Germans would walk in, pick up what they wanted and go out again. And there were plenty of little Huns running around. The majority of the women were carrying children in one fashion or another. Well it's just about dinner time, so think I'll have to quit, as I can't afford to miss a meal you know. Eajoyed the clippings very much. Also Major Benker's letter. Think I'll drop him a line sometime. More later. As ever, Simon.

Montigny, France,
December 16, 1918.

"Dear Folks—I received two letters from you this morning and will answer them 'Tout de Suite' as the French say. Your letters were of November 18 and 26. Very glad to get them. I think I am getting all of your lettera lately, as they are coming pretty regular. Also received the pictures you sent. We are still at the same place and goodness only knows how long we will stay here. We had orders to move to Auflans (between Metz and Verdun) Sunday, but the orders were conceled and rumor has it that we will stay here until the work is finished. I believe I wrote you before that we were hauling ammunition in here from (well to judge from the piles) all over France. They are picking it up from all over this section of the country and nobody knows how much there is yet and there is enough here now to blow all of Europe off the map. Some say we will be here for four or five weeks yet. As far as I'm concerned I'd as soon stay here as move, as we have a good place and a good job here, so why leave for other parts and live in pup tents. I suppose you folks are looking for reports in the papers of the 21st leaving most any day, but I don't expect we will be going in a great hurry for a while yet. Just so I get back by March or April 1 don't care much, but if I have to fool around this country any longer, I'm going to be pretty angry believe me. Paper is very scarce here, so have to use most anything to write on, but I guess it doesn't make much difference what it's written on.

"Am feeling fine as usual, but our eats are rotten lately. I don't know what makes it, but its simply scandalous. I suppose we will survive though, but I'm heartily sick of army chow. An then we saw in a magazine awhile ago where the A. E. F. has 69 varieties of food. Well I won't say they haven't, but I will say they aren't giving them out. It's miserable weather here lately. Cloudy all the time. We are planning a little trip to Mont Medy, but don't know if we will carry it out.

"There is one thing we have in abundance here and that is German fleas and they sure are pro-German too. So far I caught one, had him in captivity for about six seconds and then he left on an extended furlough. Received four letters from H. too this morning, so I think I'll have to answer them today. Love as ever,

SIMON.

COLDS AFFECT THE KIDNEYS

Many Charlevoix People Have Found This To Be True

Are you wretched in bad weather?

Does every cold settle on your kidneys?

Does your back ache and become weak?

Are urinary passages irregular and distressing?

These symptoms are cause to suspect kidney weakness.

Weakened kidneys need quick help.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for weakened kidneys.

Charlevoix people recommend them.

Mrs. Albert Lemieur, 704 State St., Charlevoix, says: "A heavy cold settled an my kidneys, causing me much suffering. My back got so sore I could hardly get around. Spots appeared before my eyes, blurring my sight. I can never forget how badly I felt. I had dizzy spells, also. Mornings I felt more tired than upon retiring. On the advice of a druggist, I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and three boxes removed the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Lemieur had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

DIED AFTER ILLNESS OF FEW HOURS

Community Shocked Ovar Daath of Mrs. Sandy Martin

Death ance more entered Ellsworth and made another home desolate when Mrs. Byron Martin died last Saturday noon, following an illness of only a few hours.

Mrs. Martin, whose maiden name was Edna Nixon, was born in southern Michigan the oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. William Nixon and has lived in this vicinity since girlhoood. She was married at Ellsworth to Byron E. (Sandy) Martia and since that time has spent her life either in this village or on a farm adjoining.

She was a member of the Apostolic Holiness church of this place and her only interest was in her family and in her church work. She was the mother of three children, Roy, Bertha and a baby son who died at birth, precceding the mother by only about two hours.

Deceased had been in poor health since early last fall, her heart being in bad condition caused by Spanish influenza from which she suffered at that time.

She is survived by her husband and children, her mother and two sisters living at Belding, Mich., and one brother who is with the American E. F. in France.

The funeral services were held at the Holiness church Wednesday afternoon conducted by Rev. Clark and the remains were laid at rest in Boss cemetery. The deepest sympathy is extended to the lonely husband and children by the entire community.

ON THE MOVE ALL THE TIME

DOUGHBOYS COMPLAIN OF LACK OF MAIL

Pvt. LaLonde Spends Two Nights in Castle Malberger and Following Night In a Barn

Pvt. Ira E. LaLonde writes as follows to his father, Joseph M. LaLonde.

Somewhere on Earth,
December 16, 1918.

"Dear Dad—No mail for some time so we are sure out of luck for letters. We have been on the move since the armistice was signed. At present we are over the Rhine some distance from 'no where in particular.' One of the fellows says it is only 40 miles from the warm place. But he has made a more careful study of the mop than I have.

"We are having some time believe me and seeing some country, too. Just think of this Dad, some of our fellows (myself included) spent two nights and one day in Castle Malberger, but don't get too proud over the fact, as the next night we were billeted in a barn, but as a rule we have been having good billets. Some times in houses but most of the time in public buildings, schools, etc. and nearly all of the time there is some means of heating. We have plenty of good blankets so we sleep warm and the weather is much warmer than Michigan or Montana at this time of year. Only 9 days before Christmas and not a flake of snow, not even when we were crossing the hills.

"Today I was on a truck most of the day and did not have on an overcoat. I wish you could see the way the Germans use up the waste land. Hillsides that are almost solid rock are terraced and stone walls built at the base or edge of terrace to collect the soil that is formed and washed down by the rains. Each terrace is then planted with grape vines. Of course the places are so narrow that is about all that could be grown with profit. The hills are about the same as those around Whitebird, Idaho. In fact this country reminds me of Domac or Little Salmon country, where we were with Jack Lacey.

"We are at the headwaters of the Rhine, as for the conditions over here the people do not seem to be suffering for anything but soap, that is, in the parts of Germany that we have visited. They all seem to have employment and money enough for their needs. Germany is in as good condition as France and England I believe.

"I suppose the big question with you as it is with us when will we get back? Well I've heard a lot of talk but at present I know as much as I didn't in the first place, so I judge we will get home some time. The people over here treat us very well, are polite and obliging in most cases. At every turn you meet men who have served in the army. In some cases on the very front where we were at the same time, but of course they show us no ill will. I don't suppose it would be healthy for them. There is one of the fellows in the train who came from East Jordan, James McColmsn. I do not remember him, but he knows a bunch of the boys that I know, or rather did know. I have not seen any of the fellows from the west, although I hear that a fellow by the name of Lee and one of the Johnson boys was 'bumped.' Prof. Becker is in an engineer outfit over here, I suppose that by this time you know of the death of banker Reubers, oldest boy Billie. I received a letter from Beatrice Murphy while I was at Bissen, Luxemburg, but that is the last word I have from Outlook or any other place. Edna said in her last letter that she intended teaching in Broadview where Bernard is this winter.

"Aunt Eliza has not written me since my arrival on this side. I got one letter from Trower's kill at Daleview sometime in August, so mail over here is about as thick as hen's teeth. By the way dad, I must tell you that my head is all swelled with pride. A German Dr. gave me a comp. He watched me put on a splint on a sore hand and wrist and said 'Good' but what I can't figure out was this. Was he speaking of the material I used or the method of application or the job. I wonder if he meant he was glad the guy was crippled.

"Well Dad, I guess this is all of the beautiful sunshine I can think of so will close for tonight. Am near Coblentz, Germany now. Write soon. As ever your son, Private Ira E. LaLonde, Det. Med. Depth Motor Bu., 2nd Am. Trs., A. P. O. 710, Am. E. F.

Report of Special Committee On County Jail

January 8, 1919.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Charlevoix Co.

Your special committee on County Jail hereby submits and recommends for adoption a resolution as follows:

WHEREAS, the County Jail in this building is not large enough nor is it suitable for the county's needs, and this condition has existed for a long time, and

WHEREAS, the County is in need of more room for the use of the county officers, for jury rooms and other county purposes; and

WHEREAS, this building cannot be satisfactorily remodeled or enlarged so as to meet the county's needs; therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, that this Board cause a suitable county jail to be built adjacent to this Court House on property owned by the County, at an expense of not to exceed $20,000.00.

RESOLVED FURTHER, that the Special Jail Committee be and is hereby authorized and instructed to procure suitable plans and specifications for such building to be prepared after consulting with the Inspector of Jails as to the proper construction thereof, and submit the same to this board at its next June meeting.

RESOLVER FURTHER, that there be and is hereby appropriated for the purposes expressed above the sum of $1000.00 out of any moneys on hand and not otherwise expended or appropriated.

Respectfully submitted,
NASSAU BURNS,
W. J. GALLAGHER,
E. C. CHEW,
Committee.

Motion made by Daniel S. Payton, seconded by Ernest Peaslee, that the report be accepted and the resolution thereto attached adopted. The motion was carried by the following aye and nay vote. Daniel S. Payton read Articles of Agreement for operating Ironton Ferry, as follows:

Articles of Agreement

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
County of Charlevoix, ss.

THIS CONTRACT, made and entered into this 17th day of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and eighteen between BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX and STATE OF MICHIGAN, by its IRONTON FERRY COMMITTEE for this purpose duly authorized, as PARTY OF THE FIRST PART and SAMUEL ALEXANDER of the township of Eveline, County and State aforesaid, PARTY OF THE SECOND PART.

WITNESSETH: that the said party of the second part for and in consideration of the sum of Seventy-five ($75.00) Dollars per month, to be to him duly paid, at the time and in the manner hereinafter mentioned, hereby agree to operate the Ferry between the two shores of the South Arm of Pine Lake known as the "Ironton Ferry" from the first day of January A. D. nineteen hundred nineteen to and including the thirty-first day of December A. D. nineteen hundred twenty, thirteen hours each day that is to say from 6:30 o'clock a. m. until eight thirty (8:30) o'clock p. m. "standard time."

PROVIDED, however, that the said Samuel Alexander, party of the second part, shall have from twelve o'clock m. until one p. m. for dinner and from six o'clock p. m. until six thirty p. m. for supper each day. And shall keep the scow, row boat and engine in good repair, without extra expense to the county, except for material used in making such repairs.

The said party of the second part agrees that in case of unavoidable absence, he will not substitute any person without the consent of the said "Ferry Committee."

Also that he will make the Ferry building his permanent habitation during the "Ferry Season," and that he will observe and enforce decency and decorum about the premises of the said ferry at all times while in charge of the same, and that he will use the ferry property in his charge with strict care, without necessitating a continual outlay for material not needed in making repairs for the proper and successful operation of the said ferry.

FURTHER: the said party of the second part agrees to be gentlemanly in his deportment, courteous to the public and use all means possible to facilitate travel.

The said party of the first part agrees to supply the said party of the second part, with all the needed material for repairs and operation of the said ferry, and to replenish and furnish all machinery and tools that may be needed for the successful operation of the said ferry at its own proper cost and expense, except where such expenses shall be made necessary through the negligence and fault of the said party of the second part. The said party of the first part further agrees to pay to the said party of the second part for his services duly and faithfully performed, according to the stipulations of this contract, on the first Monday of each month, the sum of Seventy-five ($75.00) dollars for each month and the County Clerk of the County of Charlevoix is hereby authorized and directed to draw orders on the Treasurer of the said County for the said amount, and the said Treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same out of the general funds of said County.

It is further agreed, that the said party of the second part may charge twenty-five (25c) cents for each foot passenger and twenty-five (25c) cents for each vehicle crossing the said ferry between the hours of 8:30 o'clock p. m. and 6:30 o'clock a. m. and may retain the same as his compensation in full for such extra service performed.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the party of the first part and the party of the second part, have hereunto respectively set their hands and seals, in the day and year first above written.

Signed and sealed in the presence of
H. E. HUTTON,
F. D. THOMPSON.
D. S. PAYTON,
A. A. SWINTON,

Certificate of Copy of Record

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
County of Charlevoix, ss.

I, Richard Lewis, Clerk of the County of Charlevoix, and clerk of the Circuit Court for said county, the same being a Court of Record and having a Seal, do hereby certify that I have compared the annexed copy of the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors at the session held in January, A. D., 1919, with the original record thereof now remaining in my office, and have found the said copy to be a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole of such original record.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Seal of said Circuit Court at the City of Charlevoix, this 10th day of January, A. D., 1919.

(Seal)

RICHARD LEWIS,
Clerk.

To the Voters of Charlevoix County:

Four years ago I pledged to the County of Charlevoix that if elected Commissioner of Schools I would devote my entire time to the duties of the office and that I would work for better schools. I have endeavored to fulfill this pledge. I am again a Republican candidate for this office and if you feel that my election would be for the best interests of the schools of the county, I shall greatly appreciate your vote at the primaries on March fifth.

Respectfully yours,
4t6 MAY L. STEWART.

WAS NAMED ON FIVE COMMITTEES

Representative J. E. Chew Heads Important Committee

In the last issue of the Courier it was announced that Rep. J. E. Chew of Charlevoix county had been named on four committees. Later we have been informed that first reports of the appointments made by Speaker Reed were incorrectly published in the daily papers, the source of information uaed by the Courier in making the announcement.

Committees of which Rep. Chew is a member are: State Sanitarium, chairman; Pontiac State Hospital; Supplies and Expenditures, Apportionment, Traffic and Wireless Communication, the last a new committee not on the list in previous years.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY PROCLAMATION

By the Governor

Many of the brave boys who so freely offered their lives in our cause will not come back to us. Some of them sleep in sunny France. Some lie "in Flanders' Field's, among the poppies. Some went down to the sea in ships and there met a cruel fate. Some were cut off by accident and disease in our own land. They all died that Freedom might atill live, and. while our heads are bowed with sorrow, our hearts are filled with pride and thankfulness when we think of their willing spirit of service. We shall not forget their splendid achievements.

It is fitting, however, that we should in some special way manifest our appreciation of their noble devotion and sacrifice.

Therefore, in order that we may pay a tribute of respect and affection to the memory of the gallant lads who died for us, I, ALBERT E. SLEEPER, Governor of the State of Michigan, do issue this my proclamation and hereby designate and set aside Sunday, the second day of February, nineteen hundred and nine.en, as Memorial Sunday for Michigan's martyred sons in the Great War.

And I earnestly request the people of the State to gather on that day in their accustomed places of worship and there hold appropriate and solemn services in memory of our honored dead. Let every church in Michigan devote one service, preferably the morning service, to this purpose.

I suggest too that, in communities wbere this plan is practicable, the laymen arrange for a general service, witb a suitable program of music and addresses, to be held in the afternoon.

I further request that during the day flags be displayed at half-staff snd that every one wear a small bow of white ribbon in loving remembrance of those who will not return to us.

ALBERT E. SLEEPER.
Governor

REFORM MICHIGAN PRIMARY LAWS

Candidate or Voter May be Required to Tell Party

Candidates for nominations for public office will be required to declare their political affiliations and voters will have to do the same thing before they can vote at primary elections if a bill amending the primary law, introduced in the state senate by Senator William W. Smith, Grand Traverse, passes the gauntlet of the present legislature.

The bill amending tbe primary law is based on the report msde by Secretary of State Dennis E. Alward, upon authority of the senate of 1917. The requirement in the bill that candidate declare themselves before the primary comes with added force at this time. in view of the lesson learned in the primary of last August, when Henry Ford was a candidate for United States senator on both the Republican and Democratic tickets.

Every person who aspires to become a nominee would be compelled to make a aworn declaration to accompany his petition. The nomination petition can not be filed for the primary in any case until such affidavit is presented. This declaration includes specific statement of the candidates residence that he is n qualified elector in this state; that he is a member of some political party, naming it and will vote in the coming election for a majority of its candidates; also whether he did or did not vote for that party's candidates in the last election.

The formal request is made that his name be placed on the ballots of the party he has named and averment made that if nominated and elected he will qualify for the office to which he has been chosen and support the principles of his party's platform.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

"Fritz had only left there two days before and outside of the cavalry we were the first troops in there and we heard some great atories from the civilians of the cruelty of the Boche to themselves and the prisoners. I can say that Germany does not deserve to have even the name of her country left. The early American Indians were tenderfoots compared to these people in regard to crime and torture. Now they come begging for the Allies (especially the U. S.) for food because they are suffering. Their women and nurses were no better than the men. One Belgium school teacher told of one case that he saw, of a badly wounded English prisoner that was begging for a drink, a nurse came along and after a few kicks in the ribs she spit in a cup of coffee and then gave it to him and walked away laughing. He also told of seeing several of our wounded being actually buried alive because it was too much trouble and took too much food to feed them. It will be hard work for people that have not been here to realize and believe that such things could exist at this modern date, but we meet both soldiers and civilian refugees and prisoners returning every hour of the day and each has plenty of proof as to its truth.

"Well they cannot say that they were not licked to a frazzle. Of course they gave up the struggle, but had they kept on another two days we should have annilated the whole bunch. It was certainly amusing to us, the first few places we entered when we were first at the front. We saw little hols or alleyways cut from the side walk through the brick or stone work of the house into the cellars. At first we mistook them for machine gun posts, but wondered at their arrangement. The people informed us that the Boche made them so he could get down cellar quick when our planes came over. Each rat hole was marked in big black letters or print 'Kellar for 5,' or 'Kellar for 10,' or what ever amount they would hold. Any person that owned a house witbout a cellar had to make one 'Toute suite,' or pay a fine.

"Well, it is over now and I hope that the Honorable President Wilson or any of the rest of the Allies won't let them pull the wool over their eyes and get off easy.

"I do not know how long we will be in Germany, or how soon we will get home, but I hope that it will not be long. Have not much kick coming, as I am lucky to get through with a whole hide, even if most of my hair is gone, and what's left has forgotten which way to stand up, but nevertheless I have had enough and want to get out on Pine lake and smoke Home Runs until supper time.

"I suppose there were some doings at home when the news that the war was over came in. I should have liked to have been there, but then I hope it won't be long now. I put it at six months at the outside. My enlistment papers call for six months after the war, if necessary, but imagine that I will stay until they let me go. Then I can get a hundred acres of good or bad Canada land.

"Well tomorrow is moving day again, so must get in for a good night's rest. The bugler just informed me that reville blows at 5:30, breakfast at 6:00 and move off at seven, so I guess we get a long hike, as our usual time is nine or ten o'clock. I have had a good two days rest without any running around, so I feel quite fit for any distance and the sooner we get there the sooner we get back.

"You say that eggs are sixty cents a dozen there. They cost 1 franc, 65 centimes each or about 33 cents. How is that for high?

"A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all. You can no doubt think of my being in Hunland by the time this reaches you, and if I get a chance will drink some Rhine wine to your health and hope that the price of boots will come down by the time I get back, or I will have to do as they do here, wear wooden ones. Many thanks for the box and papers. Love to all."

Report of Committee on Heating Plant

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Charlevoix County, Michigan:

Gentlemen:

Yonr special committee appointed to obtain a new heating plant for the Court house nnd have it installed, wish to make the following report:

After examining a number of different makes of boilers we decided to obtain an Amerlean Ideal down draft sectional boiler with a heating capacity of 3000 cu. ft. We then secured bids from both our local plumbers on the same installed complete together with a hot water heater which bids were as follows: Sanitary Engineering Company, $1,250 Robert R. Bonthron $1,055.00. Robert R. Bonthron being the lowest bidder was awarded the job and has completed the same satisfactorily to your committee.

We recommend that an order be drawn in the sum of $1,055.00 payable to the said Robert R. Bonthron in full settlement for said job.

Report of R. F. Sloan on East Jordan and Peninsula Road

November 13, 1918.

Hon. Board of Supervisors, Charlevoix County, Charlevoix, Michigan.

Dear Sirs:

In compliance with my promise of yesterday, I have examined carefully the profile made by my office for the East Jordan and Peninsula Rood and find the description thereon to be correct, as follows: Commencing at a point on the N. and S. 1-4 line section 14 T. 32 N. R. 7 W. and eighty roads south of N. line of said section and running thence S. 1 degree 50 feet West a distance of 300 feet thence to the left 11 degrees 27 feet a distance of 200 feet to the South terminus of this improvement. Commencing at said first mentioned point and running thence N. one degree and 50 feet E. a distance of 1315 feet to the North line of said section 14. Thence to the left 89 degrees 17 feet along said N. line section 14 a distance of 485 feet, thence to the left 28 feet a distance of 700 feet, thence to the right 9 feet a distance of 1434 feet to the N. W. cor. of said section 14. Tbence to the right 89 degrees 24 feet on line between sections 10 and 11 T. 32 N. R. 7 West, a distaace of 1866 feet, thence to the left 9 feet a distance of 6500 feet, thence to the right 9 feet a distance of 400 feet, thence to the right 11 feet a distance of 2000 feet to the North line of said Townsrip at a point on the line between sections 2 and 3 T. 32 N. R. 7 West, and there this improvement ends. There will therefore be no question about receiving reward as per applications now on file with the State Highway Department.

Very truly yours,
Charlevoix Abstract & Engineering Co., R. F. Sloan, President.

Motion made by Daniel S. Payton, seconded by Howard S. Shaeffer, that the cancelled vouchers from the treasurer's office be placed in the vault of the Register of Deeds. Motion carried.

Certificate of Copy of Record

State of Michigan, County of Charlevoix, ss.

I, Richard Lewis, Clerk of the County of Charlevoix, and Clerk of the Circuit Court for said County, the same being a Court of Record and having a Seal, do hereby certify that I have compared the annexed copy of the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors for the Octoher session, 1918 with the original record thereof now remaining in my office, and have found the said copy to be a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole of such or original record.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Circuit Court at the City of Charlevoix this 16th day of November, A.D., 1918.

RICHARD LEWIS,
(Seal) Clerk.

A CHARACTERISTIC GERMAN ORDER

A Belgian prisoner of war from Germany kept a journal of his stay in the German camps. He has a summary in his notebook of the orders given to the chiefs of the reprisal camps by an official circular from Berlin. Here is the text of that striking document:

"No comfort will be allowed to the prisoners, especially in regard to comfort and cleanliness.

"Only the smallest possible piece of soap must be left in their possession. It is expressly forbidden that they shall sleep elsewhere than on wood. Sacks and all that could serve as a cushion will be confiscated. In the cantonments everything will be taken away which could be used as a table or a chair, including the pieces of furniture made by the prisoners themselves.

"It is particularly ordered to leave the prisoners in ignorance of the reasons for which reprisals are instituted and for what length of time.

"No relations between the sentinels and the prisoners will be tolerated. Among the latter those of the higher ranks will preferably be punished.

"Three kinds of punishment: the council of war, the stake, two hours at a time; prison for six days.

"The prisoners shall be tied to the stake, the arms tied back, the hands separated and higher than the head, the body leaning forward, and tha feet lifted off the ground.

"Work must take precedence over all other considerations, the stake will be used in preference to imprisonment which will only be inflicted by exception. Less than 39 degrees of fever, no medical assistance and no exceptions.

"The prisoners shall possess only one coat, a pair of trousers, two shirts and a cloak. Drawers, flannele waistcoats, suspenders, flannel bands and underclothes will be taken from them and the belt loops of their trousers cut off. Suspenders and belts will only be given back to them when they go to work and shall be returned in the evening to the chief of the post.

"Prisoners may benefit by the afternoon rest hour, Sunday afternoon, only if circumstances permit it.

"As General Lyautey has the boxes of preserves of the German prisoners opened at Casablanca in Morocco, the same will be done in regard to the packages of the French prisoners of war at Munster.

"They shall not receive any money order and only four marks ($1.00) a week will be allowed them. They must buy tobacco, cigarettes and letter paper.

"They must not possess either a brush, or looking glass; nor razors, nor books, nor musical instruments. They shall be forbidden to laugh, to sing, to whistle, to look into the distance, to have friendly talks or conversations or to walk two by two."

And now some, of our pacifist friends are crying about the German food situation and want the United States government to feed them.

Report of Committee on Heating Plant

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of Charlevoix County, Michigan:

Gentlemen:

Your special committee appointed to obtain a new heating plant for the Court house and have it installed, wish to make the following report:

After examining s number of different makes of boilers we decided to obtain an American Ideal down draft sectional boiler with a hesting capacity of 3000 cu. ft. We then secured bids from both our local plumbers on the same installed complete together with a hot water heater which bids were as follows: Sanitary Engineering Company, $1,250 Robert R. Bonthron $1,055.00. Robert R. Bonthron being the lowest bidder was awarded the job and has completed the same satisfnetorily to your committee.

We recommend that an order be drawn in the sum of $1,065.00 payable to the said Robert R. Bonthron in full settlement for said job.

Lisle Shananan the Prosecuting Attorney reported to the board in regard to the bill from Melrose township for surveying state reward road to be built by said township, stating that the bill should be paid from the general fund of the county.

The following certificate was read by the Clerk:

To the Honorable, the Board of Supervisors for the County of Charlevoix, Michigan.

State of Michigan, County of Charlevoix, Township of Melrose, ss.

I, Royal B. Teachout, Township Clerk for the Township of Melrose, do hereby certify that at a special election held the 13th day of May, 1918 in said township, the township of Melrose adopted the necessary resolutions for the purpose of raising $10,000.00 by bonds to be used for the building of State Reward roads in said township. And I do further certify, that the entire issue of said $10,000.00 worth of bonds are still outstanding against the faith and credit of said township and that there will come due of the 15th day of June, A. D., 1928, the sum of $10,000.00 and interest, at the rate of five per cent, upon the entire issue.

Dated, October 1st, 1918.

Respectfully submitted,
ROYAL B. TEACHOUT,
Township Clerk for the Township of Melrose.

A CHARACTERISTIC GERMAN ORDER

A Belgian prisoner of war from Germany kept a journal of his stay in the German camps. He has a summary in his notebook of the orders given to the ehiefs of the reprisal camps by an offieial eireular from Berlin. Here is the text of that striking doeument:

"No comfort will be allowed to the prisoners, especially in regard to comfort and cleanliness.

"Only the smallest possible pieee of soap must be left in their possession. It is expressly forbidden that they shall sleep elsewhere thsn on wood. Saeks and all that could serve as a eushion will be confiseated. In the eantonments everything will be taken awny whieh could be used as a table or a chair, ineluding the pieees of furniture made by the prisoners themselves.

"It is particularly ordered to leave the prisoners in ignorance of the reasons for which reprisals are instituted and for what length of time.

"No relations between the sentinels and the prisoners will be tolerated. Among the latter those of the higher ranks will preferably be punished.

"Three kinds of punishment: the council of war, the stake, two hours at a time; prison for six days.

"The prisoners shall be tied to the stake, the arms tied back, the hands separated and higher than the head, the body leaning forward, and the feet lifted off the ground.

"Work must take precedence over all other considerations, the stake will be used in preference to imprisonment which will only be inflieted by exception. Less than 39 degrees of fever, no medical assistnnce and no exceptions.

"The prisoners shall possess only one coat, a pair of trousers, two shirts and a cloak. Drawers, flannels waistcoats, suspenders, flannel bands and underclothes will be taken from them and the belt loops of their trousers cut off. Suspenders and belts will only be given back to them when they go to work and shall be returned in the evening to the chief of the post.

"Prisoners may benefit by the afternoon rest hour, Sunday afternoon, only if circumstanees permit it.

"An General Lyautey has the boxes of preserves of the German prisoners opened at Casablanca in Morocco, the same will be done in regard to the packages of the French prisoners of war at Munster.

"They shall not receive ony money order and only four marks ($1.00) a week will be allowed them. They must buy tobacco, cigarettes and letter paper.

"They must not possess either a brush, or looking glass; nor razors, nor books, nor musical instruments. They shall be forbidden to laugh, to sing, to whistle, to look into the distance, to have friendly talks or conversations or to walk two by two."

And now some of our pacifist friends are crying about the German food situation and want the United States government to feed them.

VOLUME 27. NUMBER 5. EIGHT PAGES CHARLEVOIX, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1919. PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

FOUR PER CENT CASH COUPONS

CHARLEVOIX MERCHANTS INAUGURATE NEW PLAN

Will Give Customers Benefit of Paying Cash for Purchases In Form of Coupons

Beginning with Thursday of this week, sixteen Charlevoix merchants will give coupens for every cash purchase made at their place of business. The coupons ars equal to four per cont, and are redeemablo for this amount in cash at any of the sixtssn stores who are in the deal.

The scheme is along the same lines as the green stomp coupons, the only difference being the grean stamps are paid in premiums, and tha coupons used by theso sixteen merchants redeemable in cash.

Following is reproduced a letter sent out by the merchants explaining the coupon system in detail:

"Believing that the cash customer is entitled to a discount, the above merchnnts have adopted a cash discount plan, whereby the consumer receives a cash discount of four per cent on every dollar spent.

"We believe this plan to be better for all cencerned in this way. As merchants, we pay for tbe coupons radeemed and thus are able to give you a larger percentage of discount than the merchant who pays a middleman for the unredeemed coupons or stamps. To the consumer it is an obvious advantage, inasmuch as they ean step into any of these atores when they have $50.00 in coupons and get $2.00 in caah, rather than to get a small premium whan they have traded $100.00 worth.

"Banks pay four per cent for savings. We pay four per cent for cash trade. Would you prefer to have the banks pay you in premiums or cash?

"We are enclosing a $5.00 coupon free with which to start your savings, and when you have $50.00 worth of coupons, present them to any of the above stores and get $2.00 in eash. Only one $5.00 frea coupon with each $50.00 worth.

"This coupon is actually worth 20 cents to you. Don't throw it away, but trade where you will get more of them and receive the discount you are entitled to. It is not necessary that you ahould get the entire $50.00 worth of coupons from one store. You can get these coupons at any of the above storea."

ANNUAL O. E. S. AND MASONIC SUPPER

Members of Both Orders and Families Meet at Temple

Members of the O. E. S. and Masonic orders to the number of over one hundred and fifty nttended the annual supper held nt the temple on Wednesday evening of last week.

This annual affair is looked upon by the membership as the final climax of the social events of the year, and the evening was most thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Supper was served at 6:30, and the abundance of good things to eat helped in a great mnnner townrds the success of the event. After supper, dancing was indulged in by both old and young.

Early in the evening the Masonic Building association held its annual meeting and elected officers. The affairs of the association are in a prosperous condition and the officers of the associntion are deserving of considerablo praise in the manner in which they have handled the affairs of the order.

SEND IN THE NEWS

The Courier desires particularly to note the return of soldiers to their homea in Charlevoix, but it is impossible for reporters to get all of them, because of the great number being discharged, or sent home on furloughs. We therefore ask relatives of our young men returning from the service to send in their names, either by mnil or phone. When such names are sent in by msil please give a little details, such as to the time he left Charlevoix, the branch of service, number of division, if wounded or other details, all of which would be of interest to friends of soldiers.

PORTABLE HOUSE FOR HUNTING TRIPS

Local Sports Build One That Has But Few Equals

About tbe niftiest portable house we have sver ssen has baen built by I. L. Dice and B. O. Yettaw, and can now be sesn at ths rear of Novak's restaurant on Bridgs street.

The house has been dasigned and eenstructed as a portable hunting camp, and is about 7 x 12, made of building paper covered over by canvass, which haa been thoroughly paintsd and made wind and wstorproof, and fits nicely on an ordinary set of bob aleighs.

Every inch of space in the interior has been utilized. At the rear end are a double and a single sleeping bunk, with matress and plenty of cevering. Then there is a table attached to the side wall, that can be raised or lowered at will. Opposite the toble a shelf on which is placed a three-burner oil stove. Above and below this are places for cooking utensils, etc. Near this is a small shelf attached to the wall to be used as a work bench while preparing meals. Opposite this is a bench, built windowseat fashion, under which are stored supplies. A small air-tight heater in the corner completes the equipment.

The portable houss is at present equlpped for three persons, but wlth few changes could accommodate four. Two windows ventilate the little room, besides the door at the front. The owners contemplate a trip nsrth of Harbor Springs after fox, and are awaiting, somewhat sadly, for snow.

NEED LESSON IN DECENCY

C. H. S. BASKETEBALL TEAM WIN UNDER DIFFICULTIES

Clean Sportsmanship Greatly Lasking In Conduct of Opposing Team—Score 16-12

Last Friday night at Harbor Springs, our high school basketball team showed the Harbor Springs team the advantages of clean playing. The score was 16-12 on the score board at the last. If played under basketball rules, the score would have been much larger. No description of the game, as basketball, can ba given, because our attempts at fast, clean, playing were amothered in the fouls committed by the opponents. Enough to say that we won.

February 28, they play a return game here. The test of sportsmanship will be applied to us here, even as it was to the team at Harbor Springs. So let us not be influenced by other school's lack of it, but remember that the courtesy extended to the visiting team should be even more marked than that to our own.

Our team is primarily n team of gentlemen, than which there can be no greater compliment. The fact that they are, and thnt they did not lose their heads last Friday under the trying conditions present, namely, the inexperienee of the referee, and the football tactics of the other team, was the direct cause of our winning the game. Had we resorted to the same methods, the outcome might have been different.

There will be a preliminary between two girls teams starting at 7:15.

This week we play Central Lake here. Please come. We must meet the expenses of our trips, and we must have your support in the bleachers. Following is the year's schedule, including two open dates:

Jan. 17—Petoskey at Charlevoix, won by Petoskey, 40-36.
Jan. 24—Harbor Springs at Harbor Springs, won by Charlevoix, 16-12.
Jan. 31—Central Lake at Charlevoix. Everybody eome.
Feb. 7—Bellaire at Bellaire.
Feb. 14—Petoskey at Petoskey.
Feb. 21—Open.
Feb. 28—Harbor Springs at Charlevoix.
March 7—Central Lake at Central Lake.
March 14—Open.
March 21—Bellaire at Charlevoix.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS NOW IN THE SERVICE

Adolphus Allard in Horhausen, Germany with the 125th Infantry—Cpl. A. C. Serasin gives a resume of his experiences—Frank E. Coatta Writes from Germany

From Adolphus Allard

Horhausen, Germany,
December 24, 1918.

"Dear Editor—Just a few lines this Christmas eve to let you know I am well so are all the other boys of Hdq. Co., 125th, also very thankful we are here.

"Well, Mr. Usher, we have at last reached the Rhine and proceeded far over into the enemy's country. We had a most remarkable hike, most 250 kilometers, about 160 American miles, which we covered in 17 marching days, with packs.

"We receivad quite a number of our Christmss boxes today so along come the always looked for Courier. They were old numbers but we enjoyed them. In it we noticed Jns. Gaskin wrote he had the first American flag to be at the froat, but I disagree with him.

"I have an American flag which I have carried since May 15 on the Alsace-Lorraino frent, then it saw service at Chateau Thierry, then on the first of September at Soissons and also in the Argonne forest which could not be taken by two other divisions until the 32nd hit the line. But for further news wa'll let the correspondents tell of thnt 21 day battle we fought. Then on November 6, I atill had my flag as by that time it got to be quite a souvenir, when we came to the Meuse River on our last stand.

"Well I think mine is pretty historic so will keep it for so many small pnckages are lost I dare not mail it. Wishing all the good folks of Charlevoix a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, I remain, yours truly,

ADOLPHUS ALLARD.

From Frank E. Coatta

December 15, 1918.

"Dear Mother—Suppose you are wondering why I haven't written to you since we have been on thia hike, but couldn't because they couldn't get the mail out.

"I suppose there was aome good times when you got word that the war was over. We were sure some happy bunch. The morning of the eleventh when we got up the frogs were having an awful time. They told us that the war was over but we couldn't believe it, but about seven o'clock we got word that it was true. Then we had an awful time, and at eleven o'clock the band played for a while. On the saventh we started for the Rhine. We hiked three days and rested one. I don't know the exact date but think it was the twenty-first we went from France into Belgium and into Luxemburg, and on the first of December we crossed the line into Germany. On the eleventh we got to the Rhine and on the thirteenth we crossed it. Every town we went through the band played and everybody came out to see us.

"In Belgium and Luxemburg the people decorated the streets and had signs of welcome put up across them and everything was about the Americans. They sure were glad to nee us—even the people in Germany were glad. We are sure some glad boys that the hike is over. We don't know when we will start for home, but I don't think we will stay much longer.

"Some of these days we will get the glad news to get ready to start for home. Well, mother, I will have to close, want to write to Sis and a few more. With lots of love, I remain, your loving son."

FRANK E. COATTA.

From Cpl. A. C. Sarasin

Mrs. Hugh King of Ironton has sant us the following letters from her nephew, Cpl. A. C. Sarasin, for publication. In the letters he tells of his trip overseas and relates many of his experienees while on the move in France.

Camp Mencon, France.

"Dear Dad—You have such migratory ways that a parson never knows what your address is for longer than two weeks at a time and since it takes three for a letter to go to the states, it is a 90 to a 100 chance if a letter would ever reach you and for that reason I have been writing home and trusting that you would get the news from there. However, some thoughtful soul set aside a day solely for a letter to Dad, so I am addressing you one at home and trusting that it will be forwarded to you from there.

"There haa been censoring rules against everything excepting the description of tbe landscape until today so I have been unable to send anything sbout movements, places, trips and conditions generally, so will start from the time of leaving the states, which waa the beginning of censoring.

"After my forty-five mile truck trip through New York City from Mineola to Camp Merritt, I got fastened to my present organization the day before we made up our full packs for overseas. We made up the packs, except the blanket roll, the night before so that when the order came it was only necessary to roll the shirt, socks nnd underclothes into the hlanket and shelter half, strap it and the slicker on and swallow our chow, stuff and extra sandwich in our mess kit and were off for the rattler which took us to Hoboken.

"After a short march over tha cobblestones and a couple of hour's walt for red tape reasons, we got our red and white ticket and elimbod the gang plank at 11:00 a. m. The white ticket gave ua eur bunk number and rules for ths ship and the red was of the most importance beesuse our two meals a day were numbered thereon and ready to be punched day after day.

"The decks were lettered commencing at the top and then divided into numbered sections. Evsn yet when there is a crowd pushing around some place someone will yell 'E 5' back to your bunk, which comes from the semi-daily recital of ths mess officer on that deck. When a healthy soldier gets two meals a day for eleven days he gets anxious about meal time and starts to push and when there are a couple of theusand of them it is some push.

"We were assigned to our bunk by number and I drew an upper. That doesn't mean the second bunk up but tho fifth. There were five rows of fiva on each side of tha hatch way with a foot betwsen them and the tlers ran from six inches above the floor up to the celling. I was a foot and a half from the ceiling which was handy in case someone took an aversion to their meals as the ship frolicked about in the billows. Speaking of the trip as a whole I would like to see the individual who can devise a means of getting more people into a given space than was on that ship.

"I waa on the George Washington which is about the second largest transport afloat. It would take a half hour to follow her rail around with a clear deck and a day and a half with thosc guys all on deck. There were only seven thousand people on board. We traveled in a company of five, two other smaller transporta and twq U. S. Colliers. We did the conventional zigzag ehanging course every ten minutes and took eleven days coming over in place of six. We went on board July 16, floated out past the statue of Liberty and Long Island about 3:30 bn the 18th. It took two days to load up the troops. I don't know how long they had been loading boxea before we arrived.

"We were given life belts with our bunk and the daily routine started with life boat drill an hour before dawn. Everyone came tearing up on deck nt the alarm with a rifle belt and cantoen of water and a life belt on. These things had to be worn all the time and when we got in the danger zone everyone slept with full pack, that is, fully dressed. Before that we used the salt showers and got a good nights rest, because the trip waa made in the best part of the season, with hardly a roll.

"Of course with a lot of dry land sailors on the lookout someone was sure to spot a sub and we all got exeited when the guns cut loose at the cry 'submarine' and knocked a cracker box all to pieces. Another time a school of porpoise playing leap frog called similar attention. At times we cut into schools of flying fish and watched them take to the air to get out of the way. Also saw the spouting of a whale one afternoon.

"The ocean had only a gentle roll and at mid ocean it was hard to say which was the most beautiful, the sky with an occasional fleecy cloud catching the sun's rays at evening, or the ocean blue with a touch of white foam thrown up by the prow as we cut the swells. A person could lean over the rail for hours watching where the two different blues met and dream dreams which no other environment could bring forth.

"On July 24 at 3:00 a. m. the alarm sounded and we came upstairs like a bunch of stampeded rats and stood in the usual position for two hours till daybreak. I was opposite an opening which lead down to the water over a raft where it was my duty to hang on a raft and dangle temptingly in the water for some wandering shark in case we connected with a aub. We used to have some fun telling the timid fellows who couldn't swim, that an actual disembarking was to take place in the morning and let them worry all day about the proper way to climb down into the water in the dark.

"That same 27th, wa rolled the old packs again, climbed into a scow and were taken ashore at a place called Brest. If you look at a map of France you will notice a mad cat head facing toward the west. Between the upper jaw and the tongue there is a little bay and the town of Brest. We marched north from Breat for three miles, then pitched our tents in a clay field, once used for spuds I guess, and theoretically we established a rest camp.

"Some one remarked that a Frenchman's rest wan a change of occupation. Must be so for all we did here was get up at five, scoff a bacon sandwich and some muddy coffee, then hike three miles down to the water front and wrestle ties or unload ships till noon. Then we fitted up some army slum put out by a hunch of coon cooks and went back to the ties until 5:30, when we crawled into a truck and got back to

FARMER'S DOG DISCOVERS SNAKE

Reptile Evidently Thought Spring Had Arrived

A certain business man of Charlevoix, reputed to bs honest, not only in what he tslls, but also in business transactions, vouches for the following extraordinary story:

That ona day last week a certain farmer, living on the Norwood road, was attracted by the barking and peculiar action of his dog—

That hs hurriedly dropped his work and went to tha place whsre his dog was barking—

That knowing that it must bs something quite unusual to excits his eanine friend, became duly alarmed—

That as ha approached the place whers ths dog was jumping about expected to encounter a—well, most anything imaginable—

That when he arrivsd he found ths dog had disturbed tho slumbers of a small grass snake that had been lured from his winter's nest by the warm rays of Northern Michigan's January sunshina.

Our farmer friend rescued the snake from the dog, carried it to the house, laid it on the porch, and called other members of the family to witness the stranga scene.

Such is the story—both the man who told it and tbe man who found the snake are too well known to doubt their word, so we are publishing it as the absolute truth.

NEXT NUMBER LECTURE COURSE

PARAMOUNT PLAYERS TO APPEAR ON FEBRUARY 4

Music and Drama of Worth Will be Presented—Program Pleasingly Varied

Music and drama of worth are presented by the Paramount Entertainers who will appear here on tbe Lyceum course. Tuesday evening, February 4th. The Paramounts are said to be one of tha most successful organizationa of the kind on the platform today.

Tbere are three people in the company and their program is pleasingly varied. Whether in ensemble or solo numbers the work is all that could be desired as each member of tha company is an artist of merit.

Dorothea W. Sass, reader and accompanist, is a young woman of attractive personality with which is coupled a striking ability as an interpretative reader.

Howard F. Bolinger, baritone, possesses an excellent singing voice. His work in interpretation is admirable, showing a careful study in every phase and a fine regard for the connection of the music and the text.

Marian Byrd, violinist, plays with a wonderful chnrm and aympathy and possesses a free masterful technique.

In addition to the musical numbers and readings one or more dramatic sketches will be given on each program.

Reserve seats at the Central Drug Store on Friday, January 31st, at seven o'clock. Single admissions, fifty cents.

WONDERFUL SKATING ON PINE LAKE

City to Install Lights for Enjoyment of All

Ald. Grover Ceneit of the First ward made a hit with a lot of people of Charlevoix, especially among the younger class, Monday night when he presented a motion at council meeting to place three lights on the ice on Pine Lake, north of the old railroad dock, near the P. M. depot.

The object of the motion was to safeguard against any possibilty of danger which might be encountered from rough shore ice or after leaving the depot.

Hundreds of people, both old and young, are now enjoying the best skating in years, and with the installation of lights the sport can be enjoyed during the evening as well as during the day time. The lights are now being installed and will be in use by Wednesday night.

ATTORNEY LEWIS OPENS NEW OFFICE

Now Located in Van Pelt Block Over Levinson's

Ex-prosecuting attorney R. L. Lewis has opened a splendidly equipped suite of offices in the Van Pelt block, over Levinson's store, and within the week will be ready to resume his law practice. It will be recalled that Mr. Lewis entered the service of Uncle Sam late in the fall, before his term as prosecuting attorney expired, and at that time closed his offices in the Priest building. The new quarters are now being repainted and placed in excellent condition.

Ironton Gleaner arbor will hold an oyster supper on evening of February 6th, for the Gleaners and their families only.

1919 INCOME TAX DRIVE UNDERWAY

DOYLE URGES PEOPLE TO GET FIGURES READY.

This Year's Tax Is Expected to Reach Nearly Every Working Man and Woman in Land

The big incoma tax drive of 1919 is now under way, and every preparation is being made to handle the largest collection in the history of income tax. "I am not waiting for ths final passage of the nsw rovenue bill by congress," says Collsctor Emanuel J. Doyls of Grand Rapids, "nor for the new regulations and blank forms to bs issued. To get this big tax in and get it aceurata and complete, I urga that we all begin now."

"The income tax obligations imposed by the old laws, as well as ths measure now in congress, consist of two distinct operations. One is to file return or atatement of all items of income and items of daductions allowable by law, and to do this within the period named in the law. The other is, to pay the tax, if any is due.

"Neither of these obligations can be met without a careful review of Incoma and expenditure for the tax year. That is the big jeb right now, and that is why I say the incomo tax drive is already under way. Everywhere the pencil is busy. The old year is done; all its fruits are gleaned; and every person who fared well, or earncd a good competence, must analyze his own case in cold figures.

"When the new bill is enacted into law, I will have the propsr return forms distributed throughout tha district, and everyhody will be informed of the date when the aworn return must be filed.

"Mennwhile, let me say agaln, there is no need of delaying the preparation of figures. Anything that congress does now will not affect the amount of a person's earnings for 1918.

"All signs indicate that the incomo tax this year will reach nearly every working man and women, and nearly every merchant, shopkeeper and farmer. Not all will have to pay the tax, but nearly all will be obliged to make a aworn statement of the year's income.

"I am therefor advising every unmarried person who earned $1,000 or over during the year 1918, and every married person, who together with wife or husband, earned $2,000, to sharpen his pencil and figure out how he stands.

"He must ascertain accurately bis gross income from all aources. There'a his salary or wages, including overtime pay and any bonus received as additional compensation. A married parson having children under eighteen who are working should include the earnings of such children."

ONLY THIRTY WOMEN HAVE REGISTERED

Must Do So if Right of Suffrage is Exercised

Records at the office of the City Clerk show that up to date less than thirty Charlevoix women have registered for voting in the spring election and primaries, aa is required under the provisions in the statutes, giving the women of Michigan the right to the ballot.

The law which allowed women of Michigan the right to vote became effective on January 1, and it is necessary for every woman who wants to cast a ballot in the regular spring primary and election this year to bs registered with the city clerk before election time.

The registration book in the office of the city clerk is open and ready to record the names of women at any time. Much interest is centered about the registration booth to determine just how much use tha women of Charlevoix county are going to make of their newly made right to cast a ballot and until the books are closed it will be impossible to ascertain how crowded the polls will be at the spring election with women voters.

Good Will Given a New Impetus

A statement of Dodge Brothers war activities is due the owners of their cars.

Dodge Brothers refrained, during the progress of the war, from any reference to the performance of the car in Government service.

It seems proper now, however, to disclose the facts, because they are unusual facts—intensifying that good will which owners of Dodge Brothers Cars have always manifested.

Dodge Brothers car was the only one of its class approved and adopted by the War Department.

In a separate Ordnance Works, built especially for the purpose, costing millions of dollars and employing thousands of their skilled motor workmen, Dodge Brothers undertook an important duty designated by the War Department.

Without the aid of their great motor organization, Dodge Brothers could not have fulfilled the heavy obligation which they were asked to assume by the Ordnance Department.

The other service required of Dodge Brothers motor works, by the Government, was to continue to furnish their cars as they were needed.

They were furnished, not in hundreds, but in thousands—both for the training camps here, and for service in Belgium, France and Italy.

The record of those thousands of camp and army cars is one in which any owner may feel the utmost pride and satisfaction.

Their performance justified the compliment implied in their selection by the Government.

The great works in which nearly three hundred thousand of their cars have been produced in the past four years furnished a vast store-house of human energy and equipment for the ordnance work.

Naturally, it will take time to adjust the motor works to its full accustomed activity.

Gradually Dodge Brothers will resume the grateful task of continuing to deserve the good will of America—and indeed of the whole world.

Dodge Brothers consider good will their most valuable possession.

They will never knowingly do anything to lessen it.

IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS

Charlevoix Readers Should Learn to Keep the Kidneys Well

The kidneys have a big work to do. All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be freed of poisonous matter. It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chill, fever or some thoughtless exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work.

Then the aching frequently begins and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—too frequent passages, sediment or retention. Thousands testify to the wonderful merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy for the kidneys only, that has been used in kidney troubles 50 years. You will make no mistake in following this Charlevoix citizen's advice.

John McCall, 905 Bridge St., says: "My back was so lame I could just about move. My kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. Dizzy spells bothered me and I would often have to grasp something to keep from falling. I was in awful shape when a friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. I tried them and they completely and permanently cured me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. McCall had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER'S NOTES

Visited at Hayes No. 4 this week. Everything going finely.

Investigation showed that all but two schools of the fourteen schools adjacent to Charlevoix territory already had the new arithmetic chart and were enjoying the help it rendered the primary classes.

In another week we shall know how the entire county stands in its contest preparedness work—not for the sake of the contest—oh, no, but for what it means in years to come, and for the training it means right now.

The teacher at Bay Shore has written that her director has also ordered for her the example books for every pupil. These accompany the chart, but although it makes the outfit and method much more complete, the commissioner had written or spoken to none about them. It merely shows that someone was looking the matter up and is on the job for the best results straight through. Good for Bay Shore.

New library books planned or on the way for Robinson, Burgess and Pleasant Valley.

Think—look at this from an enthusiastic teacher (with an enthusiastic, active school board to keep her happy): "Dear Miss Stewart—You won't know our schoolhouse when you visit us again. During Christmas vacation they changed the entries as previously planned and changed the seating of the schoolroom. The pupils' desks now face the rear of the schoolhouse, or east. The pupils also earned by means of a social in the form of a fair money for a hanging lamp for the schoolroom. Miss Lathan, teacher No. 4 Evangeline (Tainter school.")

The commissioner found the county normal going finely. Students were learning school games for rural schools, and were intensely interested in them. Everyone has a good time at the normal. In the critic room—best teaching devices you ever saw. Many things to learn at the normal. Everyone attending the normal is thoroughly exposed to teaching preparedness and it takes, too. Many of our best teachers throughout the county are our county normal alumni.

Sixty-two letters answered this week, truancy cared for, contests organized, three days spent visiting and supervision work, and about twenty packages supplies mailed.

Frank Bearss is home for a few days from his work near East Jordan.

Harold and Roth Clark spent Saturday and Sunday with their grandmother, Mrs. E. A. Clark.

The new books on parliamentary drill have arrived and will be made of good use by the members of the Literary Club.

Even though it is January, a car was seen across Pine Lake, spinning its way to Boyne from Charlevoix, on Sunday.

The Red Cross met last Thursday with Mrs. D. McDonald. Mrs. Staley was appointed chairman. Next meeting will be with Mrs. F. Bearss on Thursday.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

January 27, 1919.

The common council of the City of Charlevoix, met on the above date Mayor Rose, presiding.

Aldermen present: Benton, Geiken, Geneit and Washburn.

Absent: Glassford and Hiller.

Minutes of the meeting of January 20, 1919, were read and approved.

The Mayor referred the purchasing of the O'Leary property to the Financc Committee for completion, subject to the legal opinion of the City Attorney.

The Mayor referred the matter relative to the communication received from J. S. Flanders of Sturgis, Mich., to the legal department.

There being no further business the council adjourned.

Charles H. Emrey,
City Clerk.

"LIFE"

FILBERT ALLEY ANTHOLOGY

Death in the Valley

As darkness came, a sullen silence crept upon the plain,
And in the calorific autumn breeze,
The stalks of red wisteria reared high above the grain
Swayed to and fro as noiseless as the seas.
Magnolia blossoms, full and round,
their delicate perfume
Cast timidly into the chilling air,
While overhead a cormorant bedecked with crimson plume
Winged swiftly to his rocky mountain lair.

High in the sturdy branches of the rank palmetto tree,
A Manx cat crouched and lashed his angry tail,
While down below a pompano went romping o'er the lea—
Nor did he hear the feline's mournful wail.
A moment's hesitation! Then a spring precise, direct....
Then quiet reigned while Death held jubilee....
(The details of this narrative may not all be correct,
But still it's how the story came to me.)

Roosevelt

Granite soul hewn to the mark,
Torch light in chaos dark,
Leader of nation's men—
Eternity calls again.
Sent was he to this sphere,
Gone now a nation's seer—
Gone in to the dark.

Or, on into the native light,
Trailing like comet bright,
Across dark days of men,
Soul light to shine again—
His deeds and mighty pen—
Till all shall meet again—
After the dark.

A League of Nations

Have a league, have a league.
Have a league—onward!
Save from that valley of death
Many a hundred.

Wilson much time has spent
Urging this great event;
Cannon, where'er he went,
Volley and thundered,
Boldly he spoke and well,
"Banish the shot and shell,
Into the jaws of death,
Into the mouth of hell,
Lives have been squandered.
Ours is the reason why
Man thus be forced to die.
Nations have blundered.
Join with a league of peace,
Free use of all the seas,
War and its horros end,"
And at such words as these
All the world pondered.

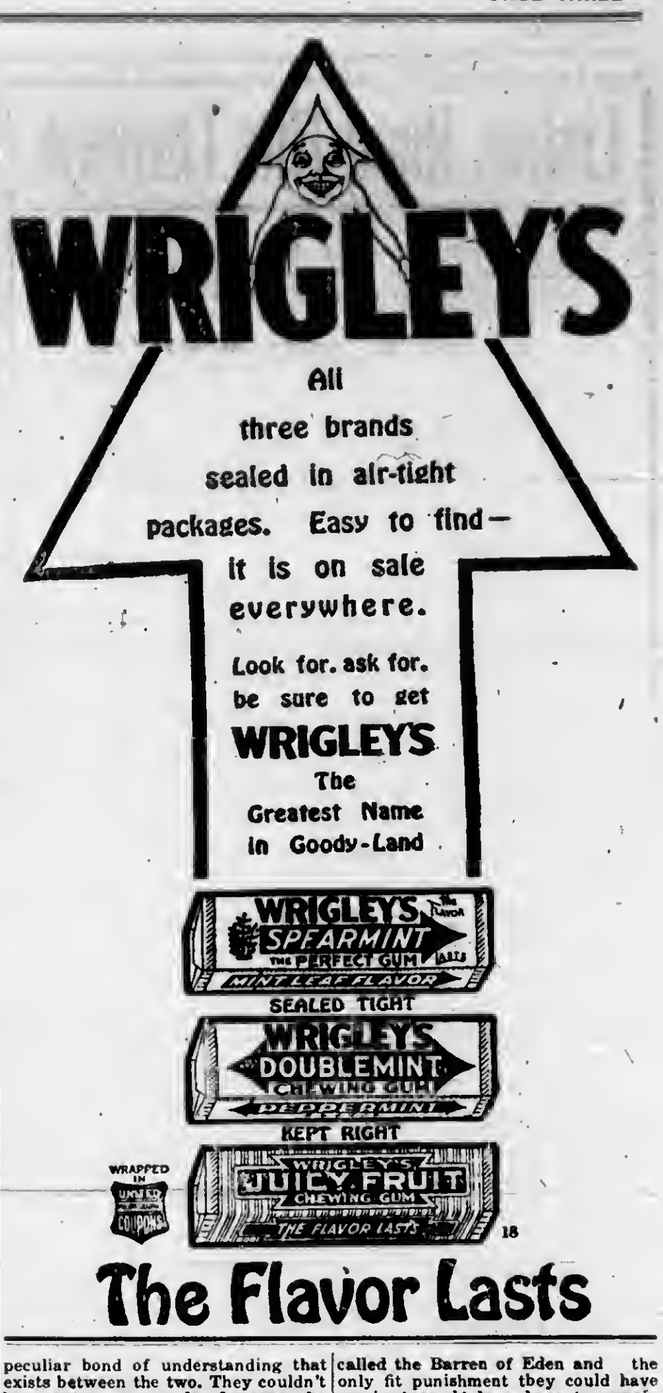
As It Wasn't In the Beginning

No, Adam and Eve were not Prussian,
A fact you will hardly dispute;
No copious Bible discussion
My theory would tend to refute.
The matter? I've never discussed it;
The idea, I've had all along;
But still I defy one to bust it,
Or prove to me that it is wrong.

The garden, according to hist'ry,
That Adam and Eve were to rent,
Was shrouded in wooderful mist'ry
And followed wherever they went.
The flora was very extensive.
The fauna abundant as well;
Though apples alone were expensive,
Yet clothing was too cheap to sell.

No, Adam and Eve were not Prussians,
Indeed, for a fact, had they been,
There'd never have been an expulsion,
Because in the place Adam would become tired of the beauty of the place, and considering it belonged to somebody else would have proceeded to handle it in a manner in which all Prussians are well versed. With precivilized cunning he would have fashioned a hatchet from a flinty stone and started in running things to suit himself, destroying the trees and poisoning the streams; secondly, no serpent would have been able to put anything over on account of a peculiar bond of understanding that exists between the two. They couldn't have eaten any apples because the trees would have been killed and lastly, they never would have been driven out, for it would have been called the Barren of Eden and the only fit punishment they could have received would have been to remain there in the midst of their desolation. No, Adam and Eve were not Prussian.



4% ═══ CASH DISCOUNT ═══ 4%

MERCHANT'S 4 PER CENT CASH COUPONS

Believing that the Cash Customer is entitled to a discount, the above merchants have adopted a cash discount plan, whereby the consumer receives a cash discount of four per cent on every dollar spent.

We believe this plan to be better for all concerned in this way. As merchants, we pay for the coupons redeemed and thus are able to give you a larger percentage of discount than the merchant who pays a middleman for the unredeemed coupons or stamps. To the consumer it is an obvious advantage, inasmuch as they can step into any of these stores when they have $50.00 in coupons and get $2.00 in cash, rather than to get a small premium when they have traded $100.00 worth.

Banks pay 4 per cent for savings. We pay 4 per cent for cash trade. Would you prefer to have the banks pay you in premiums or cash?

We are enclosing a $5.00 coupon free with which to start your savings, and when you have $50.00 worth of coupons, present them to any of the stores below named and get $2.00 in cash. Only one $5.00 Free coupon with each $50.00 worth.

This coupon is actually worth 20 cents to you. Don't throw it away, but trade where you will get more of them and receive the discount you are entitled to. It is not necessary that you should get the entire $50.00 worth of coupons from one store. You can get these coupons at any of the stores named below.

RESTRICTING IMMIGRATION

A double object is announced in two bills now before congress—to restrict immigration and to keep out the Bolshevists. The first effect, of course, can be attained to any desired degree by the passage and enforcement of exclusion laws, but it is hard to see how the entrance of Bolshevists can be prevented otherwise than by an absolute shutting off of arrivals from abroad.

Bolshevism is a state of mind. It is not peculiar to any class or race, as is shown only too plainly by its appearance here among educated men of the old strains, supposed to be safest from such stupid and harmful illusions. And certainly Bolshevism cannot be barred by asking each arriving immigrant if he is a Bolshevist or not and letting him in or sending him away according to his answer negative or affirmative. The Bolshevist conscience recoils from lying no more than from theft or murder.

For attaining this second purpose, therefore, as for many other probably more important, real exclusion, very carefully qualified in favor of comparatively few individuals needed here or especially worthy of admission, seems to be the only means. The situation confronting the country is quite without precedent, and all, or almost all, of the old arguments in favor of the open door to immigrants not criminals or incapable of self-support have been at least much weakened.

AFTER THE WAR, THE FIGURES

There's a group of persons in this broad land to whom our hearts goes out in profound sympathy. They form no faction and but a fraction of the entire population. But their work is of importance to us and to posterity. Pity the poor statistician—the mathematical parties who will record every phase of the war that can be set down and set forth in figures. Column after column of digits will wheel into line to be decimated by the cross fire of high calibre calculation. Batteries of the adding machines will go into action, belching billions, trillions and totals.

We'll soon learn from the compilers of numerical statistics the exact size of a cootie's household; how many tons of coal could be hoisted from Jimbo to the moon by use of the energy Yanks liberated in cigaret puffs; that if laid side by each, the knitting needles used by patriotic ladies would connects Paris with Vienna by way of Berlin; and the number of heroic deeds performed by the crown Prince secured by consulting his private diary of hand-to hand encounters entitled "Ones With Whom I Came to Grips' or List of Calls Upon Personal Friends."

Verily, the startling array of figures may send the most seasoned statisticians to sanitariums where numerals are checked with the past at the door and adding machines click not their siren call.

NO HYSTERIA

This country is not in favor of a large standing army nor the largest navy in the world. There is no need of either. The country does favor universal military training, for the results of training during the war have shown the benefits of this sort of physical development and discipline given in military camps. Because of her geographical situation, Great Britain needs and will always need the strongest navy in the world. Quite likely the United States should have the second strongest, but the country will not stand for hysteric army and navy programmes devised by recent pacifists, who let the enthusiasm of new converts supplant sound judgment in a policy of adequate preparedness.

TRUTH MUST BE KNOWN

The charge, made by a Democrat in the House of Representatives, that officers who led their commands in all the important battles of the war were set aside about the time the armistice was signed, to make room for promotion of "pets" is a charge that will be investigated either by Congress or by organizations of soldiers after the demobilization has been completed. There were plenty of men in the army who are perfectly capable of conducting an investigation, and of writing history, and the record of the war will not be permitted to do injustice to the men who bore the brunt of the fighting.

THE PAYERS KNOW

Strange, isn't it, that the administration would have the people believe they are to get cheaper telephone and telegraph service under government ownership and yet one state after another is taking legal action to prevent the new and higher rates from going into effect. Why all this protest if the rates are really lower?

"SEE IT THROUGH"

There was no occasion for Secretary of War Baker to deny the rumor that he intended to resign. No one believed it. A few months ago there were a lot of people who would have been glad to have had him resign, but now they would like to have him stay in the cabinet and answer a few pertinent questions regarding the conduct of the war.

ECONOMY EXPENSIVE

Please observe that every government proposal for after-war economy begins with a request for an appropriation. How can you embark on an economy programme without an increased appropriation to do it with?

Now that the whole country is going dry, we suppose that the ladies will be forming Orange Aid Societies and that will be a good thing providing they don't water the stock too much.

THE TURK AS AN IMITATOR

By Booth Tarkington

When the Turks won at the Dardanelles they believed themselves safe to carry out the scheme of exterminating the non-Moslems in their dominions by the example of sciantific Pan-German atrocities in Belgium, they determined upon a Pan-Turanian project with a similar system of planned frightfulness. The Germans not only approved but pointed the way. They instigated, first, the deporting of half a million people from Asia Minor; then the deportation of the Armenians and Syrians, with accompanying atrocities which resulted in the deaths of nearly a million Christians, including all the able-bodied men. The most frightful slaughter of defenceless peoples known in history has ended in the scattering through Asia Minor Palestine, Persia and the Russian Caucasus of four million old men, women and children, starved, broken and diseased. All of these are now accessible and appeal to America for aid. Four hundred thousand are children without fathers, and many are without mothers. If they are not succored at once they will surely die. Then the Turks will have succeeded in the schema they have pursued for years beginning with the "Assassin" Abdul Hamid and ending with the super-assassins, Enver Pasha and Talaat Bey.

The Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief wants Thirty Million Dollars from America. Before 1917 America would not have known how to do that. But going to war has taught us several things, and, among them, How to Give. We must not forget—not while these stricken multitudes are dying.

SERIOUS ICE SHORTAGE PREDICTED AT SOO

Similar Conditions Exist in Many Northern Towns

For the first time in her history Sault Ste. Marie faces possibility of being usafe to harvest natural ice for next summer, says a Soo news item. Not a pound has been stored yet from St. Mary's river and even in the still waters ice is not more than six inches thick. Not only is there no ice, but also an almost total lack of snow on which to haul it if available. Last year by this time in January 10,000 tons of ice had been harvested, the river having been frozen twenty-seven inches deep. Today the ferry boat is plying unhampered between this city and Soo, Ontario.

First M. E. Church

Memorial services in honor of our soldier and sailor dead will be conducted at the First M. E. church next Sunday morning at 10:30. Rev. Henry Candler will deliver a special sermon and the choir will render appropriate music. A cordial invitation is extended to all soldiers who are members of this church or congregation and to others who may not be affiliated with any other church.

The regular session of the Sunday school will be held at 12 o'clock. The business men of the city are invited to attend the men's Bible class which meets at the same hour. There will be memorial services with speeial music at the Barnard M. E. church at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Epworth League extends a hearty invitation to young and old to attend its devotional service at 6 o'clock.

A chorus composed of young people will assist in the evening meeting, also the Sunday school orchestra will play several selections.

Congregational Church

In accordance with Gov. Sleeper's proclamation, next Sunday morning the service will be in the nature of a memorial to the men who gave their lives for freedom and humanity in the Great War. The pastor's sermon will be adapted to the occasion and the choir will sing appropriate music. The Governor's proclamation included a request that everybody wear a bow of white ribbon in memory of those who gave the last full measure of devotion.

A new departure in our Bible school is the recently organized Men's class. The class is under the leadership of Mr. Cross. It meets in the leeture room at the noon hour. Every man not otherwise engaged is cordially invited to attend.

A contest is now in progress in the Young People's Society. This contest is not so much for the purpose of enlisting new members as of increasing the loyalty, regularity and punctunlity of the present members. At all the services of the church a warm, sincere welcome awaits all comers.

HOLD FUNERAL SERVICES FROM HOME

Daath Takes Mrs. Loren Hamlin of Hayes Township

Anna Jericho was born in New Holstein, Wisconsin in 1870, where she resided up to the age of twenty-eight, when she with her parents, moved to their farm in Hayes. She was united in marriage to Loren Hamlin in 1898 at Boyne City. After their marriage they settled on their farm in Hayes where she was living at the time of her death.

Deceased had been suffering from epilepsy for the past four years, which disease caused her death, Tuesday evening, January 28, at 11:15. She is survived by her husband and four children, two girls and two boys, also a number of relatives and friends to mourn their loss. Funeral services will be held from the residence in Hayes, Thursday at 2:00 o'clock. Rev. Rice, of the Baptist church, of which she was a member, officiating. Interment in Brookside cemetery.

FEDERAL PLACE FOR BOYNE CITY MAN

E. W. Abbott Soon to Leave For Washington, D. C.

E. W. Abbott, of Boyne City, for several years land commissioner of the B. C., G & A. railway, has accepted a position with the federal government and leaves this week to assume his new duties at Washington.

The position is a responsible one directly under the supervision of Major Goethala, and has reference to the distribution of lands to soldiers. Mr. Abbott is a recognized authority on soils, and his reputation as a land expert secured for him the position without solicitation on his part.

Mr. Abbott has always been a consistent and loyal booster for Northern Michigan and bears with him the best wishes of his many friends and acquaintances. Mrs. Abbott will join her husband at Detroit, accompanying him to Washington.

It Has Been Said

That with all our greatness as a nation, we are a wasteful, extravagant people; that we do not take advantage of our opportunities as we should, or as we would if we lived in a different country where there were not so many of them. This is not altogether true of our community, although there are people even in our community who could get ahead faster, increase their accumulations by using a systematic plan for laying by a part of their income.

RADISH SEED GROWERS ORGANIZE

Five Associations Already Formed—More to Follow

Five associations of Radish Seed Growers have bean organizad and the growers of Charlevoix county will be asked to come to meetings held in East Jordan and Charlevoix sometime in the nesr future.

The organizations are being furmed for the benefit of the growers and will also be a benefit to the seed companies, as they will not have so many dissatisfied growers if the plans of tbe organizations go through.

The system of paying for and the settlements being made for radish seed is very unsatisfactory to many of the growers and they are asking that a plan be perfected, whereby ths grower will be protected against loss in shipping and storage.

As fast as these associations are organized they olect representatives and these representatives will meet sometime in February at the court house in Bellsire with representatives of the seed companies to lay out plans for the settlement on seed raised this coming season.

Tho growers in the past have been taking all of tbe risk for their seed until it was paid for by the companics, no matter where the seed was stored. Some growers have lost every bag of seed they raised, because the seed house to whom it was sent, storcd it in under other seed, whera it spoiled.

The associations aro not going to ask anything unreasonabls of the seed companies, but will demsnd that some system be put in operation which will protect them when their seed is once delivered at shipping point.

We hope every rsdish grower will bs present at these meetings when they are called, so they msy hear the plans explained.

Postmaster Clow Warns Against Their Transfer

Persons who, through stress of circumstances, need their money, may have it, but the stamps must be taken to the postoffice money order department first and ten days' written notice must be given. This applies to both registered and unregistered stamps. Postmasters are instructed to refrain from paying W. S. S. on which the namo of the purchaser have not been entered, or which have been erssed or changed, since under ths regulations they are not transferable and are payable only to the original holders except in cases of death. Postmasters are also instructed to refrain from paying any W. S. S. presented by persons or firms known to be buying or offering to buy them from the owners. The difficulties into which the government has been plunged by the promiscuous transfer of the W. S. S. is evidenced by the rescindent order of the Third Assistant Postmaster General.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

camp in time to get another bacon and bread layout and the usual liquid. After that you take your knife out of your mess kit and dig up the clay in your tent, spread your blanket over it, an overcoat on top, take off your shoes and leggins, then crawl in and work up a sweat shivering until 5:30 again. We did that for a week, spending a little time each noon to wash in the bay at the water front. One day I was put on a gang to unload oranges, sugar and mincemeat. Needless to say a couple of the crates of oranges broke, a sack of sugar came unsewed, and a keg of mincemeat was accidentally caved in. My luck was with me but that once.

"France is supposed to be up-to-date, but narrow gauge railroads are her pet. The stock cars on these lines are about 20 by 8 feet and carry eight chevals, meaning horses. One evening we struck tents, buried the fire, loaded the stove on a truck and journeyed down to the railroad where they assigned 40 of us with full packs to a car. I put in the time from 5:00 that evening until 2:00 the next afternoon with my head and shoulders on the stomach of a young Italian, my back and hips on my pack and feet up against the wall to form a lean-to, under which the supply sergeant of this battery tried to curl up and rest, his feet across the chest of my bunkie at Brest. We had a couple of spells at meal time to get out and streteb out the kinks, but generally speaking, sardines were over flooded with room to what we were. We had 'E5' beat to a frazzle.

"It ended by us being assigned to a billet about 4:00 o'clock on September 2. My draw was the top of a farmers, blacksmiths, grocerymen, saloon keepers country home. He did the housekeeping in one end of the house downstairs, his wife and daughter had the other two thirds for a wine shop and store. They slept above and we above again by the ladder route.

"The town was called Malestroit. It may not be on your map, but if you follow the coast around the cats lower jaw you will find a little bay and a town of Vannes. Northeast is a place called Ploemels and Malestroit is about 10 kilometers or six miles south. We were here until September 18 and besides a week of standing gun drill did squads east and west and made short hikes. We had a river and were allowed the freedom of the town and all the light wines and cider that we cared to buy. There were some terrible celebrations here caused mostly by 'vin blsnc and vin rouge' plus something with a kick.

"We hiked from Malestroit to the present camp, just eight miles north of the town of Vsnnes mentioned before. It is twenty-two miles by road and we csmped one night on the road arriving at 11:00 tha second day, with 65 pounds of pack right along behind. This camp of Mencon ia an American artillery camp in which we have finished our big gun work on the range. Conditions here are as near like the front as they can be made and everyone has his tin hat on and a gas mask at the alert while in the firing area. In casa of alarm on goes the mask and you keep on firing until permission is given to remove them. Part of the training is firing a problem from a camouflaged gun position construeted by the battery and consisting of underground dugouts and exchanges for telephone lines.

"My work is to help collect data and to do the figuring which mnkes it possible to shoot at one object while aiming at another and the gunner not seeing either, as well as tha officer who gives the commands for firing. In other words the gunner and the commander are hidden in the woods and the person acting as the eyes may be four or five miles off to one side or even the other side of the target from the guns. It is a great game and next to the work of the bureau at Washington ia the most interesting I have ever been into.

"Our firing course was finished a week ago and the whole brigade has been doing full pack hikes for the past week. Full pack hikes mean a move usually, and I expect that when you read this I won't be here at all. I said the brigade had been full packing but that didn't include me. We had a foot ball game a week and three days ago and someone playfully romped across my right leg while the rest of me was under the pile and when I climbed out I found a hole one inch by one-half by one-third in said leg just above the ankle. The infirmary crowd took care of it and I have been doing bunk fatigue ever since. It provided a good chsnce to do literary work and besides doing two weeks washing plus a full canvas equipment and some infantry rifle drill by myself. I have written about ten letters and have two left after this one.

"I mentioned moving back nnd of course this battery hns decided upon some ten or twelve places to move that the war department never dreamed of. One is that we go back to Brest via Malestroit and from there home. Another is that we get our full equipment of trucks and tractors and pull for the front to meet our infantry, and then patrol the border to keep order. The latest is thnt our infantry is now at Saint Nsznire and that we nre to hike the forty miles down there and then across to New York. An army would not be happy without some rumors to arbitrate on. One is that we parade up Pennsylvania avenue in Washington on Christmas day, and that is the best yet. I have chronicled about all the news so will close, Cpl. A. C. Sarasin, Battery A. 8th F. A., American E. F.

Mencon, France.
December 29, 1918.

"Dear Aunt—There are two letters from you here that are awaiting an answer, so will enclose a program of our Christmas festivities and some pictures and views of France.

"It didn't avail the country much that uncle Hugh racked his brain to answer the questionnaire. His Imperial Highness had enough of America's young kids without bringing over the farmers nnd blacksmiths.

"One Sunday on pass, I stepped into a cafe and found a mnn by the name of Alphonse Bushey from Watertown, Maine, who has a bunch of cousins in Newport and vicinity. I wonder if he is any relation to me? Mother wrote that a couple of my third or fourth great uncles had been killed over here and thnt some more were still fighting.

"The yanks have nicknamed the French 'frogs' because of their liking for the legs of said animal fried.

"In the past four weeks we have had three nice days. We are beginning to think that only frogs could live over here. I told a French woman in a grocery store my name and she went and got me a handful of buckwheat. She had me all befuddled until I remembered that mother said that sarasin is French for buckwheat. After I showed signs of intelligence st her little joke we started tha jewish semaphore together with my dilapidated vocabulary francaise and got quite well acquainted. I have been back a few times since and she has taught me French. She has a friend that is younger than herself that is a stenographer and uses an American mada Underwood machine.

"No one knows when we start for home or for Luxemburg so of course I can't say. Then again I want to get a place as stenographer here now that the war is over, and look this side of the pond over. Don't ever expect to get so far away again. American stenographers will be in great demand over here. In fact Paris papers have three and four ads a day for them already.

"I have received the first bunch of papers, but not the second as yet. They come second class and they will doubtless be here soon.

"Had my hands on n fiddle as you will see by the program. Borrowed one from the 79th F. A. next door and carried it right back. I have wanted a fiddle and have been lonesome for one a number of times since coming to France, and that few minutes wns only a tantalization. Have four at home and yet am lonesome for one. Love."

Cpl. A. Sarasin.

Good News For the Housewife

Wartime Flour is a relic of the past!

Delicious, Nutritious, Wholesome White Bread is again on the menu.

How good it tastes!

And how easy it is to make good bread from good flour compared with the effort required to produce just ordinary bread from War Flour.

Of course, we were all perfectly willing to use war flour as a wartime necessity. It helped our boys over there gain the Glorious Victory.

But everybody is delighted to have it all over and mighty proud of the amazing record our own precious America has made.

It is also good news to the particular housewife to know she may again obtain the good old-fashioned, high quality

Lily White

"The flour the best cooks use"

for no better flour has ever been made or sold than LILY WHITE

No flour has ever given the housewife better satisfaction for either bread or pastry baking than LILY WHITE.

There have been mighty few flours that even equalled it.

We are making LILY WHITE in the same old way, exercising just as much care in the selection of grain, being just as particular to see that exactly the right blend of the different varieties of wheat is secured to produce the best flour it is possible to mill.

Your Dealer will cheerfully refund the purchase price if you do not like LILY WHITE FLOUR as well OR BETTER than any flour you have ever used for either bread or pastry baking; in other words, if LILY WHITE does not completely satisfy you for every reuirement of home use.

Be certain to specify you do not want war flour, but the real old time high quality LILY WHITE FLOUR now on sale.

DEATH CLAIMS WELL KNOWN RESIDENT

Miss Averill a Charlevoix Resident for Thirty Years

Death claimed one of the oldest residents of this city Monday night, when Miss Louise Philena Averill passed away at the Meech residence on the north side.

Miss Averill was born August 25, 1830, in Shelbourne, Vermont. Since the time she was a young lady she has made her home with the Meech family, coming to Norwood with them about forty eight years ago and to Charlevoix thirty years ago. Deceased has made many friends during her residence here who, with the family will greatly miss her.

She suffered a fractured hip some time ago and since that time has been gradually failing, a complication of diseases setting in from that time, death claiming her at 9:30 Monday evening. Funeral services were held from the Meech residence at 2:00 o'clock Wednesday. Rev. Candler officiating.

SCHOOL NOTES

Remember the raise in price and bring your two worn dimes, if you are a student, next Friday night. The trip to Harbor Springs cost $30. We must make that on this week's game.

Mr. Loomis is back, and we now have the Army and Navy forever, at the school house.

Tardiness is decreasing, but is still more than it should be.

Mr. Loomis will take modern history, Amerlean history, and one class in Algebra, while his afternoons will be filled up with gymnaslum work for all boys down to and including the fifth grade. Miss Bement will retain the rest of her classes, and take up the supervision of drawing in the grades.

Following is a list of new subjects to be taught next semester: mechanical drawing and art elass, Miss Bement; practieal biology, Miss Stevenson; advanced sewing, Miss Dimmock; vocations, instruetor unknown; commercial geography and business methods by Miss Lombard; solid geometry, trigonometry, algebra II, by Mr. Aseltine. Some of these will take the place of other half year subjects, others will be additions to the present schedule. The mechanical drawing and art are a new departure for the schools here.

A quarter credit will be given for the new compulsory gymnasium work, and it is expected that the development given their muscles in a systematic manner at the gym will help devolp their minds, ns it will give them the necessary foundation.

The disappointment caused by the annodncement that Mrs. Booth could not fill her engagement here was nearly balanced by the knowledge that the next number follows so closely. It is to be hoped that some one can be obtained to fill in the gap between this and the next one.

IS MEMBER OF GIRLS GLEE CLUB

Charlevoix Represented in Alma Musical Organization

A report comes from Alma that a Charlevoix girl, Beatrice Harrington, is a member of the Alma College Girls Glee Club. The Glee Club is working on a program to be given on a trip during the spring vacation.

Activities in the music department of Alma College will be increased during the second semester on account of the demobilization of the Students' Army Training Corps. The Men's Glee Club will resume its activities, and the Choral Club is planning to give a concert the latter part of February at which Henry Smart's "King Rene's Daughter" will be given. Altogether the prospects are good for a successful spring season.

W. C. T. U. MEET FRIDAY

Judge S. A. Correll to Talk on "The Ballot"

The next meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Usher on Clinton street, Friday afternoon, January 31st.

Judge Correll will speak on "The Ballot" and Mrs. Armstrong on "Registration." Everyone most cordially invited. Come and learn about your duties and privileges as an American citizen.

Notice

A public meeting of the women of the city and vicinity will be held in the assembly room of the High School building on Monday, February 3rd, next, at 3:45 p. m., for an open discussion of civic nffairs and matters pertaining to elections and registration. It is proposed to secure the presence of some person capable of supplying any required information concerning registration and elections generally. It is earnestly desired that all women of the city and vicinity attend, and they are cordially invited to do so. It is believed that the meeting will prove interesting and instructive.

Dated, January 25, 1919.

Signed, Committee.

Our Homeland

The years through which the world has just passed, have called upon the people in every land to give of the very best they had to give. As time moves on, and history claims these years, individuals will look back, and begin to ask themselves, "What was my part?" "What did I do to help make the world a safe place for peoplo and all living things? Did I do my part to keep the homeland at 100 per eent valuo?"

We have learned how to give our money, and how to give our time to make others comfortable through the Red Cross work. We have learned much of the conservation of food and other neeessities of our daily living, but have we thought as much of the preservation of our wild life as we should? Does the boy who carries a gun stop and ask himself what he is doing and why? There has been no exemption for the youth or the boy in the government's appeal for help and loyalty from its citizens. Perhaps if this gunner boy would stop and ask himself "Is this my part in making the world safe?" he would begin to see things from a different standpoint. He might even begin to lova the wild things, and awaken to the benuty and usefulness of the wild life about him, and thus, to the desire to preserve and protect it for the homeland.

Birds are one of nature's greatest gifts, and Federal Migratory Bird Protection is now a law. When our feathered friends begin to return to us with the coming of Spring, will not each boy nppoint himself a committee of one to see thnt this law is enforced?

Certain of our Michigan laws in regard to unlawful hunting are as follows: Act. 275, Sec. 3.—No person shall hunt with firearms or dogs or in any other manner, in any public park at any time." Aet 275, sec. 14—No person shall kill, catch or have in possession any wild non-game bird, living or dead, or purchase, sell offer or expose for sale, any such wild, non-game bird after it has been killed or eaught, exeept as permitted by this aet,....; and no person shall take or destroy the eggs of any wild bird, either game or non-game, or have in possession, except as permitted by law."

Just a word here regarding the bounty laws for English sparrows. "Act 226, Sec. 1—Every person being an inhabitant of this state, who shall kill an English sparrow in any organized township, village or city in this stste, during the months of December, January or February of each year, shall be entitled to receive a hounty of two cents for each sparrow thus killed....

Only three months in the year can the Sparrow be killed, and does the boy who is after English sparrows really know this bird from others of this family, viz: Redpolls and Snow Buntings, who visit us during these winter months?

There is penalty for fraud as follows: "Act 226, Sec. 4—Any person who collects or attempts to collect any bounty under the provisions of this Act, on any bird other than the English sparrows shall be decmed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one dollar nor more than ten, or by imprisonment in the county jail....

A few weeks ago, I saw a beautiful male Pine Grosbeak which had been the victim of a gun. His mate had been shot and killed, and he was left beside her with one leg helpless and one wing shattered, so badly injured that he had to be killed. These Pine Grosbeaks are our lovliest winter visitors from the Northland.

Let us learn to be good soldiers in the reconstruction work that is now before us, and fight for the preservation of our birds and other wild life, as we have for our own. Our land is their land, and they have rights and interests in common with ours. Better acquaintance with our birds will make us love and treasure them, as one of our greatest assets.

"The birds that make sweet music for us all
In our dark hours—as David did for Saul."

Unto the Great

We are stunned! We are shocked!
What words can be said?
The soldier, the statesman,
The leader is dead.
Many times in the past
Such thrills we have felt
By the brave ringing words
Of great Roosevelt.

We are receiving many compliments on the work being turned out from our paint room. If your auto needs painting, see us at once. Benj. Brown. 5tf

VOLUME 27. NUMBER 6. EIGHT PAGES CHARLEVOIX, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1919. PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

DETAILED ROAD PLAN IS READY

HOW $50,000,000 WILL BE SPENT IF VOTED

Rep. Frank B. Aldrich to Ask Law Putting Undertaking Up to Highway Commission

Machinery by which trunk line highways will be built in Michigan, if the $50,000,000 bond issue is approved by a majority on April 7, is provided in a bill introduced in the house of representatives at Lansing by Representative Frank B. Aldrich, Cheboygan county.

It provides that all trunk line highways established under the original trunk line act (Act 334 P. A. 1917) shall hereafter be constructed maintained and improved in accordance with provisions of the Aldrich bill, under direction, supervision and control of the state highway commission.

He is directed to make surveys and propsr plans and speeifications and to take charge of the construction and maintenance.

For the purpose of securing a more direct location a change in any line may be made if agreed upon hy the commissioner and the board of county road commissioners, if a county road, or by him and the good roads district commissioners if under control of such a board, or by him and the township board if it is a township road.

The cost of constructing, improving and maintaining state trunk line highways is to be met in part by the state and in part by the county good road district or township under provisions of a graduated scalc. If the road is a county road the cost to be paid by the county board shall be determined as follows:

Valuation Per Trunk Lins Mile.	Per cent to be Paid by County.
Less than $50,000	10
$50,000 to $75,000	15
$75,000 to $100,000	20
$100,000 to $150,000	25
$150,000 to $200,000	30
$200,000 to $300,000	35
$300,000 to $400,000	40
$400,000 to $500,000	45
More than $500,000	50

All the remainder, that is from 10 per cent to 50 per cent, shall be paid by the state out of any monoys in the state highways fund not otherwise uppropriated.

The vulunlion per trunk line mlle, the bill states, "shall be determined by dividing the equalized valuation of such county, by its allotted trunk line mileage, computed on the basis of the number of surveyed townships in said county," in accordance with the original trunk line law. Like percentages and computations of valuations are provided for townships and good roads districts.

Counties, townships and districts are authorized to raise money by taxation or by issuance of bonds in accordance with the general highway law for building state trunk line roads.

Contracts and agreements providing for the constructing, maintenance and improvement of roads, between the state highway commissioner and boards of such territories, are expressly authorized by the bill.

The portion of the cost of any road jointly built under terms of the proposed law, shall be deposited by the township, district or county must be deposited with the state treasurer, to be credited to the specific road project, which shnll be paid out only for such purposes on order of the commissioner, as the work progresses.

If any county, district or township refuses or negleets to carry out terms of any contract with the state commissioner, or refuses or neglects to enter into sueh an agreement or refuses or negleets to pay its due share of the cost the highway commissioner may give notiee to the board that it is his intention to proceed with the work. On receipt of the notice, which must specify the road, give its charaeter if to be built or improved, or maintenance necessary in his opinion, and contain an estimate of the cost, the county, township or district board must submit the matter to the next meeting of the board of supervisors.

The supervisors must direct the spreading of the highway tax for the road. The township board must give notice to the electors of the township at the next annual meeting.

Tho state highway commissioner is given the option of awaiting the raising of the fund or proceed with the work, defraying expenses out of state highway funds. If this money is not paid by the county, township or district within one year, interest at five per cent shall ba pald.

If any county, township or district neglects or refuses to raise the proportion of expenses chargeable to it, all state reward monay that may be earned or be payable to such county, township or district shall be withhold as long as the delinquency exists.

Provision is made that the county township or district may contract with the state commission for the payment of its respective portion on the condition that the amount to be paid over each year shall not be less than one mill on the assessed valuation, according to the roll of the last year. All such deferred paymenta draw interest at five per cent.

If the electors of any township fail or refuse to vote the necessary funds, it shall be the duty of the township board to order the collection of such tax as may be necessary. If the township board or the supervisors of the county neglect or refuse to perform any duty imposed by the bill, an action of mandamus may be instituted by the attorney general on relation of the highway commissioner, to compel compliance.

Township, county and district boards are authorized and required to provide for a system of proper maintenanee of trunk lines subject to their jurisdiction, which system shall be subject to the state commissioner. He is authorized to withhold state reward money for refusal to establish such a system. Any board

IN HONOR OF DEPARTED ONES

MEMORIAL SERVICES HELD AT M. E. CHURCH

Service Flag of Church Contains Forty-four Stars, Including Three Golden Stars

The memorial service held at the Methodist Episcopal church last Sunday morning in honor of those who sacrificed their lives on the altar of Liberty in the Great War, was attended by a congregation that tnxed the seating capacity of the spacious nuditorium.

The service flag of the church which contains forty-four stars was rendered doubly sacred by three golden stars telling of the supreme sacrifice made hy Private George A. Croutar, Corporal Leslie Shapton and Lieutenant Dean Scroggie. The service was beautiful throughout. The church choir sung Alfred Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar," aad Chas. Hamlin rendered a very beautiful solo.

H. L. Oldham contributed floral decorations of carnations and roses which, at his request, were placed on the graves of the soldier dead at the close of the service.

The memorial address was delivered by the pastor, Rev. Henry Candler, whose elosing words were a quotation from an address delivered at the grave of George A. Crouter last September by A. H. Vandenberg:

"Forewell, Private George A. Crouter, Corporal Leslie Shapton and Lieutenant Dean Scroggie! Your country salutes you with its tears! Forewell, brave lads. Your neigbors salute you with their deathless love! Farewell, until the great reunion!"

CITY HAS REMARKABLE DEATH RATE

But Thirteen Deaths From July 1918 to January 1919

During the period eovering from July 1918 to January 1919 but thirteen deaths have taken place in Charlevoix, one of these being a suicide case.

Of the thirteen, the oldest was 80 years of age, and the youngest 46, except the suicide, whose age was 25 years. This is a remarkable record, taking into consideration the number of deaths in the county and state from Spanish influenza. No record of death by this disease has been recorded in the city.

During the same period, July-January, there has been 25 births, or but one less than double the number of deaths.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR SOLDIER BOYS NOW IN THE SERVICE

Pvt. Walter Mitchell Writes From Toul, France—Walter Mitchell with Hospital Unit—Louis F. Evers in Lussac, France—Edw. Potter Now at Namedy, Germany

From Pvt. Walter Mitchell

Toul, France,
December 29, 1918.

"Dear Sister—It is a long tima ainee I have had a letter from home, but am looking for one soon. I am well and feeling fine and hopo that every one at home is the same.

"I had a letter from Joe, but he did not say what place he was in. I answered the letter right away, but have not heard from him since. It takes about as long to get a letter from him as it does to get one from home.

"I received my Christmas box and it was in good condition. The cake was in fine shape, did not even have a crumb broken off. I waa real glad to get it as it did taste so good.

"We had a good dinner Christmas and lots of it. Santa Claus did not forget us, as the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross gave us paekages with lots of good things in them. The only thing that seemed funny to me was to have Christmas without snow, but it has snowed a little since.

"We have had lots of rain, but very little eold weather so far, and they say that it does not get as eold here as it does in Michigan and I hope that it doesn't for my part.

"Our company has been working up near St. Michel along the old Hindenburg line and it sure is a sight o tsee how they had their dugouts fixed up. They had electric lights in them and fixed up like parlors.

"On one hill near St. Michel they built some of the prettiest houses, covered on the outside with rustic work and the inside was papered and varnished and they sure looked fine. The furniture was all hand made, but it looked as though it had come out of a factory. The entrance to the dugouts at this place was either just outside the door or they could go into them from the inside of the houses. I have no idea when I will be back to the stntes, but am in hopes that it will be soon. Love to all and save some apples for me."

Pvt. Walter Mitchell, Co. B, 115 Field Signal Bn., A. E. F., France.

Lussac, France,
January 10, 1919.

"Dear Sister—Just n few lines to let you know that I am well. In my last letter I said that we were about to move, but somehow or other we are still in the same old place. I don't believe anything that I hear any more and only half what I see. When they get rendy to move us back you will see me and then you will know that I am coming.

"I suppose that it is getting real cold in Northern Michigan now. We are in southern Fronce and it never gets very cold and never snows very much. They have a lot of rain and mud and that is about all we have had for the past month or two here. We bave a pretty good place to stay but some of the boys are sleeping in pup tents near Bordeaux and they say that it gets real cold sometimes.

"How is everything in Charlevoix? I suppose it is as dead as it ever is this time of the year.

"I have not received any mail in a long time. I suppose they are holding it until we get back to the states.

"There are a lot of boys that are marrying over here lately. I am not married yet, but if I had to stay here for any length of time I might change my mind.

"Well I do not know of anything else to write about so will close for now."

Louis F. Evers, Hdq. Co., 69th C. A. C., A. E. F. Franee.

From Joe Mitchell

Franee, December 22, 1918.

"Dear Sister—Well I suppose you are beginning to think that I think that now the war is over I do not have to write as often as I have been, which has not been any too often I will admit. I have a good exeuse this time. Writing paper where we are is about as scarce as hen's teeth and this is the first I have had in over a week. I did beg enough to write to Gladys once last week and went about six miles to get this, and then only got enough to write three letters with one sheet to a letter.

"We are located in a very out of the way place and a long way from a Y. M. C. A. and it is hard to get writing paper or anything else.

"I had a letter from Walt and we are not very far apart, but do not expect that it will be our good luck to see each other unless it is by accident as they do not let us travel on visiting trips over here.

"I received my Christmas box last night and that cake sure was fine. It was the first I have had of anything like that since I left home, and after living on corn beef and army bread for five months, well I can taste the cake yet. When I get back am coming to see you and sponge a living for about a month and the way I feel now I think it will take that long for me to get filled up, so have a good supply on hand. All I expect to do is eat and sleep and when you get tired of feeding me all you will have to do is to show me a can of corn beef and I will hunt a new boarding place. Love to all."

Joe Mitchell, 332 Field Hospital, Hdq. 5th Army Corps, A. P. O. 769, American E. F.

From Louis F. Evers

From Ed. Potter

December 25, 1918.

"My dear Brother—This is Christmas day and it seems kind of hard to spend it on the Rhine. It snowed last night for the first time to amount to anything. The ground is covered and the trees look like we have seen them in Michigan.

"We are in a little town by the name of Namedy, maybe you can find it on the map, it is on the river.

"Had a letter from you the other day and was certainly glad to hear from home. I think that it was only the second time I have heard from you. Also got some letters from Harry, but do not know what his address is now. If he isn't at home he must he in the hospital. There was another set of brothers in this company and one of them was killed. The shell that killed this fellow is the one that knocked Harry down. We were going through a little town when that happened. I have seen so much of that stuff I guess I would sooner think of something else.

"I do not know when I will be back, maybe some time this winter, and it cannot be any too soon to suit me. Am glad we will have a chance to see each other again, it could have been so much worse.

"How are all the folks. Tell them I have a good place here. We live in a house, two families are living here, and another fellow and myself have a room by ourselves. We have a stove, table, bed and two chairs. The owner of the house puts a fire in the stove every morning and keeps it during the day. He brought us cake and coffee this morning and the young couple gave us two plates of apples and cake, and also two cigars each. The Germans use the soldiers very good. If I have to stay here all winter I hope to stay in this place.

"The weather is much colder than it was two weeks ago. The ground is frozen and some snow. We are not drilling now, just guard duty. I will have to go out again Friday. With best wishes to all,

December 30, 1918.

"Dear Brother—It is nearly New Years and I am still here. I just received your letter dated October 24. You wrote about Harry being dead. Had not heard o fit but was a little afraid of it as I had not heard from him. He was wounded in the leg, but something else must have set in as a wound in the leg is not considered very serious. I talked with a fellow that carried him to the first aid station. He was carried there on a door and probably had to wait quite a while before being cared for. It is so hard to believe that he is dead, and it seems hard not to have him here, although I am getting a little used to it now. He was wounded on Hill 92.

"I received the Christmas package that father sent me. It certainly seemed good to get something from home.

"We have started to drill again. It does us more good than to lay around like we have been doing. One gets so lazy. I am afraid that I will be so lazy I won't want to work when I get home. With best wishes,

Edward Potter, Co. I., Seventh Infantry.

HOW OLD PLEASE? JUST TWENTY-ONE

Women of Charlevoix Register From All Wards

A total of 203 women have registered at the office of the city clerk up to noon, Tuesday, registrations from tho three wards being as follows:

First ward, 29.
Second Ward, 119.
Third ward, 55.

Curious men who have been hoping that when women commenced to register for the right to vote they would learn the answer to the riddle "How old is Ann?" are foredoomed to disappointment.

A study of rules for registering which are a part of the women suffrage amendment adopted at the last election, has brought to light the fact that fair folk who want their names put down on the registration books as qualified voters, have only to state that they are 21 years of age, or will be at least 21 by election day. If inquisitive clerks make inquiries beyond this, it is pointed out they will be laying themselves open to severe rebuff.

All of the political parties within the states as well as women's organizations, have joined in an appeal to the women of Michigan to make use at the coming eleetion of the privilege granted them last November, when the suffrage amendment was adopted.

It was feared that misunderstanding about the age question might keep some individuals from registering—which would mean that it would also prevent them from voting.

MANY POINTS WERE EXPLAINED

CHARLEVOIX WOMEN MEET TO DISCUSS BALLOT

Assembly Room at High School Filled to Capacity by Those Seeking Mystery of the Ballot

The man who carries the idea in his head that Charlevoix women will not exercise their right to vote at the spring primary and election had better change his views, especially if he is an aspirant for office. Monday afternoon's meeting in the assembly room of the Charlevoix high school fully demonstruted this fact. The room was filled to capacity with women eager to learn the mysteries of the ballot, and they showed not the least embarrasment in asking questions concerning the "what and how" of the performance of their privilege.

Mrs. Harry Nicholls called the meeting to order and after a few remarks as to its object, called on a number who had prepared for the occasion. The following subjects were ably handled:

Mrs. R. B. Armstrong, "Registration and Citizenship."

Mrs. Ira Adams, "The Primaries."

Mrs. H. P. Hansen, "County Officers, Salaries and County Representative."

Miss Hazel Gilmartin, "The Australian Ballot."

Mrs. Brayton Saltonstall, "The Temperance Question of Today."

Miss Minnie Payton, "U. S. Senator and Representative, What They Stand for, and When Terms of Office Expire."

The discussions showed that each speaker had made a thorough study of the topic alloted them, and many points not understood were made clear. At the close of the meeting City Attorney A. L. Fitch was called upon to answer any question that might not have been made clear.

It is the intention of the ladies to hold another meeting of a like nature at a later date.

Sells Fancy Poultry

Last week E. J. Hiller made a shipment of ten Barred Rock pullets to Bert Morgan of Petoskey. This is the second shipment made by Mr. Hiller during the winter, and about cleans him out of salable stock other than what he desires to keep for breeding purposes. Hiller's Barred Rocks have the reputation of being about the best in this part of the state, as his sales will testify.

BANQUET CLOSES WITH AMERICA

12TH ANNUAL EVENT HELD SATURDAY LAST

Shakespeare Study Club Banquet Leading Social and Literary Event of the Season

The table decorations carried out in gold were beautiful, with a hollow court of ferns, flowers and lights. Numbers of yellow candlea in brass candle sticks cast a soft glow over all and the beautiful gowns added color.

Charming young daughters of tha club, who were the Misses Catherine and Margaret Fitch, Jean and Margaret Swinton and Phila Armstrong aerved effieiently. Bruce Armstrong furnished the piano music during the evening.

Mesdames Auld, Priest and Fitch were the able committee, who directed with the assistance and usual care and interest given by Mrs. Bartlett.

Programma

Greeting ... Pres., Mrs. H. S. Harsha
"Your Honor is Most Welcome—Othello.
Toast Mistress .... Mrs. J. L. Crane.
"Her Words Do Show Her Wit Uncomparable"—Henry VI.
Piano Solo ..... Mrs. A. A. Swinton
"She Taketh Most Delight in Music Instruments"—Taming of the Shrew.
Bubbles ..... Mrs. Earl Young
"Seeking the Bubble Reputation Even in the Cannon's Mouth"—As You Like It.
Parlezvous Francais, Miss Phila Armstrong.
"There's language in Her Eye, her Cheek, her Lip, Nay, Her Foot Speaks"—Troilus and Cressida.
Our Guests ... Mrs. R. W. Paddock.
"O, What May Man Within Him Hide, tho Angel on the Outward Side"—Measure for Measure.
To the Ladies .. Mr. W. E. Hampton
"O, Most Delicate Fiend—Who Is't Can Read a Woman"—Measure for Measure.
Finale—
"Let War Breed Peace, Let Peace Stint War"—Timon of Athens.

The program was full of originality, wit and surprises. The president Mrs. H. S. Harsha, after her gracious welcome, mentioned our absent members and her talk of the status of women called forth applause. She then introduced the toast mistress, Mrs. J. L. Crane, who fulfilled all expectations to the grent plensure of all present. Mrs. Crane first gava a toast to our boys in service and returned, ten from this club having been in service, four still remaining in service. This received hearty applause.

Mrs. Swinton's piano solo was rendered in her own inimitable style to the enjoyment of all.

Mrs. Earl Young, a daughter and now a member of the club, responded to her toast in a very original manner, blowing bubbles, or rather complimenta for each one present.

Miss Phila Armstrong gave a very clever impersonation in song and dance.

Mrs. Paddock began her response to our guests in her usual jolly manner, but was soon saying rather pointed things to the men and challenged them to refute them if they could, when to the surprise of all Mr. Hampton, who was to speak later, arose and in original verse took the men's part. Then followed a spirited and witty debate in rhyme creating much fun as reminiscences of the past thirteen years of the club were brought up. It ending by Mr. Hampton giving her the last word after having asked the men to stand and drink to the ladies. Mrs. Paddock's last words were then praise for the husbands.

Tableaux by the program committee, Mrs. Armstrong as Liberty, Mrs. Mayne as Y. M. C. A. worker, Mrs. Hampton, Red Cross nurse and the army and navy represented by sons of the club, Lieut. Hampton and Robert Bridge.

The singing of "America" by all closed an evening which was enjoysd the more because all social affairs had been given up during the war.—Contributed.

Give This Bill a Boost

Only full American eitizens—that is those who have taken out final citizenship papers, will be permitted to vote in Michigan, if a constitutional amendment introduced in the house of representatives, Wednesday afternoon by Representative Fred L. Warner, Ionia county, is made a part of the basic law of the state. His amendment would strike out the words which permit holders of first papers to vote in Michigan.

CORRESPONDENCE

HAYES

Don't forget to register at the Township Clerk's office.

Mr. Wightman was haling hay for Will McNally last week.

We notice that Dr. Frank Wilkinson of Charlevoix has returned home.

Dee Sneathen and family spent Sunday with Lee Sneathen and family.

Mrs. Eva Scott from Detroit came last week to visit her parents and friends.

The finest of weather for cutting waod and buzz poles. We will have snow yet this month.

Mrs. Emma Petoskey af Petoskey returned home Monday, called here by the death of her sister, Mrs A. Hamlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson lost their oldest girl last week. She had the flue, followed with spinal meningitis.

Mr. Tyndall returned to Chicago last week Wednesday, after spending several weeks visiting his daughter. Mrs. Ile Sneathen.

Mr and Mrs. Platt Webster visited their son Floyd and wife last Tuesday and brought their grandson back with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Webster and baby are staying with his parents for a few days. They are all better after having the flu.

Miss Esther Radle and Mrs. Ed. Mock of Detroit returned home Monday called here by the death of their mother and aunt, Mrs. Anna Hamlin.

BARNARD

Andy Klooster returned from Camp Custer the latter part of last week.

Clyde Smith recently purchased a valuable Guernsey animal from the Nicholl's stock farm.

The ladies of West Marion are requested to register at the Barnard Grange hall on Thursday afternoon.

The memorial service on Sunday was well attended. The pastor gave a fine, patriotic discourse which interested every one present.

Mrs. Ed. Potter received word from her husband last week, the first since November. He is well and stationed in Germany with the army of occupation. He is fully recovered from his wound and right on the job again.

Our school is progressing finely under Mrs. Flagg's able leadership. They are beginning some new contest work in arithmetic and orations, also doing Red Cross work, so that all are kept busy. The mild weather has been a great help to the attendance.

MOUNTAIN DISTRICT

Mr. and Mrs. Bearss spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas.

J. P. Seiler purchased a Holstein cow from the Stewart farm last week.

Mr. Thompson, who was quite ill with pneumonia, is better at this writing.

Mr. Balch of Kalamazoo spent the week in the vicinty looking nfter his farm on the lake shore.

The number of War and Thrift Stamps awned by the pupils bought during 1918 amounts to $139 present value.

The next meeting of the Literary Society will be held at the Seiler home on Wednesday, February 12. Everyone welcome.

Registration day for the ladies on this side of the lake was on last Thursday at the Gleaner Hall. Quite a number of ladies registered.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Nowland skated up on the ice from Charlevoix and spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Coblentz.

In Current Event class, which is on Friday, in which the entire school joins in during one period and gives the events of the week, one student gave the following: "Benj. Brown purchased a carload of Overlands last week."

MAPLE GROVE SCHOOL NOTES

All grades were reviewing last week.

Norah Webster was at school Friday.

Ruth and Ella Pant are with us again.

Harriet Burke is still absent from school.

Ethel Monty has returned after several days absence.

We are in hopes to soon have our new arithmetic chart.

Katherine and Elsie Sneathen returned ta school Monday.

Mrs. Frank Sneathen's sister from California visited our school Friday.

We find much valuable information in "Our Country's Call to Service," also the new "Directory."

Roll of honor for this week: Custer Howe, Willie Ferris, Ruby Webster, Hilda Wightman, Cora Howe, Mable Howe, Elsie Sneathen, Katherine Sneathen, Ruth Pant, Ella Pant.

GONE FOR GOOD

Results That Last Are What Appeal to Charlevoix People

Kidney sufferers in Charlevoix want more than temporary relief.

They want results that last—

Results like Mrs. Cowan tells about.

Her's was a thorough test.

Five years is a long time.

Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test and stood it well.

Why experiment with an untried medicine?

People here in Charlevoix have shown the way.

Read the story of Mrs. W. L. Cowan, 210 Antrim St. She says: "I suffered from a severe backache and pains across my kidneys. The action of my kidneys was irregular, also. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Metcalf's Drug Store, fixed me up in good shape."

FIVE YEARS LATER Mrs. Cowan said: "Since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble, I have recommended them to many people. Doan's Kidney Pills certainly are worthy of endorsement."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills— the same that Mrs. Cowan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

"LIFE"

For the Sake of Variety

Variety is the spice of life,
Go into the remotest lands;
Society has deemed it thus,
So you'll find it in every clime.

For the sake of colors odd,
Men will watch the sunset's glow;
Or the lake—it's mirrored face,
When the breeze has died away.

Fine a shore of gray or brown,
Wet with listless monotone;
"What abore," somcone will say,
"Let us seek variety."

I have found that daily verse
Wished upon you every day,
Runs aground if, with a spoon,
Dished up lacking pep and spice.

Oft' I said I'll make a change,
Time my verse some other way,
And instead of final sounds,
Rhyme the first words of each line.

A Young Man's Fancy

In the springtime a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, so it is said. Abolish a young man's faney. No good comes of it. It keeps his mind off his work and makes him spend his money on foolish trifles. Besides it never leads to anything.

* * * * *

Red Neckties Are Dangerous

Abolish red neckties. They indicate a peculiar strain in a man's personality in the first place and this must be stamped out. Their elimination will preclude the low humor which emanates therefrom, such as "Your nose is bleeding," "Your chest is blushing," etc. Red neckties stand directly in the path of progression.

* * * * *

Golf

By all means do away with golf. It is an insidious and habit-forming game. It's evils are widespread. It divorces a man from his family from May until October; it is the cause of more late dinners than any other one thing. It lends to profanity and an utter waste of that most essential commodity—rubber. For the love of sanity, abolish this social monster.

* * * * *

Street Cars

Next in the path of progression. The poor man's club has moved from the back room of the saloon to the back platform of the street car. It causes fomentation. It provides material for those constitutionally opposed to public aervice corporations. Walking is much more healthy. Man was made to walk; never to ride on hideous, electrically propelled contraptions. Abolish street cars and enjoy the pure ozone from heaven sent.

* * * * *

Short Skirts

Need more be said. Abolish them by all means. Abolish them in the interests of the optic nerves of future generations. Science has proved that short skirts cause more eye strain than any other indirect cause. Inasmuch as legislation is powerless to adjust the direct cause it will have to become effectual through the indirect cause. Do away with the short skirt so that man's vision may be clesrer and lifted to the skies.

Mrs. Charles Hass is reported seriously ill nt her home south of Clarion.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shepard of Petoskey called on friends at Walloon Lake on Monday.

Mrs. Lynn Clark, Mrs. Frank Hime and Mrs. James Milne were in Petoskey on Saturday.

J. E. Weaver, who had been visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. W. G. Wener, returned Saturday to New York.

A party was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dodgson. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

An Epworth League has been organized here with Miss Irma Tubbs as president and Mr. Frank Regan as vice president.

Miss Linn Brown, nurse at Petoskey hospital, spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Brown of Walloon Lake.

EVELINE

Bad colds seem to be the order of the day.

Skating and automobiling are getting popular again.

Farmer's club met Friday night with a good attendance. A good program was rendered including an account by Private Coblentz af his trip to France. Program also included a debate which was very hotly contested. It was voted to hold meetings every two weeks instead of the first and third Friday night af each month. We now have a very live bunch of officers and some good meetings may be looked for.

If Lincoln Lived Today

Again would he speak those now famous words:

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in."

This is the spirit which America has taken across the seas to the battle-field and to the conferences around the peace table.

As evidenced by Lincoln's words and deeds it served ed America in the days after the Civil War.

This same spirit in triumph will save the shattered world today.

STATE'S HARBORS MAY GET AID

$1,021,000 LIKELY TO BE APPORTIONED

Recommendation in the Senate More Generous Than in the House Bill

Michigan rivers and harbors, including the ship canal connecting the great lakes with the ocean, will receive appropriations aggregating $1,021,000 during the next fiscal year, according to recommendations of the senate commerce committee. Most of the projects are treated more generously than in the rivers and harbors bill as passed by the house.

Amounts allowed for maintenance of important harbors are increased from $42,700 to $104,500. Harbors affected by this item are St. Joseph harbor and river, Grand river, Saugatuck harbor and Kalamazoo river, South Haven, Holland, Grand Haven, Muskegon, White lake, Pentwater, Ludington, Manistee, Portage lake, Arcadia, Frankfort, Charlevoix and Patoskey harbors. The amounts for these harbors are not itemized in the bill. Alpena harbor is to be completed according to the existing plans at a cost of $67,500. An item of $5,000 is included for maintenance of Mackinac, Cheboygan, Rogers City, Alpena, Harbor Beach and Monroe harbors and Saginaw, Black, Clinton and Rouge rivers.

Most ambitious of the improvements is the ship canal connecting the great lakes which calls for an outlay of $844,000. This includes deepening of certain portions of the waterway between Chicago, Duluth and Buffalo, including St. Mary's river, St. Clair river, channels in Lake St. Clair and Detroit river; completing the improvement of Grosse Point channel, Lake St. Clair and the Livingston channel in the Detroit river.

Grand Marais, Marquette, Ontonagon, Keweensw Waterway and the Duluth-Superior harbor are to share with certain Wisconsin projects an item of $230,000 for maintenance and completion of projects.

To the Voters of Charlevoix County

I am a candidate for renomination for the office of school commissioner at the primaries March 5th. If nominated and elected I shall endeavor to show my appreciation to the voters of the county by faithful service continued throughout my term of office.

A New Spirit of Good Will

Thanks to the opportunity given it by the War Department at home and abroad, a new spirit of good will has grown up around Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

Wherever soldiers meet, this car is spoken of in terms of admiration and even affection.

Soldiers grow to love the tools and weapons and implements that serve them.

They admire especially the inanimate thing that shows grit and endurance in a tight place.

That is American—and that is the American soldier in particular—and that is the sort of glory being woven around Dodge Brothers Motor Car.

There will always be associated with it the remembrance of the work it did in the world war in army service on both sides of the ocean.

Thousands of American soldiers are coming back now from the camps in America and the battle-front in France, telling how well that work was done.

They are telling it to their fathers and mothers, their worshipping small brothers, their sisters, their sweethearts and their friends.

It is the central figure in many a stirring story told about the family fire-place.

To many a white-haired American mother it means something more, as it goes by, than just a motor car.

She links it, somehow, with what her own boy did, with what America did, and with what America stands for.

Dodge Brothers are proud that theirs was the one car of its type and class chosen by the War Department.

They are prouder still that it has been taken into the hearts and homes of the American people.

The old folks, and the little folks who don't forget, are spreading a leaven of good will which will endure for years to come.

Dodge Brothers cherish this new spirit of good will which has come out of the world war as their most valued possession.

Detecting Malingerers.

The discovery of a Dutch physician that sudden sounds may cause the pupil of the eye to dilate momentarily is suggested as a novel method of detecting malingerers claiming to be totally deaf. Placed in a strong light, the subject is told to look at some distant object and, as the examiner's assistant calls off in a loud voice a number of well separated words—such as "Attention!" and "Forward march!"—the effect on the pupils can be clearly seen.

LEGAL NOTICES

MORTGAGE SALE

Default has been made in the payment of the money secured by a certain mortgage bearing date the 12th day of May, in the year 1915, executed by Earl A. Young, singleman, as mortgagor, to Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias of Michigan, as mortgagee, which mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, on the 12th day of May, 1915, in Liber 51 of Mortgages on page 27, and

The amount claimed to be due on said mortgage for principal and interest on the date of this notice is the sum of Two Thousand Seven Hundred Fifty-Seven and Seventy one-hundredths dollars ($2757.70) together with the further sum of Thirty-five dollars ($35) as an attorney fee provided for in said mortgage, and no suit at law or other proceedings have been instituted to recover the said debt or any part thereof, and the power of sale contained in said mortgage having become operative.

Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the said power of sale and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described, at public auction to the highest bidder, at the East front door of the Court House in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, on Saturday the 26th day of April, 1919, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

The premises are described in said mortgage as follows:

The lands and premises situated in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan, viz: commencing at the Southwest corner of Lot Seven (7) of Block Six (6) of said City of Charlevoix according to the original plat thereof of record in the office of the Registar of Deeds of said County of Charlevoix; thence North Fifty-nine and one-half (59½) feet; thence East Ninety-nine (99) feet; thence South Fifty-nine and one-half (59½) feet; thence West Ninety-nine (99) feet to the place of beginning. Being a part of said Lot Seven of Block Six.

Dated, January 28th, 1919.

HEALTH SUNDAY

The appeal of Surgeon General Rupert Blue to the churches to set aside Sunday, Feb. 23, as "Health Sunday," will undoubtedly be widely observed, particularly by those ministers who recognize the gravity of the social problem presented by demobilization. The campaign for a clean nation, which Surgeon General Blue is carrying on, backed by President Wilson and the principal members of his cabinet, depends on law enforcement; on provision being made for all who are found to be infected with venereal disease, on intelligent, humane and careful guidance and treatment of the women who through immoral practices have been the chief spreaders of the venereal disease and on education.

In this phase of the campaign the pulpit can be immeasely helpful. The people must be urged to make themselves acquainted with the facts. Through the U. S. public health service all the facts are made available to every responsible citizen. In his appeal, Surgeon General Blue senses part of the difficulty of dealing with these matters from the pulpit; but, at the same time, he shows the way out. He says:

"While it may seem always expedient to discuss at length the ravages of venereal disenses before audiences composed of both sexes and of widely different ages, a sermon on the responsibility of the churches for the health and social morals would give an opportunity to stress the particular problem of demobilization as a part of the larger public health problem. The pastor may also urge upon his people the timeliness of a campaign for civic cleanliness, both physical and moral in view of the expected return of the men and women who had gone out to make sacrifice in the great crusade of righteousness and freedom. Not only should they find, upon their return, a warm welcome from the religious forces of the home community, but the churches should see that, so far as possible, the sources of temptation are removed and wholesome recreation and social companionship provided."

So the way is pointed out by this subject, so vital to the health and the efficiency of the nation, may be brought squarely to the attention of the churchgoers of the country.

It is a tremendous fight that has been undertaken; one that will tax America's strength and patience and moral force. It can succeed only if it has the best men of the nation behind it, and the appeal of Surgeon General Blue is a ringing plea that the ministers arouse, step forward and take their place in the ranks beside the governmental forces that have as their ultimate goal, a nation made strong through freedom from disease.

VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN

When the American people, in the Victory Liberty Loan next spring, raise billions of dollars to pay for munitions that never reached the firing line in France, they will not in reality be paying for those munitions but for the saving of 200,000 American lives.

It was not the American army in France that forced defeat upon Germany in 1918; it was the enormous production of munitions in this country that the German general staff knew would soon be flowing into action at the front and which would make victory impossible for the kaiser. Had it not been for this knowledge the Germans would have fought through 1919.

These statements were made by Lewis B. Franklin, head of the Liberty Loan organization at Washington, at a big rally of Liberty Loan officials of the Seventh Federal Reserve district, held in Chicago, January 29, as a preliminary to the Fifth Loan campaign which is scheduled, according to latest advices, for April.

"Our expenditures for December," said Mr. Franklin, "were the largest on record, being $2,060,000,000, a sum almost double the total annual expenditure of our government in pre-war times. Many people will call that paying for a dead horse. True, only one battery of American made artillery ever reached France. Practically none of our tanks got into action. But on the way was a stream of artillery and shells that would have blown the German army off the earth; we were beginning to deliver mustard gas ten times as fast as the Germans could make it, and our program of tanks called for one tank to every seventy-five feet of front.

"Do we realize that the German army was never really routed? That to the last it was fighting on foreign soil? It was only the knowledge of this great stream of munitions on the way that ended the war in 1918 instead of 1919, and saved the lives of from 100,000 to 200,000 American boys."

Mr. Franklin said the Seventh Federal Reserve district has achieved a more general distribution of bonds than any of the other districts.

"In the Fourth Loan," he said, "you sold 53 per cent of your bonds to purchasers of $1,000 or less, as against a ratio of 40 per cent for the whole nation. I have had a good many suggestions that this loan ought to be taken by the large banking interests and by the men of great wealth; that we should make no appeals to the common people; that they ought not to be called upon again. We might remind those people that this money is for war expenses and if this was not a peoples' war, I should like to know whose war it was. It was war for the freedom of the world, with the people of America vigorously back of it. And I do not believe they want to be deprived of a chance to see it through from the financial side."

HIGHLY RESPECTED WOMAN DEAD

Mrs. Minnie Bacot Will Be Missed by Host of Friends

Death claimed another one of Charlevoix's young women last Sunday when Mrs. John Bacot passed away at the Providence hospital in Detroit, following an operation for intestine obstruction.

Minnie Heise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Heise, Sr., was born July 10, 1888 on a farm about six miles south of town. She resided there with her parents until a young lady, when she secured a position in Cartier's talior shop where she worked for about seven years. She was united in marriage to John Bacot, December 1st, 1915, and made her home here until last fall when they went to Alma for the winter and to Detroit about three weeks before her death. She had been in poor health for over a year, undergoing an operation early last spring for the same trouble that caused her death.

Deceased was a member of the Methodist church. She was a good neighbor and was respected and loved by all who knew her, and will be greatly missed by her acquaintances as well as the friends and family. She is survived by her husband, father and mother, one sister and five brothers.

Remains were brought here Tuesday. Funeral service were held Wednesday at 2:00 from the Methodist church. Rev. Henry Candler officiating. Interment in Brookside cemetery.

MAIL TO GO TO BEAVER ISLAND

Postmaster Finucan Ordered to See That Service is Given

Postmaster T. G. Finucan received a telegram Tuesday from Washington ordering him to secure a boat for the Beaver Island-Charlevoix mail route and deliver the mail regardless of expense.

This places the controversy in an entirely new light. Heretofore in previous years, mail service between the island and mainland ended with the closing of navigation, and navigation never closed until ice conditions were such as to render navigation unsafe. The mail was then sent via Cross Village to the island, across the ice by team.

Unusual conditions this season have been such that the island has been without mail practically since the close of navigation. No ice on the lake from Cross Village and consequently no mail.

From this end of the route, owing to the lighthouse service being discontinued, it was considered unsafe by those holding the mail contract to carry on the service.

Postmaster Finucan informed the Courier that he has secured the services of the tug A. & M. Link of Beaver Island. The tug will make trips as often as ice and weather conditions will permit, although not over three times a week.

What the outcome of the controversy will be is hard to predict.

SHERIFF WEAVER CONFISCATES BOOZE

Seizure of "Oh Be Joyful" Causes Serious Drouth

"How dry I am" will have more than usual significance from now on among a few who figured it an easy matter to order a shipment of booze through the local express office, despite the law forbidding its shipment into the state.

The booze in question, two cases of 12 quarts each, was consigned to local parties and was received several weeks ago. However, no one called at the express office to claim it. One of the parties to whom it was consigned claims he never ordered it and had no knowledge concerning it whatever. Anyway, it has lain in the express office for several weeks and on Monday Sheriff Weaver took charge of it, and now has it safely under lock and key in the county building.

IT PAYS TO READ
ADVERTISEMENTS

You've often heard the saying, "It pays to advertise." That is true. And it also pays to read advertisements—pays you. If you read advertisements consistently for any length of time you will agree that this statement is also true.

IT PAYS YOU IN MONEY SAVED—There are many real bargains offered from time to time in the advertisements appearing in this paper. Watch for them.

IT PAYS YOU IN SATISFACTION—When a merchant asks you to come to his store he obligates himself to sell you quality goods "as advertised." You have a right to expect satisfaction from what you buy and you get it.

IT PAYS YOU IN TIME SAVED—When you know exactly what you want to buy and where to buy it, you don't have to "look around" and waste time finding it.

Don't YOU want to save money and time? Wouldn't you like to be sure of getting satisfactory service and quality goods every time you go to a store? Then read the advertisements and patronize the stores which can serve you best.

Mr. Glados boasts of the finest candy kitchen and fixtures in northern Michigan, and expects to be able to handle in better shape the usual summer rush.

Efforts to locate the sunken half of the steamship Northland in Lake Ontario have availed nothing to date. The Northland was cut in two sections and fitted with temporary bulkheads, with the purpose of later lengthening out the hull and operating the vessel on the Atlantic coast during the war. The owners were obliged to cut the boat in sections in order to get through the canals on the chain of lakes to salt water. While being towed across Lake Ontario one half was caught in a big storm and was lost with a crew of three men. The Northland ran into Little Traverse bay many seasons and was one of the largest passenger boats on the great lakes.

WOMEN ENTERTAIN RETURNED SOLDIERS

Masonic Temple Filled to Capacity at Big Banquet

Returned local soldiers and sailors were extended the hand of welcome at the Masonic Temple on Wednesday evening of last week. Charlevoix women, composed largely of members of the Red Cross chapter entertained and were hostesses to the boys in khaki und blue to the number estimated at sixty. General invitations were also extended to relatives and friends of the returned soldiers and the evening's entertainment opened with a pot luck supper at 6:30 p. m.

A special table was reserved for the guests of honor, who marched into the dining room headed by E. W. Bennet, a civil war veteran to the thrilling strains of the "Star Spangled Banner."

After invocation by Rev. Henry C. Candler of the M. E. church the guests were seated and many words of praise were expressed by the assemblage as to the goodness and quantity of the eats prepared for the occasion.

After supper the program, consisting of addresses by Rev. C. E. Taggart, Mayor S. M. Rose, short remarks by Lieut's. Hampton and Aseltine and privates Coblentz, Naquam, Ripley, Fowler, Smith, Poquette and Loomis, with various selections of music, was greatly enjoyed by the two hundred or more guests.

The balance of the evening, until a late hour, was given over to those who enjoyed dancing, and the evening proved to be one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

BREAKS THROUGH THIN ICE WHILE SKATING

Son of Editor Garland of Central Lake Torch

George Garland, thirteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Garland of Central Lake, was drowned while skating on Intermediate lake, about a half mile from his home on Wednesday afternoon of last week.

The lad, with two younger boys, were skating north of Central Lake, when George fell, breaking through the ice. The other boys went to his assistance and tried to pull him from the water. They used their sweaters as a rope but their strength was not enough for the task.

The body was located about two hours later in about forty foot of water at the foot of a steep cliff not far from the lake shore.

Besides his parents the lad leaves four sisters. The Garland family formerly resided at Harbor Springs. Mr. Garland is editor of the Central Lake Torch.

My reputation for fair dealing and reliable goods, coupled with the De Laval record of service and durability, has made the De Laval Cream Separator the leader in this community.

NO farmer is rich enough to feed high-priced butter to his hogs or his calves in partially skimmed milk.

It's a waste of money and food that your pocketbook, your neighbors, your country, all condemn.

But it's a waste that is going on today wherever an inferior or half-worn-out cream separator is being used, or the wasteful "gravity" method.

Why not put a stop to this needless waste with a De Laval Cream Separator?

You can't afford to do this

There is no other separator that can compare with the De Laval in clean skimming, capacity, ease of operation, freedom from repairs, and durability. It's the world's greatest cream saver.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE TO BE A "GOOD CITIZEN"

It is essentially easy— no difficulty about it.

1. Understand that Saving and Thrift are positively necessary for the well being of the government
2. Realize that YOU are a part of the government.
3. Fix clearly in your mind that what hurts the government must harm you.

After these fundamentals are well defined in your mind the battle is half won. Then only three things are left to do:

1. Make up your mind to SAVE a certain amount of money out of your income.
2. Save that definite amount before you do anything else with your pay.
3. Spend what you have left to the best possible advantage—sensibly. One dollar starts an account at Nevers, France.

"Dear all—Have finally arrived at my new post and assumed my new duties as post surgeon in Nevers a city of about 30,000 in central France. Am in charge of a contagious and a venereal hospital and about 3,500 men of different organziations. It is a very nice position. My officers seem to be good and capable fellows and my quarters are very comfortable. Lots of work but that does not bother me as I am feeling fine. I have not had a letter for over a month now and the mail service is certainly rotten, but it is no use worrying or fretting about it as everybody is in the same boat.

"My old 84th division has gone back to the states I believe, so I am entirely among strangers again. Henry Robbert was the inst one to say goodbye to me. He was very sorry he could not go with me as he wanted to see a little more of France. He has been a very good boys and he likes the army experience all right. He says now he would not have missed it for anything and that is about the way everybody faels about it.

"Of course it will all slowly settle now into going back to the states, but when my turn comes nobody knows. Tell mother I love her just as much as ever but as the letter has to bo read to her anyway it is no use trying to write large or in Holland. Would like to visit Holland before going back but I think that will be impossible. Will close now with a hug and a kiss for all. My, my but those kids will have grown when I come back. Geo. Hunter and Ely I suppose are back and at work hy this time? Expecting a long letter soon," DAD.

From Sgt. Harry Beuker
Horhausen, Germany,
December 23, 1918.

"Dear Mother and all—Received mama's letter yeaterday so will answer at once now that we have the time and can write practically everything we want to.

—"Yes, mother, we were at the front the 11th of November. I think I wrote to you about it, but will do so again to make sure.

"I got back from my furlough on the 7th and joined the company at a town called Aincreville (too bad I didn't get a chance to see daddy.)

"The next day we started for the front line and again we passed through Dun Sur Meuse, crossed the Meuse river and on the 9th we hit Ecaurry. We were shelled on the 10th nnd especially on the morning of the 11th. You see Fritz had a lot of ammunition that he did not care to take back with him so he threw them at us the last couple of hours and he made it rather hot for a little while.

"Then came the fatal 11th hour. Right on the dot every gun ceased to speak and peace reigned over the land once more.

"Then you ought to have seen the French soldiers leap for joy. Why they went wild. Our boys did not seem excited over it in the least. We could not believe it. It seemed too good to be true.

On the 16th of November we started on our famous march to the Rhine. On the 21st we crossed into Belgium and a few hours afterwards we marched into Luxemburg.

"The people in Belgium went wild with joy also the Luxembourgers. Sunday morning, December 1, we crossed into Germaoy. Here we did not receive the welcome that we did in Belgium or Luxembourg. We crossed the border at Echternacht and crossed the Moselle river at the same time. Yet I was very much surprised at the way the people treated us. They did not dare to show that they were glad to see the Americans for fear of being overrrun or punished by the officials.

"We got to the Rhine on the 10th of December and stopped in the city of Andernacht for three days. On the morning of the 13th we crossed the Rhine and finished our trip on the 14th of December, 1918. In all we were just about three weeks on the way and marched about 400 kilometers. Some distance don't you think so, mother dear?

"Now the question is when will we be home? No one knows yet we all have our ideas and opinions and you split yourself laughing at some of the things you happen to henr.

"So you see mother you need not worry about us boys anymore. Of course you know one is apt to get sick. We may be back around the latter part of next month.

"Yes, mother, I can say that a good many of the boys are glad that the whole thing is over or rather as good as over and are all anxious to get home. When I get back I'm going to the bay and start all over again. I'm glad that you got our Christmas slips and got them sent out in time. Some of the boya got their packages today. I presume ours will be here soon too. I also sent a slip to Sadie. I received a letter from Augusta N. today and sho asked if we needed any sweaters or socks and if so to let her know. She sure doea play the part of a big sister. She was speaking of going back to the U. S. some time in January if nothing comes up. Just when we will be starting home no one knows. It may be some time naxt month and it may not be for some time.

"I had a letter from Daddy the other day. He was worried over us boys because he did not hear from us. It was due to the mail service because I wrote him a letter and post cards in November and he had not received them yet. I answered at once so he ought to know that we are both alright by this time.

"Today we received a letter from mama for daddy. You must have gotten it in the wrong envelope. I will send it to daddy tomorrow.

"For Christmas we are going to have pork instead of beef. We have been having beef all the time so I think the change may do us some good. I wish we could be eating at the home table instead. Those vegetables sure did look good. I just felt like diving into them. Just wait until we get back and then you'll see how we can eat. I pity that bushel of apples when we get back.

"Must close for this time. Love and kisses to all. Lovingly," HARRY.

Horhausen, Germany,
January 9, 1919.

"Dear All—Received mama's Christmas box and letter a few days ago. We have been very busy with manoauvers lately so have harlly had the time to write, Many, many thanks for the same. The pie was just great and everything else was in good shnpe, but the candy, which was in the little pill box marked one every three hours.

"Bob got his box a few days ago too. Gus has not received his yet but got one from his lady friend. I got one from Sadie today so you see I've been a little lucky. I managed to get hold of two slips at the time so sent Sadie one too. She sent me a number of chocolate bars, gum aad some other candy, a bandkerchief and a nice leather bill fold. I also had a letter from Uncle Joe and Grandma DeVries today. Uncle was saying that he was going to take Grandma up north for a short time again.

"We don't hear from Dad very often and doa't know what to make of it: It seems to take just about as long to get an answer from France as it does from the U. S.

"Yes, mother dear, we may all be thnnkful that we nre all well and happy yet. Gus and I got through without a single scratch, although we have both had a little touch of gas but not enough to even send us to the hospital. I'm glad of it.

"I hope we may all be home soon and then will celebrate in Grand Rapids, although we no doubt will have to go to East Jordan first I presume. There isn't any real news to write. All we do now is hold the line and manoeuvre from day to day. The people here all treat us fine and Gus and myself get along pretty well with what little German we know. Thus far we have only had a couple of inches of snow and we are having fine weather all the time, of course there is quite a little rain, but not heavy. Give my regards to all our friends, lovingly."
HARRY.

Horhausen, Germany,
January 15, 1919.

"Dear All—Just a few lines to let you all know that we are both O. K. and happy ns a lark, and so are all the other boys. We are all living in hopes of going home soon. I wouldn't be surprised if we were home sometime in April or May, but we don't know. It may be later than that. Of course if we got home sooner it would be some surprise to all of us. Gus and I don't know yet, just what we are going to do when we get back.

"We had a nice letter from Uncle Joe and Aunt Fannie the othe day. Grandma also wrote a few lines and from what I read she must be up north with you. I hope you all have a good time.

Be sure and save those apples as long as possible. You know we might be home in time to help you eat some of them yet. How are your rabbits coming John? I wish I could have been with you to help eat those others. You're some potato picker. You must be taking an interest in farming too. How about it? Are you still thinking about a dairy farm. And what are yoo going to do Sis?

ARMY TRAINING MAKES BETTER CITIZENS

Parents Advised That Sons Are About to be Discharged

The following letter has been received by Isaac Feltenbarger from the commanding officer at Camp Custer. It tells of the aims of tho government in training 'the boys:"

Camp Custer, Michigan,
January 16, 1919.

Mr. Isaac Feltenbarger,
Charlevoix, Mich.,

My Dear Mr. Feltenbarger:

"In a few daya your soldier will receive his honorable diacharge and start for home.

"He is hringing back many qualities of body and mind which he has acquired or developed in the military service. The army has done everything it could do to make him strong, fine, self-reliant, yet self-controlled. It returns him to you a better man.

"You have been an important member of the great army of encouragement and enthusiasm which helped to make him and us all better soldiers. You can now be a great help in keeping alive the good qualities he is bringing back from the army in making him as good a citizen as he has been a good soldier.

"His fare and necessary expenses to his point of induction will be paid by the government. He will receive all pay due him. He may, if he wishes, wear his uniform three months from the date of his discharge. The government will also allow him to keep up for the benefit of his family, his insurance at the very low rate he is now paying.

"His return to civil life will bring new problems for you both to solve. The qualities he brings back will help you now as your encouragement helped him while he was away, and in your hands and his, rests the future of the country.

"As his commanding officer, I am proud of him. He has done his duty well. I , with his comrades will bid him goodbye with deep regret, and wish him every success after he returns home—that spot in every maa's heart no other place can fill.

Sincerely yours,
CARL WITCHER,
Capt. 78th Infantry.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

My goodness, just think, you will soon be 18 and John is 16 already. Why we won't know you kids when we get back. Be good. Love to all, Lovingly,

HARRY.

From Clyde N. Griffin

Chatel Guyon,
December 27, 1918.

"Dear Father and Mother—Will write a few lines and tell you about my Christmas in France.

"The nurses and the Red Cross people certainly gave us a pleasant surprise. We were awakened about 6:30 a. m. by a 'Merry Xmas boy' from one of our nurses. After turning on the light I discovered a pair of nice woolen socks on the foot of my bed and what is more they were full too. There were cigarettes candy, two handkerchiefs and some nuts in them. Then in the afternoon the nurses gave us some home-made fudge and taffy, also some good cookies. For dinner we had turkey, bread, butter, jam, dressing, mashed potatoes, green peas, sweet potatoes, pie and coffee. Some dinaer, don't you think so?

"After dinner some of us went up on the roof of the hotel and had our pictures taken. We had a light supper about 5:00 p. m. and after that everyone that was able to went to a good show down in the village theatre. I have been having a bad cold for the past week ,so I did not go to the show. Taking everything into consideration, it was a mighty fine Xmas and I for one appreciate the efforts of the ones who worked so hard to cheer us up. I don't believe the boys back home had any better time than we did, because they would be expecting a lot more than we. I thought it would be a dull Xmas, but it was far from that.

"Christmas eve I received a real nice present too. It consisted of two letters from you folks and one from Merion. It is the second mail I have received since coming to the hospitnl. It sure looked good to me.

"I am glad you got those pictures even if they were not very good. I sent them just a few days before I got wounded and I did not know whether they would get by the censor or not, as pictures taken over here are not supposed to show any background and these were taken back of the billet.

"Well, the war is over so some of the boys that were not called until October or November will not have to come over here and they are lucky as war is not a nice thing. I would not have missed it for a whole lot, but I would not give very much to go through it again and will sure be glad to get back home again.

"I am glad you folks had good luck and got over the influenza all right, as it has proven pretty fatal all over the world. I am hoping that I will get home in time to get my shnre of that 90 bushels of buckwheat. Judging by my present feelings I could eat a lot of it, although I am not hungry, as I just had my supper.

"We had a light fall of snow Christmas night but it is all gone now. Christmas day was fine. Well I cannot think of any more to write so I guess I will close for this time. Hoping to see you soon, I am, your loving son,"

Notice to Qualified Electors

Miss Kate A. Wilson of Central Lake, Michigan, wishes to announce to the voters of Antrim county that she is a candidnte for the office of County School Commissioner and will greatly appreciate the kindness of those who will support her at the primaries on Wednesday, Mareh 5th, 1919, and at the spring election. Miss Wilson is an Antrim county girl and has taught in the county for twenty years, both in the rural and gradcd schools. She has served on the county board of School Examiners for two years, from 1914 to 1910. Is a graduate from the State Normal College at Ypsilanti and holds a life certificate from the scientific course in that school. Miss Wilson is now engaged in teaching in the Bellaire schools where she has been for four years. 6tf.

ANTRIM CITY

Miss A. Knight called on Inez Brant Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Brooks, who has been ill, is able to be out and work again.

Our school teacher has left and Mr. Knight is in search of another.

Mrs. Fred Simon left Antrim City Monday for a visit with friends and relatives in Wisconsin.

The man who will work for Mr. Smallegan the coming senson is moving out on the farm.

Certninly no one can complain about too much snow this winter and the ground hog certainly saw his shadow Sunday.

Word has been received from Mr. Montgomery, formerly of this place, that they are quite nicely settled in their new home at Flushing, Mich.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER'S NOTES

Best summary in W. S. S. for year 1918 was reported by the Mountain school. Seven pupils own $139 worth of 1918 series. Miss Catherine LaLonde is teacher. The director is Wm. Sanderson, R. 2, East Jordan.

Under the leadership of Mr. McNally, State School Manager of W. S. S., plans are being formulated for the 1919 Thrift Drive, but the commissioner has as yet received no instructions.

At the time of the publishing of the directory, Supt. Stead had sent in to the office his figures for the W. S. S. ownership of Boyne City pupils, but dua to the fact that the schuols were closed for the influenza quarantine, it was impossible for him to be sure. Since the re-opening of the schools complete reports have been made by all teachers and we wish to make the following corrections: Directory reported W. S. S. sales, $713.00. Actual W. S. S. owned by pupils $2,484.50. We are very glad also to note that this raises the county school W. S. S. record from $5,885.57 reported in directory to a total of $7,657.07. All four systems in the county were loyal to the core and we congratulate ourselves on hearty co-operation of teachers and pupils in the finest county yet.

Organization of the township committees for commencement exercises for rural schools is well under way. Chairmen are appointed in thirteen communities. Programs, schedules, premium lists, rules and regulations for the final contests have been mailed to every teacher, in order that the work may be uniformly fair for all.

The first threo days of last week (and a few of the wee small hours of the night) were spent in the above work. On Thursday and Friday the commissioner visited in districts where new teachers have been located.

Thumb Lake school is a regular little beehive this year with four little students as happy as can be. Mr. Woodworth says he is actually enjoying it and is not lonesome a moment.

The Howard school is progressing finely with the best report for several terms. This is Mrs. Skornin's first month with them.

Cramer school studying hard on grammar, with war work every Friday afternoon from National School Service. Mrs. Denise is working fnithfully and come out on top against many odds.

Matter of Emphasis.

If a man wishes to give absolute emphasis to a negative he is quite likely to say, "No, a thousand times no." What he really means is that his negative resolution is so firm that he would be willing to repeat it an indefinite number of times. So far as his meaning is concerned he might as well say, "a million times, no." But only a man of some habitual violence of speech would say this. It gives an impression of wild extravagance. "Thonsand," while being comparatively moderate, somehow seems more forceful.

COME TO COLORS NATIONAL GUARD

Will It Take Three Guesses to Pick Name of Poetess?

A certain Ellsworth young lady writing under the name of "Doc" is responsible for the following poetry. Three guesses will be allowed to each of our readers as to the correct name of the poetess.

One fine summer day, three years next June;
Uncle Sam bought a fife and played a fine tune,
He played "come to the colors ye National Guard,"
For Mexico is trying to make things look hard.

So off to the colors, daddys and brothers,
Marched all three in a string.
They thought it was fun to see Mexicans run;
But soon ran against a lot different thing.

Then Uncle Sam called two of 'em to France,
And for Dad in the states to remain.
The boys both danced, 'cause they had the first chance
To take their first look at France.
It was not much more than a month or two Dad told Uncle Sam he wanted to go too,
Uncle Sam made a ship for all of Dad's men,
And said "Now we'll see who is going to win."

Yes, Dad's now in France far away from home,
And gets awfull lonesome 'cause they left him all alone.
He now runs a hospital with five hundred men—
Then he sat down and said, "Uncle Sam what am I in?"

Dad wrote home when he got the chance,
He'd take the first transport for home.
He wrote the boys are on the Rhine,
Taking care of the German line.
We have a service fing of Red, White and Blue,
The white on the red and the stars of blue.
We hope we soon can take our flag down,
And tell every one that they've arrived safe and sound.
